President Insists on Passage of Trust Law,

OR WILL CALL EXTRA SESSION

Trust Senators Are Frightened at Prospect and May Pass Mild Law This Session on Lines Proposed by Knox.

If an anti-trust bill is not passed at this session of Congress, the President will call an extra session of the Fifty-eighth Congress to act on the question.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 6.—The Republican Senators who have been so sure that there will not be any anti-trust legislation at this session have received something of an electric shock from the White House regarding the matter.

While he does not say so directly, the intimation which these Senators receive is that if this session does not pass some trust legislation in accordance with the demands of the people, there will be a special session of the 58th Congress immediately after the 4th of March for the purpose of taking up such legislation.

No one wants an extra session. The President does not want it, and Senators and Representatives least of all. They especially would dislike to be called into extra session for the purpose of acting on trusts and to have that specified in the President's proclamation.

FIGHT PHILIPPINE TARIFF.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 6.—It having become apparent that further opposition to Cuban reciprocity was useless, the best-sugar interests have now turned their attention to the Philippine tariff.

These men are also industriously working against any provision looking to allowing the Philippine law to be amended so that corporations can take more than 5000 acres in the islands, and also to keeping up the present restrictions against Chinese labor.

It is more than likely that the men who have been most active in favor of Cuban reciprocity will not look with favor upon a reduction on Philippine products, especially if the claims of the best-sugar men have any foundation, and if Philippine sugar is to be a great factor in the sugar market and production of the United States.

United States, the opposition to this Philippine legislation is growing, as Oxnard and other best-sugar advocates are always able to work up quite a strong support when they come to Washington in force.

SMALL CHANCE FOR COAST.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 6.—It is possible, but not probable, that one of the new armored cruisers, the Washington or the Tennessee, will be built on the Pacific Coast.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 6.—Congressman Jones, of Washington, returned to the city today from a trip to Cuba, fully convinced that there is no occasion whatever for granting tariff concessions to the island, or for the adoption of the reciprocity treaty. He ward and aft, and the specifications required that they should be arranged for wireless telegraph.

"But great wealth should be controlled by the servant of man and of government, and should not be given the reins of control. We must keep control over agencies which can make cities grow or wither."

Mr. Hoar said that he did not agree with those who think that an adequate remedy for the evils of the trusts in the removal of the tariff from all trust-made goods is to be found in the Government ownership of great labor-embodying industries, including coal mines and railroads.

Speaking of corporations, Mr. Hoar said no power less than that of the Empire Nation is capable of dealing with them. The question was the most important that had come up for a long time, "for," he said, "we are to deal not only with foreign commerce, but with that compared with which the foreign commerce of the world is but a drop in the bucket—the domestic commerce of the United States."

Discussing the accomplishments under the Sherman anti-trust law, Mr. Hoar said that the Attorney-General had gone far enough already under it to show that a monopoly which affected the whole freight and passenger traffic of the Northwest, another affecting the cotton trade of the South, and another the price of beef, he believed that Congress had power to go further on the lines indicated by Attorney-General Knox in his Pittsburgh speech, and the enactment of a law on the general lines of his bill, he thought, would be only another step in the direction of the anti-trust. His bill he considered tentative and experimental. But it was safe and could be modified. He should proceed step by step.

Provisions of His Bill.

He then presented the following outlines of the restrictions imposed by his bill on corporations:

First—Publicity in the conduct of their business and the constitution of their organization.

Second—The power to stop their business altogether if they violate the laws enacted by Congress.

Third—Strict penalties on them and their officers for such violations.

Fourth—Personal liability for all debts, obligations and wrong-doings of the directors, officers and agents, unless the laws be fully complied with. This liability is secured by requiring personal consent to the provisions of Congress by such officers, directors and agents before they enter upon office.

As to the effect of the measure in case the legislation be said:

"If this bill shall become a law and prove effective, no corporation engaging in the commerce which is within the jurisdiction of Congress can keep its condition a secret. No such corporation can do business on fictitious capital or watered stock. No corporation can oppress any rival, whether corporate or individual, by the use of the anthracite mine, and their associate workmen was the most important and far-reaching event of its kind that ever occurred in the state, and the expense incurred by the state in connection with the disturbances caused by the strike will exceed $1,000,000.

The Governor urges the passage of a law to prevent future labor disturbances as follows:

"In my judgment a compulsory arbitration law could and should be passed for the settlement of differences between employer and employee. Such a law is entirely constitutional and feasible, looking upon strikes as injurious to the public, harmful to society and destructive to life and property. They are generally settled after all harm has been done. Why should not they be settled before the harm is done and before large losses occur to life and property?"

"We should recognize strikes as existing evils and as dangerous to the public good, and while mindful of the rights of both employer and employee, adjust them from a higher standpoint, namely, for the good of the society, the preservation of public peace and life and property. When a large strike is settled we delude ourselves with the thought that no more will occur. We should contemplate them as likely to occur again with the same results as in the past. Without criticizing employers or employees, without blaming either, we should legislate so as to prevent the recurrence of these disturbances."

Referring to the insurance of children, he says:

"I heartily concur in the opinion of the insurance committee that a law should be passed limiting the amount of insurance on children to a burial benefit, and fixing an age under which they would not be accepted."

"The Governor recommends that some additional legislation be passed for the protection of children who, he says, are too young to work in factories, but are employed in coal breakers, slate and stone quarries. He says:

"I heartily concur in the opinion of the factory inspector that it is inconsistent to prohibit a child 12 years of age from working in a factory or mercantile establishment and allow him to secure employment in more dangerous and undesirable places."

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of "The Oregonian" May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a sallow, yellow complexion; makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you are restoring to Nature's plan for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any trouble in your mind or rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand 24 hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy. If there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take, and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves, who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular 50-cent and $1 size bottles at the drug stores everywhere.

Remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y.

EDITORIAL NOTE—You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root, and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women who owe their good health to their very lives to the great curative properties of Swamp-Root. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in "The Portland Daily Oregonian."
