TO MANAGE PORTLAND'S NORTHWEST LEAGUE TEAM

JOHN J. GRIM.

am also negotiating with a number of other good players, and I shall soon have them in my roster.

"There are reports that your team has no local backing," was observed.

"The team has local backing and plenty of it, but it would like to have more. At present it is in a position to build a beautiful park and a magnificent grandstand. It may also build a bicycle path and give athletic events every year."

"Do you mind naming the men who are behind the club?"

"I cannot name them at present, excepting as to the National Association of Baseball Clubs. The association will stand behind us, and if we need any men we can get them from the minor leagues. Each club will furnish a man to battle against the only outlaw league in the country in 1903. They will all support us. They know that we came out here and built up this country as a baseball field, and they will help us to resist the encroachments of the California, or, as it is now known, the Pacific Coast League."

"Will Jay Andrews play with Spokane?"

"Undoubtedly he will be found at the third bag of the Spokane team. I have heard that offers have been made to Jay by the new club, but I believe that he will stay with the old league."

"Will you have strong team?"

"We will have no trouble in securing all the men we want," is President J. P.

Marshall's answer to President Lucas' threats of a blacklist for the Pacific Coast League's players. "I have received telegrams and letters from men now playing in clubs belonging to the National Association who want to jump to the Coast League. We will give our schedule out soon. We are not waiting for the Northwest League to make public their schedule. We have not considered them at all. If they want their dates in Seattle and Portland to conflict so much the better. We will be ready to fight them with the best team in the Pacific Coast League, barring none."

TO HIRE AN UMPIRE. Agent of Northwest League Invades the Enemy's Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The Chronicle says that the Pacific Northwest League's scout in San Francisco has made himself known in the person of a former resident here named Herrin, now of Seattle. In a conversation he admitted that he had made Umpire O'Connell and McDonald offers at the instance of President Lucas, but had received no definite answer. At present the Coast League is Trotting Races for Carriage Horses. NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Arrangements are now being made to introduce next season a new style of trotting races for testing and developing the combined speed and stamina of the American carriage horse. Briefly stated, the plan is to have trotting races in heavy harness at the leading horse shows, where the tracks are large enough, and to make such races a feature of some of the principal trotting meetings also.

The men who are behind the movement purport to introduce races for runabouts, gigs, phaetons, hackneys and other vehicles, such as commonly used in pleasure driving, with full toe weights, overdraw checks, and all other artificial appliances barred. The horses will be required to go various distances, from one mile up to 15 or 20 miles.

Quick Midwinter Piano Selling at Ellers Piano House.

If you do not possess a piano, it will pay you to investigate now, for you will certainly want one, and what your money will buy now is far better than what the same sum may purchase later on. CROPS IN EUROPE. Russia Had Great Grain Harvest—Good Weather in India.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The report on foreign crops and crop conditions compiled by the statistical agent of the United States Department of Agriculture at London up to December 10 last says that Russia, as a whole, harvested fine crops this year. The exports of grain which have been very heavy, must diminish, although these stocks of wheat in Black Sea ports at a recent date were almost twice as large as at the corresponding date in the preceding year. It is estimated that the Roumanian wheat crop having been gathered in damp condition, will not be fit for transportation before next spring.

The wheat in Turkey has been very favorable to newly sown grain and in Bulgaria unfavorable.

In Italy the weather has been very cold, but the young wheat has been protected by a heavy snow cover.

Throughout the greater part of France the outlook for the young crops is very favorable. The French vintage of 1902 has been estimated at about one-third less than that of 1901.

The Danish crops of 1902 are a good average.

In Northern Sweden the crops of grain, hay and potatoes were destroyed by rain and flood, but the winter wheat is comparatively good. The autumn is smaller than a year ago.

Favorable weather conditions are officially reported from India.

The deficiency in the New South Wales crops has been estimated at least 11,000,000 bushels, while official advices from South Australia say that harvest prospects are much improved.
