SENATE SETS A DAY

Will Take Up McBride Bill Wednesday.

DEATH IS CERTAIN

Chances of Measure's Success in the House Are So Slim That Astute Politicians Dare Not Prophesy.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 5,-(Staff correspondence.)-Both houses of the Washington Legislature tackled the railroad commission bill today, and while the lower house got no further with it than a committee report, a day of reckoning was set for it in the Senate, and it will come up in the regular order of business in the when it is reached on the calendar. The Senate committee met at 9:30 this morning and devoted an hour to the reading of the bill. No one seemed to recognize the humor of the situation, and that the bill would pass just as easily, or rather killed test as oulckly, if it were read by the title or number only, so the members of the committee sat it out and then made majority and minority reports.

the bill, was signed by Tolman of Spokane, Halley of Whitman, Sharp of Kittitas and Reser of Walla Walla.

The majority report, recomemnding indefinite postponement, was signed by Chairman Baker, of Klickitat; Hamilton of Pierce, Rands of Clark, Hemrich and Potts of King, Clapp of Jefferson and Sumper of Snohomish. When the report of the committee was brought up in the Senate Tolman moved that the bill be made a special order for next Wednesday morning.

The matter of carrying it over until next week had previously been agreed on, so there was no objection. This course was permitted by the anti-commission men out of courtesy to the minority members, and the bill will receive the death thrust in the Senate next Wednesday with becoming oratorical accompaniments.

The action of the Senate hastened matters a little in the House, and immediately after the close of the afternoon session Chairman Wilson, of the House railroads, committee, called his men together and took up the bill. In order to facilitate matters, McNicol of Pierce moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed. McNicol had six supporters with him on his motion, while there were eight opposing it, the line-up being exactly as predicted in The Oregonian when the committee was appointed, utterly disproving the charge that was made that the committee had been "stacked" against the bill. The majority report, recommending that the bill do pass, was signed by Chairman Wilson, of Kittitas, Bassett of Adams, Butler of Skagit, Haynes of Douglas, Howard of Lincoln, Whitney of Spokane, Witter of Whitman and Zenkner of Lewis-8. The minority report, recommending indefinite postponement, was signed by Clark of King, Coate of Klickitat, Ferguson of Snohomish, Hastings of Jefferson McCoy of Skagit, McNicol of Pierce and Thompson of Kitsap-7.

The bill was not read by the House committee, and the only suggestion of an dikes and dams. came from Bassett of Adams. who desired an amendment making the appointees of the Governor subject to confirmation by the Senate and House. Nothing was done in the matter, and the bill will now take the same course as other bills. Sentiment has changed somewhat regarding the chances of the bill in the House, now that it has been jarred loose from the Senatorial question, and while the vote will be very close, it is not improbable that the anti-commission men will win. The majority either way will not be more than three or four, and at this time the McBride men seem to have the worst end of the fight in the House. Two weeks ago it was considered practically impossible to beat the bill in the House, but it is now so near an even fight that even expert politicians hesitate to venture a prediction as to the outcome.

The House railroad committee, after disposing of the commission bill for the pres ent, unanimously recommended the passage of the Maloney rate bill reducing fares on railroads and steamboats to 3 cents per mile. This bill was aimed at the Spokane Falls & Northern, which has been exacting 5 and 6 cents per mile. Since the bill was introduced the road has voluntarily reduced the rate to 31/2 cents, but it is almost a certainty that the bill will pass and force them to cut off the extra half

The House calendar is pretty well filled at present, and it is hardly possible for the commission bill to be reached before it comes up for slaughter in the Senate E. W. W. next Wednesdaoy.

Whitman County Division Bill Appears-Railroad Committee Report, OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 5.-(Special.)-Whitman County division made its ap-pearance in the Legislature for the first time today. Senator Halley introduced the bill for the creation of Steptoe County, with Oakesdale as the county seat, and Senator Wilson introduced the one for Palouse County with Pullman as the county seat. Both bills were referred to the committee on counties and county boundaries, of which Senator Halley is chairman. As has already been stated, a large contingent of Whitman County people are here working for and against the division bills. Senator Halley says he will call a meeting of his committee with-in the next few days. The two bills provide for the assumption by each new county of its proportionate share of Whit-man County's liabilities. They also pro-vide, for the present at least, that the Legislative district shall remain un-changed. This will throw portions of Sen-ator Halley's district into all three coun-

The railroad committee of the Senate presented two reports on the Tolman-Dix railroad commission bill. The majority re-port, signed by Chairman Baker and concurred in by Senators Hamilton, Rahds, Hemrich, Potts, Sumner and Clapp, rec-ommended that it be indefinitely post-poned, while Senators Tolman, Halley, Sharp and Reser recommended that the bill be passed. The majority of the committee, out of courtesy to Senator Tol-man and his colleagues of the minority, agreed not to press the adoption of their agreed not to press the adoption of their report for indefinite postponement today, but to make this bill a special order for next Wednesday at 10 o'clock, when it will be thoroughly discussed. The defeat of the bill in the Senate is assured.

OPPOSE ALASKA COMMISSION. Memorial Introduced in House by

Lewis of King. OLYMPIA, Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Soon after the opening of the morning session of the House, Lewis of King offered a joint resolution protesting against arbitration of the Alaska boundary dispute The rules were suspended and the resolu-tion passed and immediately sent to the Senate, where it was discussed until ad-journment. The resolution was as fol-

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Washington, the Senate concur-ring, Ehat it is the sense of the Legislature of the States of Washington that the title of the lited States is clear to all of the territory of Alaska, including the arms and inlets of the sea, and the seaports and harbors now in the possession of the United States, and within the boundaries clearly defined in the treaty by which our Government acquired that country from Russia in which treaty the boundary line from Russia, in which treaty the boundary line between said territory and the British pos sions is defined in language identical with the words of the treaty respecting the same bound-ary between Great Britain and Russia whereby the governments settled that boundary with these governments settled that boundary with such precision and clearness as to preciude the possibility of any bona fide dispute or conten-tion respecting the same; and this Legislature earnestly protests against the proposed treaty which has been submitted by the President of the United States to the Senate for ratification by which our Government apparently concedes that a tribunal is necessary to determine a supposed controversy as to the location of the initial point of said boundary, although the iniinitial point of said boundary, although the initial is described in the treaty in unmistakable terms, and as to which channel is the Portland Channel, although there is but one channel in the region of Southeastern Alaska which has ever been named or known as the Portland Channel, and other similar questions, which cannot be the subject of a bona fide dispute. The grounds of this protest are: That by the proposed treaty Great Britain or Canada places nothing of value in jeopardy, whereas our Government grants to the proposed tribunal power to cede without consideration valuable erritory and commercial ports, built up and territory and commercial ports, built up and inhabited by American citizens, which are known to be coveted by our Canadian neighbors for their commercial advantage.

Such a tribunal cannot possibly adjudicate the questions defined in the proposed treaty unless one or more of the representatives of the contracting governments shall make con-

the contracting governments shall make con-cessions adversely to the interests of the gov-ernment which he or they will represent, and if the proposed joint commission should fall to render a decision by reason of the unwilling-ness of members on either side to make conces-sions, our Government will then have upon its hands an unsettled controversy, conceded to be a proper subject for submission to arbitration, and may be forced to invite some foreign potentiate or tribunal to settle the terms of a compromise by which American territory and the rights of American citizens must be sacri-ficed.

Resolved further, That the Governor of the state be and he is hereby requested to transmit forthwith a/copy of these resolutions to the President of the Senate of the United States.

Senator Hallett Proposes to Make Penitentiary Self-Supporting.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 5.—(Special.)— lenator Hallett, of Spokane, this morning introduced in the Senate a bill which intended to make the State Penitentiary self-supporting. The estimate sub-mitted by the Board of Control for the care of prisoners for the next two years calls for $160,600 for feeding, them during that period. Senator Hallett contends that as the proposition now stands, instead of criminals being punished and forced to help sustain the state, the citizens are punished, being forced to sustain the criminals ent law governing the pentientiary that in estimating the cost of the jute, fabrics, brick or other products minufac-tured there, the Board of Control shall include in addition to the cost of the ma-terial and for the skilled labor employed from the outside, the cost of convict labor to be reckoned at 12½ cents an hour, and interest on the plants and machinery, together with allowance for depreciation of said plants and machinery; and none of the product of the penitentiary shall be facture, with these items included, with out special authority from the Governor Senator Hallett estimates that if his bill is passed it may raise the price of jute sacks 1/4 cent apiece, and then they will be cheaper than the Calcutta bags.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 5.-(Staff correspondence.)-The Whitman County delegation to the Legislature have certainly needed broad shoulders at this session to enable them to stagges along under the load which their constituents have piled on them. When they were tangled up in the Senatorial fight they were continually bombarded with petitions, remonstrances, abuse and praise, and as soon as that issue was disposed of they are confronted with a still more vexatious one. "Shall Whitman, the largest county in the state, be divided?" is the question that has brought more Whitman County men over the mountains than have ever congregated here before. than have ever congregated here before.

The plan proposed is to remove 21 townships from the north end of the county, and form the new county of Steptoe. From the east about 17 townships, including fractions, are to form the county of Palouse. According to the opponents of division, this division will leave Whitman with 2500 voters, and a valuation of $5,000,000; will give Steptoe County 2200 voters, and a valuation of $4,005,000, and Palouse County 1800 voters, and property valued at $5,500,000.

Both sides of the controversy are making extravagant claims as to their relative strength. For instance, the division claim to have signatures of 1511 votes from the proposed Steptos County, while those favoring division say they have over 1100 signatures of voters favering division. The men favoring division do not claim so many voters for Steptoe as are claimed by the anti-divisionists, the latter placing the number at 1700. If this is correct and there has been no mistake in counting the signatures, it is apparent that several hundred men have signed both petitions. The fight grows warmer as the section proceeds, and in the minds of the residents of the banner wheat country of Washington it is a much more important

MEASURE GOES THROUGH WITHOUT DISSENTING VOTE.

Taxation of Corporations the State Will Receive Annual Revenue of $100,000.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 5 .- (Staff correspondnce.)-House bill 2, Eddy's bill prescribing the fees and annual license taxes to be paid by foreign and domestic corpora-tions, passed the Senate this morning with a rush and without a dissenting vote. The measure is expected to produ annual revenue to the state of $100,000 from sources which have hitherto con-tributed little to the support of state government. This bill does not provide a tax a the intangible property of corporations, but prescribes certain fees to be paid when articles of incorporation are filed and an annual license tax for the privi-lege of doing business in the state. The are graduated, so that the tax will not fall heavily upon small corporations engaged in development enterprises, such local treigation companies, creameries, etc. As this bill has passed both Houses by unanimous vote, it is certain of receiv ing the approval of the Governor, and will be in force 90 days after the Legislature adjourns. The bill provides the following fees for filing articles of incorpora-

Where the capital stock shall not exceed $5009, a fee of $10; where the capital stock shall exceed $5000 and shall not ex-ceed $10,000, a fee of $15; where the capital stock shall exceed $10,000 and shall not exceed $25,000, a fee of $20; where the cap-ital stock shall exceed $25,000 and shall not exceed $50,000, a fee of $25; where the capital stock shall exceed $50,000 and shall not exceed $100,000, a fee of $25; where the capital stock shall exceed $100,000 and shall not exceed $250,000, a fee of $45; where the capital stock shall exceed $250,000 and shall not exceed $500,000, a fee of $500,000 and shall not exceed $1,000,000, a fee of $75; where the capital stock shall exceed $1,000,000 and shall not exceed $2,000,000, a fee of $99; when the capital stock shall exceed $2,000,000, a fee of $100. Corporations formed for any educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purpose pay a fee of only $5. Before the 15th day of August each year corporations must pay annual license rees as follows:

If such capital stock shall not exceed $5000, an annual license fee of $10; if such capital stock shall exceed $5000 and shall not exceed $10,000, an annual license fee of $15; if such capital shall exceed $10,000 and shall not exceed $25,000, an annual license fee of $20; if such capital stock shall exceed $25,000 and not exceed $50,000, an annual license fee of $30; if such capital stock shall exceed $50,000 and shall not exceed $100,000, an annual fee of $50; if such capital stock shall exceed $100,000 and shall not exceed $250,000, an annual fee of $70; if such capital stock shall exceed $250,000 and shall not exceed $500,000, an annual license fee of $100; if such capital stock shall exceed $500,000 and shall not exceed $1,000,000, an annual license fee of $125; if such capital stock shall exceed $1,000,000 and shall not exceed $2,000,000, an annual license fee of $175; if such capital stock shall exceed $2,000,000, an annual licens fee of $300. Corporations already organized under the laws of this state are not required to pay the organization tax, but are subject to the annual license tax. Foreign cor-
