BIG JUDGMENT FOR CUNARD

Court Awards Him Nearly $2,000,000 Against His Cousin.

New York Tribune.

Sir Bache Cunard, president of the Cun-ard Line of steamships, recovered a judg-ment Tuesday, in the Supreme Court, after an inquest before Justice Herrick and a jury, for $1,857,709 $1 against his first cousin Charles G. Francklyn, who for some years had the management of his property in this state.

Mr. Francklyn was 15 years ago in charge of the property of Sir Bache Cun-ard, who inherited a large fortune from ard, who indended a large fortune from his father, Sir Edward Cunard. At that time Sir Bache complained that Franck-lyn had mismanaged the property and had converted large sums to his own use. He therefore sued Francklyn to recover $,000,000. The suit was defended by Francklyn, and the litigation kept drag-ting along for some years until on the ging along for some years, until, on the eve of its trial, Franckiyn agreed to com-promise the case for $1,250,000. Franckiyn was to turn over all his property to exa period of 10 years, during which Sir Bache was to receive the profits and re-coup himself to the amount of $1,250,000 under the settlement. Should he not have been repaid at the end of that time h was to be empowered to sell the property. HIS MANNER IRRITATED AMBASSA-DOR HERBERT. Conference on Venezuelan Affairs

Last Monday Was Flerce, Hence Effort to Drag in Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 .- Confirmation o the London dispatch of yesterday to the effect that Mr. Bowen and the British Ambaesador, at their interview Monday, had a somewhat heated argument, was ob tained here today. Indeed it is stated that should the character of the cablegrams that the British Ambassador has been sending to his government regarding the attitude of Minister Bowen become pub-He the country would be furnished with ensational diplomatic incidents. It is the opinion of the Venezuela nego tiators, other than the British Ambassa dor, that the latter is directly responsible for the abrupt breaking off of negotiations with Mr. Bowen. It is the opinion in official circles here that Minister Bowen has an absolute right (while acting for Venezuela, o course) to object to President Roosevelt's acting as arbitrator. To do so would ause pain to Mr. Bowen whose admiration for Mr. Roosevelt is well known, but he feels obliged to keep well in mind the fact that he is here not as an American but as a representative of Venezuela. The British Ambassador's conduct has esulted in several important details of the momentous conference of Monday last leaking out and these are now substantiated by the other negotiators present. It seems that when the British Ambassaor, who took the lead at this conference had finished reading the cablegram o

Lord Lansdowne containing his last propo sition for a 20 and 10 per cent division o the customs receipts of Porto Cabello and La Guayra between the allies and the other claimant nations respectively, Mr. Bowen at once remarked in an emphatic tone that the proposition was but another scheme to trick Venezuela into abetting an alliance against her for eix years and probably longer. He added that he would not consent to any scheme for continuing the triple alliance one day longer that was forced to. A diplomat stated afterwards: "It was Mr. Bowen who exploded the ombshell the moment the proposition was

Charges that Great Britain was endeav oring secretly to continue her alliance with Germany were resented by the Brit-ish Ambassador, though he showed no ili feeling at the conference. After the conference it is said he sent a cablegram to London stating that he was displeased with the conduct of Mr. Bowen, and that if it were left to him to decide he would not continue negotiations with him. He expressed to his conferees of the diplomatic corps the greatest indignation that an Ambassador from the Court of St. James should be so treated.

On the other hand, both the Italian Am bassador and German Minister have taken occasion to say several times since the Monday conference that Mr. Bowen has treated all the negotiators with uniform courtesy and surprising generosity throughout the negotiations and only yesterday both of these diplomats called and expressed thanks for his consideration of "Mr. Bowen must stand up for Vene-uela." it was explained, "if he did not he uela, would forfeit our respect." Another feature of the last 24 hours has een the receipt of an exceedingly tart cable aram from Lord Lansdowne at the British Embassy. The cable, it is said, went so far as to remind the British Ambasendor that he was here to obey order

In Venezuela we move on precisely the same lines with England on precisely the same lines with England and Italy, upon the path of thoughtful-ness. We only want to secure the lives and property and trade of our people there. In our foreign polley I try to take the middle course between the left party and Professor Hasse (the pan-German leader). I am far from following parish politics whereby our paths will be under-mined, but I am just as far from a polley which would extend our sphere of action which would extend our sphere of action excessively and which would be dependent upon ebuilition of feelings instead of being fixed by the well-considered, plainest nterests of the German people. Denies Validity of Bowen's Acts.

PARIS, Feb. 6.-The correspondent of the Matin at Caracas telegraphs that a pamphlet is being circulated in that city in which it is asserted that the powers conferred on Minister Bowen by President Castro are null because of an article in the Venezuelan constitution providing that a representative of Venezuela in such cases must have an authorization in order to serve the republic, and the pamphlet points out that Minister Bowen has no such authorization. Moreover, according to the pamphlet, any convention he may negotiate will be invalid unless it is confirmed by the Venezuelan Congress.

PARIS, Feb. 6-Marquis of Castel-ane, the father of Count Boni de Castellane, has an article in the Eclaire this morning in which he advocates an alliance between the United States and France with the object of keeping Ger-many and the rest of Europe out of South America. A Few Facts About Upland Game Shooters, Game Laws, Etc.

HALSEY, Or., Feb. 4 .- (To the Editor.) -Mongolian pheasants are scarcer than usual in the Willamette Valley. How can they be made more plentiful? There are several ways by which the number can be increased. First, make a closed season of the present year; second, prohibit hunting with dogs; third, open season to begin the lith day of October, closed 15th day of November, and allow no hens to be killed the last 15 days of the open season. Allow the sale of cock birds during the 15 days of November. The last proposition is the most feasible of all. The Oregon Fish and Game Association has a scheme which, if it becomes a law, will make a closed season necessary two years hence. Its plan is as follows: Open season for upland birds to begin Septem ber 15, closed November 1. Prohibit the sale at all times. Appropriation of $10,000. Bounty on crows and cougars. Why do they want to begin slaughtering the birds September 15? The claim has been made that they cannot kill enough game. That, after the 1st of October the birds are wild and hard to kill. That they not get their share, etc. Let us see how this is going to work. Birds are scarce enough now. Would it make then more plentiful to begin the shooting be fore the birds are half-grown? Don't these men know that half-grown birds haven't sense enough to get out of the way? Don't they know that city shooters as a rule, pay no attention to the limit, but kill all they can in a day? More birds would be killed during the 15 days of Sep-tember than could be killed in the whole month of October. This being the case, it will not do to allow any shooting in September. Now, about the $10,000 appro-priation and the bounty on crows and cougars. Who is going to put up the money for all this. Why, the people, of course? Are the people to get the benefit of this ax? Oh no: just the shooters and of July. They excuse themselves by say-ing that they do not sell any and kill on their own land. Suppose we all kill out of season; what will the result be? They will always be scarce. Well, this will be the result if the Fish and Game Associaof this tax? Oh, no; just the shooters and tion has its way. Ninety-nine per cent of their few friends. The plan is to make it for the people to buy a few the farmers feel as though they, and they a crime sport only. The reverse of this is true, as the following will prove. Mr. Quimby, in his third annual report (I believe it was), informed the public that between was), informed the public that between 5000 and 6000 upland birds were marketed in Portland during the last 15 days of No-vember, 1991. He told us that about half this number were native pheasants and grouse. He further said that nearly all of this game came from Linn and Lane Counties. Let us allow that 3000 Mongollan pheasants were marketed. Of this number over 1400 were shipped from Hal-sey, and between 1100 and 1200 were shipped from Shedd. About 2500 all told from these two points. None at all were shipped from Albany, so I have been told by Albany sportsmen. So, according to the sportsman theory, this kind of game should have been plentiful in the vicinity of Albany and scarce in Halsey and Shedd precinct. Was this the case? No; just No: just the reverse. I was at Albany October 2. 1902, and talked with a number of sportsmen. They reported game very scarce. One of them told me that he had hunted all day October 2 and killed two birds only. How was it in Halsey and Shedd precinct, where there are more market hunters than any place in the Val-ley. Birds were plentiful. Four to one ompared with the vicinity of Albany. Almost every shooter who came here ried away a large bag of game. About the 12th of October, 1902, Captain Riley and son, of Portland, came to Halsey pre-cinct and took one day's hunt on the farms of two market hunters. Did they find the game scarce? On the contrary, it was quite plentiful. More so than the year previous. Captain Riley had hunted over the same land the year before. Why was it plentiful? Simply because those farmers protected the game during the closed season, and killed very little till farmers the selling season arrived. By the 15th of November (selling season begins) birds are full-grown and very wild. the They have got onto the racket of being shot at and don't want to be killed. And no one can kill very many in one day.

The scheme proposed by the Fish and Game Association, if it becomes a law, will not protect our upland game. It also ignores the doctrine of equal rights. Two very serious faults. It reminds one of the Irishman's horse. The horse had just two faults. First, he was hard to catch; sec-ond, he wasn't worth a d- after you caught him. Upon investigation, I find that about 963 upland birds were shipped from Halsey to market last year. This is the amount killed by 75 gunners, and makes an average of less than 13 birds to the shooter. Less than one bird per day to the gunners for the 15 days in which they could be legally sold. This is the slaughter that the would-be sportsmen of the cities are howling about. Would the shooters of this vicinity have killed less if the sale had been prohibited? Most assuredly not. It is safe to say that more han this amount would have been killed out of season. The real slaughter of the birds does not take place during the sell-ing season, but during the first 15 days of the open season. Hold on: I will prove this: How many upland birds are killed per year in the Willamette Valley? I have talked with city sportsmen, who have put it at from 75,000 to 100,000. Let us say 50,000 for the year 1901. Now then, less than 6000 were marketed in Portland, and possibly 2000 were sold elsewhere in 1901. Call it 8000 all told. Deduct 8000 from 1901. 50,000, and we have 42,000 left. The amount killed for the market was a trifle com-pared with the total killed for that year. Now where is the sense in saying that 15 days' sale will exterminate our upland birds? But the birds are much scarcer The weather during the season of 1990 was very favorable, and I am safe in saying that the crop of Chinese pheasants that year averaged 10 birds per hen. In 1901 year averaged 10 birds per hen. In 190 weather conditions were very bad, and the average was not three birds per hen. Last year was almost as bad. Two short crops in succession. Too many birds were billed used on the first state of the sta in succession. Too many birds were killed during the 45 days preceding the elling season. There you have it. About

I. e., allowing that the farmers adhere strictly When the selling season arrived, I con-cluded that they were already scarce enough, so I went to several of my neighallow is that the farmers adhere strictly to the law? Every year some of them come here and pay the farmers 10 cents aplece for birds. Isn't it just as much violation of the law to sell the birds to the sportsmen, and they do the shooting, as for the farmers to do the killing and sell direct to the consumer? On the 1st day those farms." The shooting drove more birds on to our grounds, which stayed from Portland. They were having a hard time in finding hunting ground. One of them had a letter of introduction from birds on to our grounds, which stayed there. The result is that the Mongolian the State Game Warden, asking me to pheasants are guite plentiful on a few show them some good hunting ground. I named several places where I thought ranches here; the only bad feature is that there are about three cock birds to one hen. According to my observation, this is true all over the country. On the game preserves of Europe some they might get to hunt, but I remarked, "You will have to pay for the birds." The gentleman replied, "Certainly, we are willyears nothing is allowed to be killed ex-cept cock birds; they claim that one cock ing to pay all the birds are worth." Now, te this fact.
