

SHOW THEIR HAND

Anti-Commission Men Win First Victory.

POSTPONE ACTION ON THE BILL

By Decisive Vote of 56 to 32, Lower House Decides Not to Consider Railroad Measure Until Wednesday.

OLYMPIA, Feb. 9.—(Staff correspondence.)—The anti-commission forces won their first victory in the House of the Washington Legislature today. The point involved was not vital, consequently the lines were not as tightly drawn as they will be on the final vote on the measure. It was sufficient, however, to demonstrate the power of the opposition to the Governor's bill to postpone action on the question, while the friends of the bill were endeavoring to force its early consideration.

This famous measure, which is known as H. B. 94, was at the head of the list on the calendar today and when it was reached in the return order of business, York of Pierce offered a motion that it be made a special order for 11 A. M. Wednesday. He stated that the bill was one which would probably be discussed at length on both sides and that there was much other business on the calendar which could not be cleared up so that the Senate would have something to be working on.

Lewis of King, one of the commission forces, offered an amendment making the special order for 10:30 A. M. Tuesday. Easterday of Pierce promptly offered a further amendment placing the hour at 2 P. M. Wednesday, and gave as a reason the fact that a very important bill introduced by Quinn of Spokane had been set for a special order at 2 P. M. Tuesday, which would not give sufficient time for a consideration of the commission bill if it was taken up in accordance with the Lewis amendment. York then withdrew his motion in favor of Easterday's amendment.

Lewis, however, returned to the attack with a statement that Mr. Quinn was willing that his bill should be further postponed in order to give the commission bill a clear track tomorrow. Easterday, as chairman of the judiciary committee and signer of one of the three different reports returned with the Quinn bill, refused to consent to further postponement of the bill. After some discussion, in which Rank, Dinsley and Lewis favored taking up the commission bill tomorrow, and Easterday, York and Wells insisted that it go over to Wednesday afternoon, the Easterday amendment was put before the House and the Speaker announced that the ayes were in the majority. Division was called for and when the men favoring postponement until tomorrow stood up to be counted they numbered 32, while 56 were in favor of making the bill a special order for Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

This, in accordance with the programme mapped out some time ago, gives the Senate the first chance at the bill, as it had previously been made a special order for the Senate for 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. There is, of course, no question of its defeat in the Senate, and it is the advocates of the bill in the House who will lose heart after it has been disposed of in the Senate, and make only a feeble show of resistance to indefinite postponement.

To Be Set at Rest Wednesday.

The anti-commission men quite naturally are not claiming any such relative strength on a vote on final passage as was shown on the motion to postpone today, but they are visibly elated over their victory in the first round and are more confident than ever that they can make very close to an even break with the commission men in the House and may beat them there. If it becomes necessary to make a further postponement, an undoubtedly be arranged, in fact the resolution introduced today by Roth, asking an opinion from the Attorney-General as to the constitutionality of the bill, has paved the way for more delay. Further postponements are not looked for, however, and from present indications, the question will be set at rest Wednesday.

The bill introduced by Lindsey of Spokane, appropriating $2,500 for a state institution for the feeble-minded, in accordance with the recommendation of the State Board of Control, which, in its last report, advised the construction of a new building for the feeble-minded. The bill further provides that inmates of the feeble-minded department of the State School for Defective Youth at Vancouver will, on completion of the proposed new building at Medical Lake, be removed from Vancouver, and the building at that place be used for deaf and blind scholars. The name of the Vancouver institution is to be changed to the State School for Deaf and Blind.

The committee appointed to investigate the state printing matter was today authorized to employ a clerk with power to issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses.

The committee on Congressional apportionment met this evening and considered the Jones bill for the division of the state into Congressional districts. But six members were present, and, like the committee in charge of the anti-pass bill, they split even. Those recommending the passage of the bill were Jones of King, White of Pierce and Mackenzie (Dem.) of Whitman. Those opposing the division of the state were Philbrick of Chehalis, Knoblock of Columbia and Whitney of Spokane. E. W. W.

IN THE SENATE.

Yakima Fair Date Is Changed—Six New Bills Introduced.
OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 9.—(Staff correspondence.)—The Senate passed two of its own bills today. One was Senate bill No. 80, which changes the time for holding the State Fair at North Yakima to not earlier than September 5, nor later than the second Monday in October, and fixing the salary of the secretary of the fair association at $1200 per year. The other was a committee substitute bill, which gave Mason County out of a judicial district composed of Mason and Chehalis and places it in a district with Thurston. A petition from residents of Enumclaw, King County, asking for the passage of the bill appropriating $500 for farmers' institutes was received.

The committee on agriculture reported in Senate bill No. 196, by Tolman, recommending its indefinite postponement. The bill provides against the defacement of natural scenery by the printing of advertisements thereon.

These new bills were introduced:
S. B. 125, by Spawm—Amends law so that United States Court Commissioners are qualified to take acknowledgments.
S. B. 140, Hurley—An act taking Stevens County out of judicial district with Spokane County and placing it in one with Ferry and providing for a Superior Judge for said district and declaring an emergency.
S. B. 141, Sharp—Amending the present law so that right of ways for storage reservoirs shall be acquired by the same condemnation process as right of ways for drainage ditches.

TO MAKE AMENDMENTS

Interest charges on the cost of the new structure and if possible to raise additional revenue. The bond issue of $100,000 to build the bridge will cost the city approximately $18,000 annually in interest. The Bridge Commission is to enter into contract with the companies.

British Government Claims Ireland Has More Votes Than Her Share.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The government has determined to reduce Ireland's representation in Parliament, says the Tribune's London correspondent. The government's hands will be quite full this year with Irish land and London education, and it may be taken for granted that the redistribution scheme is to be the chief measure of 1904. On the basis of the present population England has 35 members, Scotland three too many and Ireland 33 too many. There are 103 Irish seats in the Commons today, and it is an open secret that the government intends to reduce this number to 85 or 86. The Nationalists argue that, as the act of union gave Ireland 100 members, the Imperial Parliament has no right to reduce this representation. When the act passed the population of Ireland was about half that of Great Britain. Today the population is 4,494,000, or a little more than one-ninth that of Great Britain.

PROPOSED ACTION ON MORRISON-STREET BRIDGE BILL.

Proposition to Make Car Lines Pay Interest on Bond Loan by Tax on Privileges.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—The Multnomah delegation tonight appointed a special committee to draw up amendments to the Morrison-street bridge bill for the following purposes:
"That the City and Suburban Railway surrender the present franchise whereby it uses the bridge for $150 per month;
That that company pay 5 cents for the trip of a car across the bridge, and each trip of a car across the bridge, and that the minimum payment to the city shall be $18,000 per annum;
That other companies pay 5 cents for the trip of a car across the bridge, and that those companies each make an annual minimum payment in the ratio of the number of their cars crossing the bridge, to the number of the City and Suburban Railway."

The object of these amendments is to make the streetcar companies bear the interest charges on the cost of the new structure and if possible to raise additional revenue. The bond issue of $100,000 to build the bridge will cost the city approximately $18,000 annually in interest. The Bridge Commission is to enter into contract with the companies.

The subject was long debated. Some members thought a flat rate of 5 cents per car was sufficient, but others overbore them, arguing that the companies might run large, large cars, and thus cut down the revenue to the city. The important purpose was to get the interest charge covered by revenue so that the new bridge would be self sustaining.

A motion was carried for a special election on the question whether to issue the bonds, but this action was rescinded on account of the cost of a special election. The committee which will draft the amendments to the bill is composed of Maloney, Cobb and Sweek. Men who are likely to be appointed to the Bridge Commission are: W. L. Boise, R. L. Glisan, W. B. Ayer, Herman Wittenberg and N. J. Blagen. The forenamed committee will report to the delegation Thursday night.

The delegation is of one opinion: That the bridge must be rebuilt, at most within two or three years. The members argue that the renewal will be a good investment because of the high cost of maintenance of the present structure, and because of the large revenue that can be derived from the new bridge. They will see to it that all companies will have equal opportunity to use the new bridge.

Port of Portland Commission.
The delegation has two bills before it for the reorganization of the Port of Portland. One of these was drawn by Ellis G. Hughes. It provides for a change in the personnel of the commission, the members of which are to be elected by the Legislature. This board is to fill vacancies in its personnel in its personnel until the next Legislature. The second bill was drafted by the State Federation of Labor. By it the Legislature is to elect a new commission, whose powers are to be centralized in a responsible head. This bill is up for third reading. The other bill has not been introduced. Several members of the delegation manifest a desire to appoint a new commission.

For County Advertising.
Consideration of the bill for county advertising, introduced by Mr. Hodson, was put off until Thursday. Mr. Maloney gave notice that he would introduce a bill to extend the Hancock bonding act to sidewalk sales. A letter from Samuel Connell urged the need of a larger ferry at Albion. The Sellwood ferry was not discussed. A petition from several members of the Portland Council asked for a general law whereby cities of over 20,000 people could regulate and license gambling. The delegation resolved not to act on the petition.

Will Not Recommend Harris Bill.
The taxation committee of the two houses tonight resolved to report without recommendation the Harris bill for assessment and taxation of express, telephone, refrigerator car, and oil companies. They further resolved to recommend passage of the Nottingham bill for a state tax commission to examine and report to the next Legislature on matters of assessment and taxation, and also passage of the Phelps bill for a new system of assessment and collection of taxes.

The Harris bill follows the Ohio law, and aims to tax intangible assets, to create a state board of appraisers, who are to assess such property. The total assessment of each corporation is to be apportioned among the counties in which it does business, and the tax is to be collected in the regular manner. A bill almost similar was introduced by Mr. Daves.

The committees considered for a number of days a bill to tax the gross receipts of corporations 15 per cent, but gave up the matter on the opinion of the Attorney-General that a bill along those lines would be unconstitutional. The appraisers are to be the Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Attorney-General.

The Nottingham bill for a tax commission vests the appointment in the Governor. The Phelps bill provides for payment of taxes before December 31 or in two payments, the first being due on Monday in April. Tax levies are to be made before September. A rebate of 2 per cent is to be allowed on taxes paid before December 31. Thirty days after delinquency the penalty is to be 5 per cent, and interest is to be charged at 12 per cent. These bills are very likely to pass.

Gold Van Suffers From Bad Riding—Jockey Birkenruth Suspended.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The fine weather that prevailed at Ingleside today was in marked contrast to that of Saturday. The track had dried out fairly well, but was deep near the rail. He closed well in the deepest going, but was beaten by two lengths by Leader, with Eclipse second. The judges suspended Birkenruth for rough riding in the third race. He was on Almsilver, and interfered with Rim Rock. Jockey Johnny Reff left today for New York, en route to Paris. The results:

Negro and Englishman Neither Can Wear Out the Other.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—George Dixon, the American colored pugilist, fought a 30-round draw with Harry Ware, of London, at Northampton tonight. The stake was $500, and a crowd of 3000 witnessed the contest.

Ware seemed to be the cleverer of the two at the start, and had the best of the bout up to the fourth round, when Dixon punished him severely about the body. There was heavy fighting until the 14th round. Dixon tired Ware out, but could not himself land a knockout.

Reilly's Manager Arrives.
C. H. Long, Tommy Reilly's manager, arrived in Portland yesterday morning from San Francisco. Long will remain in the city until Saturday night, when he will go to Marysville with Reilly, preparatory to meeting Jack Fogarty on February 21.

Long was very confident yesterday, and was sure his man would win. He says the fight will be one of the best ever seen on the Coast, if Reilly puts up the same quality of scrap that he did in San Francisco against Reilly last month.

The sale of reserved seats for the fight will be opened this morning at the Hotel Mikado, the Sportsman saloon and Schiller's cigar store. Patrons from Vancouver with Harry Ware of London, who will charter special cars for the event, and those living farther away will come in excursion crowds. From present indications, the crowd promises to be one of the largest ever gathered at any similar event in Portland. Dick Case, who fought Tommy Tracey several years ago, is in the city from Seattle to witness the coming match.
