

GRAND JURIGS More Indictments Against Vaudeville Men.

AFTER MEMBER OF COUNCIL Seattle's Moral Uplift Pushed Vigorously—Search for Crooked Gambling Implements in Rainier Grand Hotel a Failure.

SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—The King County grand jury returned 11 indictments against the crooked gambling-house proprietors and property-owners who rented their premises for unlawful purposes.

It was also attempted to get possession of the books of the Rainier Grand Hotel. Waterway Company, in an effort to secure evidence to prove that a certain Councilman has violated his oath of office by holding office in a corporation seeking privileges from the city. The process was defective and the books were not secured.

DUGDALE LOSES HURLEY. Capture of His First Base by Coast League Enrages Him.

SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—(Special.)—President Lou Cohn, of the Seattle Pacific Coast League baseball team, today announced that Bill Hurley, the star first baseman of the Seattle club in the Pacific Northwest league last year, had deserted Manager Dugdale, and was now on his way to Los Angeles to join Manager Parke Wilson, of Seattle.

Cohn made the announcement to Manager Dugdale on the street and for the first time since he broke out Hurley. Dugdale lost his temper. The adjective he used would illuminate a copy of the Police Gazette to perfection.

Cohn also states emphatically that Stovall, the star of the Pacific Northwest league last year, will play with Seattle in the Coast League the coming season.

SHOT DOWN BY FOOTPADS. Prominent Seattle Man Wounded in Resisting Robbers.

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—A. B. Meacham, a prominent young man, was shot by footpads after a show of resistance about 1 o'clock this morning. The bullet passed through his left side, and the wound is not necessarily fatal. The robbers ran off after the shooting, without attempting to rob their victim.

RELATIVES WANT MILLIONS. Woman's Gift to Princeton Theological Seminary in Contest.

New York Herald. Relatives of Mrs. Mary J. Winthrop are determined if possible to prevent the larger portion of her fortune from going to the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian church at Princeton, N. J. For this purpose a few of them have begun a contest over the probate of her will.

Mrs. Winthrop left no nearer relatives than cousins, and these numbered 26. Four of them who are the contestants in the contest among other things declared that if the provisions of the will were carried out the theological seminary will inherit more than is allowed by the will.

Population of Greater New York. NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—In the report of the Health Department published today, it is estimated that the present population of Greater New York is 3,722,962, an increase since the United States census of 1900 of 255,781.

Strength and Shape. New York Press. The world is gone mad on strength and shape. Magazines and newspapers are filled with advertisements of methods of acquiring the muscle of Hercules, the arms of Venus, the neck of Juno, the bust of Vesta, the waist of Josephine, the hips of Diana, the legs of Cleopatra. Minerva is for the moment in the background. No hope for wisdom now. Women are displayed in impossible positions and are urged to repeat certain poses. Mrs. C. asked Mrs. B.: "How do you keep your front so flat, my dear?" Mrs. B. replied: "Oh, I am under instructions. Thirty times a day you stand up 30 times in the evening I pick up each foot in my hands and touch the toe to the tip of my ear. You can have no idea how much it has reduced my front, certainly several inches and some pounds. Do you stand up and do that?" "Necessarily, stand on one foot while the other is in the air." "Merciful heavens!"

IMPROVING BRITISH NAVY. Belleville Boilers Discarded—New British Submarine Boat.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—When the debate on the address in reply to the King's speech was resumed today in the House of Commons, Sir William Allan, who is largely interested in shipping, moved an amendment to the address, expressing regret at the fact that the speech made no reference to the inefficiency of the British navy.

Mr. Arnold-Forster, Secretary of the Admiralty, referring to the extravagance which had produced a submarine boat, had discontinued the use of the Belleville boilers, and was now testing a new type of cylindrical boilers, and following the lead of the United States had adopted the Mallet boiler.

As to armament and armor, he continued, the latest British battleship, the New Zealand, and the latest British cruiser, the Duke of Edinburgh, would be without parallel in the world.

On the subject of submarine boats, the Secretary of the Admiralty informed the House that, as a result of experiments with five purchased submarine vessels, the British Admiralty had produced a submarine boat of wholly British design, which was a great improvement on the originals.

Black No Longer the Vogue in Paris. Paris Letter.

Except as a trimming, black is little worn in Paris. As a matter of course, every woman who frequents society to a greater or less degree has at least one black dress in her wardrobe.

As to the matter of color, it is not black that is in vogue, but a soft, warm, brownish-tan, which is becoming so much so that after one has become accustomed to it one wants to wear nothing else.

DR. SMITH'S SPEECH. His Oration on the Leadership of Mr. Scott Receives Applause.

In nominating Mr. Scott, Senator Smith said in part: "Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly—We have been voting here every day of our legislative assembly, until 29 days have passed. As we were representing a swing back and forth, each tick of it approaches the fatal hour when it will be decided whether we shall have done our duty to the great State of Oregon."

to express the feeling of gratitude which fills my heart, and I can only say, I thank you and promise you that I will ever give my most earnest and faithful attention to my duties, so that I shall merit the confidence you have bestowed upon me.

"I shall accept the office and go to Washington, not as the representative of any portion or locality of Oregon, but as a representative of the entire state. In the contest that has now closed I have frequently been pained to hear it said that if elected to the United States Senate I would represent the interest of one locality to the exclusion of another. Let me say now that my earnest efforts shall be put forth for the advancement and upbuilding of every section of the state, and I shall try to prove to the people of Portland that they never had a better friend in Congress than I shall be."

"While I extend my hearty thanks to all of you, you cannot censure me if I refer to that little band of faithful men who have stood by me through all this contest. It would be strange indeed if my heart did not reach out to them. I can only say God bless you, my friends, who helped to elect me to this office."

"I wish to say, too, that I bear no ill will to any other person who has been a candidate for the United States Senate. I cannot close without expressing my particular gratitude to the President of the Senate. If you will permit me, I wish to say now and here that had it not been for the aid of George C. Brownell I could not stand here tonight as I do now."

"In the United States Senate I shall endeavor to serve you the best I can. That I will make mistakes I am certain, for I have made mistakes in the past, but I assure you that they will not be intentional. In bidding you good night it pleases me to remember that in all this long contest there has been no bitterness, but we have worked together for the good of the state, though often differing in our opinions upon matters of politics or questions of policy. Good night."

A stamped for the platform by the legislators who had been voting for the winner and the losers followed, and Senator Fulton had a brief but satisfactory reception. Meanwhile Representative Shelton, who had been overcome by his enthusiasm, gave vent to his pent-up feelings in an address. Just what he said is not known to very many, for they were not listening to him. The winner was slowly to file out of the Representative hall, and the 40 days' fight was over.

The final ballot was: For Fulton—Banks, Booth, Both, Carr, Carter, Croston, Dally, Dimmick, Eddy, Edwards, Emmitt, Farrar, Fisher, Gault, Ginn, Hahn, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawkins, Hayden, Hermann, Himes, Huntley, Kuykendall, LaFollet, Masters, Miles, Phelps, Purdy, Rand, Riddle, Shelley, Smith of Yumbilla, Stetson, Sweet, Test, Wade, Wehrung—17.

For George H. Williams—Banks, Fisher, Jones of Multnomah, Malarkey, May, S. Forlinger Hermann—Hume, Jones of Washington, Jones of Multnomah, Stetson, Sweet, Test, Wade, Wehrung—17.

For A. L. Frazer—Hunt. For G. B. Thomas—Orton. Absent—Adams. Not voting—Fulton.

CONGRATULATIONS TO FULTON. Mr. Scott Sends Good Wishes for Success in Work for Oregon.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—Mr. Fulton received the following telegram of congratulation on his election from H. W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian: "Dear Mr. Fulton, I congratulate you on your election, wish you a successful career and pledge you my co-operation in all your work for the welfare of Oregon. H. W. Scott."

BIG CROWD CHEERS FULTON. How the News of the Astorian's Election Was Received in Portland.

"Fulton is elected." Loud cheers arose from the large crowd in front of the Oregonian building when this notice was posted on the bulletin board. About 1500 people were seen to assemble to read the bulletin which was posted as fast as received from the wire, and there was a good-natured interest taken in the fortunes of all the candidates.

integrity and at the same time a man who has done more for the party than gives him this honor. The gentleman in whose behalf I speak possesses the ability to a marked extent. The gentleman whose name has just been placed before you in connection with the name of Fulton in the judgment of his friends and enemies alike as the foremost man in the State of Oregon. He has passed upon all the great National questions, and to his integrity it has never been questioned. We have been told about the services that have been rendered and about the ability of the different gentlemen whose names have been proposed. Mr. Scott has given good services, splendid service, and in this day and age the service rendered by a man in a newspaper office who gives to 10,000 minds their views on the great questions of the day is a more far-reaching service than can be rendered by any man speaking, no matter how eloquent he may be. With the services that he has rendered, and Mr. H. W. Scott, a man for whom I speak, before you, I wish to second the nomination of the man who has been the champion of the Republican party in every campaign in the last 40 years.

FULTON MAKES HIS DEBUT. For First Time Comes in Joint Convention.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 20.—(Special.)—The last joint convention of the Republican party for the first time came into the hall. There was much hand-clapping among the friends of the Astoria Senator when he appeared in the audience. When Hon. F. X. Mathieu came along with President Brownell, Mr. Mathieu was invited to a seat alongside the President, who presented him to the audience. "I have a great and distinguished honor," said Mr. Brownell, "of calling your attention to the fact that we have before us one of the last surviving members of the first Republican government of Oregon. It was his vote that decided the great question as to whether Oregon belonged to England or to the United States."

Mr. Mathieu arose and bowed, and the House cheered. "A good many slurs have been cast upon Marion County in this contest," said President Brownell, "and I am certain that you will do us the honor to be honored for, and that is Hon. F. X. Mathieu."

The ballot was then taken and resulted as follows: For Fulton—Banks, Booth, Both, Brownell, Carr, Carter, Cornett, Dimmick, Eddy, Edwards, Emmitt, Farrar, Gault, Ginn, Hahn, Hale, Hansbrough, Harris, Hermann, Himes, Huntley, Kuykendall, LaFollet, Masters, Miles, Phelps, Purdy, Rand, Riddle, Shelley, Smith of Yumbilla, Stetson, Sweet, Test, Wade, Wehrung—17.

An energetic campaign and won out by 70 votes. In the early '90s Mr. Fulton was elected City Attorney, and in 1888 was a Presidential elector, carrying back to Washington the vote of Oregon and casting it for President Harrison. In 1890 Mr. Fulton defeated Hon. John Kopp for State Senator, and in 1898 he was again a candidate for the Senate, his opponent being Hon. John H. Smith, who is the soul of honor and integrity, and who has never been remembered. Mr. Smith is immensely popular, and not until the ballots were counted could any one predict the result. Mr. Fulton was elected, but by a narrow margin.

It is interesting in this connection to note that Mr. Smith was offered all sorts of inducements to run against Mr. Fulton in the election of last year. Mr. Fulton, who is a Clatsop leader, but he declined on the ground that he would not stand in Mr. Fulton's way if he had a chance to go to Washington. This act was characteristic of Mr. Smith, who is the soul of honor and integrity, and who has never been remembered. Mr. Smith is immensely popular, and not until the ballots were counted could any one predict the result. Mr. Fulton was elected, but by a narrow margin.

Never before in the history of loyal Astoria has so notable a victory been won, and Astoria celebrated as only Astoria can. The Astorian rushed frantically about, Democrats and Republicans, and one would have thought the entire population insane.

In a frenzy of joy the wildly enthusiastic Astorians rattled bombs and firecrackers, and at 3 A. M. the celebration was still on.

Senator Fulton is expected home Monday, and he will be accorded a reception here. He is expected to visit what has been an intoxication for Astorians of all political faiths.

FASHION'S BIRTHPLACE. The Latest Styles of the French Capital Are to Be Seen at the Theater.

London Letter. It is an undisputed fact that in these days, under the reign of the third French republic, the stage is one of the great elements for the production of new fashions. Thus, when a play is put on at the Vaudeville or at the Gymnase, and one are the two theaters in Paris which are almost exclusively devoted to modern comedy—there is a general rush of fair Parisiennes to the theater, not only on account of the play, but because they believe that the fashions exhibited therein. And by theater-gowns I do not mean only those that are shown on the stage, but also those that are shown in the street. French plays are never far from the front, French plays are the very latest French fashions in the house. The really smart Parisienne does not care to see a play after it has run more than about 10 days, and if the real smart Parisienne has seen a play, she found that not only does she believe that the performance "goes off" somewhat better after the first dozen performances, but also because after the first few performances of this were given, she has seen the play. So that it is during the first week of a new play, if one be a seeker of new fashions, that one must be seen in an "avant-garde" or a "forchestré."

A RACE FOR LIFE. The person who does not live thus close to nature, who works and sleeps confined in an ill-ventilated room, is risking his life in commercial habits that are ruinous to the stomach and heart, such as lunches consumed at racing speed, overwork and late hours, and will have fewer red blood corpuscles and an increase of white corpuscles. The stomach, heart, and nervous system of Americans are being sorely overtaxed. Our people are overworked and overstrained in schools, offices and workshops, and this is the growing evil of America. Sleep is often broken; the ill-used brain will not permit one to enjoy "Nature's sweet restorator"—sleep in bed.

The blood is slow, sluggish and filled with white corpuscles. Stagnation of the blood causes headache, constipation, colds, coughs and a pale countenance. Nervousness in nine cases out of ten is the "cry of the starved nerves for food." Feed the nerves on pure rich blood and all nervous manifestations will cease.

The man who lives in an out-of-door life, who earns his living by his brawn and muscle, is a being who can defy bad weather and all kinds of hardships. He is quickening the heart, driving the blood through unused channels, hastening the breathing and increasing the secretions of the skin. He is able to abstain from his stomach, to drink or smoke to excess and yet be healthy. His red blood corpuscles will still keep their shape and color. But made active; that force-pump of the body—the heart, is stimulated to healthy action, and every nerve of the body is fed on rich red blood—blood with an abundance of red corpuscles. Languid, tired feelings, nervousness and irritability, lack of appetite and sleep vanish quickly after using this nourishing tonic and blood purifier.

At the present moment there are two most modern and smart comedies being performed at the Gymnase and at the Vaudeville. At the Gymnase the play is called "Joujou." It is by the young au-

HINTS FOR RIGHT LIVING. One man who has done more to teach the American people how to care for their bodies than almost any other, is Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the Author of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser." He says: "It is not the quantity of the food eaten which produces strength and health (for some people can keep strong on a very meagre diet), but it is how much food is absorbed and assimilated by the blood and carried to nourish every organ of the body. It is, therefore, vitally necessary for the body that the stomach be in a healthy state. If disease of the stomach, or what is called 'stomach trouble,' prevents proper nutrition then the heart, liver, lungs, and kidneys do not get proper food—they are not fed on rich red blood—and in consequence, begin to show signs of distress. Outwardly these signs may be pimples and eruptions on skin, pale face, sleepless nights, and languid feelings, or, by reason of the nerves not being fed on pure blood, they become starved and we receive a warning in the pain we call neuralgia. Rheumatism, too, is a blood disease. After years of practice and study Dr. Pierce found that one of his prescriptions made from the extracts of several plants, invariably brought about a tone to the system. This increase in the red corpuscles of the blood by helping the process of absorption of the healthy elements in the food, casting out the poisons from the blood. This Alternative Extract he named 'Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.' It will cure you. We do not ask you to believe it, our assertion, for the proprietors and manufacturers of this 'Medical Discovery' offer $3,000 reward for any case where they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial given in the thousands which they have constantly accumulating thus proving their genuineness.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and think it the greatest medicine in the world," writes Mrs. V. M. Young, of Weir, West Virginia, who took in six months ago and called in our physician and he gave me medicine but I grew worse. He said I had dyspepsia in its worst form. I decided to try your medicine and began to improve. I use five bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three of 'Favorite Prescription,' and now I am doing my own housework. A number of my friends are also using Dr. Pierce's medicine and they recommend it highly. May God bless and prosper you in your grand work."
