Hunters Sought Notoriety.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22.—A special to the Republic from Nashville, Tenn., says: The two armed men, who by their threatening demands for food have terrified the inhabitants of this vicinity and led to the belief that they were William Randolph and Fred Lewis, charged with the recent robbery of the bank at Union, have been captured by a posse and found to be only wandering hunters seeking notoriety.

Mass Meeting of Negroes.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22.—A largely attended mass meeting of negroes was held this afternoon at the People's Tabernacle, addresses upon racial questions being delivered by both white and colored speakers, among them Captain Evan F. Howell, Mayor of Atlanta, who said that the white and colored races of the South should work for the consummation of the highest good to all. Bishop H. M. Turner also spoke. Nearly 3000 people were present.

Paris Persisted in Being Gay.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—In spite of the threatening weather, Parisians celebrated the opening of the carnival with the usual enthusiasm today. A number of students paraded the principal boulevards and streets in the afternoon, escorting grotesque groups representing topical subjects, such as the Internment of the Moulin Rouge, that once popular place of amusement having recently ceased to exist. A vacant space in the procession was occupied by a masquerader, carrying a notice that the police had forbidden the parading of this group. The space was to have been filled with a grotesque representation of the Humbert family, but the Prefect of Police objected to the subject and prohibited it.

NOT TILL JUNE

Congressional Election for First District.

GOVERNOR IS IN NO HURRY

Announces Probable Date for the Ballot.

CANDIDATES OF BOTH PARTIES

Chamberlain Sees No Necessity for Calling an Early Election for the Possible Emergence of a Special Session.

Possible Candidates for Representative From First District

George C. Brownell, Oregon City, Republican.
Claud Gatch, Salem, Republican.
Binger Hermann, Roseburg, Republican.
H. H. Hewitt, Albany, Republican.
M. A. Miller, Lebanon, Democrat.

W. L. Vawter, Medford, Republican.
J. K. Weatherford, Albany, Democrat.

"A special election for the purpose of choosing a Congressman from the First District to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Thomas H. Tongue will be called between May 1 and June 15," said Governor Chamberlain last night. In giving his reasons for calling the election at the time mentioned, the Governor said: "A greater number of citizens will be able to vote at that time. It is a season when the farmers can leave their work, and the roads are good enough to allow them to get to the polling places without great inconvenience."

"The new Congressman would not see much of a special session of Congress if one should be called immediately following the present one," suggested the reporter. "That is true," answered Mr. Chamberlain; "but it cannot be helped. Between May 1 and June 15 is the natural time for an election in Oregon, and it is the time the present Congress expires. The present Congressional term expires in March, and it would be useless to elect a man to serve during the time following the term expires. If a man is to be elected for the coming term he cannot take office before March 4, so it would be impossible for him to attend the present session. A special session, if it should be called, would adjourn before the summer term sets in. I do not believe it is possible for a Congressman to be elected in time to take his place before the next regular session."

"If I should call an election now some sections of the country would not be represented at all in the vote. I want this to be an election in which every citizen of the state can take part. At this time the roads are bad in the country, and there are many good citizens from the country who could not take the trouble to go to polling places. Again, they are busy with their farming and other work, and cannot take time to go to the polls. I want to call an election between May 1 and June 15 is the natural time for an election in this state, and I do not think the rule should be changed in this case."

Regarding probable candidates the Governor had little to say. He seemed to think that Evan Reames, of Jackson County, would be the Democratic candidate, but, aside from this, expressed no opinion. "All that I have to do with the contest," said he, "is to call the election. After the time has been set by me the political machinery will get to work, and the candidates will be named. It is the duty of those who seem to me to be the most convenient for the great majority of the people to cast their votes."

Telegrams were sent yesterday by the Oregonian to various possible candidates for the vacant office, asking their views on the question, and inquiring also if each recipient of the query would accept the nomination. Sunday being a day when people are hard to find, a number of the messages were not delivered. The following answers were received:

"I think the election should be called early in order that Oregon may be fully represented in case of a called session of Congress."
H. H. HEWITT.

"I answer to your telegraphic inquiry: First, special election should be held on the second Monday in June next. Second, I am not a candidate."
J. K. WEATHERFORD.

"Replying to your dispatch, would say that I think a writ of election to fill the vacancy in the First Congressional District should be issued at once, and that the election should be held between the first and middle of May. I am in no sense a candidate for the office. As to whether I would accept the nomination if unannouncedly tendered by my party, I cannot say, for the reason that I have not seriously considered the matter. I certainly would not make any effort to secure the nomination. E. REAMES.

"The election should be held, if possible, the second Monday in June, and, in fairness to all candidates, a new set of delegates to a nominating convention should be chosen by our party. I am not now a candidate. That I will not be I should not say, for I am free to confess that I would greatly appreciate the honor of being a Representative from the country of Lewis and Clark."
CLAUD GATCH.

plied by a masquerader, carrying a notice that the police had forbidden the parading of this group. The space was to have been filled with a grotesque representation of the Humbert family, but the Prefect of Police objected to the subject and prohibited it.

After dark the boulevards were packed with masqueraders and others, who carried on a lively battle with confetti, while the scene in front of the opera house was all occupied by amused onlookers.

Due to Seven Causes—Not Behind Foreign Nations.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 22.—

The House of Representatives met at noon today in special session to hear eulogies on the late Representative Tongue, of Oregon. Representative Moody, after offering the customary resolution, took the Speaker's chair and presided throughout the day. Many of Mr. Tongue's colleagues from both the river and harbor and the irrigation committee, and those who accompanied his remains to Oregon, were heard in eulogy. The service was conducted with solemnity appropriate to the occasion, the remarks being brief but touching, lauding the accomplishments of the departed and deploring his death while he was yet rising as a power in the National Congress.

Representative Bishop, of the river and harbor committee, was the first speaker. He said:

"As a member of the river and harbor committee, Mr. Tongue was most earnest in his advocacy of the improvements not only of the waterways of his own state, but of the entire Pacific Coast. Each appropriation secured for such improvements in recent Congresses can be largely traced to his watchful care of the interest of the Columbia River. The improvement of the Columbia River at its mouth and at the Dalles was near his heart. He stated that if he could secure a deep waterway in the Columbia River from Celilo to the sea he would ask for no more honorable or enduring monument to his memory."

Representative Mondell, of the irrigation committee, referred to Mr. Tongue as a "doer of things; an earnest, thorough and faithful worker."

Mr. Davidson, who was one of the Congressional escort, reviewed the events of the funeral, closing with a testimonial to Mr. Tongue's ability as a public servant, a most useful legislator.

Congressman Bellamy, of North Carolina, recalled Mr. Tongue's ability, on the frequent occasions when he spoke, to hold the attention of the House, as few men could do. "He was no ordinary man," said he, "for the honor paid him when we bore his remains to their last resting place was such as is shown an exalted ruler. His honesty and faithful devotion to duty were the predominant characteristics of Mr. Tongue." He added: "Mr. Tongue was broad-minded and liberal in his views, though ever alert to the needs of his own state."

Said Representative Lawrence, of Massachusetts: "He did not seek to advance the interests of his own part of the country by sacrificing the welfare of the whole country. He had within the genius for his work."

Representatives Hansell, of Louisiana, and Needham and Coombs, of California, spoke briefly in testimony of Mr. Tongue's sterling qualities as a man and as a successful legislator.

Chairman Burton, of the river and harbor committee, Mr. Tongue's most intimate friend, spoke eloquently and with emotion of his success in public life, where conscience and regard for duty ever swayed him. Mr. Burton said:

"His name will be inseparably linked with the irrigation law, under which millions of acres will be added to the National domain of arable lands, and which it is hoped will furnish additional trade and additional prosperity to our country. As a member of the river and harbor committee, his first solicitation was for his state and the Pacific Coast, but in time he came to realize the broader responsibility which comes to men who lay hold upon the interests of this great country. While conservative and careful, he adopted that liberal policy which made him an advocate of improvements of the great waterways which uphold the commerce of the Nation."

Representatives Reeves, of Illinois; Sparkman, of Florida; and Doremus, of West Virginia, spoke particularly of Mr. Tongue's service on the river and harbor committee. Representative Cushman, of Washington, briefly added his tribute to those that had gone before, closing the eulogies on Representative Tongue.

Tribute was also paid to the memory of the late Representative Ruple, of Iowa, and the late Representative Moody, of North Carolina. Upon the late Representative Ruple eulogy was pronounced by Messrs. Lacey, Conner, Cousins, Hepburn, Smith, Haugen and Thomas, all Iowa Republicans; Calderhead (Rep.

Kan.), Thompson (Dem. Ala.). Upon the late Representative Moody: Messrs. Klutz (Dem. N. C.), Pott (Dem. N. C.), Gibson (Rep. Tenn.), Thomas (Dem. N. C.) and Small (Dem. N. C.).

At 4:25 P. M., as a further mark of respect the House adjourned.

FLOOD IN CONNECTICUT.

Ice Breaks in Doors of Houses—Several Narrow Escapes.

DERBY, Conn., Feb. 22.—The breaking of three reservoirs in the town of Shelton early today caused damage estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 and there were several narrow escapes from death. The torrent tore a great gully 120 feet long and 30 feet wide through Howe avenue. Logs and trees and huge cakes of ice were carried along and crashed into several buildings.

The house of Walter Nichols was struck by the flood. Nichols was away and his wife was awakened by the ice crashing against the door. A few minutes later the water commenced to flow into the bedroom where six children were sleeping. Mrs. Nichols hurried to the door and held it open while her children escaped to an upper floor. A few moments later she escaped just before the water forced in the door and flooded the rooms. The family remained prisoners in the upper part of the house until the water receded. Warren Wilbur was awakened by a cake of ice crashing through his door. He ran to the street where the water was waist high and hurried to the nearest point of refuge. Several times he was hit by ice and fallen trees and painfully injured. Ten minutes later the side of the building was swept away and the bed in which he had been sleeping was carried away in the flood.

Street-railway tracks and telephone and telegraph wires were all torn down and strewn about in confusion. The reservoirs were used to rebuild and fill with the property lost. It is believed, will make the loss $100,000. Several mills will remain idle until the gravel swept into the race is removed.

Newfoundland's Snow Blockade.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 22.—Relief parties with food today reached the trains which are snowbound in the interior and supplied them with provisions. The nearest train was freed today and started back toward St. John's. The relief train is forcing its way forward, trying to clear the track to enable the other two blocked trains to move east also. It is impossible to say when they will be released, as the drifts are very heavy.

Ohio River Getting High.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Feb. 22.—The Ohio River was slowly rising at 3 o'clock tonight. It lacks four feet of the highest mark since 1884. The bottoms are covered for several miles on the Indiana side. The crest of the rise will be reached to-morrow. The river is rising at a rate of a few feet more and the damage will be untold.

TO TRY NEW WAR BOAT

This One Has Wheels to Run on Bottom of Sea.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The submarine torpedo-boat projector, a new type of vessel, which will shortly be put through a series of trials for the purpose of demonstrating her capabilities to the officers of the United States Navy, is being hauled at City Island and put in condition for the coming tests. The projector was built in Bridgeport, Conn., by her inventor and owner, Captain Simon Lake. The vessel is designed for harbor defense. She is 60 feet long, 11 feet beam, draws 12 feet of water and weighs about 200 tons. She is built of steel and equipped with two wheels to enable her to travel along the bottom of the sea. Her motive power is electricity when submerged and gasoline when cruising on the surface. There are two torpedoes. One opening from her bow will admit of a diver leaving the boat to cut cables and mine connections. Her builder believes she can destroy submarines and torpedoes. During recent trials she carried a crew of eight men and nine passengers. A speed of 12 knots was made easily on her surface run.

ATTACKED A POWER-HOUSE

Mob at South Bend, Ind., Felled by the Police.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 22.—An attempt was made by a mob of 150 men to wreck the power-house of the Indiana Railway Company, and do injury to the employes there today. There were seven men at the power-house when the attack was made. One, the watchman, named Dietrich, was thrown bodily through a window, and seriously injured. J. A. O'Vitt and M. L. Lester, were badly pummeled and gashed by bricks, stones and clubs.

The attack was planned for an hour when it was thought the police could not reach the scene in force, but it proved ill-fated, for a detail reached the place in time to effect several arrests. Among those arrested are two ex-employees of the company, named Warrell and Boesche, who went on a strike. They will be charged with conspiracy, riot and assault with intent to kill. The hose was turned on the fire under the boilers. Much damage was done to property.

BRITISH PROTEST

Don't Like Lodge and Turner.

THEIR MINDS MADE UP

Canadian View of Alaskan Boundary Commission.

SMALL PROSPECT OF YIELDING

Ottawa Official Thinks United States Commissioners Would Concede Nothing, No Matter How Strong the British Case Might Be.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 22.—There have been rumors for several days, said to originate at the British Embassy, that the selection of Lodge and Turner for the Alaskan Boundary Commission was a great surprise to the British Government, and that they are not satisfactory, though it is doubted if any protest will be made. Several reports coming from Ottawa show that the Canadians are dissatisfied, and a special dispatch from the Canadian capital, published in a New York paper, quotes an unnamed official of the Canadian government as saying:

"We think it extremely unfair that Senators Lodge and Turner should have been put upon the commission, in view of their reiterated expression of opinion upon the Alaska boundary dispute. It is not long since Senator Lodge denounced the Canadian case as absurd and untenable, and declared that the United States would never consent to yield up a foot of territory in the disputed domain. He went so far as to declare that there was nothing to arbitrate.

"Senator Turner's views of the dispute, upholding, as he has done, the views of Seattle throughout, are also well understood. "We know that when the treaty was first submitted to the United States Senate it was said to have no chance for ratification, but the President and Secretary Hay interviewed Republican Senators, and, on the promise that Commissioners would be appointed in whom the Senate might have confidence, the treaty was ratified. The next we heard was that Messrs. Lodge and Turner had been named as Commissioners. The reasonable inference is that their appointment was the result of an understanding with the Senate by which the commission was to be so composed that nothing would be yielded on the part of the United States, no matter how strong the British case might prove to be.

"How can men whose views are so pronounced be termed impartial jurists?"

READY TO ATTACK TURKS

Macedonians at the Frontier—Austria and Russia Act.

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—It is reported that the Macedonian leader, Boris Sarafoff, has had organized within the past fortnight several bands of well-equipped Bulgarian bandits in Macedonia, each consisting of about 250 men. The Neue Friese learns that 4000 armed Macedonians are concentrated near the celebrated Rila Monastery, 40 miles from Sofia, and are preparing to attack the town of Melnik, in the Turkish province of Serres.

There is an unconfirmed rumor that the Albanians have attacked the Roumanian Consulate at Mitrovetsa, Turkey.

Austria and Russia Demand Reforms

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 22.—The Austrian and Russian Ambassadors presented Saturday to the Grand Vizier identical memoranda embodying the demands for reforms in Macedonia. They afterward acquainted the Foreign Minister of the step taken. This course was adopted to give the proceedings a semi-official character. The chief proposal made in the memoranda is the appointment of an inspector-general for three years, with powers to act independently and to requisition troops in case of emergency. The plan also provides for the reorganization of the gendarmerie and police under European instructors, for administrative and financial reforms and for a more equitable collection of taxes. These reforms do not affect the Sultan's authority or wound the religious susceptibilities of the Mussulmans.

Russia Gags the Press.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 22.—The government, in a secret circular sent to the press, calls attention to the declaration published in the Official Messenger February 15, in which the newspapers are instructed to refrain from publishing articles hostile to Turkey in connection with the Macedonian situation. Today's circular says that the previous declaration clearly indicated the constant desire of the Czar to promote peacefully and earnestly reforms in Turkey, and it orders the papers to abstain from superfluous attacks on the Turkish government.

Another circular forbids the mention of the participation of the Russian government and its local agents in the construction of highways in Persia.
