MARQUAM GRAND THEATER - Tonight at 8:15 o'clock, Daniel Sully will present "The Old Mill Stream."

THE BAKER THEATER—This evening at 8:15, "The Great Diamond Robbery."
ORDBRAY'S THEATER—This evening at 8:15, Knute Erickson, in "The Man From Sweden."

BANCROFT TAKES OFFICE MARCH 1 .- F. A. Bancroft, Portland's new Postmaster, will assume the dutles of his office on Sunday, March 1. As he was notified of his appointment to the position two months ago, his friends have been waiting patiently for him to announce when he would take charge. He has shown so little symptom of haste in the matter that those who knew his official bond in the sum of $150,000 had been filed and accepted have been jokingly accusing him of wish-ing to shirk the responsibility, and one told him yesterday that it was reported that he was endeavoring to negotiate with Mr. Creasman to remain in office. This caused Mr. Bancroft to announce that he would assume the duties of Post-master on March 1. He stated some time ago that he did not contemplate making iny radical changes among the employes in the office. It is understood that Charles Burckhardt, the present Assistant Post-master, will be retained in that position, and although the salary is a very good one, there has been no crowd of applicants scrambling for the place, as too frequent-iy happens. The only person who has n mentioned as likely to take the place ls H. A. Smith, Deputy County Clerk, but he is so comfortably situated at present that there is but little prospect of his resigning even to secure the position of Assistant Postmuster.

FILL ON NINETEENTH STREET.-Son 10,000 wards of earth being taken from various excavations by Contractor C. E. Cook is being dumped through the bridge or elevated roadway on Nineteenth street across the guich between Alder and Morrison streets. The earth now in sight for this fill will be supplemented by more as soon as possible, and the filling will be continued until the surface is level with the street grade. In this case the earth is being dumped through openings made directly over a row of bents on each side, so that the fill piles up on each side of these rows of bents and maintains them in an erect position. In many cases where the earth has been dumped through the middle of a bridge of this kind, or off each side, the pressure has been so great on the bents as to push them to one side and thus throw the deck out of shape and render it impassable. In this case the more earth is dumped the more stanch supports of the bridge become. Son of the earth being dumped comes from excavations made for Russell & Blyth, and is paid for by the city, while a lot more is being furnished by the City & Suburban Railway Company. It is to be hoped that with so many new buildings to be erected about the city in the near future many fills of the kind menti-

CHARTER HELPS SIDEWALK IMPROVE MENTS.-The new charter is found great ly to facilitate the securing of needed sidewalk improvements. It is now no longer necessary to chase over the whole untry to find the owners of property in ont of which new sidewalks are necessary, and then to have to argue the case with them and be put off from time to time indefinitely by promises never intended to be fulfilled. It is now only necessary for the City Engineer to have a notice posted on property, giving the owner, agent and occupant of the prop-erty directions to construct immediately a good and substantial sidewalk along and adjacent thereto. No less than 47 such notices were posted on the East Side Mon-day, and before they had been posted an hour parties were flocking in to secure permits for the construction of the side-walks ordered. The new charter provides that in case such notices are not promptly attended to the City Engineer shall pro-ceed to construct the walks and take a lien on the property for the cost. Be-tween 40 and 50 such notices were posted on the West Side yesterday, and more are to follow, and the prospect is that—thanks to the new law—it will be possible to have the streets of Portland decently sidevalked in the future.

WINTER EXCURSION TO THE BEACH.— Eastern people would not be likely to think of going to the coast for a day's pleasure in December or February, but this is becoming quite the fashion here. A party which spent a Sunday at the beach in December had such an enjoyable that the experiment was repeated Sunday. The excursionists had a last Sunday. The excursionists had a most enjoyable time. Arrangements had been made in advance for accommodations at the new Grimes Hotel. The railroad ny sent a chair car right through beach with the party, and it was sent down again on Monday for the re-turn trip. The day was a beautiful one, end the party spent it strolling on the beach, visiting the shell mounds and calling on old Mrs. Michell, the last surviving ber of a tribe of Clatsop Indians, who is 102 years old. Several expressed the idea that a life at the beach would enable any of them to live as long as this. During the day the party agreed to make an excursion together to the summit of Mount Hood on the Fourth of July next. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McCraken, Mrs. Pratt, of Oregon City, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holman and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mack.

HENS Now Do THEIR DUTY.-The chick-ens of the Winamette Valley, which were complained of during the cold snap as derelict in the production of eggs, have shown that they are all right by rising to the occasion as soon as the frost disap-peared. They are now literally snowing the city under with fresh-laid eggs. Only a little while ago such eggs were scarce at 40 cents per dozen. Now they are retailed at 25 cents. Commission men sell them by the case at 23% cents per dozen, and they are so numerous that it is beginning to be hard work to get rid of big lots at that price, and it will not be long till good, fresh eggs will be down to 20 and perhaps even 15 cents per dozen. The retail venders complain that the margin on eggs is small, and that they can make but little by handling them, but they have to keep them.

SASH AND DOOR FACTORIUS BURY.—Sash tailed at 25 cents. Commission men sell

SASH AND DOOR FACTORIES BUSY .- Sast and door factories are all running full time, and several of them are either increasing their capacity or planning to do so as soon as possible. There is no end of orders pouring in, and the prospects seem favorable for the demand lasting indefinitely. Everything looks favorable for this branch of business, as not only is the city demand constantly increasing. out orders are coming in from all parts of the country in ever increasing volume. More sash and door mills are needed, said a contractor yesterday, if the buildings in sight are to be finished on time.

CHINESE GAMBLERS FORFEIT BAIL-AS a result of recent raids on Chinese gambling dens $240 was yesterday turned into the city treasury. Twenty-four Celestials city treasury. Twenty-four Celestials were ordered to appear for trial, but did not show up. They were out on $10 ball each, and forfelted the amount.

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S FINE ROOMS.-Members of the Commercial Club, who have just completed expending nearly $15,000 in remodeling and refurnishing their in remodeling and refurnishing their clubrooms in the Chamber of Commerce building, feel very happy and proud of what they have accomplished. They feel that they have done the right thing at the right time, and that it is a good thing for the city that they have provided such a spacious and handsomely fitted up establishment, where visitors can be entertained by members. itors can be entertained by members. They are congratulating themselves espe-cially because just at this time a new era of prosperity is dawning on the city, and visitors are coming in from all parts in greater numbers than ever known before. The rooms are not yet completed, and some of the members wince a little when asked to contribute to a fund of $2000 to be expended in bringing the kitchen and dining-room up to the desired state of perfection. The money will be raised and the desired improvements made

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF BOARD OF TRADE.—At a special meeting of the ex-ecutive committee of the Board of Trade held yesterday afternoon it was decided to co-operate with the other commercial bodies of the city in the reception to be tendered Senator C. W. Fulton at the Commercial Club this evening. The mat-ter of the incorporation of the Board of Trade was brought before the committee by L. J. Shell, and upon his motion a committee of three, consisting of T. B. Potter, C. M. Idleman and J. H. Fisk, was appointed to consider the advisability of incorporation and to make a report The secretary was instructed to call the attention of the daily newspapers to the numerous requests received by the Board for business locations in the city, and in this manner to urge upon capitalists the advisability of making further invest-ments in this line.

CITY PRESS CLUB TO ENLARGE QUAR TERS.—A forward movement was resolved upon at a special meeting of the City Press Club Monday night, when a motion was passed appropriating $200 for the pur-chase of furniture and other articles necssary for the attractiveness of the clubrooms. A portion of this money will be applied toward fitting up a third room recently added to the suite, and the rest of the money will be used in the other rooms, which are already fairly well fur nished. This special committee was ap-pointed to expend the appropriation: Paul R. Kelty (chairman), Fred J. Wilson, N. J. Levinson, M. M. Shillock and William Candlin. President Shillock gave an address, in which he referred to the usefulness of the Press Club in connection with the 1905 Fair.

ROBBED BY A FRIEND. T. H. Foster the Victim of His Com panion, Fred Downs.

For stealing $16 from his friend and com anion, T. H. Foster, Fred Downs was last night looked up in the City Jail. Fos-ter at first accused a colored woman in Whitechapel of taking the money, but as soon as Detective Sam Simmons arrived on the scene he was convinced that the colored woman had nothing to do with the theft. Further investigation showed that Foster's friend had played him false and when searched both the money and purse were found upon him. The money had been taken out of the purse, but was found in Downs' pockets.

"The colored woman was the one who sent for the police," sald Sam Simmons last night, "and that made me think that she did not take the money."

As soon as the officers made an investigation of the circumstances they sus-pected Downs of the theft. "Have you a purse?" he was asked by

"Yes," said he, and drew from his pocket a purse which Foster immediately identified. There was a quarrel as to the ownership of the purse, and the guilty nan made some statements which sound

"Five or six dollars," answered Downs.

"Why is it not in your purse?"
"I have a right to do with my money as I please," was his prompt response. At this the two men were taken to the police station. Foster made a vigorous protest. He could not believe that his friend was guilty of such treachery, and granting that he was, did not wish to prosecute him. The detectives insisted that the man must stand trial.

"In what form was your money?" Poster was asked as he arrived at the station. "I had a $5 bill and two gold pleces," he answered; "the rest was in silver."

Upon carefully searching Downs at the station the missing money was found. In one pocket was a bill, in the other a gold while carefully tucked away in the plece, while carefully jucked away in the corner of an envelope was the second gold plece. A small amount of sliver was also found, completing the amount lost by Foster. Both men protested vigorously, but one was locked up on the charge of larceny from the person and the other locked up to assure his appearance as a witness. They gave their names as Fred Sterling and Jim Smith, but papers found in their pockets revealed their real names.

The office and records of the Twin Falls Land & Water Company were destroyed by fire on the morning of the 11th inst. If parties who have written inquiring about the enterprise will please again send their names and addresses, prompt reply will be made.

THE POSTMASTER

Shook Off Coffee and Got Well.

It's so easy to shake off coffee and coffee-diseases when well-made Postum Cereal Food Coffee is served in its place that it doesn't take long to tell the tale. The Postmaster of a flourishing town in Dinwiddle County, Va., writes: "Up to a short time ago coffee had me great sufferer from constipation, nervous-ness and indigestion. About the middle of last July I quit coffee and began using Postum and ever since I have been im-proving. My troubles have now quite proving. "I attribute my recovery to Postum and have induced several of my friends to try it. You are at liberty to use this. Name given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd. Battle Creek, Mich.

There is a reason. Coffee is a definite polson to many persons and disease sets in if the use of even one cup a day is ontinued.

When the poison is withdrawn and a pure beverage food like Postum Food Coffee used the return to health is natural and prompt if the disease is not too advanced, and many, very many old chronic diseases disappear when the coffee is abandoned and Postum used in its stead. Many of these old diseases are hidden nervous disorders, that is coffee keeps the nerves poisoned and that condition creates and holds disease in some organ of the body. Take away the cause and give a true, natural nerve rebuilder like Postum and the change is often miraculous.

No more charming, delightful singer, full of grace and vivacity, has appeared years on the stage of the Marquam Grand Theater than Mademoiselle Zelle de Lussan, mezzo-soprano, who sang there last night under the direction of Miss Lois Steers. The pianist was Angelo Fro-nani, of New York. The audience was quite a brilliant and cultured one, and many professional musicians and students were present. Mademoiselle de Lussan fulfilled every expectation made of her, and she placed a new and delightful interpretation on several of the songs se lected, more or less familiar to vocal students. She was heartily applauded. and she received several encores, but only sponded to two of them. The audi-ice would willingly have listened to her for hours, had this been possible. Of the many prima donnas before the public today few of them have stood the test of time and hard vocal work so well as Mademoiselle de Lussan. For years she has been one of the favorites at the Metropolitan Opera-House, New York, against an army of foreign singers who are also of world-wide renown, and she makes more friends every tour she undertakes. A pair of laughing black eyes, dark hair, red lips revealing white teeth, a figure of medium height. Spanish temperament, joyousness like a ray of glistening sun-shine, and an unusually pleasant voice-these are a few of the nice things that can be said about De Lussan. There are sopranos, of course, who can sing higher notes than she, and whose exquisite, clear tones rival the purity of notes played on a flute. At the same time one can deliberately pull a rose to pieces, and find find fault with its construction, leaf by leaf. But when all is said and done, there is only one De Lussan, the singer. Her programme was skillfully chosen last night, and her selections showed her ondrous versatility.

Of course, many of the songs were sung in foreign languages, but from a musica point of view they were enjoyable all the same because there is only one language after all to musicians, the lan guage of music. In such a sense, mere words can be dispensed with so long as the tune is present. De Lussan made her greatest impression last night when she sang the "Carmen" number, and created a perfect furore because of her fine vocal-ism and interpretation. She was called back to bow her acknowledgment four times. Her charming grace and purity of articulation in such gems as Guetary's "Lili," Allitson's "Since We Parted,' 'and the number from "Mignon," will not be forgotten for a long time by vocal stu-

The most satisfying number was probably the waltz song, "La Boheme," by Puccini. Her encores were: "La Paloma," by Yradler, and "Come in an' Shut the Door," by Calcott. It was a pleasure to hear such even tones, almost free from the continual shake that is so unpleasant in so many voices. She also gave a bril-liant exhibition in coloratura work, in one instance showing that she could ex-cel in this department of vocalism if she

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"The Great Diamond Robbery."

"All about 'The Great Diamond Robbery'" would be the cry of the newsboy, if such a thing would be the order in theater advertising. Theater-goers are filled with delight when seated in the comfortable chairs at the Baker Theater and witnessing the production of this famous melodrama. The stage settings, the dramatic effects, the wonderful portrayal of characters, all tend to make this play one long to be remembered. Those who witnessed its production for the past two days are unstinted in their praise. The box office is deluged with persons anxious to get seats for "The Great Diamond Robbery." The Baker Theater is being taxed to its utmost capacity every night with lovers of wholesome dramatic art. Each member of the Baker Stock Company is being made more popular by the part he or she takes in this powerful melodrama. Many who went to see this play expected to see nothing but murder and bloodshed; these were agreeably sur-prised when they saw the pathos was offset by the comedy and that the thrill-ing scenes have a romantic love story in

"Because She Loved Him So." An abundance of laughter is promised those who will witness the production of "Because She Loved Him So" at the Baker next week. This is a comedy full of entirely new and novel situations. It has only been played once on the Pacific Coast. The original Frohman company presented it several years ago. This is sufficient proof that it is a first-class production. Furthermore, the fact that sufficient proof that it is a first-class production. Furthermore, the fact that it deals with a newly-married couple who are very much in love with each other, but whose happiness is marred by the young wife's jealousy, shows that there is comedy galore. Many will wish to see this, for perhaps "they have been there before," and wish to know how this young couple surmounted the obstacles. young couple surmounted the obstacles in their way. William Gillette, who is the author of this production, once stated that he considers this as one of the best plays he ever wrote.

The Man From Sweden. Mr. Knute Erickson, who is starring in "The Man From Sweden," Managers Broadhurst and Currie's new success, at Cordray's this week, relates an amusing conversation between two Swedish friends of his which he overheard in a little town in North Dakota.

Daniel Sully Tonight. Tonight at the Marquam Grand Thea-ter one of the greatest favorites on the American stage, Mr. Daniel Sully, and his excellent company will begin an engagement of two nights, presenting his latest and best success, "The Old Mill Stream." In presenting "The Old Mill Stream." for public favor, Daniel Bully wishes to announce that it is by far the greatest play he has ever offered. It is repiete with deft touches of humor and pathos, combined with a story of absorbing heart-interest. The comedy is sparkling, its dialogue crisp and situations amusing as well as dramatic, Mr. Sully, as John Ryan, the miller, has found a role worthy of his abilities as sale of seats will begin for Anna Held in "The Little Duchess," who comes to the Marquam Grand Theater next Friday and Saturday nights, February 27 and 25, with a matinee Saturday. The opera is the joint work of those oldtime collaborators, Messrs. Reginald de Koven and Harry B. Smith, and was ex-pressly constructed for the purpose of affording the public a lot of fun. Pretty music, amusing episodes and lively dances are believed to accomplish this better than an ambitious story. Miss Held is said to have made a greater hit in this piece than in anything she has seen. As a beauty show, and in point of gorgeousness of costume, "The Little Duchess" is declared to be notably brilliant. Not more than ten seats will be sold to one person for any single performance. Seats must be taken at the

Sam Morris Returns.

The author of "The Peddler's Claim," the play that the popular comedian, Mr. Sam Morris, will be seen in at Cordray's four nights next week, beginning with a matinee Sunday, March 1, was not satisfied with having poor Moses Levi, the hero of this attraction, simply accused with robbery and murder, but after many triais, in which of course our hero is acquitted, he caps the climax by having a real live bear try and make a dinner of Moses. It goes without saying that Moses objects to being served to his honor, Mr. Bear, so he takes to his heels, and the bear, not willing to lose his and the bear, not willing to lose his lunch, takes after him; and if you won't laugh until you cry at the chase that follows, it will not be any fault of Mr.

HONESTY

Of course, where you feel a man is not square you will be armed to meet him, but never on his own ground. Make him be honest with you if you can, but don't let him make you dishonest with him.

When you make a mistake, don't make the second one, keeping it to yourself. Own up. The time to sort out rotten eggs is at the nest. The deeper you hide them in the case the longer they stay in circulation, and the worse impression they make when they finally come to the breakfast table. A mistake sprouts a lie when you cover it up. And one lie breeds enough distrust to choke out the prettiest crop of confidence that a fellow ever
