NEW SENATOR IS IN

Fulton Sworn In as Oregon's Latest Choice.

SICKNESS HINDERS ANKENY

Mitchell Escorts Colleague to Desk Laden With Flowers—Where New Shuffle of Seats Places Senators From Northwestern States.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 5.—Senator Fulton was among the first new members of the upper branch of Congress to be sworn in this morning. He was escorted to the President's desk by Senator Mitchell and there took the oath. He and Smoot wore business suits, the other new Senators wearing black frock coats.

Senator Fulton will occupy a seat on the extreme right of the presiding officer's desk, in the back row on the Democratic side, next to Bail, the regular Republican recently elected from Delaware. Having been one of the last Senators elected, Fulton had to content himself with the best seat unfilled when he arrived. His desk today was laden with flowers, the principal piece being an immense basket of red and white roses, with a handle of white carnations, the whole standing three feet high.

When the name of Senator Ankeny was called, Senator Foster announced that his colleague was sick and under the doctor's care, having been taken down with a light attack of grip yesterday. His condition is not at all serious and it is expected he will be out in a day or two.

Senator Simon and Representative Moody were present during the swearing in of new Senators today, as was Senator Turner, of Washington, who leaves for Spokane tonight with his secretary, Fred R. Marvin.

In the shuffling about of seats in the Senate, Senator Mitchell abandoned his desk on the extreme left of the rear row on the Republican side and took the desk vacated by Deboe, being the rear seat on the Republican side of the Senate chamber. His old seat has been taken by Apostle Reed Smoot, of Utah. On the right of Smoot sits Ankeny, while Heyburn, of Idaho, is on his left.

HOPE LIVED TO THE LAST.

Philippine Tariff Bill Was on Verge of Passing Senate.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 5.—It transpires, now that the 57th Congress is at an end, that there was an offer on the part of certain Democrats to allow the Philippine tariff bill to pass. The developments in the Senate on the last night of the session showed that not more than half a dozen Senators opposed that measure. Previous to taking up the Aldrich bill, certain Democratic leaders notified Aldrich and other Republicans that they probably could not pass more than one measure; that the Aldrich bill, the Philippine bill or the Panama treaty might be passed, but that no other legislation could be expected to pass in the short time remaining of the session. The developments show that the Philippine tariff bill could have been passed.

The failure to pass this bill only emphasizes the contention of the anti-expansionists that the United States is incapable of governing colonies so far distant, and that their interests are sacrificed to the personal wishes and desires of Senators and Representatives. The claim is made that Congress is always dead to distant territories, and this is apparent in the fact that no attention was paid to the Cushman bill for a Delegate from Alaska, and that the Philippine tariff bill, which was demanded so emphatically by the Government and President Roosevelt, was allowed to die.

The Senators who opposed the Philippine tariff bill on the night it was under consideration were almost tired out, and it took very careful manipulation upon the part of three or four of these men to keep the talk going till the bill was defeated. The bill was further endangered by the fact that it was amended so materially by the Senate. The bill as it passed the House, making the greater reduction, might have passed early in the session if the Senate had not changed it.

WILLIAMSON IN WASHINGTON.

Talks to Cannon of Committees and Worries About Spending Salary.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 5.—Representative Williamson, of Oregon, arrived in Washington late last night and registered at the Dewey. This morning he sought out Representative Cannon, the prospective Speaker, and talked over committee appointments. He told Cannon he desired an appointment on the river and harbor committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Representative Tongue. Cannon replied that he would not consider committee assignments until next November, but in the meantime would like from each new member a brief statement of his past legislative career on which to base his selections.

The balance of the day Williamson spent in looking about for accommodations for himself and family for the coming session. He was somewhat surprised to learn that he could provide for them at the hotels for $400 a month, but he said he was much puzzled to know what to do with the other $16 of his salary each month. He thinks he will take a house during sessions and will make further investigations to that end. Williamson will remain here about two weeks conferring with the two Senators and looking after matters in the departments.

Colonel W. F. Butcher, of Baker City, who was the Democratic candidate against Williamson in the last campaign, came here with the new member. He is on a business trip to New York.

Representative Williamson brought with him his credentials, which he will file with the clerk of the House.

REPUBLICANS AGREE ON POLICY.

Will Push Canal Treaty Through Despite Morgan's Talk.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Republican Senators will make a united effort to secure action on the Panama Canal treaty and the Cuban reciprocity treaty as speedily as possible. A meeting of the Republican steering committee of the Senate was held after adjournment today, and this course was decided on. The situation was discussed at some length, and the conclusion reached that business might be greatly facilitated by keeping as many Senators as possible in the city and in their seats, and the individual members of the steering committee agreed to devote their energies to this end.

No one in the committee had any definite information as to the time that may be consumed in debating the treaties, but it was stated as a rumor that Senator Morgan had said, as there were a number of new members of the Senate, he would feel it incumbent on himself to go over the ground quite completely, and even to review much that he had already said. The evident purpose of the Republicans is to avoid, if possible, calls on account of the absence of a quorum, and to keep the Senate running as steadily as possible. They are agreed as to the desirability of completing the session at an early date.

The Cuban treaty, under the extension provided for in the agreement between this country and Cuba, expires at the end of this month. The Panama treaty, however, will be the first of the two to be taken up.

DIGNITY IS HURT.

because the House for reasons of its own could not take the orderly and usual proceeding and method of legislation by taking these items into the House and into the Senate and having the judgment of the two houses upon them."

He said he was pained to see what seemed to him to be a violation of the rules of the House itself. Cannon's speech had been applauded, he said. "Why? Because the Senate had been held up on the gibbet of public opinion as respects its rules compared with the rules of the House, so saintly in their nature and character."

The House conferees had sought to put the blame on the Senate rules, which had existed for a hundred years, and if any changes are made in those rules, added Allison, "it will be by the Senate, and not by any outside body."

Teller (Colo.), the Democratic member of the conference committee, said that Mr. Cannon's remarks were "inappropriate and out of place."

The message from the President giving his reasons for calling the Senate in extraordinary session was then read. On motion of Cullom the Senate at 3:10 went into executive session, and at 3:15 adjourned until Monday.

FROM BOTH POINTS OF VIEW.

Appropriations of Last Congress as Seen by Two Parties.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Statements prepared by Representative Cannon, chairman of the House committee on appropriations, and Representative Livingston, the ranking minority member of the committee, relative to the appropriations made by the 57th Congress, together with the comparative tables, were made public today. Mr. Cannon analyses the figures presented by the tables and explains the increases in the appropriations of the session just ended over those of the last. In concluding his statement Mr. Cannon says:

"The Republican administration of our Government, the dominion of Republican policies in both branches of Congress, has given us a system of taxation that has produced a National treasury richer than was ever enjoyed by any nation of the earth, and rendered possible these great expenditures for the public welfare."

Mr. Livingston compares the appropriations made by the 53d Congress, both branches of which were controlled by the Democrats, amounting to $989,229,206, with the appropriations of the 57th Congress, aggregating $1,554,108,514, and comments on the difference as affecting some of the big items. In conclusion he says:

"Nothing short of a revision of the tariff on a revenue basis and the administration of the Government under the wise and prudent methods of the Democratic party can be looked to to bring about a reduction in the National expenditures exhibited by these figures in such appalling proportions."

Both statements are incorporated in the Congressional Record.

GORMAN IN HIS OLD PLACE.

Will Be Chairman of Democratic Caucus—Place for Clark.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Democratic Senators will hold a caucus tomorrow. The principal object is to elect a successor to Senator Jones, of Arkansas, as chairman of the caucus, but they probably will discuss their policy in reference to the treaties now pending in the Senate.

It is the general opinion among Democratic Senators that Senator Gorman will be asked to resume his old place as chairman of the Democratic caucus.

Another question which probably will be taken up is the appointment of a member of the foreign relations committee to succeed Bailey, who was excused from service on that committee by the Senate Tuesday last, on his own motion. When he retired he suggested Senator Clark, of Montana, as his successor, and, as there was no opposition, the suggestion was adopted and Clark was made a member of the committee. There is no objection to Clark as a member of the committee, but there is a feeling on the part of some of the Democratic Senators that the designation of a member of so important a committee should be left to the caucus and not to an individual Senator. It seems probable that the caucus will ask to be allowed to fill the place, and that Senator Clark will be named by the caucus.

The vacancies on the steering committee also will be filled.

PRESIDENT STANDS BY CRUM.

Appoints Him Again and Names Knox's New Assistants.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate: William D. Crum, Collector of Customs, District of Charleston, S. C.; Page Morris, United States District Judge, District of Minnesota; William Byrne, United States Attorney, District of Delaware; William A. Day, District of Columbia, and Milton D. Purdy, Minnesota, Assistant Attorney-General.

This is the second nomination of Mr. Crum, the Senate of the 57th Congress having failed to confirm him.

Mr. Day has been for a long time the attorney for the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Mr. Purdy is a prominent lawyer of St. Paul. He formerly was Assistant United States District Attorney of Minnesota. The offices to which they are appointed were created by a recent act of Congress to enable the Attorney-General to prosecute the anti-trust suits.

ALL TREATIES REFERRED.

Committee Expects to Report All of Them on Monday.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The business of the executive session of the Senate today consisted in referring all the treaties before the Senate to the committee on foreign relations, and in referring the nominations sent in today to the committees which will pass on them. The committee on foreign relations will meet Saturday for the purpose of considering the treaties, and Senator Cullom, the chairman, expressed confidence that the committee will be able to report all of them back after one sitting.

Congratulations to Smoot.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 5.—The House of Representatives today sent a telegram to Senator Reed Smoot, congratulating him and the United States Senate on the seating of Mr. Smoot in that body. The vote to extend congratulations was unanimous.

WOMAN UNDER SUSPICION

POLICE HAVE SOLVED MYSTERY OF BURDICK MURDER.

Only Need a Little Evidence to Secure Conviction of Woman Whom Burdick Abandoned for Another.

BUFFALO, March 5.—The officials declare they are absolutely certain that the murder of Burdick was committed by a woman; that they know the woman, and that they can make an arrest the moment their chain of evidence is sufficient to secure a conviction.

A house in Elmwood district is being watched day and night. The police decline to say why they are watching the house. Last night for the first time the detectives were withdrawn from the New York and other stations. This move is regarded as strong evidence that the police believe they know where the murderer is and that there is no danger of escape.

An important fact made public today is that on the morning when the body of Burdick was discovered the top drawer in a table at the head of the couch where the body lay was open. Associated with facts and circumstances uncovered since then, the open drawer looms up, the police say, as a most important clew.

The police questioned the occupants of the Burdick house, and were informed that the drawer was open when the body was found. In the drawer the letters and papers were disarranged and on the floor were papers indicating that they had been dragged out of the drawer and left where they fell. The police say that certain letters were taken from this drawer. What is more, they claim to have in their possession at the present time a last and strong card which they have not yet played.

The theory of the police is that the suspected woman, finding that Burdick's affection for her had begun to cool, and that there was talk of his marrying another woman after securing his divorce, made an appointment with Burdick at his home. On her arrival he conducted her into his cosy corner, where intrusion was least to be feared. The lunch on the table was for her. They visited no one knows how long. His indifference toward her was not concealed, and awaiting her opportunity she struck him down, and in her frenzy and passion beat out his brains. Then she left.

Before leaving she searched the table for the letters which she had written to him. Finding them, she turned out the gas and stole away.

A number of persons were examined by District Attorney Coatsworth today. Mrs. Seth T. Payne, of 492 Elmwood avenue, whose picture was found in Burdick's den, declared in an interview today that she knew nothing about the tragedy and that she was at home all the night of the murder. This fact, she said, she could prove by her servants.

The District Attorney has frequently spoken of evidence in his possession that would suggest a motive for the crime other than the fear of disclosures that were likely to be made in divorce proceedings. What the evidence is, the authorities will not say. It is said on good authority, however, that the evidence relates to a woman who was in severe straits for money. This woman is not a member of the Burdick household, but her name has been mentioned frequently in connection with the tragedy. Her necessity was such that, when she wished to do house furnishing, she bought her goods on the installment plan. She also borrowed money from a money-lender. It was quite a large sum and she gave security for it.

The police, when questioned regarding this mortgage and the woman's embarrassment to find means of maintaining a pretentious house, acknowledged that they knew of the fact and had investigated it. They knew that she had been intimately acquainted with Burdick. It was also stated that for a short time before the murder a coolness had sprung up between the woman and Burdick. It is said that one of the payments on the mortgage was due about the time Burdick was murdered. A lawyer, who carries on the legal business for the money-lender, received the money for the payment due. That is known beyond the shadow of a doubt. It may be that the payment left her penniless and that she applied to Burdick for more funds. In any event, the police believe the straitened condition is established and they are giving it the greatest importance in their inquiry into the motive for the murder.

The woman's circumstances and the fact that it had been rumored that Burdick was at the time paying more attention to another woman, the police say, would tend to make the woman both desperate and insanely jealous.

Mrs. Seth T. Payne, of 492 Elmwood avenue, whose picture was found in Burdick's den, has made a statement. Her name has frequently been used in connection with the investigation. Her home has been searched and she has been questioned by the authorities. While she was in Mr. Coatesworth's office, the cabman who met an unaccompanied woman on Ashland avenue on the night of the murder was taken into the room. Mrs. Payne said:

"I know absolutely nothing of the murder of Mr. Burdick. I have no idea who committed it. I have no theory as to who did it or how it was done. I simply know nothing at all about it. My maiden name was Gertrude Bernard. I am 29 years of age. I came from Albion. My father was an Episcopal minister. Later I moved to North Tonawanda. At that time Dr. Payne was not a dentist, but he was working in Tonawanda. We were married. Since then he became a dentist and now practices in Batavia, coming home usually at least once a week. We have one child, a girl of 7 years. She is now living with me.

"Both my husband and I knew the Burdicks well. Yes, we also knew the Pennels and the Warrens. Mrs. Warren formerly lived in Buffalo and we were well acquainted. I know nothing of the divorce actions of Mrs. Burdick and Mr. Burdick. My name has not appeared as a co-respondent in any action for divorce by Mrs. Burdick against Mr. Burdick. There is no reason whatever why it should. My husband and I have visited or called on the Burdicks and they have called on us. I do not recall having called on them without my husband, and I am positive I never called alone on Mr. Burdick at his house.

"The last time I talked with Mr. Burdick was last Thursday (the day before the murder). It was over the telephone. On Wednesday night he called up on the telephone and asked me about a matter that was purely social and did not relate in any way to an appointment. I told him I would let him know the next day, and on Thursday I did call him on the telephone. This was shortly after noon, I think. We had a brief conversation and that was the last time I talked with him. I did not see him thereafter.

"On Thursday evening I had dinner between 6 and 7 o'clock. I did not go out of the house after dinner. Some people lived in the house with us. One of them is the young woman named Mrs. Mary Cunningham, who is employed down town. She knows that I did not go out after dinner. She had a caller on Thursday evening and they sat chatting in her room. After dinner I went into the parlor and read the paper. I took some water up to her room, knocking on the door, and at the time she and her caller were sitting chatting. After leaving them I went to my room."

All of Mrs. Payne's statement regarding her movements have been corroborated by Mrs. Cunningham.

ROBBER'S DESPERATE LEAP.

From Train Going Forty Miles an Hour in Colorado.

LEADVILLE, Colo., March 5.—After cutting the chains which bound his hands and feet, while sitting in a railroad coach beside the officer who arrested him, E. F. Underhill was arrested Wednesday by Detective Brown at Grand Junction, on a charge of robbery of freight cars.

GODLY, BUT A PERJURER.

Christian Worker's Scheme to Secure Divorce Is Exposed.

CHICAGO, March 5.—For perjuring himself in order that he might obtain a divorce from his wife, Henry Frey, a church and Young Men's Christian Association worker, was found guilty today and sentenced to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary and a fine of $1000.

To induce Mrs. Frey to leave him, it is claimed Frey invented a fictitious personage whom he claimed to have married in his teens. He told Myra Frey that she (Myra) was therefore not his legal wife. By this means Mrs. Frey was induced to go to Ohio, and while she was there, Frey instituted divorce proceedings. At the time of the trial it was shown that Mrs. Frey had lived with Frey to within a month of the time he filed the divorce bill, in which it was stated that his wife had deserted him two years ago.

Confesses to Horrible Crimes.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Murder committed by a band of thieves who drugged and robbed strangers nightly in West Madison street, and which has been concealed for three years, has been made known to the police by John Lyons, one of the band. John Howard, a printer, was the victim, and on the statements made by Lyons, charges of murder have been placed against Joseph Moore and James Bray, who were brought back from St. Louis today.

So many were the robberies that Lyons is said to be unable to recall the times or places, and so accustomed were the men to dealing out chloral to their intended victims that the danger of fatal results were lost to them until Howard failed to recover and the possibilities of the gallows frightened the robbers from their career. Howard was drugged in a saloon in West Madison street. After he fell in a stupor the trio carried him to the walk in front of the place, where they robbed him of $17 and fled. He was picked up by the police and died in the patrol wagon.

Lyons was serving out a fine in the Bridewell when his failing health quickened his conscience and he made a confession on the strength of which the search for Moore and Bray was commenced.

Almost Killed by Burglar.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 5.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dickerson, prominent citizens of Jasper County, were fatally wounded by a burglar early this morning near Cordova, and their home was robbed of all its valuables. The weapon used was a hatchet, and the burglar inflicted deep gashes on the faces of his victims. Mr. Dickerson's 5-year-old daughter notified the neighbors of the tragedy, and, when they arrived at the house, the man and woman were lying unconscious on a bed splashed with blood. The hatchet was near by. There is no clue to the identity of the robber, though posses have been organized and are making every possible effort to capture the guilty man. Henry Walker, a negro, is being held on suspicion.

Drastic Measures Which Caused Riot in Mexican Town.

MAZATLAN, Mexico, March 5.—The causes of the riot at Villa Union, where a mob sought to kill the sanitary inspectors, have been investigated. Two cases of plague having been reported at Villa Union, the authorities burned the houses of the patients. This was done carelessly, it is claimed, and 12 more houses caught fire and were destroyed.

Thereupon the people, headed by the owners of the houses, began to throw stones at the agents, one of whom was seriously hurt. A detachment of the Eleventh Cavalry was ordered out and restored order.

There was only one death today from plague at Mazatlan.
