An official of the union said today: "In New York the comparity locked out the Holating Engineers' Union. That ac-tion forced between 400 and 500 of our en-gineers to idleness. It was therefore thought that, if the fight between us was to be forced by them, it might as well one now. The New York union demands $4.50 per day after May L and that is be-low the scale demanded by the Bricklay-ers' Union." Other causes for the strike are said to be the effort of the American Bridge Com-pany to reduce the number in gaugs of riveters who operate pneumatic hammers and the employment of laborers on work which the bridgemen say they should per-form.
