Matter Is Freely Discussed and the Measure Is Recommended for Passage - Money for Armories.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 6 .- (Staff correspondence.)-The $50,000 appropriation for the Lewis and Clark Centennial got safely past the House appropriation comtonight, and will come before the House with a recommendation that it be The matter was discussed quite freely, but the open hostility to the apon was not pronounce the case in the Senate vesterday, when Sharp Moultray and Warburton attacked The opposition was not of a char-ter that would indicate much of a fight the measure when it comes up for find passage in the House. The commit-tee also recommended the $75,000 approristion for the St. Louis Exposition.

The joint appropriation committees to-light recommended the passage of the Thacker bill, appropriating $70,000 for armories at Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane. Of this amount, it is planned that $30,000 is to be expended at Seattle, $30,000 at Tacoma and a similar sum at Spoof erecting armories for the National Guard in the three largest cities. It is not intended that the state shall bear the entire expense of erecting armories, and a provision in the bill is to the effect that the cities shall denate sites. It is in-tended, moreover, that extra help shall be asked by the Guardsmen.

Senator Sharp, who led the fight against the Lewis and Clark appropriation yes-terday, began a fight to secure an armory building for North Yakima, but the ment be offered was not considered. It was announced during the discussion over the bill that there is a strong probability that the Adjutant-General will form a new company in Seattle within a short time. This was advanced as one of the reasons why Seattle should be given a much larger appropriation than either Tacoma or Spokane.

Comparatively little opposition was shown in the committee to General Tibbitts' bill authorizing and directing the Board of Control to select a site for a branch of the Washington State Soldiers Home, to be known as the Veterans' This home is designed as a place where the veterans and their wives could They are barred out of the Orting the Grand Army, more than 2000 citizens all the Grand Army posts in the state and the Woman's Relief Corps have indorsed the movement for a new home.

Philbrick's House bill appropriating $1000 for the purpose of purchasing additional ts in the Masonic cometery at Olympia, adjoining the graves of the Washington volunteers who died in the Philippines, was indersed. The appropriation also covers the cost of improving the grounds. An item of $30,000 was included in the general appropriation bill, to cover the cost of state grain inspection. The money is taken from the state grain inspection The committee tonight practically completed the third omnibus appropriation act, and was in session until midnight on other appropriations bills. The work of the committee will be completed this week.

Passage of Road Bill Occupies Morn-

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 6 .- (Special.)-The entire morning session in the House was taken up in the discussion of House bill 205 the new road law and it finally passed. Better progress was made at the afternoon session, and ten bills were passed and a number of others put out of the way. The only one of the bills which provokes much discussion was the local option bill. As amended and passed. It requires 50 per cent of the residents to petition for an election to grant liquor-selling privileges. This amondment is helibyed to render the act worthless and inoperative, but when it came up for dis-cussion there was plenty of talk about it. Martin Maloney expressed regret that he could not have the opportunity to vote for a bill that would prohibit liquor-selling altogether, but said that such bills as the one under discussion were of no service in stopping the liquor traffic, and It was wasting the time of the state to discuss them. Levy made a motion to indefinitely postpone, and on rollcall it falled. Henry of Spokane spoke in favor of the bill, and Lewis, its author, also

LYONS RECEIVES SENTENCE. Murderer of Sheriff Withers Must Hang April 17.

EUGENE, Or., March 6.—(Special.)—At 10 o'clock this morning the Circuit Courtroom was packed to hear the sentence of the court in the case of Elliott Lyons, convicted of the murder of the late Sheriff Withers. The prisoner was brought in shortly after the clock struck 10 and Judge Hamilton, in only a brief address to the prisoner, pronounced sentence, which was that he should, on April 17, six weeks hence, hang by the neck until he is dead. The prisoner had nothing to say, but ap-peared rather more dejected and broken down than previously. It is evident he has expected nothing else in the way of sentence and will accept the verdict with what little grace he possesses. He is badly broken down in nerve, however, and it is expected he will collapse when time comes to ascend the scaffold.

The hanging will be in the jail yard in this city, as the new Marsters law pro-viding that executions shall take place at the penitentiary will not yet have gone the Alco Club, which interviewed Manager Kohler, of the Southern Pacific Railroad in Portland, yesterday, in an effort to have the company's depot at Albany moved to the side of the yards nearest the city. Mr. Kohier promised to refer the matter to the officers of the road at their next meeting. The situation of the Albany depot at present is very unanisfactory and dangerous to reach it. Passengers must cross the freight yard with cars switching back and forth. Recently there have been several narrow escapes from serious injury and the traveling public is demanding that the depot be placed where it can be reached in safe-ty. The Alco Club will continue its efforts until the depot is moved.

CAPTIVE IS NOT BENSON

RELEASED. Sheriff Mills Has Clew That Benson Is at Black Lake, Near Olympia-

Some Think Him Dead.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March &-(Special.)-The man under arrest in North Yakima as Benson is not the fugitive murderer from Olympia. Sheriff Milis received a photograph of the man in the custody of the Takima authorities today, but the picture disclosed the likeness of a much heavier man than Benson, and showed a more vicious-looking face than Benson's, and one that had very few features similar to his. Sheriff Mills promptly wired back that it was the wrong man. Sheriff Mills and Deputy McClelland are out tonight on a promising clew. Today at noon one of the Sheriff's scouts, Burns Shotwell, reported Benson in a cabin near Black Lake, southwest of town. Benson formerly worked in that vicinity Shotwell approached the cabin on what a known as the Goldby ranch, which has been deserted for some time. He heard some one inside and tried the front heard some one inside and tried the front door, which was locked. He walked around the house, and a man came to the window and asked what he wanted. Shotwell said he was looking for the Goldsby boys, and the man replied they had sold out and gone away. During the talk Shotwell became convinced the man was Benson, and immediately returned to town and notified the Sheriff. After look-ing at Benson's pottogrand again Shotwell ng at Benson's photograph again Shotwell mounced positively that the man was cason. The clothes and all tailled ex-city with Benson's description. When the Sheriff and his deputy reached the cabin they found evidences of recent occupation and hasty departure. There had been a fire in the stove, which was still warm. The Sheriff and deputy will spend the night in the vicinity of Belmore and Little Rock in the hope of intercepting the fugitive.

The belief is prevalent in some quarter that Benson was wounded in the fight with the jailer, and that he has either died or killed himself in the woods. There is beginning to be some doubt expressed that the man who crossed the Nesqually bridge Monday night was Renson

FULL CREW SIGNED FOR.

Alaska Salmon Pishermen Will Get Recently Adopted Union Rates.

ASTORIA, March 6.—(Special.)—Secretary Lorntsen, of the Alaska Fishermen's Union, received a letter today from the secretary of the kindred organization at San Francisco stating that a full union crew had been signed for the Pacific Packing & Navigation Company's cannery at Orea Station, Copper River, Alaska, at the rates recently adopted by the union. These prices are somewhat higher than those fixed for Bristol Bay and are as follows: King salmon, 10 cents each; red fish, 4 cents each; humpbacks, $5 per 1000. Besides this the fishermen are to receive wages at the rate of $15 per month from the time they begin operations until they start for home. No settlement of the con-troversy over the prices to prevail at Bris-tol Bay during the coming season has as yet been affected. The San Francisco union named a committee last week to confer with the packers, but the appoint-ment of receivers to control the affairs of the Pacific Packing & Navigation Company has delayed matters. The local union will take no action until it hears what the San Francisco branch has done, as the majority of the fishermen employed by the Bristol Bay canneries reside at that

At today's session of the Circuit Court the case of Charlotte Grimberg vs. the Columbia River Packers' Association was set for trial on Thursday, March 12. This is a suit to recover $6000 damages for the death of Emanuel Grimberg, who was killed by failing from a yard on the ship St. Nicholas, while en route to this port from Bristol Bay, Alaska. The vessel at the time was under charter to the defendant company, and the complaint alleges that the accident was caused by defective gear and was the result of negligence on the part of the defendant,

The defeat came in spite of the fact that the opposition to the bill was not insistent and came largely from west of the mountains, where the people are not supposed to care anything about the measure. Buth of Thurston opened with a very short statement that the passage of the bill meant the killing of the sheep industry.

Sharp of Kittitas attempted to refute these statements by quoting statistics on the sheep industry in Idaho, where he said a law of which this bill was almost an exact copy had been in force for Zi years. In Idaho, he said, there were 107 sheep farms of three acres and less, the ownevery chance we get. Before very long we will spring something else concern-ing him and do not propose to stop the fight by any means. In fact we have only just commenced."

GYMNASIUM BILL PASSES. It Takes Up Much Time and Discussion at Boise.

BOISE, Idaho, March 6.—(Special.)—The thief contention of the House of Representatives today arose over the passage of the Senate bill providing a bond issue of $43,000 for an Army and gymnasium building at the State University. Galloway, Lowell and Thomas opposed the measure because it hypothecated land set aside for the State Agricultural College and offered no definite plan for locating the proposed lidings in conformity with artistic con ception. The bill passed by a vote of it to il after a discussion of nearly two bours. Galloway said the most objection-able feature of the bill was the provision for a gymnasium, which he cor sidered unnecessary. They had a wood-shed at the university, he said, and he would furnish the firewood and bucksaws for the students to work up their muscle. His boys had been set back in their studies by athletics, when he was prepared to give them all the exercise they needed in the hayfield.
