Agreement Regarding Treaty Pre vents Talking It to Death.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 12.-The action of the Sencommittee on foreign relations, in tiding that the Cuban reciprocity treat; should not go into effect until after the House had approved it, clarifies the atmosphere and makes the way clear for the adoption of the treaty. Had this not been done, there would have been a long Con stitutional debate on the subject, prob ably long enough to prevent ratification, enate would not remain in ecesion at shanghai in negotiating iride treaties with the Chinese Commissioners have dis-covered what they regard as flaws in the may make it impossible for them to bind their government to treaty form. The matter already has been brought to the attention of the State Department, and Mr. Conger is asking for advice, he, too, being engaged in the negotiations. It appears that the Chinese Commission-ers must memorialize the throne before the treaties will have force, and the pow-ers object to this lack of authority on the part of the Commissioners. Because Mr. Conger will have to refer any treaty he may draw up to his Government here for approval, precisely as the Chinese Com-missioners must do on their side, the United States Government is not in a po-silion to protest very strongly against the sufficiency of the Chinese credentials, so that Mr. Conger will go on with this treaty making, while doing his best to have the Chinese credentials enlarged.

WILL CHECK RITUALISM. New Arshhishop Promises Action

Without More Legislation.

NEW YORK, March 12-The church discipline bill which comes up in the Commons tomorrow, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, raises an awkward issue for Unionist members holding moderate views. They sought refuge in an appeal to the Archbishop of Canterbury for the repression of novel practices and advanced ritualistic serv-ice into the English Church. Bir John Dorrington headed an influential d Cecil and other controversial members. Archbishop Davidson, who evidently had been in consultation with Mr Balfour livered an unexpectedly aggressive reply While he minimized the extent to which the extreme practices had been carried he admitted that toleration had passed proper limits and promised that the bish-ops would take drastic measures.

to listen to a dry discussion of that character, when it became apparent that the nents of the treaty wanted either to defeat or postpone it. This provision also removes the possibility of legal objections ing raised against the treaty after it. is once ratified and put in operation.

The main object will be accomplished in ratifying the treaty now, as the Cubans can confidently rely upon favorable action in the House and the ultimate granting of reciprocity between the two governments. It looks as if the cane-sugar men the representatives of fruit-growing states and the beet-sugar men had made up their minds to prevent ratification, or at least postpone it, and were merely seeking a do so by bringing up the Co stitutional question. This being removed there seems to be no doubt now of final Betler

One of the strong arguments in favor of the Cuban reciprocity treaty of late has been not so much the benefits to Cuba but the fact that the United States will practically secure control of the Cuban markets and that the benefit will be as great to this country as to the island.
