Carter Harrison Renominated.

CHICAGO, March 16.-Mayor Carter Harrison was renominated for a fourth form in the Democratic city convention here today. The remainder of the slate spreed upon by a caucus of the Demo-ratic leaders yesterday was as follows: For City Treasurer, Ernest Hummell.

ered here today to attend the banquet of the Iroquois Club at the Auditorium Hotel. Preceding the banquet many not-ables in the party held long talks together, discussing suggestions for the political campaign of next year. The speakers at the banquet made strong pleas for a unified party and the adoption of a plat-form that would meet the general approval.

Mayor Harrison, who today was renomi-nated by the Democratic city convention, was the first speaker. After welcoming the visitors of the city he responded to the tonst, "The City of Chicago." He was followed by Edward M. Shepard, of New York, who spoke of "Present Duties of a Fatriotic Opposition." Mr. Shepard said: "The talk from one end of the innd to the other, in every shop, on every farm, in every street, in every parlor and club, is not Panama Canal or Venezuela or China. It is not even free trade or pro-tection, or the gross wrong and folly of our Philippine policy, or the alarming extravagance of the Administration. The talk is of trusts on one side and trade unions on the other. There is a deep and widespread fear that American industrial civilization may come to a mere inter-play between those forces in which the great body of independent small producers will cease to be independent.

"I believe the economic efficiency of our own country has vasily been increased and justice promoted by trade unions. No wise man can, however, fail to see that, with every centralization of eco-nomic power by artificial limitation of our incoming or outgoing markets, with every increase of the power of captains of industry over the United States Senate and other divisions of our Government, must grow an increasing danger that in sheer self-defense the organizations of la-bor may become unfavorable to liberty.

Can any become universitie to inserty. Can anything involve more danger to con-servatives than un-American interference with personal liberty, such as was illus-trated by the injunction order granted in St. Louis the other day by a Federal Judge of ability and character."

Platform for 1904.

"We ought to have a vigorous interstate commerce bill providing for the effectual enforcement of public and equal rates for equal service. We ought not to be content for a moment with the sham law that the Republicans have given us. "I should rejoice to hear the Democratic party propose, not a general revision of the tariff, with all of its difficulties and complications and with all of the wide spread popular belief that it is faulty, as I believe to be the opinion of great masses of American business and laboring men on the protective tariff, but in the first instance a removal or reduction to a reve-nue basis of the duties on goods the pro-duction of which is practically monopolized.

"Upon this programme, then, let us make our campaign: The establishment of equal rights, the abolition of special of equal rights, the abolition of special privileges, the maintenance of Democratic self-government. The programme means absolute tariff reform, beginning with the goods which have fallen under monopoly; resolute and practical prevention of inter-state commerce preferences and abuses; rigorous reduction in cost of administra-tion; the promotion of Philippine self-government and independence, and the provision of fair and secure, normal and listments in them are not for any definite period, but subject to cancellation at any time, at the option of the enlisted. Once enrolled as a party man, however, it is a serious matter to desert, and more serious serious matter to desert, and more serious far to go over to the enemy. "In our country today two great rivals for political supremacy are preparing for the contest of 1904-the Republican and Democratic parties. Flushed with vic-tories unmerited, drunken with power usurped and abused, barnacled with abuses steadily increasing, under mighty but bad influences contained with solution influences constantly growing worse, the Republicans rely for success upon the un-scrupulous activity of the classes whose interests they have fostered at the public interests they have fostered at the public expense, hoping they may again delude the masses whom they have betrayed. Undaunted by defeat, still confidently de-pending upon the people, still refusing fo sacrifice the many for the selfish favor of the few, however powerful: still cher-ishing the principles upon which the party as well as the structure of our free in-stitutions rest, the undying Democracy gives promise that it will conduct the coming campaign with the strength and ardor and wisdom and unselfastness which so often gave it the victory. "Like millions of others who gladly fol-lowed the party banner in the two great lowed the party banner in the two great campaigns where Bryan led, I am proud campaigns where Bryan led, I am proud of my party's record in those eventful years. Let no one who hopes for Demo-cratic success in the future assail the Democracy of those trying times. If he did not or cannot agree with them upon all the issues of those campaigns, for the good of the party now let his dissent be in sorrow and silence. Let him try draw the mantle of forgetfulness over his estrangement, if estranged he was. For surely all must realize that, where the masses of the party pitched their tents, there camped the party and where the masses fought, there the party fought,

Trust and Tariff Issues.

The trust question is big in the public mind and there it will probably be bigger yet when the lines are drawn and the next battle is fought for the Presidency and the control of the lower house of Congress

The Republican party has not dealt hon-estly with the trust problem; it cannot deal honestly with it, for it is under trust control

"Associated with the trust issue is the old but ever-living tariff question. Why should the tariff continue to create and ahelter so many trusts? Many Republicans concede that there is urgent need of a re-vision of the tariff, but they must depend vision of the tariff, but they must depend upon the Democratic party for it; the bosses of their own party will have none of it. No honest industry, no honest man, need fear the revision. None but those whose ways are meanly selfish and whose purposes are unpatriolic need oppose it. "Who that loves the principles of the Declaration of Independence, the guaran-tees of the Constitution; the teachings of the fathers of the Democratic party, can be content with the policy, or the lack of policy, of the Republican party in the colonial empire enterprise. And what man-ner of Democrat is he who would not join
