

STORY OF BATTLE

Grand Jury Tells About Riot in West Virginia.

ARMY OF MINERS WITH CANNON Answered Marshal's Summons to Surrender With Bullets, and Only Surrendered After Several Had Been Killed.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 20.—The report of the Federal grand jury, which has been investigating the recent riots in the West Virginia coal fields, in which five men were killed and others badly wounded, was made public tonight after first having been submitted to Attorney General Knox and President Roosevelt in Washington by United States District Attorney Atkinson.

On February 21 D. W. Cunningham, Deputy United States Marshal, went to Aikinsville, to execute certain writs. He was met by an armed mob and informed that he would not be permitted to execute said writs, and his life was threatened. When he protested against such proceedings, the alarm bell was rung over the hall of the mine and the mob, which seems to have been a preconcerted signal, and he was immediately surrounded by an angry mob of armed men and ordered to leave town in five minutes.

This same band of men, or mob, organized themselves into a semi-military body and marched across to a rendezvous on Big Mountain. A crowd of men, estimated at from 200 to 300, assembled and camped on Big Mountain. A portion of these, some 150, nearly all of whom were armed, started there on the morning of February 24. They were dressed in military discipline, and were commanded by men who evidently had some military experience.

Having been informed of this proceeding, and having learned that the men for whom they had processes were members of the mob, Deputy Marshal Cunningham gathered together a number of men as a posse comitatus, some 20 or more, and left for Stansford City on the evening of February 24, and went to the house where they were joined by Sheriff Cook, of Raleigh County, with a posse of some 60 or more men.

The first demand was for the surrender and admittance was at the house occupied by a negro named Stone-well Jackson. Jackson came to the door and told that the parties there were Deputy United States Marshal, and had warrants for the occupants of the house, and demanded that they should surrender to the law.

When the door was opened, the Deputy Marshal, who was Edward S. Summers, a member of the Marshal's posse, forced it open, he was fired upon by Jackson with a double-barreled shotgun, and the powder burst, and the fire was returned by the posse, and a number of shots were fired, both from within and without the house, and when the inmates finally surrendered, several officers secured 11 guns, all of which were empty, and also found a large number of empty shells on the floor of the room where the mob were.

When the mob was being driven away, the battle had been raging in other parts of the town, and, according to the testimony of some witnesses, 100 or 200 shots were fired altogether, and the evidence shows that the mob held with them a small cannon, which they carried away with them.

FIGHT ON TAILORS' UNION

Federated Trades Objects to Use of the Union Card.

The fight between the Journeymen Tailors' Union, No. 74, and the new opposition union has been taken into the Federated Trades Council. At a previous meeting of the council resolutions were passed declaring the new union a "scab" concern and unworthy the support of any member of organized labor.

The card of the new union is still displayed prominently in the windows of the shops against which the regular union has long waged a fight, as well as two or three others which have never been openly opposed to the Federation.

The members of the opposition tailors' union and the proprietors of the shops who are back of the scheme, according to the statements of the other union, say, on the contrary, that they are as well entitled to the name of organized labor as any one else, and that they intend to keep the obnoxious words on the card.

The Coopers' Union, an organization little heard of in Portland, presented a report at the meeting of the council last evening to the effect that the members of all the unions should insist that the label of the Coopers' International Union be upon all goods of that line used by union men. This union has a strong membership in Portland, and has begun a campaign against barrels and kegs made by unfair concerns.

Leatherworkers' Disputes Unsettled.

That Monday will see either a strike among the Leatherworkers' Union or the men once more at their work is the one thing in connection with the trouble between the union and the employers. Neither union men nor bosses know just what will happen, and both are awaiting the result of the meeting this afternoon.

The managers of the four shops employing both saddlemakers and harnessmakers have agreed to allow the nine hours asked for by the union and to raise the wages of the harnessmakers to $2.75 as a minimum and the pay of the saddlemakers to $2. This is just 5 cents less in both cases than the minimum asked by the members of the union, and though they have won the nine-hour day, over which many a hard-fought labor war has been waged, little disposition is yet shown to come to the employment terms.

CHANGE ON HILL ROADS.

Son-in-Law Slade Going Back to the Great Northern.

NEW YORK, March 20.—George T. Slade, superintendent of the Eastern division of the Erie Railroad, has resigned, and he will be succeeded April 1 by George Vankuren.

It is understood that Mr. Slade, who is a son-in-law of J. J. Hill, will become general superintendent of the Great Northern Railroad, succeeding Frank E. Richard, recently promoted to be general manager of the road. Union Pacific Solved Problem of Prolonging Life of Engines.

CHICAGO, March 20.—The general manager of the Union Pacific has closed a contract with a Chicago company for the construction of a water purifying plant to be constructed on the system between Omaha and Salt Lake. The order is the largest of its kind ever given to this or any other country, and contemplates the expenditure of at least $1,000,000. Work is to begin at once. The officials of the Union Pacific Railroad have solved the question of pure water. It is estimated that the average life of a locomotive will be more than doubled.

ADVANCE IN 'FRISCO.

Announcement of Its Rock Island Deal Expected Soon.

NEW YORK, March 20.—A sharp advance in shares of the St. Louis & San Francisco road today gave color to rumors of an early announcement of the "Frisco-Rock Island deal. President Yoakum, of the Frisco, W. H. Moore, of the Rock Island, and representatives of J. P. Morgan & Co. were in conference yesterday, and Wall street inclined to the belief that all the important details of the combination have been perfected.

FEW UP TO STANDARD.

Only Ten Out of 37 Policemen Could Pass Civil Service Examinations.

If the civil service regulations are closely adhered to it means that Portland will have practically a new police force and a new Fire Department already in being, because they do not want to try the examinations. Yesterday 37 of the police officers were measured by Chief of Police Hunt, and the number less than ten were able to meet the requirements set forth by the members of the Civil Service Commission.

GRIM MAKES A DENIAL.

Says Chile Will Not Play in a Northwest League Nine.

There was no end of fanning yesterday when it was agreed abroad that Chile linked arms with J. J. McCloskey. The wise ones read the news in silence, but those who talk because they like to, had much to say. One wit suggested that a committee be named at once—a sort of "red-tape" committee, whose duty will be that of engaging a number of women of the Amazon type, who will meet Pierce Chile at the station and see to it that he is properly "hounded" while in Portland.

While suffering from a severe attack of the grip in Portland, I presented a report at the meeting of the council last evening to the effect that the members of all the unions should insist that the label of the Coopers' International Union be upon all goods of that line used by union men.

BROWNS PLAY GOOD BALL

CAPTURE A FAST GAME FROM MAYER'S CRACK AMATEURS.

Nadeau's Costly Error in the Sixth Inning the Only Chance Their Opponents Had to Win.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 20.—(Special)—In a fast game of ball at Cicero Park this afternoon, Marshall's Browns defeated Mayor Brothers, one of the strongest amateur teams in this part of the state, by a score of 5 to 1. It was an ideal day for the game, and the grounds were very fast. The Browns played hard, but four errors marred their efforts.

HIGHEST-PRICED BULLDOG IN THE WORLD DEAD.

THE LATE RODNEY STONE.

The death of the English bulldog Rodney Stone, for which Richard Croker, Jr., paid $5000, which occurred March 2, needs more than a casual notice. He was the highest-priced dog of the breed in the world. Rodney Stone started his public career at the Aquarium (South London Bulldog Society) in May, 1902, where he created a sensation.
