IRON TRADE REVIEWED.

Labor Situation Is Chief Pactor Uncertainty. CLEVELAND, March 26.-The

which the sale and delivery of material from the finishing mills of the country is notably re-stricted by an insufficient supply of steel. If the capacity of converters and open-hearth fur-naces could be actually employed, the fireness in many finished lines would be only a matter sgainst these expectations the shadow of trouble with West Virginia miners rises and makes all calculations uncertain. Purmose companies which ordinarily would be arranging for their ore supply at this time are waiting, parily because of the higher prices for Lake Superiores, parily because the ores they bought last year will last them for several months, in view of their frequent benkings, and not least because of the possibility of trouble both with furnace and coke labor. The whole labor eitunitof, indeed, is the chief factor of uncertainty in the outlook for iron and steel.

Mill tonings is plentiful. The most significant item of the week in this regard is the inguiry for finished steel received from the leadagainst these expectations the shadow of trouing agricultural interests of the country. Work is still being done on the plan to combine the independent sheet and timplate mills.

Foreign steel has been distinctly higher in the past two weeks, and the domestic steel market is strong, with practically nothing offered. German basic beasemer billets at $28.50 at New York as minimum for large lots, while deliveries cannot be had for two or three months. stem wheat, which in the midst of the season seasily brought for premium, is now approaching the netual difference in value, and is quotable only about 5c above club.

This morning there was a continuance of the liquida-tion in Amalgamated Copper on the part of a large following of the speculative pool in the stock which had lifted the price to 7540. NEW IRRIGATION SCHEME People of Salmon River Valley,

Ask for Improvement. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 22.—There is an evident de-sire on the part of the people of Eastern Washington that the General Government shall undertake the construction of one shall undertake the construction of one or more irrigation projects, with a view to reclaiming some of the fertile but arid regions lying beyond the Cascade Mountains, in their state. Senator Foster recently placed on file with Secretary Hitchcock a petition of the citizens and county officials of Okanogan County, asking for the withdrawal of from 50,000 to 75,000 acres in the Salmon River Valley, with a view to their reclamation. The petitioners set forth that this land is rich, but there set forth that this land is rich, but there is not sufficient rainfall for producing crops. They further represent that on the headwaters of Salmon River there is a natural reservoir site that could be con-verted into a controllable reservoir with a small expenditure. By the construction of a division canal not over 40 miles long the waters of the Salmon River could be carried down the valley, and distributed onto an area ranging from 50,000 to 75,000 acres. There is not now much settlement on the lands that would be benefited, beon the lands that would be benefited, be-cause of their arid character, but it is believed the lands would be rapidly taken up under the homestead law if the Gov-ernment signified its intention of com-mencing operations. There is no esti-mate of the cost per acre of getting the water on the land, but these facts the Caploring Survey will examine into, and Geological Survey will examine into, and if it is apparent that the work is a feas-ible one, and can be constructed at a moderate cost, the withdrawal asked for moderate cost, the withdrawal asked for will be made. Such withdrawal would of course withhold the lands from entry under all except the homestead laws
