th Recommend Resignation of Mayor and Chief of Police-List of New Indict. ments.

SEATTLE, March 31.-The King Count grand jury is a thing of the past. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the members of the ody filed into court and presented their final report to Judge Bell. The court glanced hastily over the document, and after also receiving a minority report written and presented by ex-Foreman Pigott, dismissed the jury with a few words in which he complimented it on the results of its labors during the past 90 days. The majority report contains 1800 words, and deals with every phase of the jury's deliberations. Pigott's report is not so lengthy, and is confined chiefly to a strong on of what the ex-foreman be lieves to be the inevitable outcome of a open policy carried to the extent which it has under the present administra-

When the jury filed into Judge Bell's courtroom this afternoon it was rumored minor police officials would be presented but such did not prove to be the case, After the jury was seated Foreman O'Brien arose and handed the court the body's final report, and Judge Bell was in the act of ordering it filed when Juror Pigott arose and requested that he be allowed to present a minority report, which the court permitted. In discharging the jury the court took occasion to remark that the lot of a grand juror was not a happy one, and to express Its appreciation for what the body had ac-

Details of Majority Report.

The majority report censures the police for brutality in handling prisoners; censures the County Clerk and County Auditor for the collection of money from their employes under the guise of campaign expenses: criticises Coroner Hove for bartering away the patronage of his office to rival undertakers; states that the jury has no evidence to sustain published reflections upon the Superior Court Ju diciary; challenges the justness of the acts of the Board of Equalization; condemn the Council for the contract which it enbered into with the Seattle & Lake Washington Waterway Company; censurer Councilman Jones for using his office for partment of being in league with crime and corrupation; recommends the resignations of Mayor Humes and Chief Sullivar and finally the calling of another grand jury, after a reasonable time has elapsed. to take up the investigation where the present body left off.

Piggott's Report Differs Somewhat, Mr. Pigott's report deals at length with the granting of the Cedar River su water contract to the Seattle & Lake Washington Waterway Company; intimates that $2500 was unlawfully used in rocuring the contract; brands the police department as a most inefficient body; de nounces the Mayor and Chief of Police for his turn or onto other shoulders; score the Council for not attempting to check the reign of vice; charges that the brothers were permitted to levy blackmail on other gamblers, with the consent of both the Mayor and Chief of Police, and finally accuses both officials of being grossly incompetent and criminally negligent, recommending that each resign their pective offices.

Some of the Assessors in the smaller ounties of the state have raised the counties of the state have raised the question as to whether they are entitled to keep their offices open the year round and receive their per diem for each working day of the year. The question has been submitted to the Atforney-General, who, in an opinion given out today, puts an end to the hope of the Assessors for a raise in salary in this way. Mr. Stratton says:

"There seems to be no good reason in a county where the Assessor is paid a per diem for keeping his office open between the time he has completed the rolls and delivered the same to the Auditor, and the delivered the same to the Auditor, and the time when it is reasonably necessary for him to begin the preliminary work for the next assessment, and we are unable to find any law, either requiring or authorizing him to do so. He is not paid for keeping his office open, but for work actually and necessarily required of him in assessing all property and certifying the property rolls."

Fifteen Suits Brought in Linn County for Divorce. ALBANY, Or., March 31.-(Special.)-Department No. 2 of the Circuit Court for

Linn County was convened yesterday afternoon by Judge Reuben P. Boise, and work was begun on a docket of 50 cases, The docket was called during the after noon. The work is progressing rapidly today, and the docket will probably be deaned up by next Saturday. There is one especial feature of the locket. This is the number of divorce suits. Of the 50 cases scheduled for the present term of court, 15 are brought to dissolve the bonds of matrimony. One of these is the sensational suit of Laura Ellen Froman against her husband, Thomas Froman. Mrs. Froman charge her husband with adultery in several in-stances, and asks for a divorce, with property. Mr. Froman today, through his attorneys, filed an answer to the con plaint, in which he alleges that Mrs. Fro man is guilty of adultery, and asks that he be given a divorce from her. The court has allowed five days for the plain tiff to prepare an answer to the cross-This case has attracted wide interest in Linn County, where Mr. Froman is an old and well-known citizen Considerable feeling is manifested in the onee, and Linn County people will await the result with more amount of expectancy.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Froman also caused a criminal action for adultery to be instituted against her husband, but action on that charge was continued, pending the diverce suit. The settlement of the diverce question will have some influence on the criminal charge, which increases the interest in the divorce suit.

Trini.

Trini.

BAKER CITY, Or., March II.—(Special.)—Counsel for Pieas Armstrong who was sentenced to be hung May 8 by Judge Eakin, this morning moved for a new trial, basing the motion on a number of alleged errors by the court during the trial of the case, the principal one of which was an alleged oral instruction to the jury. In the face of a request by the defendant that the court's instructions should be in writing. Judge Eakin stated that the instructions given to the jury were all in writing and the motion was overruled.

A motion in arrest of judgment was then made, on the ground that the verification of the jury did not state the degree

the grave; she says;—
"I had a bad attack of la grippe this spring and was at death's door, and no one ever expected me to recover. I was so weak that as soon as they brought me out of one faint I was in another. I could not take any nourishment, and doctors' medicines did me no good. A friend advised my husband to get me a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, which he did, but had no faith in it. The second day after taking the Compound, I began to get real hungry and took an interest in things. I had everything that money and lowing care could supply, and with that and Paine's Celery Compound, I am now doing my own work, while three months ago I was almost in the grave. I know that I owe my health and strength to Paine's Celery Compound, and shall always recommend it.
