rewarded for personal service. Foster has given everything to the Ankeny forces. He and his friends disclaim the responsibility for the appointments, and insist that if any political debts existed they have all been paid.

Wilson Will Cut a Figure. The Foster men expect a fight from Wilson. They realize the former Spokane man is bitter against the Senator and holds him largely responsible for the fact that Wilson was not returned to the Senate.

On the matter of street improvement the Mayor says: "In repairing streets with crushed gravel, 50 1/4 yards have been used, which was purchased under a contract made the previous year at a total cost to the city of $324.65, including the cost of spreading and of repairs to the rock-crusher, or at a cost of but a fraction less than 50 cents per yard."

EUGENE IS HEALTHY. And the Mayor's Report Shows Finances in Good Order.

EUGENE, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—The annual report of Mayor Christman made to the Council last night was full of information of interest and a complete review of the business of the administrative branch of the city government.

The amount of outstanding warrants at the beginning of the year was $2,663.23. The amount of warrants paid by the Treasurer during the year was $2,813.17, together with interest on the same. THE RECENT FIGHT IN VENEZUELA.

COMPARED WITH OTHER ATTACKS.

The twentieth century will do a great deal more for mankind by discovering new methods to kill bacteria (the disease-carrying germs which get into the blood), than by inventing new methods of warfare between human beings. In warfare, as in business, one must have pure, rich, red blood to be courageous. A leading pathologist of America says: "Within the blood and body are wonderful bacteria fighting hostile invaders and foreshadowing the marvelous results that follow greater knowledge."

right kind of blood, and the person feels invigorated and stronger. As a tissue-builder it is far preferable to cod liver oil because it gives the blood and the tissues the food elements they require and maintains a person's equilibrium by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food.

It is with pleasure that I write to inform you that your medicine has saved the life of my wife, for which I feel very grateful. I had heard of your wonderful medicine and concluded, as a last resort, it would try it. The first three bottles did not seem to do her much good, but I insisted on her using it a while longer. She soon began to improve, and after taking twenty bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the same quantity of his 'Favorite Prescription,' my wife was entirely cured.

BOLD WORK OF ROBBERS.

Rob Postoffice and Shoot Recklessly With Revolvers.

WHATCOM, Wash., April 14.—Two masked outlaws held up the village of Fernalde in true Missouri style last night, shot at every man who appeared on the streets, robbed the postoffice of $150 and succeeded in making their escape without leaving the slightest clue to their identity.

The outlaws made their first appearance in the postoffice, where they ordered the Postmaster to deliver to them the contents of his till. The Postmaster refused, and while one robber with two revolvers in his hands kept him covered, the other emptied the contents of the till into a sack. Nothing but money was taken. Four men were shot, and when the robbers came in were compelled to leave, the robbers firing shots over their heads as they took their departure.

CAREER OF TERRORISING ESCAPES.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 14.—Escaped Convicts Clark and Jones, who are trying the Tracy act on this side of the line, have back records in the States. Clark's career with the State police is dated in 1896. He drifted here because Seattle had become too warm for his leader, Tommy Wilton, and two others of the same gang, Ben O'Connell and Jack McLaughlin. Clark was then known as Joe King. He is believed to have robbed Dr. Roland D. Grant's residence in Portland and was arrested by the former on the Oregon coast. The latter, according to Chief North's recollection, was about three years ago, shortly after being released from Westminister Jail, killed while being arrested in the States.

Clark is known to be one of the cleverest cracksmen as well as one of the most accomplished all-round criminals on the coast. That he will not hesitate at all to use the guns which he now has, should opportunity be afforded, is something the police say can be relied upon to the utmost certainty.

SHOT, AND MAY DIE.

Loss in Fight Seeks Revenge With Revolver.

CHEHALIS, Wash., April 14.—(Special.)—Atha Rice shot Max Schoenig here early this morning with a 38-caliber revolver. Rice is a clerk in the store of Murphy & Stuebel. Schoenig is meatstore at Pucknham's market and from here a few months ago from Montana. Schoenig may die.

The shooting was the result of a quarrel. Schoenig and Rice fought, the former losing the latter. Rice soon followed his assailant and shot him in the doorway of his employer.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING OF FISHERMAN.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 14.—Abbott street, at the water front, was the scene of a most serious shooting affray last night. As a result, Frank Rogers, formerly president of the British Columbia Fishermen's Union, lies in the City Hospital in a critical condition from a bullet wound in the abdomen received in the wild fusillade of shots which swept the streets for a few moments.

Investigation elicited nothing that was satisfactory, especially as to who was responsible for the shooting. The police are investigating, but so far can only give the stereotyped answer, "Wrapped in mystery."

MAY BE PROVINCIAL CONVICTS.

WHATCOM, Wash., April 14.—The two desperadoes who last night robbed the postoffice at Fernalde, terrorized the village and shot at a number of citizens while driving them into their homes, are believed by the authorities here to be the two convicts who last week broke out of the Provincial Penitentiary at New Westminster, B. C. and who immediately made their way to Vancouver, where they provided themselves with firearms by burglarizing a hardware store. The leader was incarcerated at the penitentiary at New Westminster under the name of Jones, but he has served two terms in the penitentiary in this state under the name of King. His companion's name is Clark. Tonight's posse are guarding all the highways leading from the vicinity of the outrage. King is a very desperate man.

TREAT FOR MUSIC-LOVERS.

THREE DAYS OF SONG AT ENGENE'S MAY FESTIVAL. The first evening will be given to the Portland songsters under their chosen leader, Edgar E. Courson. The second night "The Feast of Adonia" and "Redemption" will be rendered by the State Oratorio Society, consisting of W. H. Boyer's chorus from Portland, and the choruses from Salem, Albany, Corvallis and the Eugene chorus. The popular oratorio, "Elijah," will be given the last night, and Mrs. Reed, of Portland, will make her only appearance in singing the contralto solo of "Elijah."

is acknowledged to have injured Foster.

No matter what the senator Senator has accomplished he has been ignored by Washington press. He has never been given credit for any good work. Cushman has claimed on the stump that he accomplished legislation he did not even know had been passed until he read of it in the records. Amendments made to appropriation acts, for example, in the Senate have generally been credited to Cushman, never to Foster. This has hurt Foster immeasurably, for the people of the state do not know what the senator has done, and since he has no organs through which to reply, it is probable the people never will know many things. But a story published in The Oregonian a few days ago showing the record of Foster, in bills introduced and passed and comparing this with the records of other Senators, is now being used to advantage. This record shows Foster in four years actually passed more legislation than all other Senators from this state combined. On top of this, Foster's friends are preparing a statement of appropriations secured by him.

Speaking of appropriations, Foster's friends are ready to spring a surprise on Cushman, and incidentally upon Tacoma, where the facts are not known even now. After Senator Carter talked the river and harbor appropriation bill to death two years ago Cushman declared he was glad it had met this fate. In the House Cushman had been absolutely to gain anything for the state, but the bill went back from the Senate carrying among other appropriations nearly $500,000 for Tacoma harbor improvements and nearly as much more for other parts of the state. This was agreed upon in conference, or rather most of the appropriations stood that test, and when Senator Carter talked the bill to death he hit the state a hard blow. The appropriations which were secured at the following session of Congress were almost the same that Foster had secured in the Senate after Cushman failed in the House. So when Cushman declared his jubilation over the death of the bill, he feigned the way for Foster's reply at this time. And Foster's friends are now using the story to stem the tide for him in Pierce County.

It is an open question whether Foster will receive railroad support as he endeavors to straighten out his affairs. The railroads are keeping out of Senatorial politics as much as possible now, and Foster, who has always depended upon this support and who has been with the roads all the way through, will feel this handicap.

There is a bit of unwritten political history that is interesting in this connection. After Ankeny had been elected last Winter the closest friend Ankeny had at Olympia declared his belief that B. S. Groscup, the Northern Pacific attorney at Tacoma, would be the successor to Foster. This declaration was not intended as anything more than a prediction, and was given in confidence at the time, but it served to show that a close friendship existed between Groscup and Ankeny.

It is extremely doubtful whether Groscup would go to the Senate if he could do so; it is more doubtful whether he could, if he wanted. Not that Groscup is not a capable man or a shrewd politician, but his long connection with the railroad politics would be a handicap to him that might seriously affect his chances. It is probable no one realizes this fact better than Groscup himself, and he would hardly venture upon a Senatorial campaign that he could not win.

Among Groscup's friends it is understood that he would prefer above all else to serve on the Federal bench, as does his brother, the Chicago Groscup. Some time the State of Washington will be divided into two judicial districts, and at that time it is understood Groscup wants to be named as Federal Judge for the new district. If this story of his friends is true, or if the theory that Groscup would not undertake a Sena-

Operators and Employers at Oregon City May Soon Agree.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—The Federal Labor Union held a secret meeting last night to discuss the proposed demands of the employees of the Willamette Pulp and Paper Company and the Oregon Paper Company for higher wages and shorter hours. The officers of the union refuse to give any information to the press, but it has leaked out that some action was taken and modified demands will be presented to the mill companies.

Several days ago a conference between a committee representing the employees and Resident Director Norman R. Lang, of the Willamette Pulp and Paper Company, was held, and it is understood that the

And if it is, there is no good reason why everybody, except the Socialists and Prohibitionists, should not vote the Republican ticket in June.

There has been some criticism of the stone used in the structure for the reason that the blocks are not uniform in color, and some of them are spotted. It is said, however, that after a time the stone will change in tint, so as to be all of one color, and that exposure to the atmosphere will harden it. The size and shape of the building were not satisfactory to the people, and effort was made to have the plans changed, but without success. Should the stone fail to become uniform in color, this, added to the unsatisfactory shape, would cause some disappointment. In any event, the people are thankful
