ONE TIE-UP BROKEN

Nonunion Men Go to Work on Failing Building.

CONTRACTORS TO FINISH JOB

Painters, Both Union and Nonunion Are Busy-Danger of a General Tie-Up of Building In Over.

Screened from the gaze of the curiou by paint-bedimmed windows a number of nonunion workmen went to work yester-day morning in the interior of the Fail-ing building at Third and Morrison union men would not admit that it was possible for the contractors, Mc-Kenzie & Wallace, to find enough non-Kenzie & Wallace, to find enough non-union men to complete the job. The contractors declared that they would, and their promise has been fulfilled. The agent of the Failing estate, W. C. Al-vord, said some time ago, when the building threatened to be tied up, that none but union men should be employed upon the structure. The contractors, both carpenter and painting, said that Mr. Alvord had no authority to tell them what men they should employ. All work what men they should employ. All work upon the building was twice suspended through the action of Sheehy Bros., the painting contractors, in placing a non-union painter upon the job. The Building Trades Council declared that every workmen employed upon the structure would be called off again if a non-mion painter was put to work.

No members of any of the unions affiliated with the Building Trades Council are at work, therefore, upon the Fail-ing building. The plumbers may work all they please for their union is not with the Council. The bricklaying is completed, so none of the work-men in that line are affected. Though the bricklayers are not at present affili-ated with the Building Trades Council they are in sympathy with the strike of the painters, and will not work upon any structure upon which a nonunion painter

The present situation of the strike is xcellent evidence that so much work ing done in Portland that the owners of afford to have it tied up for any length of time. Both the union painters and the shops employing nonunion paint-ers are being crowded to fulfill their con-tracts. The strike leaders say an in-creasing humber of painters are going to work each day for contractors who have signed their scale. The shops belonging to members of the Master Painters' Association are far from idle. In spite of the strike the property-owners will have their buildings painted with but little

The scare of a general strike is about The scare of a general strike is about booked to die a natural death. Whether the painters win or lose their strike, the painting business of the city will go ahead just the same. From the very first day there were reports of buildings awaiting completion on account of a lack of painters. The few delayed for this reason have about all been provided for reason have about all been provided for of painters. The few delayed for this reason have about all been provided for by one side or another, and scarcely a complaint is heard on this score.

The threatened strike of the laborers seems also to have faded away. The Building Trades Council must sanction the strike before it takes place and from what the members say, there is little hat the members say, there is little obability of this occurring. None of the embers of the Laborers' Protective Association seem to be quite sure in their own minds as to what will be done about the demand for higher wages. As long as this state of affairs lasts the other unions, of course, cannot be expected to take a very aggressive stand in the matter.

E. H. Moorehouse says he will make no further effort to work upon the Weinhard building until notified by the architect. When the fracas occurred at the Weinhard, Saturday, Ion Lewis, one of the architects of the building, told Mr. Moorehouse that he would serve a writ-ten notice upon him when the time came for the frames to be painted. The window frames—whether or not they should be cause of all the trouble

A peace like unto that of the Weinhard building hangs over the painters' head-quarters at Second and Morrison streets Few painters can now be found in the hall, where last week an idle throng was congregated all day long. The executive board has not suspended its daily meet-ings, nor are the patrols throughout the city idie.

The Barbers' Union at its last meeting indorsed the strike of the painters. It is hardly possible, however, that the barbers will refuse to cut the hair of a nonunion

NEW YORK, April 16.-Vito Liduco, who was supposed to have been the pro-prietor of the butcher shop in Stanton street, where nine arrests were made last night in connection with the body found in a barrel last Tuesday morning in East Eleventh street, surrendered himself at police headquarters and was held as a

The police are said to believe that the murdered man was decoyed from New Orleans to New York and murdered in a cafe in Elizabeth street. They believe he brought with him, full of his own cloth-ing, the barrel in which his body was found. The barrel is one of a shipment of 250 sent to New Orleans. A description of the murdered man has been sent to the New Orleans police.

The police tonight announced that they had traced the connection between the barrel in which the murdered man's body was found and one of the members of the gang arrested. They say that the barrel was sold by the grocery firm of Wallace & Thomson, in Washington street, to Pierto Inzarillo, who ran the cafe at 225 Elizabeth street, and who was arrested Detectives arrested Guiseppe Moret as a

DOGS HAVE SECOND DAY

CANINES ON THEIR GOOD BEHAVIOR AT THE BENCH SHOW.

Judge George Raper, of Eugland Picks the Winners in Many Breeds of Dogflesk.

The attendance at the bench show yes-terday doubled that of the opening and the dogs behaved themselves in a much more ladylike and gentlemanly manner. more ladylise and gentlemanly mainer. Even the fox terriers were less demon-strative when a strange canine was led-past their stalls, and satisfied themselves with less vocal exertion.

Don, the prize bloodhound, that played checkers with Tracy and Mercill, ma aged to slip his collar over his head as proceeded to take a stroll among the spe tators. A panic was averted, howeve by two handlers who did the Alphon by two handlers who cld the apparent and Gaston stunt, managing to engage the animal's attention until a fearles dogfancier boldiy advanced, laid hold o one of the animal's ears, and escorte him to the bestile wherea he came him to the bastile whence he came.

Professor Hunt's trained dogs and more keys were at their best and when Fid-walked the tight rope he was heartily applauded. One woman became so infatuated with two fox-hound puppies that she falled to observe a pointer pup in the next stall who feasted himself on a silk tassel which he had chewed from her jacket.

The prize Boston terriers seemed to turn their noses up even higher when they were awarded prizes. The Pomeranian pupples were unusu-ally lively and amused a large crowd until one fell into a pan of bread and milk and had to be rescued by one of the spectators. The pointers were happy smiles. They had attracted the most at-tention of all and nearly everyone had some kind of a ribbon or had received favorable mention from the noted expert

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician snould aiways he called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment of these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 39 years and more that Chamberian's Cough Remedy has been used, we have yet to learn of a single case of a cold or attack of the grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy is used. It is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." For sale by all druggists. Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

General Passenger Agents of Many Railroads to Meet Next Week-Committee Will Address Them.

A strong presentation of the claims of the Lewis and Clark Centennial for spe-cial rates will be made to the general passenger agents at their meeting in Portiand next week. A thorough state-ment of the aims and purposes of the Fair and its effect upon the entire Coast country, together with a presentation of the commercial aspect of the Exposition as applied to the railroads, will be made to the general passenger agents by a cial rates will be made to the general passenger agents at their meeting in Portland next week. A thorough statement of the aims and purposes of the fair and its effect upon the entire Coast country, together with a presentation of the commercial aspect of the Exposition as applied to the ratiroads, will be made to the general passenger agents by a special committee named by Vice-President H. W. Scott. An outline of the committee's plans was made yesterday at a meeting heid at the offices of the Lewis and Clark Fair on Front street.

Of the committee, the following were in attendance and pledged their support to the movement: H. W. Scott. A. H. Devers, Ed Ehrman, A. F. Biles, W. H. Corbett, William Gadsby, A. L. Mills, William D. Fenton and J. Frank Watson. It was agreed that each of the causing of effects to come with uniform-

It was agreed that each of the men present at yesterday's meeting should feel himself obligated to appear before the general passenger agents meeting and speak for the Fair. In addition to this an especial effort will be made to get the other members of the committee to go before the meeting.

Arrangements will be made at once with Chairman James Charlton for an opportunity to speak to the general passenger agents on behalf of the Fair. Mr. Chariton is to arrive in Portland on Saturday and it is expected he will heartly agree with the committee's plans. Other general passenger agents, especially those representing lines reaching this city, are eager to assist in the work, and it is eager to assist in the work, and it is its readers think, and that welcom believed the committee will be extended voice worth hearing.

At yesterday's meeting Mr. Scott made a strong argument in favor of impress-ing the general passenger agents with the importance of the Lewis and Clark Fair. He emphasized the fact that it was necessary for all the friends of the Exposition to take an active part in the preparation for it, and insisted that though it might be necessary at times for business men to make a sacrifice of their time, this should be done cheerfully. The meeting of the general pas-senger agents was deciared to be an ex-ceptionally favorable opportunity to spread the fame of the Fair and every member of the special committee was impressed with the importance of the movement.

impressed with the importance of the movement.

It was unanimously agreed by the committeemen present that they would attend the meeting of the passenger association, permitting no business engagements to interfere with this plan. Mr. Scott was asked to make the principal address before the meeting. Following him, all the members of the committee will make short speeches, pointing out the great importance of the Fair to the Northwest and the manner in which the railroads will be benefited.

A letter will be addressed immediately to the officers of the association requesting that an hour be named when the Portland committee can be heard.

No arrangements have yet been made by the Lewis and Clark Exposition officials for any special entertainment of the visiting passenger men, but in the event it is found they have any time on their hands the Fair directors will see that Portland's interests are placed before them in a favorable light.

business. The wishes of the railroad men will be respected in all particulars. Though there will be several meetings of the general passenger agents prior to the opening of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, this is the most favorable opportunity the Fair directors will have of putting the claim of the Exposition before the railroad men. They are the officials who will make the low rates to Portland, and they are the ones who will of putting the claim of the Exposition before the railroad men. They are the

It is especially desired that the Fair shall be placed before the passenger men at the earliest opportunity. Not only that, but the meeting in Portland will give the most favorable opportunity for speaking to the railroad men. At an outside meeting it would be necessary to either send representatives or to write letters, and in neither way can as satisfactory results be accomplished.

isfactory results be accomplished. These facts are fully appreciated by the directors of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, and every advantage will be taken of the present opportunity.

When the advantages of the Lewis and Clark Exposition to the Coast and its effect upon the entire country is placed before the General Passenger Association with a request for favorable rates the Lewis and Clark Fair will have established a new record. It is more than two lished a new record. It is more than two years before the Fair will be opened and the showing will have been made earlier than any other Fair has ever been placed than any other Fair has ever been piaced before the railroad passenger agents. That great good will follow this action is expected not alone by the Fair directors but by the railroad men in the city and the general public.

writer, because of the questions it starts. It says, "Materialism may not be true, but it is at least logical and impressive." A construction may be logically put together, but what goes into that construction? What is the major premise? Materialism starts with matter and is impressive as the gospel of the flesh. Is it not just as logical to start with God, and is not a gospel of spirit just as impressive? The leader also says that "Man is the product of the earth; and it is quite the necessary thing that he should find upon it things adapted to his use. This is not providence, but necessity. We are tempted sometimes to give thanks for things that could hardly have been otherwise." Who created necessities, and who has acted according to the laws, not by the laws he has made? Why should not man be thankful to God

The Proof of Success It has been said that "Imitation is the sincerest flattery," but it has been dem-onstrated time and again that in medicine it is a most seriously dangerous compli-ment-damaging to the patient, an injury to the physician and certainly an injustice to them both. Nobody imitates that which is not good or successful. If we did not do all that we claim and treat diseases of men with better results than others, other specialists better results than others, other specialists would not lift our advertisements bodily from the paper, attach their own names and try to imitate our treatment. This is constantly being done in nearly every city in the West. Do not be deceived, accept no treatment founded upon our principles except it be obtained from our office.

WE ARE ALWAYS WILLING TO WAIT FOR ONE FEE UNTIL CURE IS EFFECTED.

Contracted Disorders

DR. W. NORTON DAVIS

Contracted Disorders

These troublesome diseases are responsible for a very large proportion of so-called "weakness," which emphasizes the importance of prompt and careful treatment. Cases that have been neglected or only partially cured are almost certain to set up inflammation in the prostate gland which in time becomes chronic and interferes with the normal functions. Through our long experience in treating these diseases we have devised methods that not only cure soundly and permanently, but cure in less time than the best of other treatments require. Take no chances. Do not risk your besith and manhood by relying on patent nostrums or uncertain methods. You are absolutely secure when you intrust your case with us.

Stricture

Our treatment for this disease removes the necessity for surgical operations, even in severe cases of long standing. We do no cutting or disating. No other physicians employ our methods of overcoming this disorder, so the services we offer you are original and distinctive. Do not give up hope because others have failed. We will cure you and the cure will be a prompt and paniness one. Our treatment dissolves the stricture and permanently removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, subdues all inflammation, relieves all irritation or congestion that all irritation or congestion that may exist in the kidneys or bladder, reduces enlargement in the pros-tate gland, and restores health and tone to all organs affected by the

"Weakness"

To produce temporary activity of the functions in cases of so-called "weakness" is a simple matter, but to permanently restore strength and vigor is a problem that but few physicians have solved. Under our system of treatment every bit of improvement is part of a perma-Improvement is part of a permanent cure. Though other physicians have, through our success in effecting permanent cures, been convinced that prematureness, loss of power, etc., are but symptoms resulting from chronic inflammation or congestion in the prostate giand, none have been able to duplicate our cures. Our system of mainly local treatment is the only effective means yet known for restoring the prostate to its normal state, which always' results in full and complete return of strength and vigor Such a cure is absolutely permanent, because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed. It is the only kind of a cure a patient desires, and is the only kind of a cure we treat for.

Specific Blood Poison

Unin the perfection of our system of treatment specific blood polson was regarded as incurable and the limit of medical aid was to keep the disease dormant by the use of strong mineral drugs. We positively arive the last taint of polson from the system. Our cures are absolute. Every symptom vanishes to appear no more. We use harmless blood-cleansing remedies only, such as were never before used in the treatment of this disease.

CONSULTATION AND ADVICE FREE AT OFFICE OR BY MAIL. Most cases we can treat successfully at home, but one personal examination is preferred. We send our book free, under a plain cover, sealed. It is both interesting and instructive. Hours 9 to 5 and 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.
