Youtsey Reveals Whole Plot to Murder Goebel.

SAYS HOWARD FIRED THE SHOT

Declares Crime Was Directed by Governor Taylor, With Promise of Pardon for Guilty-Turns Tables on One of Howard's Lawyers, FRANKFORT, Ky., April 16.-Henry E. Youtsey today for the first time told on the witness stand his story of the killing of the late Governor Goebel. He named James Howard, the defendant, as the man who fired the shot. Youtsey said ne saw Howard for the first few minutes before the shooting. Howard had a letter sent him several days before by the witness at Governor Taylor's dictation. Youtsey says he took Howard into Caleb Powers' hall, employes' quarters, two-story school office which had been specially arranged for the shooting. Youtsey said he showed Howard the Marlin rifle, the bullets and the window from which the shooting was to be done. He says Howard asked what he was to get for the shooting.

"What do you want for it?" Youtsey said he asked, and Howard said he wanted a pardon for killing George Baker.
"I told him he could have that and more, too," said houtsey.
"About that time," said the witness,

"About that time," said the witness, "Goebel came in the gate, and I pointed him out to Howard and then ran from the room. As I disappeared from the steps to the basement I heard the crack of Howard's rifle."

He said that after the shooting he passed through the Statchouse basement, and a few minutes later came back into the exercitive building from the said.

"I stayed in the office of Assistant Secretary of State Matthews," said he, "for a few moments, and saw Matthews break open Caleb Powers' office and find the guns that had been left there."

Youtsey said that at the time of the shooting he was private secretary to Auditor Sweeny, but that, while his political status was not definitely fixed, it was un-derstood he was to have a good place un-

"Governor Taylor," said Youtsey, "di-rected everything we did. We regarded him as our leader, and he was morally responsible for all we did. We knew we had the Governor and pardoning board be-blind us, and were not afraid of punish-ment for killing Goebel."

During Youtsey's testimony Howard sat During Youtsey's testimony Howard sat with his eyes riveted on the witness. His wife sat behind him. Howard did not change expression. Youtsey, on cross-examination, said that after he was arrested and sent to the penitentiary he still had his expectation of gaining liberty. He thanks Yorks would be sleeted flow.

He thought Yerks would be elected Gov-ernor and would pardon him. Youtsey had about a year ago decided to tell his story to the prison physician. Youtsey said further that be had an ad-ditional incentive to tell the story, as Paylor, Powers and others had used him admission that he was to receive a reward in the way of reduction of his sentence or lighter work in the prison.

Youtsey said no inducement of the kind had been held out to him. He said that the only man who ever talked to him about any kind of reward was James A. Scott, now of counsel for Howard.

"This was just before I was arrested."

He admitted having sent for Governor Beckham and asked his advice. The Governor held a conference with him in War-den Lillard's office and he said that Beck-ham told him he should tell everything, but that he was offered no inducement. Attorney Violette asked a number of questions, the purpose of which was to show that Dr. Johnson, and not Howard, shot Goebel. Youtsey admitted that he and Johnson had planned to kill Goebel and that Johnson would do the shooting. W. J. Davidson, then Superintendent of Public Instruction, he said, offered to sllow Johnson the use of his office to killing and discarded him.

To Grow Cotton in Africa. NEW YORK, April 16.-The moveme

to make England less dependent on the United States for her cotton supply is as-suming very extensive dimensions, says the Tribune's London correspondent. An article which appears in the first issue of the West African Mail, the official organ of the British Cotton-Growing Ass tion, sets out to prove that the success of the movement for promoting cotton production within the British Empire means for England safety for her most important industries and self-protection against a peril which might become a national disaster; for Lancashire cessation from dependence on Americans, and in-crease of prosperity from greater supplies of raw material; for West Africa, the creation of a new industry, increase in purchasing power, and the consequent advance and development of its colonies.
