ANSWER TO PARRY

Hanna Speaks for Industrial Conciliation

TO IRONWORKERS' DELEGATES

Defends Unions and Declares That They Are Always Ready for Fair Discussion of Disputes With Employers-Only One Failure.

COLUMBUS. Ohio, April 11.-Senator Hanna was tonight the guest of honor at a banquet tendered the delegates to the invention of Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tinworkers, now holding its twenty-eighth annual session here. He was invited, as the chalrman of the Civic Federation, to speak about the National Civic Federation and its work, but he took occasion also to reply to the re-cent annual address at the New Orleans convention of President Parry of the American Association of Manufacturers on the relations between organized em and organized employes. Senator

"I have always feit that, when the time might come when men in the strife and contest of life could be made to see that there is no difference in the brotherhood of men, the beginning of the end would be in sight." Senator told how he became interested in the work of the Civic Federa-tion, and continued: "From the outset I found those who are engaged in this work to be earnest, honest and faithful men. Instead of look-ing possible or probable failure in the face, every month and every year has brought good results, which have encour brought good results, which have encouraged those of us who are performing the services, so that today, my friends, I am glad to be able to say that we are not only encouraged in the work thus far, but encouraged far beyond our Tondest hopes in the outlook for the future. We start with the motto of the Golden Rule; our basic principles are founded upon right and justice among men. We start from the standpoint of a men. We start from the standpoint of a determination that, no matter what the obstacle, no matter what the difficulties that can strew our pathway, feeling that we are right and with earnest desire to do that which is right, recognizing the mutual interest which is embodied in this proposition, we are going forward, encour-aged at overy step we take. ed at every step we take. I say mutual interests because you cannot separate the interests of these two great factors which underlie our development and prosperity, one as necessary as the other, equally important each to the other.

Pioneer in Concillation. I am glad to have the opportunity may that the underlying principles of the Amalgamated Association have been my text, the guiding spirit of all the work that I have ever undertaken in the in-terest of labor. To you, my friends, is due the practical working of an organization starting upon the principle of mu-tual interest and inviting your employ-ers to join with you in the settlement of a scale, which means an annual agree-That is the underlying pris which is the most important factor in this

I advocate the doctrine, recognizing the fact that you cannot separate the interests of the employer and the employe. that there must be a common ground upon which employer and employe car meet on friendly terms, with the determination to do what is right and feeling that is the solution of the whole question. The Amalgamated Association was the ploneer in this work and their con-servatism has been the foundation o their success. Pursue that policy, my friends, meeting conditions as conditions change; meet opportunities as opportuni-ties offer for your advancement, for your own betterment, but always with a spirit of conciliation and conservatism, and you will be the leaders representing labor in this great government.

Conciliation Only Once Falled. With but one notable exception, I want so to publicly state that in the experalso to publicly state that in the experience of the last two years, when those methods have been pursued, there has not been a failure—not one. Now, is it not encouraging after each success to go on with this work? It is not often that I have the opportunity to talk to an association like this. But I have opportunity without the propertunity without the propertunity of the propertunity without the properture. tunities without number, many more than I can comply with, to talk before the business men of the United States, and as far as my opportunities and strength per-mit. I accept these invitations for the purpose of talking to the business men and employes of this country just as they ought to be talked to . There are many who criticize, many unbelievers and doubters as to the frui-tion of this great question, but my re-ply to them is that the men who at long range criticise and doubt the future of : settlement of this great question only demonstrate their ignorance. They do not know the workings of it. "As an evidence of that, with your per-nission. I want to allude to the reutterances of the president of an organ-ization known as the Manufacturers' As-. I have nothing personal against ry. I have the highest respect for that organization, because I know a great deal of its personnel, and I know that it is composed of liberal, high-minded men. I say that it is unfortuminded men. I say that it is unfortu-nate that that question should be considered in so public a way, in so drastic a way, by one, who, from his own state-ments, does not understand the question. It is stated thus:

Denies Parry's Statements.

Organized labor knows but one law that is the law of physical force—the of the Huns and vandals, the laws of the savage. All its purposes are complished either by actual force or the threat of force. "That is not true."

We will see. In reply to those state ments I am able to bear witness to the fact that within the last two years, in confact that within the last two years, in con-nection with this work of the Civic Fed-eration, it has been demonstrated that this question in the interest of organized or unorganized labor has received more thoughtful and careful consideration from all classes of the American people than ever before. If I had the time to recount in detail the difficulties that have been overcome and the advancement that has been made in the activement of departs. been made in the settlement of dispute been made in the settlement of disputes in bringing closer together the employer and employe: if I could state those facts and ask the gentieman who makes these statements what he had to say in reply, furnishing proof. Continuing, Senator Hanns read at length from the speech of Mr. Parry, and especially the latter's statements as to the anthracite coal strike, which, he said, misrepresented the facts.

"It is no part for those who represent capital," said Senator Hanna, "to con-demn a principle, to condemn a policy, be-cause mlatakes have been made; therefore I say shame to a man who would teach the public to misrepresent the facts."

HEALTH OF KING EDWARD Alarming Reports Denied-No Ar rangements to Visit Pope.

LONDON, April 21.—An investigation of the reports circulated in the United States by a news agency, stafing that as a re-sult of the alarming state of King Ed-ward's health he had been ordered to take four days' rest at Naples before going to Rome, and that the programme for His Bome, and that the programme for His Majesty's entertainment at Rome had been curtailed, shows them to be un-founded. Bride Denies Report. PARIS, April 21.—The American colony here has been much exercised by the per-sistent reports of the approaching mar-riage of William K. Vanderbilt. Most of the reports come from New York, following the court proceedings, but all persons here have declaimed to give any definite opinion on the subject. At a late hour this afternoon, when a call was made at the Vanderbilt residence and a request sent for information con-cerning the current rumors, word was returned from Mr. Vanderbilt that he was so busily engaged that he had been so ously engaged that he had been obliged to deny himself to all representatives of the press, and to decline either to affirm of deny the reports. Practically the same response was given at the residence of Mrs. Rutherford.

Those occupying confidential relations with Mr. Vanderbilt declined further to discuss the reports of his marriage, as they consider that Mr. Vanderbilt's note to the Associated Press yesterday, saying the reports were untrue, sufficiently cov-ers the case. When this note was writ-ten, Mr. Vanderbilt was aware of the reports printed in New York yesterday that he was to be married here tomorrow, and his denial specifically contradicted them. ## Test for Yourself the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the World-Famous Kldney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Oregonian May Have a Sample Bottle Sent FREE by Mail.

Gentlemen-Some two years ago I was so run down that I lacked strength, had no appetite, and could not nights. Sometimes it seemed as though my back would break in two after stooping. I had to get up many times during the night to urinate, and go often through the day. After having the best physicians prescribe for me without relief, I decided from my symptoms that the medicine I needed was Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. After trying a sample bottle with good results, I purchased six bottles of the regular size, and after taking them was entirely cured. Swamp-Root is a wonderful remedy when a man is not feeling well, after exposure or loss of sleep and irregular meals. It is also a great medicine to tone up a man's system. Other members of the police force are using and recommending Swamp-Root. They, like myself, cannot say too much in praise of this

This dispatch—a special vernacular paper—in the absence of any official state-ment, tended somewhat to aliay the grow-ing sentiment in Japan that the second evacuation would be a farce. Latterly that sentiment had become more strongly that sentiment had become more strongly nanifested. There have been consider able grounds for this uneasiness. The Russians are reported to have strength ened their "railway guards," to an ex-tent out of all proportion to the necessity of the occasion. Twenty thousand Rus-sian troops were said to have been con-centrated at Feuwhang, on the Yalu River, commanding the northern border of Corea, which is Japan's special ward, as

It is impossible to verify these reports. other that the Russians, far from evacuating, were fortifying their garri-sons in different sections.

But the Japanese press became aroused, even the conservative Jijl urging the gov-ernment to decisive action. Besides the press there was an indication of popular feeling in the revival of the "vigorous foreign policy."

At a great meeting held in Tokio
under the auspices of the National Union, a resolution was adopted to the effect that all the actions of Russia tend to strengthen the conviction that she has no real intention of restoring Manchuria to China in accordance with her pledges, and it is therefore incumbent on the Jap-ances and British governments to supancee and sittes governments to sup-port China in reasserting her own juris-diction in Manchuria and throwing it open, as a means of securing peace in the Far Bast. Throughout the longth and breadth of Japan there is a murmur of determination, not that Manchuria itself matters much to Japan, but the forward march of Russian aggression requires to be checked somewhere, if Japan is to be
