GOOD BILLS KILLED

New York Legislature Passed Several "Grabs."

RESULT OF THE CLOSING FIGHT

Several Measures of Value to Metropolitan Die in the Riot-Step Toward Educational Reform—Odell Will Veto Some Bills.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 24—(Special).—Now that the smoke of battle has cleared from the Legislative field it is possible to see the real effect of the fierce struggle in the last hours of the session. In both houses scores of bills, good, bad and indifferent, were deserted at the last minute and left behind to die.

Among those of importance that were killed outright were Police Commissioner Green's bill authorizing a much larger police force and providing for the appointment of inspectors and the three-platoon rider, the Citizens' Union Rapid Transit bill, the Agnew bill legalizing the elevated railroad structure in Battery Park, and the street-cleaning bill, providing for street sprinkling by the department instead of by private contractors.

Some of the defeated bills were openly killed on the floor of the Legislature, others were ambushed, some were flim-flammed. Every parliamentary expedient known to man was used in settling the fate of the last surviving measures.

Of the bills that passed safely through the conflict it is to be regretted that some are notoriously evil ones. Of this kind are the L'Honnemede street railway grab bills, the Neville bill for refunding old assessments and reopening outlawed claims, and the Remens East River gas grab bill.

One good thing accomplished was the passage of a concurrent resolution for the appointment of five Senators and seven Assemblymen to examine into the difficulties between the two educational departments of the state and devise a method of educational unification. A compromise educational bill was also passed for the distribution of tuition money for nonresident pupils. It provides that $100,000 shall be appropriated for tuition fees for nonresident school pupils and that the money shall be distributed by the State Controller on a certificate jointly signed by Superintendent Skinner, of the Department of Public Instruction, and Bishop Doane, Chancellor of the Board of Regents. It was over the control of this fund that the other fight between the Regents and the Department of Public Instruction was renewed in the session

THOMSON'S "GLOVE-FITTING" CORSETS.

In many styles—for many figures—at prices from $1 to $25—but all alike in the one vital particular, they are all "GLOVE-FITTING" and gowns fit like a glove when worn over them. Leaders for thirty-five years, THOMSON'S "GLOVE-FITTING" CORSETS still represent the acme of style and perfect fit for every figure.

BEALE MARRIES MISS OGE

It Was on Her Account He Shot Editor Marriot.

NEW YORK, April 24—Truxton Beale, ex-Minister to Persia and Greece, has married Miss Marie Oge, of San Rafael, Cal., in this city. Only the mother of the bride, Mrs. W. L. Oge, Mrs. John R. MacLean, Mr. Beale's sister, Crichton Webb, his best friend, and Archibald Forbes were present at the ceremony, which took place in Mrs. Oge's apartments in a hotel. After an informal wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Beale started for Washington on their wedding journey. They will sail shortly for Europe, where they will remain all Summer, and will divide their time after their return between Washington and San Francisco.

Mr. Beale and Mr. Williams declared that the article was untrue when they went to Mr. Marriot's home to force him to make a retraction. That he refused to do and they shot him three times. Both were arrested, but as Mr. Marriot recovered, they were acquitted.

Yachting Bridal Party Disappears.

NEW YORK, April 24—A great sensation has been caused all along the Riviera by the mysterious disappearance of the pleasure yacht Reine Victoria, says a Nice dispatch to the Herald. The vessel had on board M. and Mme. D'Esmerand, the sister of the latter, Mme. Marguerite Gourio de Refuge, and two sailors, Lafonta and Berlin. The D'Esmerands were married only a month ago, and were on their wedding tour. They were residents of Cannes. On April 8 the party embarked on the yacht for Nice. Mme. D'Esmerand carrying all her jewels and her husband had with him several thousand francs. Since their sailing nothing has been heard of them. They should have reached Nice the same day. A search is being carried out by the police and the maritime authorities all along the coast.
