MOROS ARE ROUTED

Americans Win Big Victory in Mindanao.

SULTAN AMONG THE CAPTURED

One Hundred Rebels Were Killed and Sixty Captured—Forts Reduced Constituted Serious and Strong Positions.

MANILA, May 7.—Captain Pershing's column has defeated the Sultan of Ampangano, a strong force of Moros in the Taraca country, on the east shore of Lake Lanao, Island of Mindanao. The Americans captured ten forts. One hundred and fifteen Moros were killed, 15 were wounded and 60 were made prisoners. The Sultan captured included the Sultan, two Americans were killed and seven were wounded. The ten forts constituted serious and strong positions on the banks of the Taraca River and from them the Moros vigorously resisted Captain Pershing's advance. The American troops attacked the forts Monday and captured eight of them without suffering any losses, though the 38 obsolete cannons mounted on the fortifications were served with the best of the enemy's ability. The garrison of the ninth fort resisted fiercely, and Captain Pershing ordered the fort to be shelled and captured by assault, which was done. Lieutenant Shaw and Gracie, leading two companies of the Twenty-seventh Infantry and a detachment of cavalry, surrounded the tenth fort, where the Sultan had sought refuge, and it surrendered Tuesday. The forts have been dismantled. Captain Pershing moved north Tuesday, to complete the exploration of the lake. The Spanish gunboat Velasco, sunk by the ships of Admiral Dewey, off Cavite, has been raised. Her hull is not injured, but her upper works show the effect of the American shells.

STILL CRITICISING AMERICA.

London Correspondent Finds Much Wrong in Philippines. NEW YORK, May 7.—Percival Landon, in the second of his series of letters from Manila on "The American Failure in the Philippines," printed in the Daily Mail today, argues, according to a London dispatch to the World, that the difficulties of the situation were considerably increased by the capture of Aguinaldo. "Little importance need be attached," he asserts, "to the recent exposure by General Miles that a certain number of Americans degraded themselves by acts of abominable cruelty. It is no more of a slur upon the American Army than the records of the Newgate calendar are upon the inhabitants of London. Throughout the war American soldiers played the game well and fairly, and it is no discredit to them that it is not yet carried to a successful close. Enumerating the causes of the unsatisfactory condition, Mr. Landon mentions

HELD AS WOMAN SLAYER

Italian Bound Over for the Murder of Banker's Daughter.

MEDFORD, Mass., May 7.—The man arrested in Boston last night suspected of having killed Miss Nellie Sturtevant here two hours before, while attempting to rob her father, James Sturtevant, a banker, was brought here early today. He gave his name as Cammaso Loubred. He is an Italian and cannot speak English. Daniel J. Murphy, of Arlington, was also arrested. Both men were arraigned in court at Malden today. Murphy was released, no case being made out against him. Lombred was held without bail on the charge of murder for a hearing next week.

Green-Goods Man Trapped.

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—Edward Heiser, whom the postal authorities charge with being a member of a green-goods gang, with headquarters in New York, and who was arrested at Allentown, Pa., yesterday, after a desperate struggle, was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Craig today and committed to prison in default of $5000 bail. The postal inspectors say that through a letter addressed to "J. Smith, Parkville, Mo.," the green-goods conspiracy was first discovered. The letter was opened by mistake by the Postmaster at Hamilton, Mo. A postal inspector acted the part of a "come on" and met Heiser at Allentown yesterday. The inspector attempted to arrest him on a tricycle car, and in a struggle, in which several shots were fired, he was subdued and brought to this city for a hearing.

Arrested as Members of Mob.

CAROLERSVILLE, Mo., May 7.—Sheriff J. A. Franklin has returned from Little River neighborhood, having under arrest six men charged with being members of the mob that killed Constable W. J. Mooneyhan and "Rev." M. Matton last Saturday night. Their names are Ed Chitty, D. C. Disher, Bob Godair, Jim Frick, J. C. "Buff" Nichols, and Jeff Nicholls. All deny guilty knowledge of the affair and claim to be able to prove alibis. They will be given an early trial.

Three Are Implicated in Murder.

CHICAGO, May 7.—As a result of investigations by the police it was today decided to charge John Wiltrax with the murder of Paul Passkowsky and to name Mrs. Wiltrax as accessory, in having guilty knowledge of the deed. The son, Julius, who was at first suspected of having been implicated in the murder, is charged with being an accessory on the same grounds as his mother.

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

DENVER, May 7.—Arthur Johnson, alias "Red" Price, who was identified as one of the men who held up Ed Connor's saloon on the night that Charles Boyvin, a patron of the place, was shot and killed, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment.

WARM REPLY TO PAYNE

TULLOCH ON THE DEFENSIVE ON POSTAL SCANDAL.

Deposed Clerk Will Answer No Questions Until He Sees Other Men's Letters.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The feature of today's developments in the Postoffice investigation was a letter by Seymour W. Tulloch, for many years cashier of the Washington City Postoffice, to Postmaster-General Payne, in reply to the latter's letter requesting any information Mr. Tulloch might have to sustain his published statements charging irregularities in the Postoffice Department and the Washington City Postoffice several years ago. Mr. Tulloch in his letter takes exception to personal comments of Mr. Payne and refrains from giving any facts bearing on the investigation, suggesting that the officials to whom Mr. Payne has written have all the necessary data if they choose to give it. While thus refusing to give any information in the letter under the circumstances, Mr. Tulloch said tonight that he is ready to substantiate everything he has said, but that he wants first to read the replies of the persons to whom the Postmaster-General has written before going into details. Mr. Tulloch's letter to Mr. Payne says: "I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., referring to certain statements said to have been made by me reflecting upon certain officials, and which appeared in the Washington Post. Language Held Undignified. "According to accounts published throughout the daily press, it would appear that the Postmaster-General, during a public interview with reference to the article in question, and in the presence of representatives of the leading newspapers of the country, referred to me as a 'mere wind bag' and as one who should 'make good his hot air or be publicly branded as a calumniator, a slanderer and a liar.' Such language at such a time was apparently unnecessary and certainly undignified. It is also publicly stated that you have addressed letters to ex-Postmaster-General Charles Emory Smith, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow, R. J. Tracewell, Comptroller of the Treasury, and John A. Merritt, Postmaster at Washington, D. C., requesting them to inform you as to the truth of the statements contained in the interview as published. If the gentlemen in question will reply and tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, they cannot, I believe, but fully substantiate the statements made, and anything further from me is unnecessary. Considering, however, the language attributed to the Postmaster-General, I would consider it a favor to be furnished copies of the replies received in response to this request." Mr. Tulloch, in an interview with the Associated Press, tonight said: "In answering the Postmaster-General's letter, as I did, it seemed to me to be necessary that I should put myself right before the public, as the Postmaster-General alluded to me in the terms mentioned in a public manner, and has stated that the gentleman to whom he wrote did not confirm my statements. I reserve to myself the right to read the replies of those to whom he wrote as a result of the publication of my statements, and to refresh the memories of those parties, if necessary. I stand, as I have always stood, ready to make good any statements that I have made. Before going further in the matter, however, or exposing the evidence I have in hand, I want to have an opportunity to read and criticize the replies of the persons mentioned in my letter. That is only fair. The next move now rests with the Postmaster-General.

No Public Prosecutor.

"The Postoffice Department is today making a careful investigation of its affairs. The facts I have stated are by no means new. They are known to scores of persons in this city and are known to Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow and his associates. There is no necessity for my appearing as a public prosecutor in the case. I was willing at the time of the original investigation to render Mr. Bristow what aid I could by stating the condition of affairs in the Postoffice Department and the Washington Postoffice, four and five years with which I was personally familiar at the time of my removal as an 'obstacle.' "Conditions are now more important than details. It is a well-known fact that Thomas W. Gilmer, the special expert of the Controller of the Treasury, and one of the most efficient men in the service, was removed by Controller Tracewell by order of Acting Secretary Vanderlip, whom, I believe, afterward repented of his hasty action and advised Mr. Gilmer to apply for a detail to another bureau of the treasury Department. Mr. Gilmer has the written orders of the Controller at the time of his removal, prohibiting him from taking up the affairs of the New York and Washington Postoffices. As far as known, no further investigation of the Postoffice Department today is being conducted by the Postmaster-General. The inspectors are still at work in most of the branches of the department and Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow has reported to Mr. Payne that he expects to submit his report on the investigation between June 1 and June 15. The recent readjustment of salaries of clerks in the Postoffice is being minutely examined, and it is expected that the rolls in many of the larger Postoffices will have to be overhauled.

WHO THE NEW APPOINTED IS.

Lawyer, Statesman and a Leading Figure in Idaho for Years. BOISE, Idaho, May 7.—(Special.)—Willis Sweet, appointed Attorney-General of Porto Rico, was born January 1, 1856, at Alburch Springs, Vt. After attending the common schools he spent three years as a student in the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, in that state, he learned the trade of printer, and was afterward engaged in newspaper work in Colorado. He found time to study law, and in 1881 he settled at Moscow, Idaho, and entered upon the practice of that profession. In May, 1888, Mr. Sweet was appointed United States Attorney for Idaho, and on November 25, 1890, he was appointed as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the territory. When the state was admitted to the Union in 1890, he was elected to Congress and was re-elected in 1892.

Mr. Sweet declined a renomination at the hands of his party in 1894, and entered the race for the seat in the Senate held by George L. Shoup. After a memorable contest in the session of the Legislature in 1895 he was defeated for the Senate by Senator Shoup. Since that time he has occupied no public position. His time has been devoted partly to the practice of the law and partly to mining enterprises. He has lived in Spokane during a portion of the period, but recently settled in Kootenai County in this state. Mr. Sweet is a man of very attractive personality. He is one of the most persuasive public speakers in the West, and earlier in his career he seemed to be altogether irresistible. He was such a favorite with the people that it seemed probable he would attain his ambition to occupy a seat in the Senate, but his defeat in the contest with Shoup seemed to retire him from politics.

FURS, CLOAKS and SUITS

United States Will Have the Most Powerful Weapon in the World. WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Army Board, which has been for months past considering the merits of the new service rifle, or musket, has finally declared in favor of a weapon with a barrel only 24 inches in length, using a .30 ball. The new gun is a remarkable weapon, according to the ordnance officers, for while it is six inches shorter than the Krag and only two inches longer than the carbine, it is more powerful than either, with a higher initial velocity and flatter trajectory. It can easily penetrate 24 one-inch pine planks. It is a pound lighter than the service rifle, which is a consideration to the troops.

A new feature is a complete encasement of the barrel in wood to prevent burning of the hands of the marksmen when the gun is rapidly discharged. The gun was evolved by the United States Army officers, and is not patented. It is said to be the most powerful musket in the world.
