About the City.

Governor Accurate is not in the city, but the local committee with whom he has been working in the matter of preparing for the Freeldent's reception states that all arrangements have been carried on with the understanding that the Legis-lative committee is to be here. At the Governor's office it is stated that the chairmen of both House and Senate com-mittees, Speaker Hare and President J. J. Smith. had informed the Governor that Smith, had informed the Governor that the committees would meet the President in Olympin. It is further stated that the Governor has conferred with Mr. Smith and Mr. Hare as to some of the arrangents to be made.

If the committee expects to go to Ta-coma on the understanding that the Gov-ernor will not be there, they will be dis-appointed. It is stated in the office of the Governor that Governor McBride has re-ceived an invitation from the committees in charge at Tacoma to participate in the reception at that city, and has accepted the invitation the invitation. In Olympia the members of the Legis-lative committee, if present, will be in-vited to seats on the platform during the President's address and to the informal reception to be held in the Governor's office. As to the drive around the city, Olympia is handlcapped by possessing only four carriages. These are not nearly enough to entertain even the Presidential party. The local committee is endeavoring to hire carriages in Seattle, and it is planned to bring them over on the steamer chartered to bring the National Guard companies.

In this way the state pays part of the expense, as the cost of transporting the troops will not be added to by the trans-portation of the carriages. The state, however, has no funds available for aiding Olympia in any other way in the matther of expenses, and it was not considered likely that the Legislative committee would expect a small city like Olympia to transport carriages here that they might participate in the drive given the Presi-dential party, particularly after the Leg-islature had refused to appropriate funds for the use of the committee in meeting the President

It is not likely that carriages will be provided for any persons other than those comprising the President's party. The local committee concedes that it will be no more than proper for the Governor and Mayor C. J. Lord to occupy seats in the President's carriage. A carriage may be provided for the four ex-Governors who are expected to be present. The stay of the President in Olympia is

Use Judgment About Mosquitoes.

Aberdeen Bulletin. The malaria-innoculating mosquito has motiled wings and stands on its head when at rest, which is all the more curi-ous in view of the fact that it is only the female that bites, and standing on the head is not supposed to be a comfort-able position to maintain. When you see a mosquito observe its attitude. If it stands on all fours, as becomes a well-mannered quadruped, do not kill it. It is the canary of its family and will sing you to sleep if you will let it, but if it evinces an inclination to buck, put its head between its fore feet and wave its hind leave in the air, kill it. It has man hind legs in the air, kill it. It has malarta and will communicate it to you un-less you keep it the other side of close-fitting wire netting at doors and windows.
