"My dog has the most tender heart and beatific disposition of any animal I ever saw, and would rather lose his tall than bite any one. I would not lose him for anything, and paid his fare all the way from Illinois to Pertland five years ago rather than be separated from this most gentle animal," said H. H. Lee yes-terday before Justice Seton in a damage before Justice Seton in a damage terday before Justice Seton in a damage case instituted against him by Professor O. S. Schnauffer because this angelic dog sank his teeth into the ample calf of the professor's leg on Montana avenue, Albina, November 25. As a compensation the professor will get $25.

"Mr. Lee'a dog is the most vicious animal that ever was turned loose to prey upon the public. He has chased innocent children; he has jumped on children wheeling along the street on blcycles; he hildren; he has jumped on children wheeling along the street on bicycles; he is one time penned up a boy in a shed or an hour; he has terrorized the neighorhood with his ferocious rushes upon neuspecting passersby until now they go block around to escape being chewed p by this fierce animal; he jumped onto Professor Schnauffer, a well-known music beacher, grabbed him by the leg and punc-tured it to the depth of three-quarters of an inch, caused him great pain, and for the next forty years rendering him liable to an attack of that most dreaded of all fiseases, hydrophobia." was the sub-stance of the testimony for the plain-f, who put his damages at $260. The riddle was "up to" Justice Seton sterday morning, and was no easy one unravel to the satisfaction of all conperied. The prosecution made out a pretty strong case against Mr. Lee. There was a crowd of witnesses for the plain-tiff. These were: Professor O. S. Schnaufhis wife (who is a physician), Mrs John Hoffman, Fred Hoffman, Ethel and Frank Hoffman, all of whom agreed that the dog was a most victous animal and was constantly, when permitted to be at large, chasing people.

The evidence of Mrs. Schnauffer was highly entertaining. She gave her husband medical attention. She said she found a puncture in the professor's leg about three-quarters of an inch deep and some bruises. On ascertaining that the wound was caused by the bite of a dog cauterized it with great care and se-ty. Dr. Schnauffer explained in de-the danger attendant on such a wound dangerous. It took about three weeks to cure the puncture, but it would be fully and said that all such injuries were very dangerous. It took about three weeks to cure the puncture, but it would be fully 46 years before the professor could reasonably hope to be free from the liability of an attack of hydrophobia. Professor Schnauffer is now about 49 years old, and be will be 80 years old before he can hope for any peace of mind under the residence of Dr. Schnauffer, a year pleas. prediction of Dr. Schnauffer—a very pleasing prospect, indeed. She gave a very jearned exposition on the subject of the fanger of bites of all animals, and said that no one was able to tell what the ould be from such a wound.

fustice Seton scratched his chin thoughtully for a moment, and then decided that the puncture Professor Schnauster had re-peived was worth $5, and gave him judg-ment in that amount. And the dog is still oking for other victims down on Mon-

Attorney Mark O'Neill, who was quoted by Councilman T. J. Monahan as saying the Council had authority to lease the sirects for manufacturing purposes, yes-terday sent his written opinion to the Council to the effect that the Council has no autority to lease the streets for that purpose. Councilman Monahan, through a misunderstanding of what Mr. O'Neill said, misquoted him. Lawyers agree that there is but one way that streets may be used, and that is by vacating them under the provisions of the general law. The charter of St. Johns provides for the acation of streets. It is now up to the Council to act on the new information it has received. There is an impression among a large number of the property-owners of St. Johns that a liberal policy should be adopted toward all enterprises which may want to locate there, and that if these large enterprises with payrolls are not encouraged to locate there St. Johns carnot grow. It is believed that now that the Council has competent legal adwice it will act accordingly.

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE.

Same Track on Oregon City Line. Because two electric cars on the Oregon City branch of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company were unable to pass each other on the same track between the Portland Crematorium and the Milwaukie road Wednesday evening there was a collision and the yestibules were wrecked.

The cars were 41 and 48. The former was coming from Sellwood and the other, No. 48, was coming from the city. There were only about five passengers in each car and no one was injured. One woman was and no one was injured. One woman was thrown down, but did not seem to be hurt. The passengers, however, were frightened by the sudden collision. Both motormen jumped out of danger when they saw that the collision was inevitable. Both cars were damaged and one was thrown off the track.

Policeman Isakson was on the car coming from Sellwood. He said the cars were both moving slowly. This was most fortunate or there would have been a serious disaster. As it was the two cars came together with considerable force. Traffic was only interrupted a few minutes. The cause of the accident was attributed to some misunderstanding of orders.

Alumni Association Entertainment, The Central School Alumni Association will give an entertainment this evening assembly hall of that school. Fred K. McCarver, president, will have charge. There will be a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the employment of wom-en in business is beneficial." President

Otto Myers, driver of the delivery cart for Cowan & Hacker, meat market, was severely bruised while trying to stop the horse from running away. The horse took fright on Union avenue near East Burn side street, while the boy was off the cart. He caught hold the hitching strap and was dragged some distance and finally came in contact with a shade tree. Here he was thrown down and the cart passed over him. He was severely bruised on the face and hands and back. The horse made a circuit through Holladay addition before he was stopped. East Side Notes. Mrs. Mary J. Moon died yesterday at the home of James H. Imhoff, her son-in-law. She was 62 years and 27 days old. About 25 candidates will receive the degrees in the Rockwood Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, tomorrow. This grange is growing rapidly in membership. Contractors Smyth & Howard have completed a pile driver on East Oak street, and will start work at once on the ele-vated roadway between East Water and East Second streets. The Portland Rallway Company is paring to start work on its Albina branch, beginning at the intersection of Union avenue and Russell street. A large pile of ties has been collected at this point. It is announced that construction will commence about June 1.

AUSTIN CRAIG IS

INDICTMENT AGAINST EX-POST-MASTER IS DISMISSED.

No Evidence to Sustain Charge That He Stole Registered Letter Containing $72.

The indictment against Austin Craig, ex-Postmaster at Whitney, Or., charging him with stealing a registered letter con-taining $72, was dismissed by Judge Bel-linger yesterday on motion of United States District Attorney John H. Hall. The reason assigned is that there is not sufficient evidence to convict.

Craig formerly published the Washington County Hatchet, a weekly newspaper, and at Whitney, besides serving as Postmaster, was manager of a bank and engaged in town promotion schemes. He is a young-man of good address. He was arrested on April 23. The indictment reen in business is beneficial." President

He said that 29 registered packages a day passed through the office, many of which contained much more than $72, and that it was unreasonable for any one to think for a moment that he would commit such a theft. He stated that an offer had been made to him to make a settlement and that nothing further would be done conthat nothing further would be done con cerning the charge, but he could not at-ford to pay the amount because it would be substantially an admission of guilt. Craig since his arrest has been at liberty on bonds, and last evening he went to For est Grove.

The indictment was dismissed as the result of a conference between Postal In-spector C. L. Wayland and Mr. Hall, who agreed that the evidence was too weak, and that a conviction could not possibly result in the event of a trial.

TO HAVE LIENS REMOVED. Danning and Campion Want Clear Title to a Lot.

G. D. Dunning and Patrick Campion filed suit in the State Circuit Court yes-terday against J. C. Ainsworth, Ladd & Tilton, Ainsworth National Bank, West-chester Fire Insurance Company, John Kiernan, B. F. Saylor and Charles Barnes, to have liens against lot 2, block 6, Lincoln Park, canceled.

Dunning and Campion obtained a contract of sale of the lot in 1881 from Frank E. Hart and a deed from him on June 3,

J. C. Ainsworth and Ainsworth National Bank in 1896 obtained a judgment against Hart for $28,941 on which only $14,960 was Ladd & Tilton obtained a judgment against Hart for $12,077 in July, 1898, on

The insurance company realized only $489 on a judgment for $1500 secured in John Kiernan bolds a judgment

$225 entered against Hart in April, 1896, in favor of the Portland Savings Bank, and assigned to Kiernan. B. F. Saylor holds a claim against Hart for $600 assigned to him by L. L. Hawk-ins, and Barnes also has a judgment against Hart which originally amounted to $7150, dated January, 1901.

These creditors of Hart hold liens against his property, including the lot claimed by Dunning and Campion. The latter say their deed was not rece until after these judgments were obtained, but that the defendants had notice that they (Dunning and Campion) owned the lot and they want the liens removed.

The trial of the suit of James Kelly, a farmer, against Joseph Heiney, another farmer, to recover $250 damages because of loss sustained from a fire on Septem-ber 19, 1902, was commenced before Judge George and a jury yesterday. Kelly owns a farm of 29 acres near Greabam, and the fire destroyed all of his fences, houses, trees, implements—in fact, everything on the place leaving him with everything on the place, leaving him with nothing but the ground and the clothing he wore. He alleges that Heiney care-lessly applied fire to a pile of dry brush, which spread and could not be checked Helney denies that he is responsible for the loss which Kelly suffered, or that he set the fire, and says, as everybody knows, that great forest and other fires provalled very generally in this section of the country. The witnesses examined were Edward Beals, M. Ruegg, Albert Heiney, D. McMillen, A. Kollock, Mrs. R. Kollock, and George Rosebrook.

TO DISCUSS PROHIBITION Large Interstate Oratorical Contes Will Take Place in Corvallia,

The largest and most extensive inter state oratorical contest ever held upon the Coast will take place in Corvallis Friday evening, May 22, at the big College Armory building. Corvallis students and professors are busy making arrange ments to entertain and suitably provide for the large number of students who will be present from other colleges. Several of the schools of this state are preparing to turn out in a body, Dallas College already having decided to charter a car. Some others will doubtless do the same, while others will take cross-countries.

try drives, some in carriages, some in hayracks—any way to get there. The two orators who won first place in the recent state contest at Dallas will be in the contest to compete with the winners of Washington and California, and it will be no ordinary material which they will run up against, as Berkeley Uni-versity and the University of Washington and Whitman College are among the schools of the other states which will be in the fight. All of these institutions will send orators who have come out victors in their respective states. The orations have all been written upon

REAL ESTATE DEAL WORTH WHILE—
The owner of a good part of Arlington, Or.
Irving in Loo Angeles, Cal., finds it very burdensome to hardle such property from 1400 miles away, and so must reli! property consists of a number of stores, including 2 bricks in the choice locations, several dwelllags, etc., many lots, and 350 acres around the town. Arlington is, par excellence, the river town of all that section of country for 100 miles. From its great accessibility to all the region morth and south of it it has no rival. Land all around has advanced two to three times in value lately; town property not having moved in sympathy, must soon do no. The owner is going to sell for little or much; one-third down; any kind of an old racket on the balance. Will be on the ground and show the property for very few days.
