AID FOR SUFFERERS

Jews of Portland Act on Kishinef Massacre.

Synagogue Rings With Denunciation of Russian Brutality and Demands for Protest From the United States.

Portland's Jewish people came nobly to the aid of their brethren in far-away Russia yesterday, and today $2000 will be sent to New York City to be added to a fund raised for the purpose of succor-ing the survivors of the Kishinef mas-Half of this sum was volntarily raised in the afternoon at the Talmud Torah Synagogue, and the other half was offered to Rabbi Stephen S. Wise by the several members of the congregation of Temple Beth Israel.

For many days past the Jews of this zity have been horrifled at the terrible tales of suffering and death reported from Kishiner, and on Saturday it was finally decided to begin the work of raising money with which to aid the unhanny neonle. This movement had its This movement had its conception in the members of the Talmud Torah Synagogue, of Sixth and Hall Streets, and steps were immediately taken to raise a fund. The synagogue is largely composed of Russian Jews, and they were particularly interested in the work before them.

In the meantime the members of Dr. Wise's congregation besieged him over the telephone, offering aid, and by noon yesterday he had the promise of over

Following out their proposed plan of action, the Talmud congregation held an aid meeting in the afternoon, which was successful far beyond all dreams. The principal speakers were Ben Selling, Rabbi Mosessohn, D. Solls Cohen, Judge John F. Caples and Rabbi Wise. The last named spoke at some length on the subject at hand, reading the correspond-ence between the Secretary of State and the American Consul at Damascus during the grent Jewish massacres of 1840. After the speaking, the work of raising money was begun, and before the members finally dispersed $1000 had been accumu-

Ben Selling followed up Dr. Mosessohn's words, and said: "There is but one thing for us to do. They are our brothers, whother they be Russian, German or Pollsh Jews, they are our brothers and we should help them.

Such things did happen in the dark middle ages, but daily we thank God that things are different now. Has the impossible come to pass? "Do you wonder at Kipling's warning against the fury of the Russian bear. Yesterday the Czar of Russia proposed the extermination of war and the disarmament of nations and today his subjects proceed to wage a war of pittless externination. extermination upon his subjects.
"I am ashamed, before the ark of truth, to refer to the cause that led to the riots. That old time foul and helnous calumny was served up anew, the charge that the blood of a Christian child had been used in the synagogue for ritual purposes. This calumny was pitifully absurd, were it not hideously wicked. No more defense is needed on the part of the Jews against the charge than if the charge were made against me that I slew my brother and murdered my

"I honor the act of a rabbinical congress of some years ago in Austria, which refused to take an oath that ritual murder was not practiced among them, on the ground that to make a denial of such an infamous falsehood argued a lack of self-respect.

"The early Christian churches were the first to be charged with the ritual murder, and now after 1900 years this rusty weapon of the assassin is thrust against the Jews.

"What is to be done? If we cannot make good the horrors practiced by the flends in Russia, we can, at least, give generously and unstintedly to the funds which are being raised in order to pro-vide food and shelter for the 50,000 homeless Jows in Russia. Israel expects every man to do his duty, and that is the least we can do, and it is little enough. Let us prove, if we can, the words of

Israel's Hurt, Christendom's Shame "But something more must be done. "Statesmanship and the dictates of humanity call for other and larger measures than mere money giving. The Russian government must be made to feel that the Jew is not friendless and alone in the world, wherever he may be, that in the world, wherever he may be, that we, his fellow Jows in free America, and in every land, are his brothers, his friends, his helpers. And still something further is needed. Unless, in the words of the Lendon Chronicle, humanity is to be written down as a sham and an organized hypochisy, Europe must dissociate itself from the leprous taint of this barbarous power. Against these belonging to this barbarous power. Against these medieval horrors a cry of protest must go out from the powers of the world.

Every Christian church in the land should, upon some early Sunday, pass resolutions of protest, and ask the Secretary of State for the United States to bring them to the attention of the Czar through the instrumentality of the American ambassador at St. Petersburg. One court must take the lead. I hold in my hands the original letter, written by John Forsyth, Secretary of State for President Van Buren, to a committee representing the Jewish citizens of New York, called to protest against the outrages perpetrated upon the Jews of Damascus in connection with a blood ritual charge. In this letter the Secretary of State declared that the American minister at Constantinople 'was instructed to State declared that the American minis-ter at Constantinople 'was instructed to interpose his good offices in behalf of the oppressed and persecuted race of Jews in the Ottoman dominions, among whose kindred are some of the most worthy and patriotics of our citizens. What Van Buren and Forsyth did in 1846, Roosevelt and Hay may naturally be expected to do in 1945.

Confidence in Roosevelt. "One of the leaders of the Irish party said many years ago, 'we have gone too far not to go farther.' Mr. Selling announced that if the amount were made $300, he would add $100 more and make it $600, and $10 for each $100 over that. Again the money came in, and after an hour's work over $1000 was finally seour's work over $1000 was finally secured.

It was then moved and carried that Mr. Selling be appointed the receiver of all funds for the city. The money from Dr. Wise was also to be turned over to him, and he was to be the central treasurer for Jews of all classes. Later in the evening Dr. Wise reported

Later in the evening Dr. Wise reported that he had been promised $1000 which, added to the $1000 raised in the afternoon, would bring the grand total to $2000. This amount will be sent to New York this morning, with the information that more will follow, for those in charge of the work have set their hearts on no less than $4500. No canvass will be made, no sponging committee will be accepted. sponging committee will be made no sponging committee will be appointed, but all subscriptions will be made voluntarily. A RESTFUL DINNER

Plans for Entertainment of the President

WILL CLOSE HARD DAY'S WORK

Hotel Portland Will Be Decked in National Colors and Oregon Flowers Set Off by Electric Lights-Canopy Over Court.

The dinner to be given to President Rooseveit at the Hotel Portland will be one of the most enjoyable features of his visit. It is not the intention of those in charge to make it a public function, and the hotel managers will avoid everything that indicates display or self-interest. The President will be given every opportunity to recuperate after a hard day's work.

The dinher will, as a matter of course one of the best the hotel can furnish, but since it is to be served us a private function there is little likelihood of the President's becoming weary as he would of a public banquet.

It is realized the President will begin his day, on May 2L early in the morning speaking to Southern Oregon crowds and will reach Portland after a trip that would have exhausted an ordinary man. And so the committee in charge of his entertainment has provided for the Pres-dent a programme that will not severely tax his strength. The dinner in the even ng was arranged as a function which would afford him relief. The dinner at the Portland will be served with very few guests present. It is believed here to be necessary to invite all the members of the party that is traveling with the President, but this will traveling with the President, but this will be in the nature of a family gathering. In addition some of the most prominent men of Oregon and Portland will be asked to take part in the affair.

At different times the suggestion has been made that those local guests who will attend should be asked to bear a part of the expenses, but it is likely that the people invited to meet the President at dinner will be those prominent enough at dinner will be those prominent enough to engage his attention at Washington. This means the Presidential dinner at Portland, though a quiet affair, will be a state function that would be entirely in ig with his Washington life. dining-room, it is planned, will be decorated in a manner that will be en-tirely in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Not only will it be remembered that the President is the guest of the evening, but the decorators will endeavor to show for the guests that the State of Oregon can display some distinctive feat-ures that cannot be seen elsewhere. The corridors and other public halls of the hotel will be lavishly decorated for the President's visit by the use of native flowers and the National colors. Flags will be used so far as possible, but flowers and electric effects are to be tried. Out in the court of the hotel, into which the President and his party cannot help looking, the decorative features will be well tuken care of and the general effect made one to speak of in the future. The plan is subject, of course, to change, but, in the main it has been decided upon by the electric workers. Canopy effects will be attempted in the court, and on both Morrison and Yambili streets. On the two corners of the hotel building will be erected a canopy of elec-tric lights and patriotic bunting. The effect during the evening is expected to be sur-passingly beautiful. It will show a bril-liant effect of electric lights and Na-tional colors. Over the court in front of the hotel the same effect will be shown, The Postoffice building is expected to be decorated in harmony.

by 2 o clock P. M. sharp, and immediately upon arrival will report the same to the marshal at the intersection of Sixth and Irving streets.

4. On taking up march, full distance will be taken; organizations will follow promptly successively, as directed in paragraph 1 of this order. Distance will be taken from head to rear of column, each subdivision commander maintaining his position 40 paces (about 100 feet) in the rear of the organization in front of him. Scrupulous care will be exercised in this regard, in order to prevent wide gaps in the column. Should distances be lost, they will be immediately gained, the organization in the rear promptly advancing or failing back, as may be necessary to place it at proper distance from the one in front, as directed above.

5. Bands in close proximity will alternate in playing, so as to avoid confusing the step.

6. A delegation of school children, formed to represent a flag, to be known as the "Human Flag," under supervision of Professor Robert Krohn, will take position on Yamilli street, facing east, and resting on the west side of Sixth, in readiness to join the main column at that point. Upon the arrival at Yamhili street, on Sixth, of the Southern Pacific Band, it and all the main column in its rear will halt, and the "Human Flag" will take up the march at once, changing direction to the right and fill the vacancy thus created between the rear portion of the main column in advance. As soon as the "Human Flag" has assumed its place in the main column in thus halted and the main column in the rear portion thereof, halted, will resume the march in its rear, proper distance being at once taken and maintenches the corner of West Park and sume the march in its rear, proper distance being at once taken and maintained.

7. When the head of the column reaches the corner of West Park and Madison streets, it will be halted, and that portion of it in advance of the President, will form line on the east side of West Park, facing west. The President, preceded by his mounted escort, will pass along its front, the line standing at present, and take his position for review. The column will then be reformed and march past the President in review, passing north on West Park, after which the various subdivisions are dismissed, and will proceed by the most direct route to their armories. Military formation will be in column of subdivision, as width of street may permit, and this formation will be retained without change until organizations have passed at least two blocks beyond the reviewing point. At Yamhill street the regular troops will change direction to the right, and leave West Park, passing east. At the same point National Guard troops will change direction to the left, passing west, Having passed the reviewing point, the leading organizations will move with celerity in order to guard against any possibility of crowding or holding back the organizations in the gear.

8. Officers selected and invited to act on the staff of the marshal will report to him mounted and fully equipped in readiness to proceed at the Portland Riding Academy promptly at 1 o'clock P. M. By order of the committee on details of programme.

I have never taken Dr. Miles' Nerv-ine steadily for a long time but it never fails to help me when I do take it. In addition to to help me when I do take it. In addition to this I can say that my general health is much better since my occasional use of Nevine, than it was several years ago. I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for neuralgia and nervous headaches and have always had prompt relief. The headaches usually occur at intervals in the morning and by taking a Pain Pill when I feel the headaches coming on I can prevent the attack entirely. My husband is also subject to headaches and finds the same relief from the Anti-Pain Pills that I do. We are perfectly willing that you should use our names because of the relief we have found in using Dr. Miles' Remedies."—Mas. W. H. Brardsley, Moscow, Idaho.

There is nothing that will so surely under-mine the health as sleeplessness. A slight affection of the nerves is sufficient to bring affection of the nerves is sufficient to bring about this distressing condition and unless treatment is at once begun it grows worse rapidly, bringing about loss of appetite, in-digestion, a gradual undermining of nerve-force and vitality, until finally the victim suffers from nervous prostration. Dr. Miles' Nervine quiets the nerves so that sleep may come and fortifies the nervous system against the attacks of any or all nervous disorders.

Hearts Are due to Indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indiges tion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., saye: I had stomach trouble and swa'in a bud state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.
