INSPECTED STREETS OF OTHER CITIES.—As the matter of improving streets has of late assumed much greater proportions in this city than ever before, City Engineer Elliott deemed it advisable to make a flying trip to other cities of the Northwest to see what they were doing in this line, and if he could get any information that would be of value. He arrived home Tuesday evening, and on the whole is satisfied with the results of his trip. He made only a brief stay at Tacoma, but spent more time at Seattle, as more improvement work is being done there. He found various kinds of streets there—asphalt, brick, wood block and some plank streets. Generally speaking, he says, in respect to streets, Seattle is about on a par with Portland. Some are well paved, and in places districts have been laid off in which all the streets are being improved on the same plan and simultaneously, as far as is practicable, as the people of Portland Heights are doing. He found Spokane the most up-to-date city he visited in the matter of good streets, circumstances being most favorable there, on account of the climate and the fact that the city is founded on a rock literally, so in many places there is no need for concrete foundations, as cuts made to improve grades, etc., are on solid rock. There are many asphalt streets in Spokane, and granite curbs, cement sidewalks and brick gutters are common. The property-owners or the city apparently pay more attention to keeping pavements in repair in Spokane than here, as on Sunday, when there is no heavy teaming going on, men were out repairing all the little holes and defects in the asphalt streets. Mr. Elliot was, however, handicapped in obtaining much information of value there, as there have lately been elected a Republican Mayor and a Council, the majority of whom are Democrats, and the newly appointed City Engineer has not been approved by the Council.

FIGHT AND FURY IN APPLEJACK.—Residents in the neighborhood of Holbrook Station, on the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad, complain that an applejack factory or distillery on the county road, about a mile from the station is a nuisance. The proprietors have a license to sell their stuff by the gallon, but it is suspected that they sell it by the drink, as their place is frequented by woodchoppers and other laborers, many of whom are frequently intoxicated, and it is charged that the deaths of two men recently drowned not far from the place is to be attributed to drinking too much of this booze. Complaints say that applejack is vile stuff, not fit for any white man to drink before it has been rectified, and that there is more fury and fight to the square inch in it than in any other kind of drink. It may be that the complainers are prejudiced against a harmless tipple.

SHAM BATTLE POSTPONED.—On account of the inclemency of the weather, the sham battle which was to take place on Friday evening has been postponed until Friday evening, May 29, 1903. All the arrangements were complete, but, in view of the fact that the nights are cold and the spectators would suffer correspondingly, it was decided by the committee in charge to change the date to one week later. The latter hope that the public will keep this date in mind, and turn out en masse, both for charity's sake and to witness one of the finest military displays ever seen in Portland.

IMPROVEMENT OF SEVENTH STREET.—There is a fair prospect now that the improvement of Seventh streets, from Ankeny to Yamhill, will be completed some day. The concrete foundation for the pavement is finished, and brick gutters are being laid, and it said that the laying of asphalt will be commenced next Friday. The residents along the street are in hope that the winrows of wrecks of cement barrels will soon disappear, and will wait with the patience they have exhibited for the past year for the completion of the pavement.

STEAMER NORTHWEST will leave Portland Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 10 o'clock P. M. for Kelso, Castle Rock and Toledo on the Cowlitz River, arriving at Toledo at 10 o'clock A. M. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Returning leaves Toledo at 12 o'clock noon on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays. Leave Castle Rock for Portland Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays at 5:30 P. M., arriving at Portland early Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. •

PRESIDENT'S EXCURSION TRAINS.—For the accommodation of those wishing to return from Portland after President Roosevelt's reception, Southern Pacific trains No. 4, Portland to Corvallis, on West Division; No. 6, Portland to Dallas, on Yamhill Division, and No. 13, Portland to Albany, on East Side Division, will leave Portland at 6 P. M., May 21, instead of regular schedule.

VICTORIA DAY CELEBRATION.—Owing to the large demand for tickets for the entertainment to be given next Saturday evening, May 23, under the auspices of the British Societies, it has been found necessary to arrange that the concert be held in Armory Hall, instead of Elks' Hall. A most excellent programme has been prepared by the entertainment committee. •

MORE SHAD CAUGHT THAN WANTED.—Fishermen along the lower Columbia are at their wits' end to dispose of the shad they are catching now. There is market for but few of them, and as it is not possible to sell many in a canned condition, canning them has been abandoned. Eastern people will be shocked to learn that there is a great desire for some one to start a fertilizer factory to take care of the shad and carp caught, especially when they know that it is only a few years since both these fish were introduced into the Columbia. Both have multiplied very fast, and are now considered a burden. There are but few carp far down the river, but as far up as Cathlamet a considerable number of fine large ones, six to eight pounds each are caught daily in salmon seines, and have to be thrown away. It is said that these large carp are much better eating than those caught in sloughs about the mouth of the Willamette. Salmon are coming in slowly as yet, but at Cathlamet some very fine large ones have been taken lately, and a good many bluebacks are being caught and sold to canners. There are also a number of young chinooks, weighing say two to four pounds, being caught, which pass as trout. Large numbers of small sturgeon are also being caught, but care has to be taken to put them back into the river uninjured, as the law protecting sturgeon, since the big ones were all killed, is very strict. Over 1000 pounds of shad per day are taken in some seines, and have to be thrown away. The hauling out of a seine half a mile long is an interesting spectacle, on account of the amount and variety of fish inclosed, which includes salmon of several varieties and sizes, shad, carp, sturgeons, etc. In early days there were more sturgeon and salmon than could be utilized, but there is no complaint on that score now.

CHINOOK SALMON FOR THE PRESIDENT.—A very handsome chinook salmon, the largest seen here this season, ordered for a present to President Roosevelt was displayed at a Third-street market yesterday, and attracted much attention. Many guessed its weight at 80 pounds, but in reality it only weighed 63 pounds. The main school of salmon is now only entering the Columbia, and no very large fish have yet been caught, so the President will have to make the most of a 63-pounder, which, however, he or any other Eastern man, would probably consider a good-sized salmon. The fish was ordered by E. E. Kimberland, who says he was in school with President Roosevelt. As evidence of how the water of the Columbia increases the growth of fish transplanted from the East, a "bull pout," or "Miller's Thumb," was displayed near the big salmon, which was 34 inches in length, whiskers six inches long on each side of the mouth, and weighed 14 pounds. The bull pout is the smallest species of catfish, usually six to ten inches in length, one a foot long being a whopper. This fish was introduced into the rivers here a dozen years or more ago, and of late large quantities of them have been sold in the markets here in a "skun" condition. This big pout, or catfish, as they are called, for the pout is the only species of catfish here, attracted the attention of many, who could hardly imagine it possible that one could grow to such a size.

MURPHY DAY AT POLICE STATION.—Yesterday was Murphy day at the police station. Three men at different times gave this name to the captain on duty. So, after that, every one brought in was asked if his name was Murphy. In fact, the Murphy family was the star boarder on the docket. Good, patriotic citizens were they, so they celebrated the approaching visit of President Roosevelt by the time-honored manner of getting drunk. First it was Billy Murphy, who has seen the inside of a cell before; then D. Murphy was found in a boisterous condition, and was given a ride in the victoria. P. Murphy (Pat almost to a certainty) came in on a charge of vagrancy. Late in the afternoon a well-dressed stranger in the city decided to take a nap. He chose the curb of a building at Third and Oak streets. He was dreaming of home and mother when a rude policeman awoke him and led him to the station, less than half a block distant. "Are you another Murphy?" asked Ben Branch, as he went through the pockets of the sleepy person. The man with the dreamy eyes saw the joke and answered in the affirmative, but finally spoiled it all by saying his name was Berg.

TURNERS' EXHIBITION ON FRIDAY.—At the Turners' exhibition at Turner Hall gymnasium, Friday night, some of the best work of its kind ever seen in the city will be given. The programme, while carefully arranged by Professor Krohn, will not be of the cut-and-dried style. The work presented will be such as to give people an idea of the kind of exercises taught at the Turner's gymnasium throughout the year, as well as to show the different degrees of development of the various classes. The senior class will be very much in evidence this time, and, as it has greatly improved this season, will surprise the public with their excellence. The junior classes hardly need special mention, as Professor Krohn always has them in good shape, but they, too, will more than uphold their reputation for excellence of execution, and will give a good account of themselves. The performance will begin promptly owing to the length of the programme.

COMING WOODMEN'S CARNIVAL.—The directors of the Woodmen of the World Amusement Association met Monday evening and formulated plans for their carnival to be held in this city on July 14-28. The different committees submitted flattering reports. All the camps in the city, comprising a membership of 6000, are enthusiastic over the proposed event, and are putting forth every effort to make it a success. The Park blocks north of Washington street have been secured, and the Southern Carnival Company, which is furnishing the attractions, promises to present to the public a carnival of attraction that will far excel anything yet held in this city. As this is the first visit of this organization to the Coast, it is making a special effort to place its name in the front rank of amusement furnishers.

REVIVAL SERVICES.—Revival services will be held at the Swedish Mission Church, corner of North Seventeenth and Glisan streets. Services will be held as follows: Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 8 P. M.; Sunday school, 9:45 P. M.; Sunday morning services, 10:30 A. M.; afternoon service, 3 P. M.; prayer meeting, 7 P. M., and evening service, 7:30 P. M. Services are to be conducted by the Rev. J. J. Huleen, of Spokane, Wash.; J. M. Josephson, of Moro, Idaho; C. F. Sandstrom, of Seattle, Wash.; N. E. Anderson, of Tacoma, Wash.; J. Johnson, of Spokane, Wash., and J. P. Ohleen, of Aberdeen, Wash. Scandinavians are welcome to attend these services.

TO ADDRESS WOMAN'S CLUB.—The Friday programme at the Woman's Club will be in charge of Frau Mundt. The programme will commence at 2:30, and will include, besides the German play which has been rehearsed for some time by a number of the clubwomen, an address by Major William Hancock Clark. There will be music and also refreshments served by the social committee. Visiting clubwomen are cordially invited.

COURTHOUSE OPEN TODAY.—The Courthouse will be open today for the transaction of general business, although most of the clerks and deputies will be given leave of absence. The offices can only be closed on legal holidays, which are provided for by statute, and not otherwise. A sufficient force will be kept in each department to transact such business as may be necessary.

BARBER SHOPS TO CLOSE.—A number of the proprietors of the leading barber shops of the city met yesterday and decided to close today at noon. It is believed that most of the other proprietors of shops will follow their example.

Norris & Rowe's Circus.

The pony that tells his age, the educated seal that intelligently directs the seal band, the monkey that covers himself with glory and sawdust as driver of the patrol wagon, and the numerous other attractions of Norris & Rowe's circus were glad they arrived in Portland yesterday for a four days' visit, as they will be in the same town with President Roosevelt today. The circus parrot made formal application for leave of absence to view the parade this afternoon, but Mr. Rowe turned him down, as there may be a circus matinee performance at 2 P. M. The street procession was witnessed by delighted crowds, and the universal opinion was, "the show is more entertaining than ever."

In spite of the rain the tent show at the Multnomah Field was crowded at both performances, and the canvas is so securely waterproof that not a drop of rain bothered the audience. Twelve educated ponies opened the bill by standing on each others' backs, and then followed a brilliant array of trained dogs, seals, monkeys, elephants, goats, etc. They performed wonderful feats. The acrobatic work is clever. In fact, the whole performance was of such a varied nature that the assistance of Johnny Shay, aged 7, was secured as assistant reporter, and this is Johnny's report: "Circus is grate. Doggess and munkeys swell. The cammell ate my bun when I wasn't lookin'." There will be a performance this morning at 10:30 o'clock, and the usual show will be given this evening.

Fernclife.

One of the most successful and popular of Ralph Stuart's offerings last season was the thrilling domestic drama, "Fernclife," by Mr. Haworth. Mr. Stuart's many admirers in Portland will be pleased to learn that he has decided upon a revival of it at Baker's Theater next week. While the character of Tom Hewin differs from the romantic heroes with which Portland's theatergoers have grown to associate this talented actor, it gives opportunities for convincing efforts and abounds in humorous, heroic and pathetic situations.

Mr. Stuart's admirable presentation of this play last year will insure large patronage no doubt from those who witnessed it then, and those who missed that pleasure.

While no battles are fought nor troops paraded upon the stage, the story of the play deals with the stirring times of the Civil War, and its chief characters are those who fight for the honor of our Stars and Stripes.

Vaudeville Tonight's Feature.

Today will be one of the biggest in the history of Portland, and those who are in the city will have lots to attend to in their efforts to see President Roosevelt. But tonight there will be only 60 persons at the banquet to be given in honor of the Nation's Chief Magistrate, and the rest of the Portland public and visitors are notified that Mr. Shields is giving one of the best, cleanest and most up-to-date vaudeville performances ever programmed here.

At Cordray's the entertainments are given, and the big audiences which have assembled both afternoons and evenings during the three weeks the attractions have been on the boards are attesting to the value of the shows. Every week the programme has been changed, and there is announced for Sunday matinee a complete new bill.

"Monte Cristo" at the Baker.

Another packed house saw "Monte Cristo" at the Baker last night, and several times during the performance the company was forced to respond to curtain calls. As usual, the storm scene received its share of applause, for it is certainly one of the cleverest pieces of stage mechanism seen at that popular playhouse in some time. Many visitors attended last night's performance, and they were well taken care of by Manager Baker, as he has instructed his employes to be vigilant during the rush of the President's visit. For the benefit of all that intend visiting this playhouse, the management wishes to state that the curtain will rise promptly at 8:20, and those desiring to purchase tickets can do so any time during the day, as the box-office is open from 10 A. M. on.

TO RESCUE HER CHILD.

Mrs. Phoebe Chinn Wants Her Son Released From Asylum.

Mrs. Phoebe Chinn, of Sumpter, came to Portland yesterday to secure the release of her little son, Eric Lowder, who was committed to the insane asylum by Judge Webster two weeks ago. The boy who is simple minded was committed to the asylum on the application of his uncle, W. L. Cavanaugh, who is Mrs. Chinn's brother, and Mrs. Cavanaugh.

Mrs. Chinn has engaged Attorney John F. Logan to conduct her case, and at the request of Mr. Logan, Judge Webster gave the mother a letter to the asylum authorities.

Mrs. Chinn's statement, as detailed by her counsel, is that Cavanaugh visited her at Sumpter a short time ago and induced her to let him take the child, saying that as he was living on a farm at Sauvies Island, it would be better for the boy's health. He gave no intimation that he intended to place the child in an asylum, so she permitted him to take Eric away. Shortly afterwards Mrs. Chinn ascertained by reading a newspaper, that Cavanaugh had caused the commitment of the boy to the asylum, and she at once began steps to get him out. She consulted N. C. Richards, an attorney of Sumpter, who wrote to Mr. Logan, and Mrs. Chinn followed the letter to Portland.

Eric Lowder is a child of Mrs. Chinn by a former husband. The father struck the child on the head with a piece of harness tug and it never fully recovered from the effects of the blow.

Cavanaugh's motive in having the boy committed to the asylum is not known, but it is known that an Idaho court took some property away from the father and settled it on Eric some time ago.

MRS. WHIGHAM WINS SUIT.

Jury Returns Verdict Against Foresters for $2000.

In the suit of Marie Stewart Whigham against Supreme Court, Independent Order of Foresters, to recover $2000 insurance, the jury returned a verdict yesterday in favor of Mrs. Whigham for the full sum and legal interest. She sued to recover on a policy issued on the life of her husband, William Whigham, and the defense interposed that Whigham drank too much. Mrs. Whigham won at a former trial, and Judge Frazer, on legal grounds, granted a new trial. The defendant will appeal to the Supreme Court. Henry E. McGinn appeared as counsel for the plaintiff. Whigham was a member of Pacific Court, No. 1247, and a number of his former lodge brothers wanted the insurance paid, and there was quite a contention on both sides growing out of the matter.

Articles of Incorporation.

Incorporation articles of the United States Laundry Company were filed yesterday in the County Clerk's office by James M. Finley, J. Daniels and D. M. Donaugh; capital stock $50,000.

Articles of incorporation of the West Coast Sash and Door Company were filed yesterday by E. B. McFarland, A. C. Emmons and J. A. Martin; capital stock $75,000.

L. A. Lewis, John W. Goss and J. N. Teal yesterday filed supplementary articles of incorporation of the Acme Mills Company, increasing the capital stock from $7500 to $25,000. The objects are to operate flour and cereal mills.

Charged With Stealing a Watch.

District Attorney John Manning has filed an information in the State Circuit Court against William Rowland, charging him with larceny of a watch valued at $60 on December 5 in a dwelling house at 320 Front street. The watch belongs to Nellie Whittle. Rowland was arraigned before Judge Cleland and allowed until Friday to plead.

WINDS UP ITS BUSINESS.

Old Port of Portland Commission's Last Meeting.

The Port of Portland Commission wound up its two years' career at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon. According to the act passed by the last Legislature, the new commission will go into office today, but as there is a dispute regarding the legality of the act, there is a possibility that the old board will hold on for two years longer. Until the question is decided, the late members will stand aside and watch developments.

In the meantime, the incoming board will not be idle. The newly appointed members will hold a preliminary meeting at 10 o'clock this morning, organize and lay out a plan of action. It is probale that their first move will be to take possession of the Port of Portland headquarters and demand the books and other documents from E. T. C. Stevens, the clerk of the retiring board. Mr. Stevens, acting on the advice of the old board, will refuse to give them up, and thereby furnish grounds for the quo warranto proceedings to be instituted in the Circuit Court. From all that can be learned, there will be no spectacular performance of any kind, though interest will not be wanting in the development of the case nor its outcome.

The most important matter before the commission at its final meeting was the action to be taken on the drydock site purchase. Thompson, Hartman and Powers presented the deed for the tract, but did not receive the full purchase price. Mr. Adams moved that the deed be accepted for the land at $14,000, but that the board retain $1000 of this sum until the Council of St. Johns vacates Van Buren and Albany streets. It was pointed out that the vacation of these streets is absolutely necessary for the purposes of the dock. The board did not vote unanimously for the motion, Mr. Tucker opposing it.

A second motion that the necessary proceedings be instituted to vacate the streets at once was unanimously agreed to.

The president and secretary were authorized to sign and execute a note in favor of the Security Savings & Trust Company for $55,000 at 6 per cent interest to cover an overdraft of the treasurer's with the bank for that amount.

Mr. Swigert moved that the clerk of the board be authorized to purchase the necessary supplies and material and engage the necessary labor for the operation and maintenance of the dredges, steamers, scows and other equipment of the Port of Portland, such authority to continue until revoked. As this was for the purpose of carrying on the work of the commission until the lawsuit is settled, it was promptly voted.

The Columbia Engineering Works was authorized to make changes in the drydock machinery, as recommended by the engineer, and the Port of Portland given credit for $55.27 and the additional amount of 8 cents a pound for 20 old brass stems.

The matter of renewing the cordwood contract created some discussion. President Banfield and Engineer Lockwood had been appointed a committee at the former meeting to investigate the subject and they presented a letter from Habinghorst & Co., who have been supplying this fuel. The letter stated that, owing to unability to get barges, the company considered it unadvisable to renew the contract at less than $1.50 per cord. It has been supplying wood at $1.40 at the wharf and $1.50 in the city, and would contract to continue the supplying at a flat price of $1.50. Mr. Lockwood said the commission is getting its fuel cheaper than any other dredges on the Coast, but under the circumstances he was opposed to renewing the contract, believing it should be left to the incoming board. Mr. Selling also took this view and said no contract of this kind should be entered into without first advertising for bids. On Mr. Adams' motion, the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for supplying wood from June 1 for one or two years, at the option of the board.

This wound up the work before the meeting and the session adjourned sine die.

LONDON BUSSES

And an American Food.

There is probably no food on earth that could sustain a woman 60 years old under the following circumstances except Grape-Nuts.

For four months she laid ill from partial paralysis brought on by the wrong kind of food ruining stomach and then affecting the nervous system. During the time she was getting well the physicians fed her on Grape-Nuts.

She says: "My diet consisted of two teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and some cream each meal for two months. Then increased to two dessert spoonfuls and to show how it sustains nature, I never lost 5 pounds in the whole four months. I got well slowly and am now in prime health and in the last three months have been in ten foreign countries. I carry Grape-Nuts everywhere with me.

"In London I saw the big Grape-Nuts signs on the busses' all about. Considering how near death I was and how well I am now through good food alone and that I am 60 years old, my friends look upon my recovery as marvelous." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
