AWARD TO HANNA

Roosevelt Talks of the Ohio Row.

HE DID NOT RAISE THE ISSUE

Now That It Is Up He Is in the Hands of His Friends.

NO REQUESTS FOR SUPPORT

President Is Deeply Touched by the Action of McKinley's County in Instructing So Heartily in His Favor.

WALL STREET BACK OF HANNA

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 25.—Roosevelt's closest friends in Washington as well as those who are not particularly friendly with him, acknowledge that it is the great financial interests of New York that are doing their utmost to defeat Roosevelt and are behind this latest movement in Ohio. What the result will be is not yet known, but it is acknowledged that Hanna will have to exert greater influence than he ever used before to prevent the Foraker programme from being carried out.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 25.—(Special)

Secretary to the President Loeb today gave out the following statement: "In speaking of the sudden political developments in Ohio, the President this afternoon said: "I have not asked any man for his support. I have had nothing whatever to do with raising the issue as to my indorsement. Sooner or later, it has bound to arise; and inasmuch as it has now arisen, of course those who favor my administration and my nomination will indorse them, and those who do not will oppose."

HANNA'S METHODS DESPERATE

With Him It Is Taft, or Anybody, to Beat Roosevelt.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 25.—Underlying the opposition of Senator Hanna to an indorsement of President Roosevelt by the Ohio State Convention is no doubt the desire on the part of many Republicans, especially those in close touch with Hanna and of his sympathizers, to prevent the nomination of Roosevelt, if possible, next year. The strong fight Hanna is making increases the probability that the talk about making Taft the candidate in place of Roosevelt has some foundation, and that Hanna and those who are with him in this matter would feel that Ohio would be badly handicapped if Roosevelt were indorsed, should an attempt be made to bring out Taft as a favorite son of that state in the convention. It is not probable that Hanna himself has any hopes of success, as he must know what every other man knows, that were he to defeat Roosevelt for the nomination a great outcry would be made against the domination of the capitalistic class in the Republican convention. At all events, whether it is Taft or some other man, there is a desire on the part of many Republicans to prevent Roosevelt's nomination, and for that reason unindorsed delegates and failure to indorse in convention are being urged by them at all times.

PEOPLE ARE ALL WITH HIM.

Chairman of State Committees Say Roosevelt Is the Only Man.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(Special)—The New York World today prints a number of interviews with chairmen of state committees, most of whom favor Roosevelt. George W. Dunn, of the New York committee, says: "The last convention of the Republican party indorsed Roosevelt's Administration and pledged him its support in 1904. Up to this time there is no reason why that pledge should not be fulfilled."

Hartley, of Indiana, says that state is for Fairbanks for President.

Cutler, of California, says the sentiment of his state is strongly for Roosevelt.

Diekem says the convention in February pledged Michigan's support for Roosevelt in 1904, and the resolution meets with universal approval.

Simpson, of Maine, says the Republicans of that state are practically unanimous in their support of President Roosevelt for the nomination.

Anderson, of Utah, says Roosevelt was universally indorsed last year.

Dorches, of Tennessee, says sentiment is unanimous for Roosevelt, and the Republicans will instruct for him next year.

Barnett, of Kentucky, says his state will indorse Roosevelt for nomination at the state convention in July.

Albough says Kansas is unequivocally for Roosevelt.

Farley, of Colorado, says the state will indorse Roosevelt on every occasion and be sold for him in 1904.

Van Orsdale, of Wyoming, says Roosevelt is stronger in the West than any other possible candidate, and Wyoming is unanimous in favor of him.

Some Southern States, like Alabama, are divided, the Lily Whites wanting Hanna. Georgia is in the same boat.

PLATT THINKS HANNA IS RIGHT.

As National Chairman He Should Not Declare for Any One.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(Special)—Senator Platt, of New York, has been interviewed upon the subject of Hanna's opposition to Roosevelt, and says: "Senator Hanna meant exactly what he said. Senator Hanna is not a candidate for the nomination. It is right that as chairman of the Republican National Committee he should not declare for any one. I believe that personally he favors the nomination of President Roosevelt, although as chairman of the National Committee he should not say so."

Platt was then asked what he thought of Foraker's eagerness to have the Ohio convention declare for Roosevelt's nomination, and replied: "I guess they are both for Roosevelt, but they are trying to see which can be for him first."

farm by that name, whereupon he said that he and his wife were very hungry and asked for something to eat. I told him we would gladly accommodate him, and he and the woman came in. He talked freely, and noticing the telephone, inquired whether we could communicate with the different business houses in the city. I told him we could. He then asked if we received the daily papers, and I answered in the affirmative.

"When I questioned him about his home, he told me that he lived in Vancouver, and that he and his wife had started from there to visit their friend, Mr. Wagner. Supper having been prepared, he said little more, but at once seated himself at the table. He ate very heartily. His wife ate a little, but did not seem to enjoy the meal. She had nothing to say whatever. He told me that he had no money, but that if he ever saw me again, when he had any money, he would amply repay me.

He was the murderer, of whom I had read in the morning paper and picked up the Oregonian I noted the description given by the police, which tallied with the exception that the left ear bore no evidence of having been cut. This alone prevented me from endeavoring to capture him. The woman seemed downhearted. She was pale and looked as though she had been sick. She, too, answered Mrs. Leasia's description very well, with the exception of a mackintosh cape about her shoulders and a white fascinator upon her head. She wore a dark purple wrapper with round flowers figured in the cloth.

"When he had finished eating they both arose to leave. It was about 9:45 o'clock. They passed out into the darkness toward the gate.
