Windows Wonder-Workers!

A poet has said "The Eyes Are the Windows of the Soul" the windows of a store are its eyes—through which its public may look and read its character, clear to the very soul which dominates its policy, and from which pulsates the very lifeblood of its storekeeping.

LOOK AT US THROUGH OUR WINDOWS

'Tis an ever-changing scene representing ever-lasting merit in merchandise and supremacy in value giving. Goods come and go—nothing grows old here. Generous appreciation of generous bargains displayed in our ten mammoth show-windows so constantly—day in and day out through the business week—keeps our window-worker active—every day is moving-day with him—the goods move in on every train and out every moment of our ten-hour days—out through the portals of this busy store—out here, and into the homes of happy thousands of patrons, whose number is daily increasing because honesty in store-keeping, honest methods, honest merchandise and honest advertising are surely winning against the careless, slipshod, hippodrome merchandising of the "sell 'em once and get their money" stores. We want your trade now and forever.

PEEK THROUGH OUR PANES and you'll see we deserve it. Peek again tomorrow—and next day—and so on every day—the scene changes like a kaleidoscopic view, as goods come and go with the days, but the soul of the store is the same—yesterday, today and tomorrow—like the brook it goes on forever and its everlasting song is HONEST VALUES AND HONEST MERCHANDISING. A few things seen through our panes:

WATER COVERS CITY

Many Kansas People Are Driven From Their Homes.

WHEAT CROPS ARE RUINED

Damage Will Be Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars—Tornadoes Continue Their Work of Destruction.

SALINA, Kan., May 26.—This city is thought the scene of the worst flood in its history, fully 100 families having been driven from their homes, and the extent of the damage is estimated to be hundreds of thousands of dollars. A heavy rain fell tonight, making four inches of rain that has fallen here during the last 24 hours. The northwestern portion of the city is entirely submerged, and women and children were rescued from their homes in boats.

The Missouri Pacific grade on the west is holding back a large and threatening body of water. If the water succeeds in crossing the tracks, the entire western portion of the town will be under water. A passenger train on the Lincoln branch of the Union Pacific is held between two washouts two miles north of here. The passengers were brought to this city on handcars. The Union Pacific tracks for three miles west of here are washed out, and all through trains are running over the Rock Island between Limon Junction, Colo., to Manhattan, Kan. The Union Pacific station here is surrounded by water and the railroad yards are flooded.

NINE ARE KILLED OUTRIGHT

Tornado Wipes Out an Iowa Town Before the People Realize It.

BLANCHARD, Iowa, May 26.—A most destructive and fatal tornado struck the town of Elmo, Mo., eight miles south of Blanchard, and just across the Missouri state line, at 5 o'clock this evening. Nine persons were killed outright and five were injured, some of whom may die. The dead: C. C. Colborn, Cassius Bell, J. J. Alvis, Leonard Bradley, Milton Huff, Gus Huff, Oren Strangler, D. L. Starler, George Perry. The injured: Ed Atherton, George Huff, A. L. McElvain, Harry Moss, Elmer Morgan.

The storm came from the northeast and first struck the Washburn depot. The Masonic Temple was the next building in its path, and it was demolished. On the lower floor of the temple was located a general merchandise store, and in the store was gathered a number of the citizens of the town. The building was torn to pieces before any warning was received, and the victims were buried beneath the wreckage. Of the 14 persons in the store only five escaped death, and three received injuries which, in two or three cases, may prove fatal. The storm passed on through the town, leaving but a few buildings standing. A relief party at once began the rescue of those in the ruins of the Temple, and nine bodies were taken to an improvised morgue. Five others were taken out, some with broken legs and arms and in each case serious if not fatal injuries.

The storm came on with great suddenness and had destroyed the town almost before the people realized what had happened. After leaving Elmo, it continued into the country in a southwest direction and it is feared that fatalities have occurred. Several dwellings are known to have been blown to pieces, but the fate of their occupants is unknown. A deluge of rain added its share to the misfortune of the city, and three people and the homeless inhabitants are being cared for at the few remaining homes that escaped the fury of the wind. Elmo is a small town on the Washburn Railroad branch running from Omaha to Brunswick, Mo., and has about 300 inhabitants.

ANOTHER TORNADO IN IOWA

Institution for Feeble-Minded Is Wrecked and Two Killed.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 26.—Iowa has been storm-swept for the past 24 hours. Three tornadoes, two last night and one tonight, caused the loss of six lives, the fatal injury of three persons and the serious injury of a score or more, besides great property loss. The dead at Glenwood are as follows: Maggie Bennett, of Adams, Ia. Hazel Wright, of Adams, Ia. The dead near Buxton: Georgiana Blakeley, Herbert Rhodes. The dead at South Des Moines: The dead at South Des Moines: Charles McNutt, hurt by falling trees; Mrs. John McCoy, breast and head cut by flying glass. The victims at Glenwood were all inmates of the School for the Feeble-Minded, where the storm struck at 9:30 P. M. The tornado struck the girls' dormitory, commonly known as the old building, first. The roof was torn off and with a terrific crash fell back on the wrecked building. All of the buildings of the group, including the hospital, dormitory, boys' building, custodian's building, farm colleges and the boiler-room were more or less damaged by the storm. The superintendent estimates that the loss will be at least $75,000.

The tornado near Buxton struck at about 9:30 P. M., near what is known as No. 10 Junction, a mining settlement. All the victims were colored. The storm came from the southwest and the destructive wind seemed to descend suddenly from a great bank of clouds which was sweeping toward the northeast. The tornado struck South Des Moines at 6 o'clock tonight. It came from the south, but after the greater part of the destruction was wrought versed to the northwest as it approached the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers. The property damage in South Des Moines and vicinity will reach $50,000. The Knapp home and the Christmas Church were wrecked and about 90 other buildings were badly injured.

About the same time what was apparently another storm struck the packing-house section of town, a mile to the northeast of the scene of the South Des Moines disaster. In this locality the Agar Packing Company, the Des Moines Elevator and the Des Moines Malt House property in that section cannot be estimated.

NEBRASKA AGAIN STORM SWEEPED

No Lives Lost but Many Are Injured—Property Loss Heavy.

OMAHA, May 26.—Eastern Nebraska was visited by another series of storms last night and today, several of which developed into small tornadoes. One visited Hastings, near which place was the scene of Sunday's heavy storm, and blew several buildings to splinters. Another struck Herman, 35 miles north of Omaha, and the scene of the tornado five years ago which killed a dozen people. The home of D. R. Parish was demolished and Mr. Parish, his wife and a child were seriously hurt. Omaha also received a storm which blew several houses from the foundations and unroofed others in the southwest part of the city.

Accompanying the severe wind in each instance was a rain storm of unusual severity and as a result several towns in Eastern Nebraska are flooded. The railroads have suffered washouts in a score of places, and a number of bridges have been carried away or badly damaged. The financial loss has been heavy, and estimates place it at several hundred thousand dollars. One of the most severe storms was at Davey, a small town northwest of Lincoln, which resulted in the injury of 13 persons, none fatally. Several of them, however, sustained broken limbs. The report received from there states that every dwelling and outbuilding in the town was wrecked. The storm in Lincoln began shortly after 5 o'clock and did a great deal of damage, in that city, the loss on buildings being estimated at $100,000. It moved northwest and split. The portion that struck Davey was seen approaching by the people of that town, most of whom were able to seek safety in cellars. A deluge of rain accompanied the wind, and flooded the little town, which was strewn with debris.

In East Lincoln, a number of dwellings were unroofed or moved from foundations and two large factories and an elevator were nearly demolished.

At West Buxton the tornado destroyed several residences and a large number of barns and outbuildings. The dead: George Blakeley, Herbert Rhodes. Partial list of the fatally injured: Addison Rhodes, Mrs. Addison Rhodes, John Blakey, Mrs. John Blakey. Owing to the breaking of the wires, it was impossible to secure adequate medical assistance for several hours. When assistance arrived, it was difficult to find the injured, as the electric light plant had been put out of business and the town was extremely dark. Rain, which fell in torrents, followed the tornado, greatly increasing the difficulty of the situation. A messenger obtained aid from Oskaloosa and Albia.

MUST SUFFER FOR MASSACRE

Russia Will Punish All Who Took Part in Kishinef Massacres. NEW YORK, May 26.—The chief officials of the District Military Court of this city have started for Kishinef, cables the Odessa correspondent of the World. This is taken to indicate that the government means to try those persons who took part in the massacre before a military tribunal, which alone has power to inflict capital punishment. The Chief of Police of Kief has ordered the police commissaries within his jurisdiction to institute a fresh inquiry into the legal status of the Jews and to forcibly expel those who have no legal right of residence and who refuse to leave. A Jewish deputation from Kishinef recently had a long audience with Minister von Plehwe. The latter said he had not opposed the proceedings against the ex-governor of Kishinef. The Minister promised sympathetic consideration of the facts set forth in the petitions of the Jewish population for future protection. Consequently the Minister yesterday suppressed the distribution of Krousterver's new anti-Semitic order, the Zemanis. The Russian laws do not permit of suits against the state for damages due by a job, but the government can consent to the prosecution of negligent officials. It is not yet decided whether civil or criminal procedure will be adopted. The incriminated officials have no property, hence the purpose is not to obtain pecuniary recompense, but it is hoped the moral effect of the prosecutions will prevent a repetition of the massacres.

Jews Fear a Massacre This Week

All the Jews who are possessed of means are preparing to go to Finland, while the poor Jews are panic-stricken. The authorities hope to avoid rioting by diverting the attention of the masses with fireworks at the theaters and other entertainments.
