Steadily Forging Ahead!

Last year our trade for the first ten days of June showed the largest percentage of increase we had ever had up to that time—an almost marvelous growth; but during the first ten days of the month this year we have not only equaled but enormously increased last year's great record. This gives an idea—While other houses are hunting for excuses for their loss of business, of the rate at which our business is expanding—a growth which we believe to be without a parallel in the history of merchandising west of the Mississippi—certainly never equaled in Portland. Lack of space seems to be the only bar to our still more rapid growth. But with the completion of our new building this difficulty will be remedied, at least for a time. 'Tis such values as these we quote this morning that help our growth. TWO GREAT SALES START TODAY! WRAPPERS on Second Floor. HOSIERY on First Floor. RUSSIA WARNS JEWS

Socialist Movement Must Be Put Down.

RIOTS ARE PROVOKED THEREBY

Troops Required to End a Great Demonstration—Kishinev Massacre is Now Said to Be Result of the Agitation.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.—The official now assert that the troubles at Kishinev were an uprising of the peasantry against the Jewish socialist movement. Interior Minister von Plehve is said to have read the Jewish deputation which saw him recently a lecture on the dangers of socialism, warning them that they must control their young men, otherwise the emigration of Jews from Russia would reach unprecedented proportions.

The Osvobodnenskiye, which is a notorious anti-Semitic organ, asserts that Vice-Governor Osvobodnenskiye addressed the Jews at the funeral of the victims of the Kishinev massacre as follows:

"Gentlemen: You have assembled in extraordinary numbers. I could chase you away immediately, but I have pity for you. Calm yourselves; forget what has happened. It is for your sins, or your fathers' sins, that God will it. You must atone yourselves."

The paper also contains details of the rioting which took place at Baku, April 25, and of which nothing has hitherto been heard. It says that a socialist demonstration of 5000 persons was suppressed with the aid of sabers and firearms, with the result that the police commander, several policemen and Cossacks and over 50 workmen are reported to have been killed and many others wounded. Similar affairs occurred on the same day in the neighborhood of Romena, Sabonah and Belahansk with like results.

ed on a political charge, was being interrogated yesterday by General Novitsky, chief of the gendarmes, when she rushed upon him with a knife, which she had concealed in her dress, and inflicted a wound in his neck. The General's injury is not serious.

To Put an End to Jewish Riots.
ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.—Fresh instructions have been issued to the police of Kishinev ordering them to be in instant readiness to assist any one attacked, and adding that any breach of this order will be severely punished.

SPRING WHEAT CONDITION
Compares Most Favorably With the Ten-Year Average.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Preliminary returns to the statisticians of the Department of Agriculture on the acreage of Spring wheat show indicate an area of 17,457,000 acres, a decrease of 364,000 acres, or 2.1 per cent of the revised estimate of the acreage shown last year. The average condition of Spring wheat on June 1 was 82.5, as compared with 83.4 at the corresponding date last year, 82 on June 1, 1901, and a ten-year average of 82.5. The following table shows for the State of Washington and the United States the conditions on June 1 in each of the last three years with the ten-year average:

Acres compared with last year—Washington, 110; United States, 37.9.

The comparative Winter wheat averages of California were: This month, 86; last month, 82; June 1, 1902, 85; June 1, 1901, 82; ten-year average, 78. For the United States the averages were: 82.5, 82.6, 78.1, 87.5 and 79.1.

CHINA IS FAVORING RUSSIA.
Official Pleads Illness to Keep Manchurian Agreement Secret.

PEKING, June 10.—M. Paul Lesnar, the Russian Minister, today had his first interview since his return from St. Petersburg with Prince Ching, the Grand Secretary. The Prince remains away from the foreign office on the plea of illness, and declines to see the other ministers, but he received M. Lesnar at his residence.

Russia is believed here to be using every effort to induce the Grand Secretary to keep the present negotiations secret, hence the Prince's official illness.

Public interest in Manchuria is now subsiding. The feeling appears to be that it is useless to oppose Russia's plans.

MASSACRED BY TURKS.
Nearly the Entire Population of a Village Is Killed.

SOFIA, June 10.—It is reported that the village of Enlige, in the District of Adrianople, consisting of 500 houses, was attacked June 2 by bashi bazouks, and the entire population, with the exception of 200 men, massacred. The village was pillaged and the loot carried off into neighboring Turkish villages.

His Complaint.
Smart Set.
I am a baby, 11 months old, and nearly worn out already. Please let me alone! I am not a prodigy, except to the extent that, not having anything to say, I don't talk. Two big persons claim to be my parents—why can't they let it go at that? I have never denied the charge. I haven't much data to go by, but I don't think I am either a magician, a learned pig or a virtuoso. I don't hanker for applause; so it will be an appreciated favor if you won't put me through any parlor tricks. If I have my wealthy old Uncle Ezra's nose, congratulate Uncle Ezra, but don't blame me. I may be a kleptomaniac, for all I know, but I can't help it.

Don't rattle rattles at me. They rattle me. Don't go-go and cote-kootie at me. I can't understand it any better than I can the English language.

The pain I have is not in my stomach, but in my neck. I don't want to be entertained, mystified or medicated or applauded. And, if you don't want me to grow up to be a hypochondriac, a stamp collector, an awful example, a ping-pong enthusiast or a misanthrope, you just let me be!

WATSON'S PLEA NOT GUILTY
Alleged Government Embezzler Is Arraigned and Released on Bail.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—James A. Watson, the clerk in the Auditor's office of the District government, who was arraigned yesterday for alleged embezzlement of large sums, appeared in the Police Court today, pleaded not guilty, and waived a preliminary hearing. Bail was fixed at $50,000.

Watson was unable to secure the amount of bonds fixed by the Police Court for his appearance before the grand jury, and was taken to jail. According to the authorities, most of the money Watson is alleged to have embezzled was spent in stock speculation. His books are in a deplorable condition. The exact extent of Watson's default will not be known for some time, but the best estimate now is $25,000.

Coal Case Taken Under Adversement.
NEW YORK, June 10.—Justice Lacombe today heard arguments in the petition of the Interstate Commerce Commission for orders requiring the presidents of coal roads to answer questions regarding the contracts between the railways and coal shippers. The hearing appears to be a complaint of W. R. Hearst, now pending before the commission, the presidents, on advice of counsel, declined to answer such questions. At the conclusion of the argument, Judge Lacombe said he would announce his decision when he had reached Ontario, his home.

In California on Inspection Tour.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—General Charles Heywood, of Washington, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Marine Corps, arrived here today, accompanied by his aid, Captain Henry Leonard. General Heywood is on an extended tour of inspection of the United States marine stations, and has just completed a tour of the Northwestern stations.

Plan for Battleships Approved.
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Secretary Moody today approved the plans for the three new 17,000-ton battleships.

Greek Herald.
Boston Herald.

This week the students of the University of Pennsylvania will give a public performance of the Greek play, "Iphigenia in Tauris." Although Greek plays are not unknown as a kind of tour de force of university scholarship, this one, we believe, has not been given in America. It was performed at Cambridge University in 1894, and "Iphigenia in Aulis" by London University College in 1897. The first Greek play given in the original before an English audience in recent times was "Agamemnon" at Oxford in 1880. Not long afterward Harvard men gave a representation of "Oedipus Tyrannus" in which Henry Norman, now a rising English politician, had a prominent part. The "Acharnians" was given in Philadelphia in 1888. "Antigone" has been performed in this country oftener than any other Greek play, but not always in the original Greek, although there have been two presentations in that language. To present a Greek play carefully and adequately is no easy task, and it stamps with classic nobility the institution which succeeds in such attempt.

EAST ST. LOUIS IS FLOODED

feed, and there is little or nothing for them to eat."

A commissary department on a large scale has been established at the East St. Louis City Hall, where all the refugees are fed.

Business being entirely suspended, thousands of people congregated near the many landings along the roadway, all eager to render assistance. Wagons were brought to convey refugees to places of refuge.

In the eastern extremity of the city, at Washington Place and Rock road, where there is a vacant area of many squares, a big crowd gathered with great tents were utilized in erecting a camp of refuge.

From the Broadway landings to Camp Refuge the flood sufferers were transferred in wagons. Each family was given the occupancy of a tent. The City Hall, Courthouse, vacant public buildings and other available structures were thrown open and temporarily turned into relief stations.

LAIN FAIL TO HEED WARNING.

Fate of Occupants of Hundreds of Cottages Is in Doubt.

EAST ST. LOUIS, June 10.—When the embankment broke last night, the alarm spread like wildfire. Whistles were blown, bells were rung, shots were fired and cries of warning were sounded, but even with all this pandemonium the majority of the aroused inhabitants failed to leave their homes. A well of water rushed outward, and within an hour the houses stood in water with only their roofs visible. It is said that numbers of people fled to the Central Hotel, a four-story brick structure, and the large brick Washington and Franklin High Schools. These buildings, however, today contained not over 200 persons, and although the rescue boats found many people in second stories and on house-tops there were rows upon rows of cottages that did not show a sign of life. It is not known what became of the occupants.

The people who did flee made their way toward St. Louis over the Eads bridge. Most of the refugees were scantily clad. Strong men carried aged women in their arms, followed by women with babies. Barefooted children were in the procession, which continued steadily over the bridge. Hundreds of others sought protection in the second story of the public library building.

As the water encroached about it many dashed through the shallow overflow to find a more secure refuge. In the terror of the rising water, refugees in hundreds thronged the streets, crowded the cars and besought public officials for aid. In the City Hall alone 600 homeless persons, with such scant belongings as they had been able to seize on short notice, were assembled. Provisions for the time being were supplied from the city and were made as comfortable as possible in the auditorium on the third floor.

One thousand men were working on the part of the levee which broke. For several hours before the final break they had the active assistance of hundreds of women and children. The break came at the St. Louis Valley crossing of the Illinois Central embankment, two miles south of Relay depot. While as many men, women and children as could stand on the embankment were heaping sandbags between the rails to prevent the menacing waters from mounting over the top, the relentless current broke the lower part of the wall of earth and spurted in rivulets in the faces of those who were carrying sandbags up the banks. Bags thrown into the water like feathers. Then the workers fled from their useless task. Levees workers who lay down to rest on embankments were out with hard work were caught by the flood and drowned. It may never be learned how many died this way.

KANSAS CITY CALLS FOR AID.
It is Unable to Give the Relief Needed at Once by the Homeless.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—Ten small brick buildings at Armourdale have collapsed, weakened by the flood, and others are in a weakened condition. No one was hurt. The Missouri River today has receded to within seven-tenths of a foot of the danger line of 21 feet.

The Kansas City, Kan., relief committee, after a thorough canvass, has issued an official statement placing the number of homeless in that city and its suburbs at 23,000. The statement says: "The destruction on the part of the Lincoln today in Kansas City, Kan., demands immediate relief. Local charity is totally inadequate to meet the situation. Outside assistance is imperative."

The water situation showed but little improvement since yesterday, and it has been announced, because of an unexpected weakness in the flow-line bridge, that a supply of pure water will not be possible before Friday or Saturday.

Refuse to Stand Flood Loss.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 10.—One hundred and fifty grain men of Southeastern Nebraska held a meeting in Lincoln today and decided to oppose the action of the Kansas City grainbuyers, who wish them to stand the expense of damage wrought by floods in Kansas City freight yards. Eight hundred cars of grain from Nebraska shippers had been inspected and accepted by Kansas City grain men, but before it was taken from the cars the floods swept over the yards and destroyed it. The Kansas City buyers decided to compel the shippers to stand the loss. The contention will be settled in court.

Sheep Killed by Hall in New Mexico.

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 10.—Word came from the Sapello Valley of the severest hail storm on record. The ground was covered to a depth of 11 inches and many of the stones were larger than hens' eggs. Alfalfa was beaten to the ground, other crops ruined, and many sheep on the ranges killed. It is thought that no human lives were lost, though fear is expressed for the safety of the sheepherders. It is still raining in torrents in this section.

Kansas Legislature Will Convene.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 10.—Late tonight Governor Ballou said he would call an extra session of the Kansas Legislature. The call is to be issued as soon as the Governor receives assurances from a quorum of the members that they will be here. The special session will provide for relieving the flood situation.

General Snow and Rain in Colorado.

DENVER, June 10.—Snow or rain fell today in all parts of Colorado except the San Luis Valley. The snowfall was heavy on Laweta, Tennessee, Marshall and other mountain passes, and in Leadville and the Cripple Creek mining district. The Arkansas River is very high, and has washed out railroad tracks at several places.

Train Service Is Resumed.

DENVER, June 10.—E. R. Griffin, general agent of the Union Pacific, has received notice that the through service over the Union Pacific railroad to Kansas City was resumed at 9:00 o'clock tonight. This service has been interrupted by the floods in Kansas.

Thunder Storm in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The heaviest electric and rain storm that has visited this city in 30 years was experienced today. Nearly two inches of rain fell. The sewers in various sections of the city were flooded, many telegraph wires prostrated, and trolley cars blocked.

New York Has a Wind Storm.

WELLVILLE, N. Y., June 10.—A heavy storm of wind, rain and lightning passed over this section today, doing much damage. Many buildings were wrecked, trees uprooted and on derrick blown down. Two men were severely injured.

River Is Falling at Hannibal.

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10.—A drop of 13 inches has been recorded in the Mississippi river at Hannibal since the crest was passed, but the gauge now registers 21.5, which is eight feet and five inches above the danger line.

Cloudburst Carries Out Bridge.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 10.—A cloudburst in a canon on the Pecos River, two miles north, carried out a three-span bridge on the Santa Fe railroad. There was no loss of life.

Heavy Rains Continue in Colorado.

TRINIDAD, Colo., June 10.—The amount of damage done by floods cannot now be estimated. All railroads are tied up, and the Las Animas River is in a turbulent condition. The rain continues with no sign of abatement.

ONE FLASH ENOUGH.

Highwaymen Attempt to Hold Up Officer, but Are Frightened.

Two highwaymen who attempted to hold up W. F. Lillis, city sidewalk inspector, last night, concluded that they had tackled the wrong man, and fled as soon as they saw his star.

Mr. Lillis was on his road home, and had just passed Engine-House No. 5. At Second and Gibbs street, he was met by two highwaymen, who pointed guns at him and ordered: "Hands up!" Now, Lillis bears a special officer star, and remembered that he had often settled disputes by showing it. He didn't want to throw up his hands, but did not like to tell the robbers his feelings in the matter. With a quick motion, he threw open his coat, and there in all its splendor flashed the shining piece of metal which marked his rank as an officer.

The effect was all that could be expected, and a second later the highwaymen were making tracks down the street. Mr. Lillis did not push the officer game any farther and try to arrest the adventure. Some knights of rest. He was quite content to be left alone, and proceeded at once to telephone to the police station that there were some highwaymen out his way that needed to be arrested.

The description he gave of the men was meager. In fact, he thinks he did well to remember that he got home, and was still wearing his star.

Bounty of a Barren Shore.

McClure's.

In bygone times it was the practice of the Newfoundland coast folk to appropriate everything they secured from shipwreck, but this lawlessness had to be sternly repressed. Now the unwritten rule is that they get "half their haul," or 50 per cent, as salvage. In portable and valuable articles, such as silverware, there is still a strong temptation to keep the whole, but the punishment is severe. Champagne, liquors, cabin stores and the like have also a trick of disappearing, and a strong temptation to keep the whole, but the punishment is severe. Champagne, liquors, cabin stores and the like have also a trick of disappearing, and a strong temptation to keep the whole, but the punishment is severe.
