IMPORTANT LAND RULING When Land Is Non-Mineral Even Though It Contains Minerals,

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June Il—in a recent contest arising in the State of Washington, the Secretary of the Interior holds that when the field notes and surveyor's returns make no notation whatever of minerals in pub-lic lands that have been surveyed, such lands are considered and treated as given a nonmineral classification by the sur-veyor. Further, that lands classified as nonmineral at the time of the Government rvey are of the class of lands subject selection in Reu of lands relinquished within forest reserves, and the character of the lands so classified and selected will not be investigated on a protest presented after the survey and selection, and alleg-ing the present mineral character of the

The importance of this decision is man frest. In the case at issue the Northern Pacific Railway Company relinquished a tract in the Rainler Forest Reserve and selected in lieu thereof a tract of equal area in Montana. One year after the fil-ing of this lieu selection a coal declar-atory statement was offered by an indiatory statement was observed, and was re-jected because of the prior selection by the railroad company. Investigation of the recorns disclosed the fact that while adjoining lands had been reported by the surveyors as containing coal deposits, no such reference was made to the tract in controversy. Therefore, the Secretary held the land to be classified as nominieral. The man filing the coal declaratory statement wont so far as to allege that the land he sought would produce coal in commercial quantities. His allegations, however, were overruled, as the prior selection by the railroad company could not be affected by a filing made one year later. Hence the lieu selection was apeved, notwithstanding the apparent neral character of the lands. Had the lands been originally classified as coal lands, the railroad selection would have been rejected.

United States in the ten months ending with April 88.832,464. In the month of April the shipments from the United States to Porto Rico were $501.528, and Porto Rico and the United States are in marked contrast with those of earlier years. In the fiscal year 1808, which im-mediately preceded the transfer of Porto Rico to the United States, the exports from the United States to that island were $1.505,946. In the next year they wer $2,855,849: in 1990, $4,640,449: in 1901, $6,955, 408: in 1902, $16,82,651, and, as already in dicated, in the year 1900 will be about $12, 000,000. mother had obtained a divorce in March previous and was awarded the legal custody of Edith and Olive. This decree was afterward amended to allow Wiersum to see his children, and subsequently he aucceeded in having the decree modified altogether in his favor.

Nellte Wiersum, the petitioner, testified regarding the power of attorney give obtained from her brother before leaving Wisconsin, and the fact of his residence in that state. The counsel agreed to admit the facts contained in her petition asking for the children, and to rely upon the legal questions in the case for a decision.

Mrs. Leppere testified that she was divorced from Henry Wiersum on the ground of cruel treatment and failure to provide, and came here immediately after her marriage to Leppere in August, 1992.

She received 312 per month rent from a house in Milwaukee, and her husband earned about $135 a month. They owned a home at Montavilla. This evidence was introduced to show the ability of Mr. and Mrs. Leppere to provide suitably for and educate the children. "I don't believe they could live without their mother," she said, "I have always had the care of them since their both. Mr. Leppere mever objects to my using his means for myself and the "I have always had the care of them since their birth. Mr. Leppere in testifying, stated: "The children could not be any better treated than they are by their mother. They are being educated and given proper training. Any mother should be proud to bring up children the way she does."

The witness further stated that he had assumed the responsibility of caring and providing for the children, and his wife had the benefit of nearly all of his earn-ings. He had worked for the Western Union Company for 27 years, and never lacked employment.

A. S. Bérnateln argued the legal aspects of the case, contending that the jurisdiction of the Milwaukee court follows Mrs. tion of the Milwaukee court follows Mrs. Leppere wherever she goes. "She is never." he said, "beyond the jurisdiction of the court." The counsel explained that after the mother left Wisconsin the court changed its decree, taking the children from the custody of the mother and granting the father absolute control and custody without interference from her. Counsel asserted that the decree of the Milwaukee court could be enforced by Judge Sears. Judge Sears.

D. Solis Cohen followed Mr. Bernstein in the same vein, and said the decree of the Wisconsin court is a finality.

Henry E. McGinn, of counsel for Mrs. Leppere, made an eloquent pies in her behalf, and read numerous authorities. He contended that the duty of the court here was to consider the welfare of the children. The decree of the Wisconsin court was not binding. That court could make it one day, and change it the next. Turning to the opposing counsel, Mr. McGinn said:

You want these children hauled back to Milwaukee to a man who has not made a record for himself, and who cares so little for these children that he does not come here himself, but sends a power of attorney." Attention was called to the attorney." Attention was called to the testimony of Mrs. Leppere that she obtained a divorce from Henry Wiersum for cruel treatment and failure to provide. and, commenting upon this testimony, the attorney said: "The sister of the father sits here in court and says not one word

TAX SETTLEMENT REVOKED. County Court Orders Suit for Balance on Marquam Property. The County Court has revoked the or-der made on December 15, 1990, compromising taxes on the Marquam property amounting to $42.814 for $15,774, and a suit will be filed at once to recover the differ-ence of $27,040 in the State Circuit Court ence of $27,000 in the Starting as special by Charles H. Carey, acting as special counsel for Multnomah County, and District Attorney John Manning.

The property involved is block 178, bounded by Sixth, Seventh, Morrison and bounded by Sixth, Seventh, Morrison and Alder streets, and 80 acres in the John Quinn donation land claim. The settlement was made with J. Thorburn Ross, trustee, who bid in the Marquam property at foreclosure sale. Previously the Thie Guarantee & Trust Company, as trustee for P. A. Marquam, had disputed the legality of the assessments for a number of years. The county won on most of the points, and the Title Guarantee & Trust Company appealed to the most of the points, and the Title Guar-antee & Trust Company appealed to the Supreme Court. In consideration of a settlement, the trust company dismissed the appeal, but states that in a similar case the Supreme Court has decided that the grounds on which the appeal rested were well taken, and that, accordingly, in the Marquagn case, the county would in the Marquam case, the county would have lost had the appeal to the Supreme in the Marquam case, the county would have keet had the appeal to the Supreme Court been prosecuted to the end. The petition and the order accompanying it detail the whole terms of the compromise, and their contents have not heretofore been published. It has been stated variously that these documents had disappeared from the office of the County Clerk, or were inaccessible, but an Oregonian reporter had no difficulty in obtaining copies of the same. The petition for compromise follows:

To the County Commissioners of Multinomah County, Oregon-Gentlemen: In view of the fact that the premises involved in the litigation now pending in the Supreme Court, in which the Title Guarantee & Trust Company is appellant and Multinomah County is respondent, has been purchased at Sherin's sale upon torecious by J. Thorbura Ross, trustee, and believing it to be desirable that all claims of the county against the same be communiced. It respectative to be ciaims of the county against the same be compromised, I respectfully submit to you the following proposition looking towards a compromised, I respectfully submit to you the following proposition looking towards a settlement:

The amount cirimed by the county in its answer in the above case for taxes for 1806, 1804, 1805, 1806 and 1807 is $24,500.61. The court in the above case held that of this amount the laxes of 1805, amounting to $4211.32, had already been raid and that the taxes assessed against the 80 scree for 1806 and 1805, amounting to $700, were wold, thus canceling $5001.32 leaving in controversy the sum of $19,500.25 involved in the case at present in the Supreme Court.

Eminent counsel advise me that the Supreme Court will undoubtedly cancel these taxes entirely owing to the fatal irregularities in the assessment and levy of the same, and that under the conditions most favorable for your interest in the present case, the Supreme Court would certainly cancel the taxes for 1805, 1805 and 1807 amounting to at lease $5200 more, so that under the curcumstances most adverse to our interests it is improbable that the amount fixed by the Supreme Court as a valid lien would exceed $7000.

It should be borne in mind that in this case your contention is that you are not a purchaser of the property at Sheriff's sale for large, but that you merely have a lien upon the property for the amount of these taxes. If your contention should be sustained by the Supreme Court and everything asked by you should be granted, the court could not render a decree against us for the payment of the taxes, but would simply decree that we were not properly in court. In that event a new suit would be begun to set aside your lien, the result of which could hardly be determined inside of two years more.

In addition to the taxes at present in littgation the taxes for 1808 and 1809 amounting to $00.45.18 are subject to even greater strong and irregularities fatal, as I am advised, to their legality, that of 1800 being absolutely and unqualifiedly void as to block 178, and unless a compromise be reached, it is probable that I shall be instructed to contest the lien of these taxes in the Federal courts.

Instead of additional litigation, I have therefore recommended that I be permitted to meet you in the spirit of fairness, and effect, if possible, a settlement by offering you, as I hereby do, as a compromise payment of all taxes claimed to be due upon the property described in said suit, and also including the taxes upon said property for the years 1806 and 1809, the you will see that an acceptance of the above offer is clearly for the best interests of the county, and requesting the favor of an immediate reply, I have the honor to be, respectfully yours,

E. B. SEAHROOK, Attorney for Petitioner.
