AMUSEMENTS.

MARQUAM GRAND THEATER—Tonight at 8:15 o'clock, Mary Mannering in "The Stubbornness of Geraldine."

EMPIRE THEATER—Twelfth and Morrison. Tonight at 8:15. Vaudeville.

THE BAKER THEATER—Tonight at 8:15, "The Virginian."

CORDRAY'S THEATER—This afternoon at 2; evening, 7:30, Edward Shields' "Continuous Vaudeville."

NEW VARIETIES OF STRAWBERRIES.—Strawberries of remarkable size and fine color and flavor, but scarcely in the best condition for shipping, were plentiful on Front street yesterday, and lots were being shipped to Puget Sound, Astoria and places in Eastern Oregon. The general idea was that the rain would put a stop to picking berries, and that there would be very few in market today, but as the sun came out during the afternoon plenty will doubtless come in this morning. A new variety, very fine and large, closely resembling the Magoon, was received from Salem yesterday in some quantity. It was originated by Colonel Hofer, of Salem, and is named the "Paris." A very large and beautiful plant of another new variety, growing in a pot, and loaded with berries of all sizes, about 100 in all, was also exhibited on Front street yesterday. It is called the "Oregon," and was originated by Mr. Hofstedter, of Woodlawn, at Salem some three years ago. The ripe berries were very large, and looked much like the Magoon, which has not been surpassed yet. The plant was a marvel for size and appearance, as is generally the case with seedlings.

PREFERS TARANTULAS TO RATS.—A grocer who stepped into a commission house yesterday to purchase a bunch of bananas came near being scared to death or seriously injured. The bunch he selected was hung on a spring balance to be weighed, and he stood looking on, when a rat ran up out of the bunch, climbed the cord suspending it and clung to the scale for an instant. The man in charge of the scale yelled "rats," and half a dozen clerks and packers dropped their work and commenced hurling empty boxes and every available missile at the rat. Of course, none of them hit the rat, but they hit everything else, including the grocer and themselves. When the storm was over, the grocer took his bunch of bananas and departed, remarking that in the future he would prefer bunches with tarantulas in them. The rat was very fat, and was evidently desirous of weighing himself.

CAVALRY HORSES FOR UNCLE SAM.—The contract for supplying 200 cavalry horses for the United States Government, to be delivered at Walla Walla and other posts, which was awarded to Herman Metzger, of this city, some months since, has been half-filled. Suitable horses enough to fill the contract are in sight, and will be delivered in a few weeks. Most of the horses are procured in Oregon, and a carload was shipped from Eugene and Albany a few days ago. Suitable horses were scarce and difficult to procure three months ago, many being in poor condition, and Mr. Metzger had to contend against strong opposition in buying, but stock of all kinds has improved since Spring came, and now there are good cavalry horses to be procured in many parts of the state. The horses delivered so far have given good satisfaction.

PLANS OF FIREBOAT READY.—Plans and specifications for the proposed fireboat for the city have been prepared by Fred A. Ballin, and are to be seen at the Auditor's offices. The specifications have been printed, and all who wish to bid for building the boat will be supplied with blueprint copies of Mr. Ballin's plans, which comprise seven sheets. Only those who apply for the plans will receive them. Applications for the plans have been received from W. A. Boole & Son, of San Francisco; Risdon Iron & Locomotive Works, San Francisco; Fulton Engineering & Shipbuilding Works, San Francisco, and Moran Bros. Company, of Seattle. It is probable that many others will desire to submit bids for building the boat, and will apply for plans. For such blueprint copies will be made as soon as possible.

ROSE SHOW SATURDAY.—The annual rose show of the Portland Rose Society is to be given on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, June 20, at Parson's Hall. Mrs. Rosa H. Hoyt has been appointed manager of the show by the officers of the society, and Mrs. George H. Lamberson will have the important work of receiving and classifying the roses. Every one having choice roses is urged to contribute and help in making the display a credit to Portland, which is known everywhere as the "City of Roses." An excellent programme of music is being arranged for, and ice cream and lemonade will be served by Mrs. H. H. Northup, Mrs. George W. Bates, Mrs. John Gill, assisted by a number of young girls. Miss Augusta Marshall will be in charge of the decorations.

TO DRAIN A COWLITZ FARM.—A large lot of drain pipes brought from Salem by rail was being delivered at the head of the incline to the Salmon-street wharf yesterday, to be shipped to a farmer on the Cowlitz River, who is underdraining his farm on an extensive scale. Many carloads of this drainpipe have been shipped to Corbett, on the Columbia, to be used in draining lands near there. The cost of draining is probably less than that of constructing irrigating ditches, and drained land is likely to prove most productive.

THE Northern Pacific will again place very low excursion rates in effect on June 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, July 15 and 16 and on August 25 and 26. These are very low rate round-trip tickets, and will enable all to make a trip to the East at a great deal less than regular rates. For full information, call on or write A. D. Charlton, Assistant General Passenger Agent, at 255 Morrison street, corner of Third, Portland, Or.

OBJECT-LESSON IN GOOD ROADS.—A wagon loaded with rock which had been plowed up on Alder, between Sixth and Seventh streets, stood in the loose material near the edge of the asphalt pavement on Seventh street. The wheels had sunks several inches, loose rocks obstructed them, and a slight rise had to be made in order to reach the surface of the smooth asphalt. A big team tugged again and again, and the teamster shouted with all the force of his lungs, but, strain as they would, the horses could not pull the wagon out of the hole. Then another team was hooked on, and the united efforts of four horses were just enough to perform the task. When the load was once on the solid pavement the extra team was detached and the single team walked off with it without effort. This is an object-lesson in the economy of good roads.

DAILY ROUND TRIP THROUGH THE CASCADES.—Get an idea of what a flood looks like by taking a trip up the Columbia through the raging waters of the Cascades. Steamer "Bailey Gatzert" leaves Alder-street wharf daily (except Monday) 8:30 A. M.; Sundays, 9 A. M. Excellent meals. Fare for trip, $1.50. Phone Main 914.

MORE STREET WORK AHEAD.—In addition to the street and sewer work now in progress in this city, proposals will be received and opened Friday for improving 15 streets, and the construction of one sewer. There is not likely to be any lack of work on streets and sewers for some time.

MINING DIVIDEND DECLARED.—Holders of Oregon securities will be pleased to learn that at a directors' meeting held in New York yesterday a dividend of ½-cent was declared, payable July 6. The different properties of this company are located in the Bohemia mining district.

NO MUSIC TONIGHT.—There will be no band concert tonight, as had been announced to take place in front of the Park School. The threatening weather, and the failure to complete the bandstand caused the postponement.

THE lawn social to be given by the Wisteria Club at St. Francis' Church grounds this evening has been postponed to Wednesday evening, June 24.

MEMBERS of Samaritan Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., are requested to be present at lodge meeting tonight. Consolidation and pleasant time assured.

THEIR NEW STORE OPEN.

Roberts Bros. Welcome Thousands With Flowers and Music.

Eight thousand people attended the grand opening of Roberts Bros.' new department store in the new Mohawk building at Third and Morrison streets last night. The palatial new store was beautifully and artistically decorated with ribbons and flowers, thousands of La France and Jacqueminot roses scenting the air with their fragrance. Many beautiful floral pieces were in evidence, the gifts of different friends and business houses of the city. The decorations were under the supervision of floor managers N. Boody and F. Mundell and reflected much credit upon their good taste.

The crowds of people entered the store at the Third-street entrance and passed out through the entrance on Morrison street. The grand opening commenced at 7:30 o'clock, and the doors were not closed until 10 o'clock. Brown's orchestra, consisting of 12 pieces, rendered musical selections during the evening.

Many friends of the firm congratulated Messrs. Roberts upon their elegant new store and new location. But 12 months ago the firm at its former store at Fifth and Yamhill streets, employed only 18 clerks. When the new store opens for business this morning 65 clerks will report for work.

The display windows yesterday attracted much attention, and were decorated by the firm's window-dresser, F. Carey.

Mr. Roberts stated last night that everything was now in readiness at the new store, that the large force of employes and the up-to-date system upon which the store would be conducted would afford the public every convenience found in modern department stores.

SEEK TO SAVE LEASIA

ATTORNEYS APPEAL FROM DIVORCE GRANTED WIFE.

By This Step They Hope to Exclude Her Testimony in Trial Which Begins Today.

An appeal to the Supreme Court from the decree of divorce granted to Pauline Leasia from Martin Leasia was filed yesterday by Leasia's attorney, for the purpose of preventing Mrs. Leasia from testifying against her husband. His trial for the murder of her father, F. H. Drews, begins today.

The statute upon the subject of evidence provides: "A husband shall not be examined for or against his wife without her consent; nor a wife for or against her husband without his consent; nor can either during the marriage or afterward be, without the consent of the other, examined as to any communication made by one to the other during the marriage; but the exception does not apply to a civil action, suit or proceeding by one against the other, nor to a criminal action or proceeding for a crime committed by one against the other."

Mrs. Leasia saw Leasia shoot and kill her father, and her evidence is very important for the prosecution. Leasia's story told at the police station was that the wound in his breast was caused by his father-in-law, whom he then shot in self-defense. Mrs. Leasia denied this, and said that she shot Martin after he shot her father down.

The exclusion of her evidence would help the prisoner materially and weaken the state's case accordingly.

Counsel for the defendant will take the position that, under the law, a divorce decree is not effectual while an appeal to the Supreme Court is pending; otherwise that the relation of man and wife between the parties has not ceased to exist. The point, however, does not seem to be well taken, as the statute provides that, "A decree declaring a marriage void or dissolved at the suit or claim of either party shall have the effect to terminate such marriage as to both parties. Except that neither party shall be capable of contracting a marriage with a third person until the suit has been heard or determined on appeal, or if no appeal be taken, the expiration of the period (six months) allowed to take such appeal."

LAID TRAP FOR W. GRIMES.

Professor Kelsey Says He Bought Whisky in Montavilla Saloon.

The liquor license fight at Montavilla is still on. William Grimes, charged with conducting a saloon in that flourishing suburb without paying $400 per year to the county, as the statute requires, was tried before Judge Sears, on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

The specific allegation in the information was that Grimes sold 25 cents' worth of whisky in a flask to Raynor Kelsey, professor of oratory at Pacific College, Newberg, on April 28 last. Professor Kelsey was accompanied by W. E. Wright, assistant secretary of the Portland Young Men's Christian Association.

The evidence disclosed that there had been some talk engaged in by Y. M. C. A. members concerning the fact that Grimes was selling whisky, wine and beer in violation of law, and Professor Kelsey and Mr. Wright agreed with others that he should not be permitted to defy the authorities. They agreed to go to Grimes' place to buy half a pint of whisky, and then to make a complaint against him, which was done.

The professor testified that he never drank whisky, and did not taste the stuff which he purchased. He bought it merely to ascertain if it were true, as reported, that Grimes was a violator of the law. On cross-examination by Judge Carey, for the defense, in response to a question if he did not think it dishonorable purposely to cause Grimes to commit a crime, the witness said he did not in such a case. Kelsey said he tried to be a Christian, and his part in the plan to entrap Grimes was taken at the instigation of Mr. Brookes, of the Y. M. C. A.

Assistant Secretary Wright gave corroborative evidence. He also said he did not think it was wrong to cause Grimes to sell whisky, knowing at the time, or believing at least, that Grimes had no license, and was breaking the law and making himself liable to arrest and punishment.

Grimes and his wife testified that the place is closed, and has been since his license expired last March.

M. S. Carter also testified that Grimes' place is shut.

Grimes has been trying for some time to obtain another license, but the electors in the precinct have filed a remonstrance containing many names against it. The case was submitted to the jury at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and at a late hour no agreement had been reached.

For some unexplained reason, none of the residents at Montavilla who have complained against saloons, appeared in the courtroom to testify against the accused.

WANT TO UNLOAD PARTNER.

Rosen and Jackson Say Peterson Neglects the Business.

Suit for the appointment of a receiver and dissolution of partnership was instituted in the State Circuit Court yesterday by A. Rosen and E. Jackson against C. Peterson. They engaged in business on May 30, 1902, as the Enterprise Planing Mills Company. Rosen and Jackson set forth in their complaint that Peterson drinks too much, and neglects business and absents himself from the mill where he should be performing his share of work with the others. The further statement is made that Peterson has been informed that a separation is desired and has refused a dissolution of the firm on reasonable terms, and asked much more for his share than he is willing to give for that of his partners. It is also asserted that Peterson demands cash down for his interest, but if he buys wants his partners to wait six months for the money. They say they are willing to either buy or sell on an equitable basis. Failing to reach an agreement, they ask the court to settle the matter.

DIVORCE AND HER DOWRY.

Anna Lundberg Wants Both Saying Husband Is Cruel.

Anna Lundberg has sued Charles Lundberg for a divorce, on the grounds of cruel treatment. She alleges that he has called her vile names on numerous occasions, has refused to provide for her, and she is compelled to depend on her grown children for support.

Mrs. Lundberg avers further that she and her husband owned 13 acres of land and that in 1898 under the influence of Lundberg she signed a deed conveying the undivided one-half of the tract to Caroline and Otto Pierce. She asserts that the deed was without consideration and asks to have the conveyance set aside. For the latter purpose Mr. and Mrs. Pierce are included as defendants in the case. The plaintiff also asks that Lundberg be required to pay $100 fees to her attorney.

DENIES HIS CONFESSION.

Saylor Is No Sooner Bailed Out Than He Changes Front.

Norman Saylor, who was arrested for placing spikes on the railroad track near Bridal Veil, and causing the wreck of the Spokane flyer on Sunday, June 7, was released by Justice Reed yesterday on $300 bonds. The day of examination has not yet been set. The reason of the low bail is that Saylor is supposed to be simple-minded, and there is thought to be no danger of his running away. His friends and relatives will see that this does not occur.

Saylor made a confession to Deputy District Attorney Spencer in the County Jail, but as soon as he got out he denied that he is guilty, and speaking to his attorney, George W. Joseph, regarding the confession, said, "They made me do it."

Carhart Again Sues Scholz.

George C. Carhart yesterday began suit in the State Circuit Court against William Scholz for possession of two feet of ground at the intersection of Elm street and Mississippi avenue, valued at $500. Carhart has also filed a suit against Scholz to have him enjoined from moving a fence. The same parties recently had a legal battle over a sewer connection.

Sentence on Petty Thief.

William Rowland, charged with stealing a watch in a dwelling-house belonging to Nellie Whittle, pleaded guilty to petit larceny yesterday and was sentenced by Judge Cleland to three months in the County Jail.

CHARGES BOON COMPANION

William J. Dyer Says J. C. Brown Robbed Him of $275.

Charged with stealing $275, a gold watch and chain ,and a Colt's revolver, J. C. Brown was yesterday placed under arrest by Detective Frank Snow.

William J. Dyer, who has recently come to Portland from Baker City, made the complaint. He says that he is sure that Brown took his money, watch and gun.

"I will be willing to let the case drop," said he to Brown, "if you will give me back my watch and gun. I am willing to let you keep the $275." The detectives did not like this arrangement, however, and locked Brown up on a charge of larceny from the person.

Coincident with Dyer's arrival in Oregon's metropolis Monday night was a little celebration, during which he became very drunk. During his spree Brown was his companion, and assisted him to spend the money he had laid aside for this celebration.

"Brown went home with me, and we went to bed together," said Dyer. "But in the morning, before I was awake, he got up, went through my pockets and left."

"I did not go home with him," said Brown. "I was with him until we left Blazier's saloon, about 3:30 in the morning, and then we parted. I went home, and he said that he was going home."

Brown is a man of honest appearance, and people who know him say that he is a hard-working man. The case will be tried today in the Municipal Court.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Good Vaudeville at the Empire.

On the occasion of the second performance at the Empire last night that theater was crowded to the doors and as on the opening night the acts were voted the best that had been seen in vaudeville in Portland. James Dunn stated the ball rolling with his clever mimicry. Krafft and Dalley, Tom Hill, the quaint comedy musician; Howard Powers and Dainty Dolly Theobald all did their share, while Little Blossom, a coon singer of ability, and Lester and Curtain were recalled many times before the audience could be satisfied. Hathaway and Walton are down on the programme as singers and dancers and without a doubt they danced their way into the hearts of the audience. Hathaway in particular is a dancer of no mean ability. The bill, taken as a whole, contains much merit and makes good the management's promise of high-class vaudeville. The first matinee performance at the new theater will be given Wednesday, and there will be matinee performances every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

Ralph Stuart in "The Virginian."

Ralph Stuart and his clever company are in the midst of their last week at the Baker this season, and the many friends of the company are turning out in force to bid them good-bye. "The Virginian," a comedy drama made famous by Frank Mayo, is the bill, and, aside from being an excellent drama, its comedy situations are delightful. No better play could have been chosen for the farewell week, as it gives the entire company a chance to appear to advantage. Ralph Stuart as Van sustains the part of the whole-souled, always ready to do good Southerner to perfection, while Frank Camp in the comedy role shows that he can carry a humorous role as well as act the villain. Miss MacGregor looks winsome and pretty and as usual plays the role intrusted to her in a painstaking and careful manner. The rest of the company are cast to advantage, and the play is superbly mounted.

High-Class Vaudeville.

Despite the rainy night, Cordray's house was full of vaudeville patrons last night, and one of the best entertainments of the character that has appeared in Portland was the result of the efforts of the nine distinct teams of artists. The human flag is the big winner this week, and it is also a fact that not one of the other numbers can be called anything but good. Next week the big thing comes off when Mr. Shields moves out to his Summer park at Thirteenth and Washington streets, which last season was the Mecca of all amusement lovers. The park is not recognizable in its many alterations and improvements. Until Sunday night, when the vaudeville attractions will be moved there, the merry whirl will go on at Cordray's.

Noted Violinist at the Marquam.

The subject of paramount importance in Portland musical circles this week is the forthcoming recital to be given at the Marquam Grand Theater next Saturday evening by William Wallace Graham, the talented young Portland violinist, who has just returned after a course of six and a half years study in Europe. It is at the earnest request of numerous friends and admirers that Mr. Graham consented to give this recital, and persons who have received invitations are counting themselves indeed fortunate. The box office of the Marquam Grand will be open next Friday for the exchange of these invitations for reserved seat tickets. It is especially requested that all persons holding invitations turn them in that day.

Return of the Baker Company.

After an absence of eight weeks, the Baker Theater Company will make its reappearance at that popular playhouse, starting Sunday afternoon next, June 21. During the first week at home "A Gilded Fool," a comedy in which Nat Goodwin appeared with much success, will be given. Since appearing here last, two new faces have been added to that already capable organization, Miss Etheylene Palmer and Miss Ruby Miguel. Both are spoken of as being handsome, well-gowned and clever artists. "A Gilded Fool" will receive a correct and proper presentation in the hands of the Baker Company, and many elaborate things in the way of stage settings and accessories are promised. Seats are now on sale for the engagement, and from the many inquiries the house will be well sold before the opening performance Sunday.

New People at Empire Next Week.

At the Empire starting Monday next the management announces some new faces and clever high-class acts, among whom are Johnny World and Edith Kingston, who will be remembered as being seen in Portland some time ago. At the Maquam Grand in "Town Topics" they were the stars of that organization. Since leaving "Town Topics" they have entered vaudeville, and have appeared in all the leading Eastern vaudeville houses, meeting with great success. The remainder of the new faces and acts to appear the coming week will be announced later.
