The re-parts of the officers showed that the or-ganization in Oregon is in a flourishing ondition. At the opening of the present year the membership of the order in the state was 1885. Since that time a number have joined and the total roll has increased notwithstanding the loss from death and honorable discharge. It was reported, however, that not half of the veterans of the Civil War living in Oregon are members of the Grand Army. At the close of the council meeting the

FIRST VISIT FOR 22 YEARS

Abel George, Pioneer of 1845, Recalls the Early Days.

Abel George, a pioneer of 1845, and his wife, who have been visiting Portland and other places for about a week past, left yesterday for their home at Fern-dale. Wash. Abel George is a coustn of Judge M. C. George, and has many oldtime friends in Portland who were much pleased to meet him. It was his first visit here in 22 years, and he arranged it so as here in 22 years, and he arranged it so as to be here during the ploneer and In-dian War Veterans' gatherings. Mr. George is 75 years of age, his wife is 75 and they have been married 55 years. He says that the first time he was in Port-land was in February, 1946, when he paused through on his way from Oregon City to the Cascades. TRYING 10 CATCH THEM

Police Making Frantic Efforts to Find the Elusive Highwaymen.

A mistake in a telegram sent by Chief of Police Hunt yesterday allowed two men thought to have been connected with the recent Portland hold-ups to escape. An effort is being made to cause their rearrest, but last night no clew to the course taken by the men after they were released at The Dalles had been obtained. The arrest was made by City Marshal

Wood. He saw the two men get off of the train and recognized one of them as an ex-convict. He regarded them with suspicion and placed them under arrest. When searched, they were found to be armed with revolvers, and concealed in their hats were black masks. Sand bags and other things used by thugs in the hold-up business were found upon their person. They were tried on a charge of, carrying concealed weapons, and, after being fined $10 each, were allowed their liberty. As soon as Chief Hunt learned that the men were arrested, he wired to The Dailes to hold them until an officer could arrive to bring them back to Portland. By some mightee the message was not received in time, and in the afternoon the Chief received word that the men had been allowed to go, but had started in the direction of this city. Sieps were taken at once to apprehend them, but in-quiry proved that they had not come in this direction. Chief Hunt is now making a strong effort to locate the men.

The conditions in Eastern Oregon and a por-tion of the Willamette Valley were set forth by Bishop Morris. Today he will conclude his address, touching upon the remainder of the sinte, and particularly remainder of the state, and particularly Portland. Bishop Funsten, of Boise, Idaho, who is bishop of the diocese of Idaho, was pres-ent at the session of the convention last evening, but took no part in the exercises.

Following came roll call, when more the churches of the diocese answered representatives. Reports were then from officers of the various auxilia showing work in all lines, including for churches, missions and hospitals. reports were considered satisfactory Mrs. Oaks read a report of the "Chi Periodical Society." which had distribu-reading matter where needed. Mrs. F

J. Sellwood, secretary of the auxiliar read an exhaustive report on the w and finances of the year. Bishop Morris, who had been an in ested spectator during the session, sponded to a call with a short add He said he would introduce another n the one who was the bishop of 1d which was first under the jurisdictio Bishop Scott, of Portland, in the '50s, who had to travel 500 miles by boat stage to reach that state. Bishop Mo at the close introduced Rev. Mr. Fun who told of the work of the Wom Auxiliary in Idaho. He said that its portant achievement was the establ ment of a very fine bospital at Boise Rev. Clarence H. Lake, rector of
