

AT WORK AND PLAY

Grand Army Encampment Has a Busy Day.

RELIEF CORPS HAS ELECTION

Mrs. Schenck, of Toledo, is Next President-Ride Around the City and Campfire-Ladies of G. A. R. Install Officers.

After a busy day, in which work was happily mingled with pleasure, the Grand Army of Oregon last night wound up its session with a campfire, at which patriotism and good-fellowship bubbled over from an assemblage which crowded Grand Army Hall to the limit. The morning and evening were given up to pleasure and the afternoon to business.

The day was begun by the Grand Army Encampment, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. with a ride through the city to almost all points reached by the City & Suburban Railway. Ten open cars, each with a capacity of 50 persons, were placed at their disposal. They went to Burnside, Mount Tabor, Nob Hill and Fulton, and were as merry, laughing and talkative as a party of boys and girls out for a picnic, although most of the heads were gray, and nearly all could boast of grandchildren. On their return the Grand Army delegates were entertained at dinner by the two organizations of women.

The Grand Army's business session lasted from 2 to 5 P. M., and wound up the work of the encampment. It passed a resolution heartily endorsing the Lewis and Clark Fair. A resolution was also passed highly commending the work of the Woman's Relief Corps. The action of the Legislative committee on the erection of cottages at the State Soldiers' Home was endorsed, and the committee was continued. This action related to a resolution of the last Legislature in favor of the erection of cottages to be occupied by the dependent families of veterans in the Home. Ex-Commander Shipley refused to allow the erection of the cottages, giving as a reason that there was no room.

An appropriation of $100 was made for the maintenance of headquarters for Oregon at the next National encampment to be held at San Francisco beginning on August 17.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That this department of the Grand Army of the Republic, realizing the suffering of our comrades living in poverty and vicinity, occasioned by the late flood, do authorize the assistant adjutant-general to send $100 to be expended for their relief."

At 5 o'clock in the evening the veterans and their families and the members of the several local Woman's Relief Corps flocked to Grand Army Hall until standing room was at a premium. The National flag, the banner of the department, and the pictures of the great commanders of the Civil War, which adorned the walls, formed a fit setting for the lively scene, in which the oldest veterans merriest and the weight of years and cares were forgotten. Major G. E. Calkin presided, and so high were the spirits and so constant the flow of conversation that he might have compared his audience to a roomful of unruly boys and girls.

Judge John F. Chaplin began the proceedings with a stirring speech in which he recalled at what cost the Union was saved. He gave the women as much credit as the men, saying that when a mother lost one of her sons in the war, she went out another, telling him to die on the field or bring back victory. Then he called for three cheers for the men of the Grand Army and then for the women who gave them. He followed this with a given with a will. He called for the grandest cheer ever made, the loyal women of the United States, and the old boys proved that their gallantry was not given with a will. Last he called on the women to stand and give three cheers for the men, and they gave them with a right good will.

Everybody was in the humor to laugh by this time, and J. E. Staples gave the excuse with his laughing song, "The Limerick Club." His refrain was a laugh which seemed to come from the soles of his shoes, and the audience soon began laughing with him. As an encore he gave "Tommy Thomas," and this suited his hearers so well that he was obliged to give another laughing song, "Tom Johnson," adapted to the occasion. He was accompanied by Mrs. Staples on the piano and she gave him a vocal accompaniment to his first song.

Then came coffee and sandwiches, which were consumed amid a babble of laughter and moving to and fro to exchange greetings. This was interrupted by the rapping of Major Calkin's gavel, and all eyes were turned to him. He was a grizzled veteran who stood beside him. He announced that the stranger was James R. Mather, of Company B, Ninth Kansas Cavalry, who wished to know if there was any man present who had been in that regiment.

"My brother was in that regiment," spoke a voice close beside Mr. Mather, which proved to be that of J. C. Cooper, the past department commander. There was an instant handshake and exchange of further particulars. Mr. Cooper said that his brother's name was W. H. Cooper and that he was a soldier at Stayton. After this brief diversion Miss Julia Cole gave a characteristic sketch in German dialect, which well earned the double encore it got. Miss Annie Diltchman next sang gracefully and in sweet tones Denna's "May Morning," and the demand for an encore was so persistent that she had to give "Eavesdropping," by Neil, which she rendered with good expression.

Miss Adele Horsman gave the patriotic recitation, "After the Battle," after the ice cream and cake had been passed around, and the night was spent in pleasures equally delightful.

RELIEF CORPS OFFICERS.

Women Hold Election and Receive Reports Showing Prosperity.

The convention of the Woman's Relief Corps of Oregon did a great deal of business yesterday afternoon, for it received the reports of the retiring officers and elected most of the new ones. The reports showed that there were 101 members in the state, a healthy increase during the year. A new camp has been organized at Pendleton, under the name of Kit Carson. No. 8. The department is also in better condition financially than ever before.

The election of officers began with a spirited but good-natured contest for the presidency. In which Mrs. Rose M. Schenck, of Toledo, was elected after three ballots. The other officers elected are: Senior vice-president, Mrs. Mary B. Yarrington, of Eugene; Junior vice-president, Mrs. Hinkle, of Hubbard; treasurer, Miss Mamie Wakefield, of Toledo; delegates-at-large to the National convention, Mrs. Jennie B. Harding, of Oregon City; Mrs. Helen Packard, of George Wright Camp, No. 2, of Portland; and Miss Clinton, of Astoria.

A letter from Mrs. Emily Kelly, of Heppner, the retiring Junior vice-president, was read, in which she explained that she was too busy with the relief of the flood sufferers to attend. An appropriation of $50 was made for the relief of the members of Heppner Corps who had suffered by the flood.

The corps is co-operating with the Grand Army in making plans to secure a site for cottages for those families of veterans who are dependent on inmates of the Soldiers' Home. The desire is to have these cottages either on the Soldiers' Home ground or adjoining it, so that the families can live near and not be entirely separated from the father.

The election of officers will be completed this morning, and then their installation will complete the business of the session.

LADIES OF G. A. R. INSTALL.

Ritual Exemplified and Addresses Given by Grand Army Men.

After Winslow-Meade Circle No. 7 of Portland had regaled many of the veterans with dinner at Workman Hall at noon, the convention of the Ladies of the G. A. R. settled to an afternoon of business. The new state officers were installed according to the ritual, and then Winslow-Meade Circle exemplified the ritual. A friendly visit was paid by a committee to the Grand Army Encampment and was returned by several of the leading comrades, who addressed the ladies and were received with much enthusiasm. The speakers were Comrades Thomas Dealey, of Astoria, the senior vice-commander; Montague, of Arlington; Miller, and B. J. Clark, of Portland, and Chapman, of Eugene.

In the evening a campfire was given to ex-soldiers, regardless of the order to which they belong, and two happy hours were spent in singing, giving recitations and hearing addresses, as well as refreshing the inner man.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. is an organization of women which differs from the Woman's Relief Corps in that it restricts membership to blood relatives of veterans, and, as it includes daughters and nieces under its folds, is designed to perpetuate the memory of the war after all those who took part in it have passed away. Mr. Dealey, in explaining its status, said to an Oregonian reporter: "The Ladies of the G. A. R. are recognized by the Grand Army all through the United States and all commanders-in-chief are honorary members; in fact, they admit all members of the G. A. R. as honorary members."

The Woman's Relief Corps denies the claim of the Ladies of the G. A. R. to be recognized as an auxiliary and boasts that, while its ranks are largely filled up with relatives of veterans, they are open to any loyal women. D. H. Turner, the newly elected department commander, explained the status of the two organizations thus:

"The Woman's Relief Corps is the only authorized auxiliary, for only the National Encampment has authority to recognize an auxiliary, and it has not recognized the Ladies of the G. A. R. The Department of Oregon recognizes that the ladies are doing work for the veterans and is quite friendly to them."

NEW CONSTRUCTION STOPS

Strike Leaves Only Enough Linemen at Work to Make Repairs.

No serious inconvenience to the telephone system of the city is threatened by the linemen's strike. The company will have half a dozen more linemen at work within a week, and these, with the force now employed, are sufficient to do all repair work required here.

The 40 men who have quit work are missed by the company, however, as no more construction work can be done until they return, or an expected number of non-union linemen present themselves.

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dexter Rice, of Roseburg, registered at the Perkins hotel, yesterday.

A. Brannin, Jr., and bride, of Whatcom, are at the Imperial. They will spend several days here.

Mrs. E. S. Frame, 481 Chapman street, Portland Heights, has gone to the seaside for a few days.

J. M. Shelley, of Eugene, a member of the lower house of the Legislature, registered at the Imperial yesterday.

Dr. Thomas Condon, professor of geology at the University of Oregon at Eugene, passed through Portland yesterday on his way to White Salmon, where he will visit his son for a few days.

Miss N. A. Hickman, a professor in Whitworth College, Tacoma, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. S. H. Holt, left last evening for California, where she will take a special course in the Berkeley Summer School.

C. A. Burden, instructor in physical culture at the University of Oregon, left for Victoria, Thursday, accompanied by his bride. Mr. and Mrs. Burden were married at Eugene Tuesday.

Miss Hovey, of the well-known family of that name at Eugene.

Dr. Alexander Blackburn, of the First Baptist Church of this city, has been invited to be one of the preachers at the great assembly of the Baptists at Martha's Vineyard, near Boston. He will probably accept and enjoy an outing with his old friends in New England. This is the largest gathering of the sort in the country, many prominent men being present from both the North and the South.

Rev. J. V. Milligan, Sunday School missionary for the synod of Oregon of the Presbyterian Church, has received the degree of doctor of divinity from Illinois University, Kansas. Rev. Mr. Milligan has been in missionary work among the Sunday schools for the past two years.

For a number of years Mr. J. H. Porter, of the Marshall-Street Presbyterian Church of Portland, thence removing to Boise, Idaho, and from there to Ellensburg, Wash. Two years ago he returned to Portland.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Special.—New York city people registered at New York hotels today in the following order: Portland—Murray Hill, E. F. Failing, Spokane—Imperial, J. W. Douglas and wife.

Whatcom, Wash.—Alberta, Miss H. Delinger. Seattle—Astoria, A. C. Dresbach.

Street Petitions Considered. The usual bunch of street petitions came up before the Council street committee at its regular meeting yesterday. In most cases the petitions were granted, but in the matter of the proposed bridge on Williams avenue, it was decided that a bill would be better for all concerned.

Residents of Penitentiary Park protested against the way the City & Suburban Railway Company used part of Penitentiary avenue at Pippin street. This street has been but recently improved, and the street car tracks are still about four feet higher than the street.

It was said that the company had been invited to lower the tracks, but had not done so, and the Council will take the matter up at the meeting Wednesday afternoon.

New Kind of Life Insurance. For twenty-five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious result from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. The remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. For sale by all druggists.

PORTLAND AGAIN CHOSEN

TEACHERS VOTE ON MEETING PLACE FOR NEXT YEAR.

D. A. Groat, of Portland, is Elected President—Sessions Will End at Noon Today.

The next meeting of the State Teachers' Association will be held in Portland. In spite of invitations from Astoria, Salem, Oregon City and McMinnville and some antagonism on the part of representatives from the latter town, this decision was reached at yesterday morning's session of the association.

President B. L. Penrose, of Whitman College, Walla Walla, addressed the general meeting in the morning on "Recent Developments of Education." He said in part:

"Teachers are apt to overlook the significance and importance of education. The attention of the world is turned to distributing the scholarships among the colleges.

At the conclusion of the discussion the following officers were elected to serve the department of secondary and higher education during the ensuing year: Professor J. B. Horner, Oregon Agricultural College, president; Dr. J. R. Wilson, Portland Academy, vice-president; Professor R. R. Steele, Portland High School, secretary; Dr. H. D. Sheldon, University of Oregon, treasurer; President A. M. Brumback, McMinnville College, editor. Members of the executive committee: President E. D. Resler, of the Monmouth State Normal School; President W. N. Ferrin, of Pacific University; Principal T. T. Davis, of the Portland High School; Professor J. P. O'Hara, of Columbia University, and Miss Emma Chase, of the Eugene High School.

At the city superintendents' and principals' section, in room 11, at 3 A. M. A. F. Bechtolt, of Eugene, read an unusually good paper. His subject was "The Relation of Superintendent to Pedagogical Movements of the Times." At the afternoon session of the section, A. L. Briggs, of Cottage Grove, spoke on "Co-operation of Teachers and Parents."

In the department of superintendence, at the morning session, "Local Meetings"

Miss Elizabeth K. Matthews, Portland; (c) Written Work, H. D. Sheldon, Eugene. "Geography," Miss Sarah Tuthill, Monmouth.

Third grade section—"Children's Ideals as a Factor in Education," H. D. Pattengill; "Nature Study," A. B. Cordley, Corvallis.

Second grade section—"Nature Study," A. R. Sweetser, Eugene; "Supplies for Busy Work, Care and Distribution," Miss Loretta Smith, Monmouth.

First grade section—"Numbers," William F. Cameron, Astoria; "Language," H. D. Pattengill.

The general meeting was opened in the afternoon by a song in chorus, followed by a cleverly rendered dialogue in song by Miss Florence and Master Allan Dickinson.

The election of officers for the ensuing year followed, resulting in D. A. Groat, of Portland, and also president the second vice-president, being chosen president by a unanimous vote. E. V. Littlefield, of McMinnville, was unanimously elected first vice-president. The position of second vice-president was contested for by Miss Alpha L. Dimmick, principal of the Brooklyn School, and B. L. Mulkey, of the Ashland State Normal School. Neither of the contestants was present or there would have been no contest, but after several votes by ayes and noes, as well as rising votes, the honor fell to the Ashland candidate. Secretary G. W. Jones, of Salem, was unanimously re-elected secretary, this being the fourth consecutive year that he has served the association in this capacity. Miss C. A. Barnes was unanimously elected treasurer.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, secretary of the State Board of Health, spoke upon protection against contagious diseases through the school. He said that he did not believe it necessary to close schools during epidemics of contagious diseases, but on the contrary that with careful teachers the school was the proper place for children at such times. This assertion met with a storm of applause. He then stated that the State Board of Health proposed to introduce the use of the clinical thermometer into the public schools as safeguards against sickness. He also said that the teacher should be a diagnostician, and that when a child was found to be suffering from a complaint the teacher could easily learn to detect it readily and report the case to the parents with the request that something be done. Dr. Hutchinson stated that three out of five cases of alleged stupidity in students was due to defective eyesight and hearing. He also proposed the use of charts to test the students' eyesight. His address was listened to with intense interest and upon its conclusion was heartily applauded.

Miss Laura G. Thomas has contributed materially to the interesting programmes of the association meetings with her clever impersonations and literary numbers. Yesterday afternoon the teachers applauded her number, "Encouragement," so heartily that Miss Thomas was compelled to respond to two encores.

In the afternoon at the superintendent's department meeting the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Superintendent C. L. Starr, of Polk County; Vice-president, Superintendent E. T. Moore, of Marion County; Secretary-Treasurer, Superintendent George W. Denman, of Benton County.

Dr. Woods Hutchinson, secretary of the State Board of Health, discussed the work of the State Board of Health, and what it proposed to undertake, and asked the advice of the department of superintendence in reference to plans for dissemination of literature and information, making effective the law recently passed upon this subject.

After careful discussion the department of superintendence, by resolution, expressed a willingness to co-operate with the State Board of Health and assist in the distribution of pamphlets and literature, giving information in regard to construction of school buildings, prevention of contagious diseases, preparation of meals and other kindred subjects.

One of the centers of interest in the art exhibit prepared by Miss Knox, supervisor of drawing in Portland public schools. Work is shown from all grades, and includes paper folding, pencil, pen-and-ink work and water colors.

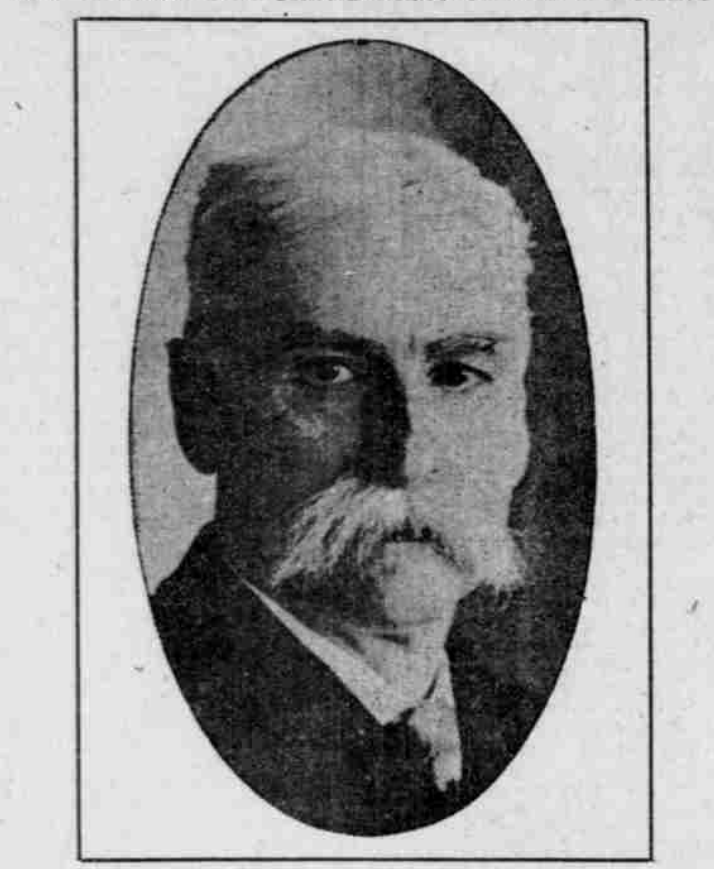

The association will conclude its programme at noon today.

Wrote Poem for Chase Clan.

Mrs. Mary Kenworthy, wife of John Kenworthy, has just received an invitation to attend the reunion of the Chase of which she is a member, which assemblies in Augusta, N. Y., next Saturday. She also received a request that she write the poem for the occasion. This Chase traces its ancestry back to 1638, and numbers many hundreds of descendants. Mrs. Kenworthy will not be able to attend, but has already written and forwarded the poem, which will be read by a member of the clan at the reunion. She has been a resident of East Portland since 1874, and has written verses of considerable merit.

No route across the continent offers so many attractions as does the Denver & Rio Grande. Write the Portland Agency, 124 Third street, for illustrated booklets.

NEW COMMANDER GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

D. H. TURNER, OF NEWBERG.

D. H. Turner, of Newberg, the recently elected commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for the department of Oregon, was one of the youngest soldiers in the Union Army during the Civil War. Entering twice, he served first in the One Hundred and Thirty-second, and on the second enlistment in the One Hundred and Forty-eighth Indiana Infantry. He was Corporal in the One Hundred and Forty-eighth when mustered out, in July, 1865. General Thomas, the commander of the Army of the Cumberland, was his General the greater portion of the time.

Commander Turner is now a well-preserved man of 57 years. He came to Oregon 20 years ago, and has since then engaged principally in the dry goods business. From the first he has taken particular interest in the Grand Army, and his election comes largely as a reward for his constant attendance at the post meetings. He is also commander of George Wright Post, of Portland. In addition to his other services, he was Assistant Quartermaster-General under General Sumner, and Assistant Adjutant-General under General Cooper.

this subject. The first article of our National creed is, 'We believe in opportunity for every individual.'

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

"We will stay out together and force the telephone company to grant the uniform scale which we want," said one of the local strikers yesterday. "No, we had no particular complaint here, but we must stand together if we want to get anything out of a company. The linemen in other towns had complaints, and as we all work for the same concern, it is necessary to make a concerted move. I do not believe many linemen can be won over from the East to take our places. Too many of them belong to our brotherhood."

was the subject of I. H. Copeland's remarks. He stated the local meeting to be one of the best ways of working up interest in the school, and harmony and sympathy in the neighborhood. The subject was also discussed by George Bethers, of Toledo, and S. I. Pratt, of Philomath College.

"Eighth Grade Examinations" was the subject for discussion by E. V. Littlefield, of McMinnville; William M. Miller, of Eugene, and J. H. Cochran, of Oakland. At the afternoon session of the department of superintendence, E. E. Bragg, of Union; F. B. Hamlin, of Roseburg, and William F. Cameron, of Astoria, discussed the subject, "Should a Person Be Required by Legislative Enactment to Complete the Work of the Tenth Grade, or its Equivalent, Before Receiving a Certificate as Teacher?"

During the morning session of the seventh and eighth-grade section, "The Preparation of the Lesson at School," while L. R. Alderman, of McMinnville, dealt with the subject from the home point of view. In the afternoon "Read's Graded Lessons in English as a Basis for Language Training" was discussed by D. A. Groat, of Portland, and the work "As a Basis for Technical Grammar" was discussed by L. O. Hall, of Mount Tabor.

At the fifth and sixth grade section meeting in the forenoon, B. F. Mulkey, of Astoria, addressed the meeting, the subject of his address being "Nature Study." In the afternoon "Composition Work" was the subject for discussion. A. M. Sanders, of Roseburg, spoke on "Spelling and Language," while J. H. Orcutt, of Drain, considered the subject in regard to "Its Application to Practical Affairs."

Following is the programme of the other grade sections for yesterday: Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Fourth grade section, 9 A. M.—"Waste in Elementary Work." (a) Arithmetic, F. Young, Grant's Pass; (b) Language, F. Young, Grant's Pass.

Meredith Nicholson's work is an excellent example of the best sort of American fiction

It expresses and embodies the highest characteristics of a strictly national genius. Its style and atmosphere are as distinctly American as are the personalities within its pages.

The book is full of clean, crisp humor, bright dialogue and much plain, hard common sense, and will stand as an excellent record of the life and times it represents.

—Philadelphia Telegraph.

that's what THE MAIN CHANCE is

The Bobbs-Merrill Company, Publishers.

Primitive Man left no stone unturned to reap the benefits of the nutritive cocoa seed

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate

is a strictly pure Cocoa preparation rendered palatable and available for immediate use. It is one of the most potent aids in maintaining strength and health, and as a delicious, comforting drink it has no equal.

