

ROASTED TO A TURN

Dr. Hare's Opinion of His Majesty McBride.

HIS VETOES FOR VENGEANCE

Speaker of Washington House Approves Robertson's Stand and Makes Merciless Analysis of Governor's Political Course.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—A letter received this week by W. W. Robertson, of the Yakima Republic, from Dr. W. H. Hare, speaker of the House of Representatives, who was elected from this county, a review is made of the hostility of Governor McBride toward Yakima County. Dr. Hare congratulates Mr. Robertson upon the stand he took in withdrawing from the Louisiana Purchase Commission when the announcement was made of Charles Reed's appointment to succeed Thomas P. Westendorf as superintendent of the Chehalis Reformatory. Continuing, Dr. Hare gives some interesting political history. He says in part: "The representatives from our county last session of the legislature, Mr. Dunn and myself, were made to feel the oppressive enmity of a Governor who regards with personal disdain or hatred everyone who does not choose to follow him or accept his 'dictatorial' policies. Because we preferred to vote for a United States Senator of our own choice, rather than for the choice of the Governor, we were classified by him as 'suspects.' When all was over, and the Legislature adjourned, he vetoed the vital measures we had been interested in passing on behalf of the county: The sugar bounty, the Naches road bill and the County Treasury reimbursement account, which even the State Auditor had approved upon as correct and just. This was executive vengeance, not economy, as he blandly asserted. "Men familiar with the life of the two last Legislatures are in no sense deceived as to the Governor's character, aims and insincerity. The Governor's plea of solicitude for the taxpayers, in carrying out his veto retentions, is a mockery and an insult to public intelligence. "How does it come that he allowed one $500 appropriation for a trout hatchery on Lake Chelan to stand while he erased a similar provision for Lake Crescent on the west side? The House and Senate had agreed that one proposition was as meritorious as the other. But it is in these little things we shall find the pettiness of his exculpation. E. P. Fiske was one of the Governor's aids-de-camp in the Legislature and the Governor's private secretary, are property-owners on Lake Chelan. Of course, they had to be accommodated on their own terms, while the great trout lake of Chelan County, really more in need of a hatchery than Chelan, had to do without, because Mr. Palmer, the Representative from Chelan, which is claiming for a railroad connection with the outer world, had been supported by his constituents in refusing to follow the Governor in his railroad commission campaign. Chelan County had to be punished for disobedience to his majesty's wishes. "It might be asked further what quality or type of mind in a chief magistrate is it that would permit the appropriation of $200 for the installation of the pictures of our Governors (including himself), and then veto, under the pretext of economy, an appropriation of $50 to pay for the frames enclosing the pictures of the several Legislatures which had been presented as a gift to the state. A parallel to this incredible littleness in the Governor of a modern state would be impossible to find. "And speaking of political insincerity, it is well to consider McBride's railroad commission scheme in the light of his own conduct. His original plan, while Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate, was to deprive George Rogers of the appointive prerogative, and appropriate to himself the power of appointing and removing the railroad commissioners. The bill ever passed in the state, known as the tax commission bill, was vetoed by Governor McBride after the last session, for the actual reason was to shield to him what he vainly tried to do to Governor Rogers. This bill gave to the board of equalization such appointive power as was provided for, and that power could not have been lodged in a more bedditting place. "Although not current political history, it is well known among those who follow the inner courses of state politics, that McBride, in 1891, after having been elected by the legislative majority, sought to compromise with Governor Rogers in such manner as to obtain dominance in the proposed railroad commission. The parliament bill provided for two Republican and one Democratic appointees. If McBride could name or be the indorsee-in-chief of the two Republicans, he, in the last ditch of the compromise, sought to accept the principle of the Tolman bill, which reposed the appointive power in Governor Rogers. He called on the Governor with the idea in view of making this agreement, but Rogers saw through his motives at once, and joyfully informed him that he would appoint two Republicans who were in sympathy with the railroad development. This ended the compromise. Governor Rogers simply would not lend himself to the upbuilding of a McBride railroad commission machine, and he knew that the bill giving him the appointive power could not pass unless he agreed to do so. "As another example of insincerity we may take the fate of the Congressional appointment bill of 1901. Governor McBride talks a good deal of the constitutional requirement relating to a railway commission. In this he is mistaken as to interpretation, inasmuch as the mandatory provision of the constitution, the Legislature 'shall regulate' rates, while in the secondary claim it is conferred as a power to provide for a railway commission. "But how about the Congressional re-appointment? This is specifically mandatory—a Legislative duty to be performed at each session succeeding the Federal census. "The bill that passed the House in 1901 in conformity to the constitution, was thoroughly considered in committee and on the floor. But in McBride's eyes it had one glaring and irredeemable fault. The partitioning of the congressional districts assured King County a Congressional seat, and for at least ten years made it impossible for McBride's northwest commission to control a Congressional nomination in that district. Governor Rogers then gave promise of living many years and the Lieutenant-Governor, with an eye on the future of the political field, held himself in no mean light as a possible candidate for the lower house of Congress. For this reason he chose to hold the constitution in contempt, and as chairman of the sitting committee in the Senate, he killed the bill by keeping it off the calendar in spite of every protest and pleading. "Dr. Hare closes with an indorsement of Westendorf.

LARGE NOME HOTEL BURNED. Steamer Passenger Arrives From the North With Passengers and Mast. SEATTLE, June 29.—The steamer Senator arrived in port this morning from Nome, the third vessel out from Behring Sea. The Senator brought $40,000 in gold from the Nome country and several passengers. She arrived at her northern destination June 14, after battling with the ice for more than two weeks. The ice was so thick in Behring Sea on the way southward that the vessel was delayed fully a day by the flow. The Lawrence Hotel at Nome, one of the largest hotels in the town, was destroyed by fire just previous to the departure of the Senator, entailing a loss of fully $25,000. The day previous to the hotel being destroyed, a fire broke out in the big store of the North American Transportation & Trading Company, but was extinguished before much damage had been done. Several otherNome vessels are expected to arrive in port within the next day or two. The Portland, the first of the larger vessels to sail at the beginning of the season, had reached Nome and was discharging at the time of the Senator's departure.

IT WAS CAMPAIGN SUNDAY. License Question Thoroughly Discussed at Forest Grove.

FOREST GROVE, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—It was campaign Sunday yesterday at the Congregational Church, both morning and evening services being given over to the discussion of the licensing of a saloon, the issue which is to be put before the people at the special city election next Wednesday. Superintendent C. F. Clapp, president of the Good Citizens' League, in the morning read statistics of prohibition elsewhere, especially dwelling on Kansas and the college city of Cambridge, Mass. In the evening the chilly air drove indoors the mass meeting and about 100 people assembled in Marsh Hall Auditorium, about one-third being voters. Business men had been announced speakers and after prayer by President Ferrin, Dr. Bishop, recently from Astoria, spoke. The sale of liquor we do have, he said, but why should we have the license of liquor? Mr. James, who formerly lived in Nebraska, stated that he was a radical and considered the man who sold liquor the worst kind of a murderer. Mr. Harris excited curiosity as a Kentuckian, who didn't drink, but admitted he had lived, too, in Nebraska. He had found Forest Grove had something now very like a saloon. Principles Bates discussed the matter from an ethical standpoint and Superintendent Clapp read a long list of Kansas judges who asserted prohibition had been enforced in their districts and the country prospered. Mr. Peterson, who had been a prohibition Mayor in Kansas, had come to Forest Grove because it was announced as a temperance town and had been surprised at the treating habit in business circles here. Superintendent Clapp finished and announced that another meeting would probably be held Tuesday evening. A surprise in the campaign was the statement Sunday evening by the president of the Good Citizens' League, Superintendent Clapp, that the ordinance which had been published in the last three issues of the official city paper to be voted on next Wednesday was not the same ordinance which the Council had ordered to be submitted at the voting. To this the Councilmen take exception, asserting that they know best what they adopted, and declaring that the printed ordinance is the identical one passed by them.

NORTHWEST POSTAL CHANGES. Service in Oregon, Washington and Alaska is Affected.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 29.—The following Northwest postal changes have been ordered: Oregon. The postoffice at Crane, Harney County, has been discontinued. Mail for that point will hereafter be delivered at Venator. Mary E. Bower has been appointed postmaster at Harney, Harney County, and the office moved a short distance for better accommodation. The postoffice at Reston, Douglas County, has been moved one mile to the east, and Arthur W. Johnson appointed Postmaster. The Bancroft office, in Coos County, has been moved a quarter of a mile to the north, and Charles D. Price appointed Postmaster. Washington. Four new postoffices have been established in Washington, as follows: Firwood, Klickitat County, George W. Ramey, Postmaster; Guler, Klickitat County, Charles R. Postmaster; Paradise Lake, King County, William Campbell, Postmaster; Farris, Chelan County, Mary F. Farris, Postmaster. The star route from Hood River, Or., to Bingen, Wash., has been shortened to omit Hood River, and will hereafter run only from White Salmon to Bingen. Service from Bingen to Glenwood has also been curtailed, to hereafter begin at White Salmon. NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., June 29.—(Special.)—The Fishermen's Union held a meeting here Saturday evening. A flat rate of five cents per fish was offered the fishermen by the Cannery Association for the month of July only. A member of the union stated that this offer had several restrictions, and but for them the rate would be eagerly accepted. It was decided that whatever was accepted it would be on a straight figure basis, and the sliding scale would not be considered.

WHERE ARE THE GUIDE BOARDS? Law Says Road Supervisors Shall Place Them.

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—There is no section of the road law which is more imperative in its requirements and which is more disregarded than that which makes it the duty of Road Supervisors to erect guide boards at the junction of every highway. If the law were strictly followed no Supervisor could draw his salary until he had erected guideboards wherever roads unite or cross, yet it is remarked by everyone who travels in the country in this section of the state that there are very few such boards in evidence. Newcomers in particular notice the absence of guideboards. The subject is the subject of section 30 of the latest edition of Oregon road laws and reads as follows: "Every supervisor shall erect and keep up at the forks of every highway and every crossing of public roads within his road district a guide or finger-board, containing an inscription in legible letters directing the way and specifying the direction to the next town or public place situated on each road, respectively; provided, that the road supervisors shall not be held liable for their failure to erect such boards until after submitting their report to the County Court, which shall have the satisfaction of the court that the provisions of this section have been complied with."

ALASKA INSPECTION TOUR. General Funston Will Find Out Why the Indians are Starving.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., June 29.—(Special.)—General Frederick Funston, accompanied by his aid, Lieutenant E. J. Mitchell, left Saturday to make his annual tour of inspection of Alaska. Owing to the steamer on which he was to sail having been declared unseaworthy, the General will not start from Seattle until Wednesday. While in Alaska the General will investigate the causes of starvation among the Indians and send a report to the Secretary of War. The Twenty-sixth Battery of Artillery, commanded by Captain H. L. Haworth, has been designated as the one to take part in the sham battle at Portland on July 4. Major Charles A. Booth, Seventeenth Infantry, has gone to Fort Flagler with a detachment of 12 recruits for the coast artillery, after which he will report to the commanding officer of the artillery district of Puget Sound for assignment to the companies of coast artillery on Puget Sound. Lieutenant Laurin L. Lawson, Eighth Battery, has been ordered to report to the commanding officer of the artillery school at Fort Monroe to take the course of instruction there on September 11. Saturday, Lieutenant Robert F. Jackson, Third Cavalry, and Lieutenant John B. Shuman, Tenth Infantry, who have been very ill at Vancouver Barracks, were sent away for treatment, Lieutenant Jackson going to the general hospital at Washington and Lieutenant Shuman under the care of an attendant at the Government Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark. Lieutenant B. F. Fenness, Twenty-sixth Battery, has returned from home and reported for duty with his company.

SALEM CARNIVAL OPENS

opening day promises well for the success of the carnival. PRIMARIES AT BOISE. J. A. Pinney or John M. Haines to be Republican Candidate for Mayor. BOISE, Idaho, June 29.—(Special.)—The Republican primaries were held this afternoon. There were some very spirited contests on the Civic League and the reformer's desiring to secure the nomination of men who will certainly enforce the law against gambling and promote other reforms and various elements, including all that class who desire a wide-open town. That contest appeared in only two of the four wards. In one the Civic League won, and in the other it was defeated. As a result of the primaries it seems that the contest for Mayor is between J. A. Pinney and John M. Haines. The latter is not an avowed candidate, while Mr. Pinney is. The element that desires to have gambling kept in subjection and yet does not desire any extreme measures such as they think the Civic League might ask for, are against Pinney and are disposed to support Haines. But it is yet impossible to tell what the result will be. The opponents of the Civic League can get enough votes for Haines, they may switch to someone else. It seems to be settled that the Democrats will nominate J. H. Hawley, Union Senator nominee of this city, and Judge Bennett, of the Dalles, District Attorney, White, of this city, and Judge Green, of Portland, presented the state's side of the case. Judge Green closed for the prosecution at 9 o'clock this evening, and Judge Eakin charged the jury immediately afterwards. Speculation among attorneys and others tonight is that under the judge's charge the verdict will be conviction or a hung jury. It is hardly probable that a verdict will be arrived at tonight. The case against ex-Deputy Sheriff Whitney, indicted jointly with Huntington, will be called for trial tomorrow morning.

SALEM CARNIVAL OPENS

SALEM, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—Salem's midsummer street carnival opened this evening with ceremonies attending the coronation of Miss Agnes Gilbert as queen. An immense crowd was present, and the first night of the week's merry-making was a complete success. The carnival grounds were one blaze of electric light, music and other entertainment were provided in continuous round, so that there was no cessation of keen enjoyment. At 8:30 o'clock the Carnival Queen arrived, accompanied by the members of her court, and was escorted to the throne, where she was greeted with tremendous cheering from the audience. N. J. Judah, manager of the carnival, presided over the ceremonies. Mayor C. P. Bishop made a brief address, turning over the dominion of the city to the queen and closing by placing upon her brow a richly jeweled crown. Governor Chamberlain followed with a felicitous inaugural address, bespeaking for the queen's reign the greatest success. After the queen's song, entitled "My Morning," by Mrs. Hallie Parrish-Hings, Queen Agnes I delivered an address from the throne. In clear, full tones that could be heard in all parts

STRIKE ON FRASER RIVER. All Union Fishermen are Called Out and Patrol Established.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 29.—The British Columbia Fishermen's Union, which has several times during the past month decided to strike at the opening of the salmon fishing season, today issued an official announcement, calling all union fishermen off the Fraser River and establishing a strikers' patrol. The strikers are preparing for packing on July 1, when the season opens. They have contracts with Japanese and nonunion whites.

PROFESSOR CHAPMAN WILL HAVE CHARGE AT THE UNIVERSITY.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, June 29.—(Special.)—Professor Frank T. Chapman, who has been engaged to take charge of the conservatory of music of Pacific University next year, is a resident of Lancaster, O. He is a graduate from the American Conservatory and has studied extensively under the best masters, both in this country and in Europe. For ten years he has been engaged as musical director in various institutions. His specialties are piano and violin, and as a conductor of chorus work. Professor Chapman will have full charge of the musical department, and will engage as many assistants as he needs. Heretofore the various teachers of music have taught and worked independently of each other, each endeavoring to build up his own department. It is believed that this action, uniting the departments, will cause a closer co-operation and serve materially the efficiency of the musical department, which is already one of the most popular and successful branches of the university.

BOND ELECTION POSTPONED. Flaw is Discovered in the Published Notice.

CORVALLIS, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—A school election for issue of bonds that was to have occurred here today, was postponed by the School Board to July 2. The school building is no longer large enough to house all the school children. Some of the rooms have been so partitioned as to make two rooms out of one. In addition, last year, an old church building was used for the primary grade. Even with these added facilities, some of the teachers had as many as 60 pupils. On account of these conditions, the board has proposed an issue of $200,000 in bonds to provide for additional school rooms, and this was set for the voting. This morning, however, a flaw was discovered in the published notice of the election, and in the effort to make all the steps legal, a new election has been undertaken.

HIS BODY IS RECOVERED

REMAINS OF JOHN C. VAN DYKE TAKEN FROM ROGUE RIVER. Medford Coroner Decides That the Drowning Was Such as to Require No Inquest.

MEDFORD, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—The body of John C. VanDyke, who was drowned in Rogue River yesterday, was recovered this afternoon. Over 100 citizens and friends in Medford worked from dark last night until 2 o'clock this morning with lanterns, grabhooks and boats. About 11 o'clock last night his hat was found, about 60 yards from where he was last seen. Just at daylight this morning J. W. Mahoney, M. F. McCown and J. D. Fay found his fishing rod about 20 yards beyond where the hat was found. At daylight a systematic search of the river from bank to bank was made. A sack was filled with rocks until it weighed fully 100 pounds, and was lowered where the body was last seen. This sack was dragged and finally taken out with grabhooks, by this manner disturbing the body, causing it to move. This, however, is only a supposition. They had gone over the place where the body was taken out many times, and the river was searched three or four miles, the same ground being gone over until it seemed almost impossible that the body could be there. A reward was offered by C. C. Ragsdale of $50 to any one who would recover the body in the Gold Hill and Grant's Pass vicinity. The raft was constructed and Jim Stewart, Tom Kearney and H. G. Nicholson, caught the body with a grabhook and brought it to the surface. They were trying to get the raft when it slipped away from them and back into the water. It was finally brought up again by Guy and Eugene Childers and C. O. Ramsey, who were in a boat. The body was brought to Medford and is now at the family residence. Coroner Pickel waived the usual inquest as the conditions did not justify holding one. Mr. VanDyke was married last October to Miss Minnie Cox, of this city. He was 27 years old, and besides being a prominent business man was a member of the Tallman Lodge, Knights of Pythias. Funeral services will be held at the late residence on North C Street, Tuesday, at 2:30 P. M., Rev. W. F. Shields, of the Presbyterian Church, officiating. Services at the grave will be conducted by the Knights of Pythias Lodge. Interment will be at Oddfellows' cemetery.

TRAINMEN EXONERATED. Coroner's Inquiry Into the Death of Francis Nicole at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., June 29.—(Special.)—The Coroner's jury summoned today to inquire into the cause of the death of the late Francis Nicole, who was struck and killed by a locomotive on the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Saturday, returned a verdict in accordance with the facts already published and exonerated the engineer and fireman from all blame. In closing, the verdict said: "In this connection we desire to suggest to the proper authorities the advisability of having automatic gates or automatic bells at the most dangerous street crossings. It might also lessen the danger of accidents if the engines on all trains were required to run with the engines instead of the tenders ahead."

PIANO SELLING

Well, we guess yes. When we advertised a car of 18 standard high-grade pianos the other day more as an advertisement than a matter of profit, who would have thought that every one would be taken the first day and that before 5 o'clock P. M., and not a single one went out of the city? We are not in the habit of publishing the names of our customers, but think there would be no impropriety in this case, so look over the list of lucky purchasers and perhaps you will find the number of your friends among them. Mrs. E. B. Anderson, Mrs. E. J. Mahon, Mrs. E. M. Trebet, Charles Russell, C. Staver, Mrs. E. West, J. W. Keith, Ellen Smith, T. H. Davis, Mrs. E. Donieth, John Jones, Harry Kewler, Mrs. A. Richardson, J. A. Norton, B. L. Rogers, Thomas Gray and Mrs. L. Story. In order to give others a chance that got in a little too late we have received another shipment and have concluded to offer twenty more at the same price as the first. As stated before, they are standard high-grade pianos of our regular stock and warranted for ten years, and are made to sell at $400, but if you act wisely and quickly you will get one for just $285 by paying $125 down and $160 per month. They come in oak, walnut and mahogany cases and are the very latest up-to-date styles. We made our contracts with our manufacturers for our yearly supply early in the season, and they are shipping them as fast as they can in advance, so they are coming by the carload and shipload via the Horn. As a result we have to dispose of lots of pianos before the end of October 1, when we will move into our new home at the corner of Sixth and Morrison streets. We have a fine stock of the best and finest modern music house in the Pacific Northwest.

KIDNEY COLDS

Easily Recognized and Easily Cured, as a Prominent Portland Man Knows. You've had a cold; so has everybody. Did it ever settle in your back? In the "small," just over the hips? Stay there, with a steady ache. Makes you miserable? That's a "kidney cold." You can stop it. A Portland man shows the way. G. K. Parrish, the well-known musician, who lives at 324 Grand avenue, says: "My first attack of kidney complaint consisted principally of dull aching pains across the loins. I paid little attention to it at first, and it gradually grew worse. When I did anything which required exertion, or if I caught cold, I was sure to have backache in an acute form. I was feeling quite miserable some time ago, and one evening, while looking over the paper, I noticed a convincing ad. relating to Doan's Kidney Pills, which persuaded me to purchase a box at the store of the Laue-Davis Drug Company, at Yamhill and Third streets. The results I obtained from their use were satisfactory in every way." For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-McMillan Company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
