PLAY BETWEEN THE SHOWERS

Great Betting and Fielding Marks Both Games-Huriburt Makes Run on Dinky Hits, Thanks to Ziegler's Queer Fielding.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.

Table with columns for team names (Portland, Seattle, etc.), wins, losses, and percentages.

First game-Portland 5, Seattle 2.

Second game-Portland 11, Seattle 2. That double-header yesterday afternoon was certainly some plippin. George Engle had the rear pocket of his pants filled with bright dry sand, which he threw into the eyes of the Siwashes...

In the two games there was enough of real baseball to serve for some time to come. In the first of the first game, Vigneux and Van Buren started things. Vigneux jolted a double-sacker to right, and the Deacon whipped his bat around so that it went into the left garden. The swing which the Deacon gave the ball came dangerously near the foul line, just back of switch No. 2. The whole Siwash crew held a medicine talk...

Rain Cuts Short Second Game.

This game was full of fast fielding, and two very rapid-fire double plays were pulled off. One of the Siwashes figured in the first double. Hannivan had binged, and Boettger spanked an infield hit that has teeth. Anderson mowed it down and relayed it to Raldy, who whipped it into Vigneux's mitt.

For a time it looked as if the second game would go the way of many others. Old J. Fluvius decided to give the 500 a run for his money, inasmuch as he had checked out the Siwashes the day before, so he held off until things went into the air in Portland's half of the eighth inning. Then it rained for fair, and Seattle, knowing there was no chance to overcome the lead the Siwashes had allowed the game to be called. It was in this game that there was glory and trouble enough for all. Zinsar's work at short and his dazzling two-hand catches stood out as big and large as the great cloud which brought the rain.

LOS ANGELES, July 5.-Fisher's Sacramento team went north tonight lower in the percentage table for the pennant race than when it reached Los Angeles. The Mariposa won the game today by the score of 9 to 4. Cutter and Newton were the opposing pitchers. The former was bumped hard throughout, and only star fielding kept the score down to nine runs. Newton was in form and scattered the hits well. Egan made a home run in the eighth, sending in Townsend. Crabb's betting and fielding were features. The attendance was 6000. The score: R.H.E. Sacramento.....00200020-4 7 1 Los Angeles.....12001043-9 12 3 Batteries-Cutter and Hogan; Newton and Epes. Umpire-Lavy.

Morley Looking for a Slugger. LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 5.-James F. Morley, manager of the Los Angeles baseball team, left for the East tonight. It is rumored that Morley's mission is to sign a hard-hitting second baseman in order that Wheeler may take his turn in the pitcher's box. Manager Thomas J. McCarthy, of the Century Athletic Club, accompanied Morley.

Huriburt and Ziegler's Star Play. But the star play of the day was left for Ziegler and Huriburt to make in the eighth inning. Klinkhammer had been clouted from Little Becka to nuts, and nothing could save the Browns unless the Butler or the rest of the pitching staff had gone crazy. Up to the time of the great killing, Seattle had managed to get two runs over the rubber while the Browns were six to the good. Van Buren beat out a bunt as an opener to the engagement. So did Nadeau. Jay Andrews bunted and nearly sacrificed the pair. Van Buren going to third and Nadeau to second. Fred Anderson, who had been hitting off and timely, smashed out a single, on which both the Deacon and Nadeau scored. Raldy flew out to Ward in center, and then came a free hit. Butler knocked out his third single, and then it came time for Huriburt and Ziegler to play their star engagement. Klinkhammer was sending his best over the plate, and finally Huriburt poked his bat against one, and it shot high into the air. Ziegler yelled: "I got it! It's mine!" But it wasn't, and the ball slipped through his fingers and rolled on the wet grass. Ziegler was not through. He grabbed the slippery ball and batted it to third, hoping to catch Anderson. The ball went a half mile over Zinsar's head, and a stream of Browns began romping home. In the meantime, what of Huriburt? Well, the big right fielder was racing madly through the mud after the most improved fashion. He got to third before Hannivan could field Ziegler's wild throw, but, never stopping, he started home under whip and spur. Hannivan's throw was perfect, but Ziegler was determined that Huriburt was not to be denied his home run, and he caught the ball and began looking for some one to throw it to. There were no Siwashes on bases, so he looked at the ball to see if the seams were correctly stitched. Huriburt's home run will certainly go on record as a great home run, and those who saw it will tell about it when they get to fanning during the winter months. By capturing the series from Seattle, the Browns are within climbing distance, and it looks as if with the team this week, and they play the same kind of baseball against Los Angeles as they have against Seattle, they will climb out of the cellar. This week it will be the Loo Loo against the Browns, and a tight royal battle is promised for the week. The scores: First Game. PORTLAND. AB. R. B. SH. PO. A. E. Seattle, 13-3; Los Angeles, 0-2. SEATTLE, July 5.-Seattle won both games this afternoon. Hickey was invincible in the first, while the locals drove Stricklet to the bench in the fourth and hit Johnson hard. Errors by the Seawards were costly. In the second game both Maupin and Thielman pitched winning ball and the fielding was of high class. Hulen made a daring catch of home base in the eighth, and this run was enough to win the game. Salt Lake could not hit Nichols effectively in the eighth inning, and this was of the spectacular variety. Miller, who replaced Harmon, held the locals down to four hits. Salt Lake won the second game by bunting hits off Carney in the last two innings. Carney was replaced by Heisman. Lundborn pitched steady ball. Attendance, 200. Score: First game- R.H.E. The home team was strengthened greatly by the pick of the Schillers team, of Portland, but even this failed to give them a victory. Hoyt, the Monogram star twirler, made monkeys out of the City Oregon City boys, they only making three hits off of his delivery. Brown, catcher of the Monograms, played a steady game, and his hitting, together with Brock's long two-sacker to left field, won the day for Monogram colors. Following is the line-up of both teams. MARSHAL TO FIGHT Nome Grand Jury, Said to Have Been Packed.

RICHARDS ALLEGES CONSPIRACY Says Conduct of His Office Was Investigated by Enemies, While the Criminal Cases Were Overlooked.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 5.-Special.-In the factual row at Nome, Alaska, in which the administration of Frank Richards has been subject to attack, there is more than yet developed in the newspaper accounts of the controversy. In brief, Judge Moore, of the United States District Court, will within a short time prefer charges against Marshal Richards, in the hope of securing his removal from the office he now holds. The Judge is now on his way to Washington, there to lay before the officials of the Department of Justice the charges against Richards embodied in the report of the grand jury lately assembled at Nome. While no counter charges may be laid against Judge Moore, it is an assumed fact that Marshal Richards will defend himself. As a matter of fact, a full report of the proceedings of the grand jury at Nome, which savagely attack Richards, and of the events leading up to the grand jury sessions, has been filed with the department at Washington by United States Attorney Melvin Grigsby. This report contains some damaging charges against Marshal Richards, which will be defended by the chief conspirator against Marshal Richards. At least this is the claim put forward by the Marshal's friends.

Moore Announces Intention. Judge Moore, before he left Seattle for Washington, announced his intention of securing the removal of Marshal Richards, if this is possible. Both have strong friends at the National Capital. It is said that Judge Moore desires the appointment of Clerk Borchenus as Marshal. This will involve, it is said, the appointment of Harry Steele as clerk. Steele formerly held the grade of assistant clerk of the court under Judge Noyes.

Judge Moore was appointed from Pennsylvania in the indorsement of Senator Matt Quay, who is a friend of Harry Steele. Clerk Borchenus came to Nome from Wisconsin, where he was an adherent of Governor LaFollette. He carried with him the indorsement of Senator Spooner, one of the strongest friends of the Administration. Borchenus and Marshal Richards have never agreed at Nome. There were many points of difference. The Marshal is claimed, refused to recognize the gambler's ring. Borchenus' most intimate friend in the camp was John L. McGinn, formerly of Portland, Or., who, it is alleged by Marshal Richards' friends, kicked up most of the trouble. McGinn, after resigning from the position of Assistant United States Attorney, became the attorney for other parties.

Surprise for Colonel Grigsby. When the first steamer arrived at Nome this Spring, United States Attorney Melvin Grigsby, who was a Colonel in the Spanish War, and served with Roosevelt in the Cuban campaign, arrived at Nome, having spent the Winter at Washington. It is said that Judge Moore desires the appointment of Clerk Borchenus as Marshal. This will involve, it is said, the appointment of Harry Steele as clerk. Steele formerly held the grade of assistant clerk of the court under Judge Noyes.
