PORTSMOUTH, England, July 6.-In the midst of the entertainment of President Loubet, England has not neglected to make full preparations for the receiving of Rear-Admiral Cotton's squadros here tomorrow. It had not been expected that the American warships would arrive until tomorrow morning, and Sir Archibald Mercury Milne, the Commodore of the royal yachts, specially detailed by King Edward, had a long conference with Sir Charles Botham, the Admiral commanding at Portsmouth, and Lord Beresford, commanding the Channel squadron, regarding the details of the reception. The heavy weather in the Channel, however, unexpectedly drove the Kearsarge, San Francisco and Chicago into Spithead tonight.

As soon as the news was communicated to Admiral Botham, the vessels of the Channel squadron began to twinkle a welcome with their electric lights, but beyoud this there was no demonstration. The gunboat Machias has not yet arrived, but is expected to join Admiral Cotton before morning.

The Welcome Squadron.

The British squadron at Portsmouth is more formidable in offensive power than the Channel squadron which received President Loubet at Dover today. It includes the battleships Majestic, flying the flag of Lord Charles Beresford; the Magnificent, with the flag of Hon, Hedworth Lambton, second in command of the Channel squadron; the Mars, Prince George, Jupiter and Hannibal, the armored cruisers Hope and Sutleg, the protected cruisers Doris, Pactolus and Prometheus. The city is decorated with the dritish and American colors.

The American warships assembled in Spithead will enter Portsmouth harbor at 9:30 tomorrow morning, passing through the line of British warships, which will fire salutes. This compliment will be returned by the Kearsage and her consorts. which will be escorted to their berths in the inner harbor.

Official calls will then be exchanged by Lord Charles Beresford, Admiral Milne and Rear-Admiral Cotton. The entertain ment will be robbed somewhat of the spectacular character of the ceremonies at Kiel, since King Edward, unlike the German Emperor, will be unable to be present.

Admiral Botham to Be the Host. Admiral Botham will be the host tomorrow night, giving a banquet at the Admiralty House, which will be attended by Admiral Cotton, Flag Lieutenant Hussey Flag Secretary Manna and the Captains of the American warships. After the dinner, both fleets will be illuminated. On Wednesday, besides the entertainments at Portsmouth, Admiral Cotton, his Captains and Naval Attache Stockton will be the guests of honor, at a dinner at the London House, of the Earl of Selbourne First Lord of the Admiralty. Later, accompanied by 23 other officers of the squadron, they will attend the state ball given in honor of President Loubet at Buckingham Palace.

On Thursday the American officers will be entertained at breakfast by the Pilgrims Club, and afterward Admiral Cotton and the Captains of the American squadron and Attache Stockton will dine with the King at Buckingham Palace.

Lord Mayor Will Give a Luncheon On Friday the Lord Mayor will give the American officers a luncheon at the Man-sion House, and in the evening they will attend a dinner given by Ambassador Choate at the American Embassy, to which King Edward has been invited, but it is feared His Majesty will be unable to attend. The entertainment will end July 13 with a ball given at Portsmouth.

Rear-Admiral Cotton will return some of the courtesies extended to the American squadron by giving a reception and dinner on the Kearsarge July 14.

DEATH ENDS VACATION

Roscoe C. Cassell Drowned While Crossing Nebalem River,

ASTORIA, Or., July 6-(Special.)-A ad drowning accident by which Roscoe Clarke Cassell, one of Astoria's most popular and promising young men, lost his life, occurred yesterday afternoon in the Nehalem River, near Jewell. Saturday the young man left on a short vacation trip, and yesterday went fishing with a companion named Guy Prescott. Returning last evening about 5 o'clock, the two young men stepped into an old skiff to cross the river at a point where it is about 200 feet wide and 12 feet deep, with no current. When about half way across, the boat swamped and both men jumped overboard. Prescott swam ashore and then, seeing Cassell struggling in the water, went back to assist him, but Cas-sell could not swim, and in his battle for life came near drowning Prescott, who was finally compelled to leave his comwas infaily compelled to leave his companion to his fate. The news of the drowning was received here with universal expressions of regret, as Cassell was a young man of most exemplary habits, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was born at Colwell, Kan., on August 19, 1879, and when quite young came to Oregon with his parents, who for a number of years resided in Albany and then moved to Astoria, where he grew to manhood. After graduating at the Astoria High School, he accepted a position with the First National Bank of this city, continuing with it up to the time of his death, as a faith-ful and trusted employe. His father, W. C. Casseli, is an immate of the Soidlers' Home, at Roseburg, but his mother re-sides in this city, he being her sole support. It was only a week ago that he in-sured his life for $2000 in her favor.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been perfected, but it will be held tomorrow afternoon, if the father can reach here by that time.

SLAY MEN IN MOB (Continued from First Page.)

At his side was Colonel McCoy, of the First Regiment. Around them stood a few doctors and reporters. When the firing ceased Captain Blum reformed his men and gave them orders: "Keep that mob back. Call on them to halt. If they don't halt shoot them down. We can't take any more chances. Men, be careful, but for God's sake keep a close watch, shouted the Captain, and his men prepared for another struggle. It did not come. The rioters scattered quickly, that another charge would be made. They stood in knots around the corners in the vicinity uttering dire threats against the officers and the called one. "Down with them." "Kill them." and score of cries were heard. Some of the rioters tried to change their positions and were greeted with cries of "halt," ac companied by the clicking of rifles. With, in a half-hour things had become so quiet that care could be taken of the dead and injured. The wounded soldiers were taken into the jail. Their injuries were slight and were dressed by two surgeons who were there. Four wounded militiamen were taken to the Courthouse, and later to their homes. The others were taken to the hospitals and their homes In ambuiances and carriages. This feat was accomplished with difficulty, as only a few men were brave enough to pick them up. Charles Presky, a 17-year-old boy, was carried into the Courthouse Through his wrist had gone a buckshot and each foot was shot through.

Many of the injured were taken away before their names could be learned. The police department and ambulance corps were anxious that too much be not learned by the reporters, and it was with the greatest difficulty that facts could be ascertained.

Negroes in Jail in Terror.

Inside the jail, 48 prisoners lay terrified in the darkness. Sixteen of them were negroes whose lives are far from safe if the mob attacks the jail again and effects a capture. Lights were turned out when the shooting began, and the prisoners mouned and cried in their cells. Telephone messages were sent from the jall to the hospitals and to physicians, calling for aid. The response was quick, doctors from all over Evansville driving rapidly at the call. The Vincennes company of militia is on its way here, and Colonel McCoy fears another outbreak when it arrives. All is now quiet around the jail, the soldiers still standing under arms. Outposts are stationed to avoid guerrilla shooting from the neighboring streets with rifles. Governor Durbin has summoned a num ber of prominent citizens to confer with him at once over the telephone as to what action will be taken. Should an outbreak follow the arrival of the Vincennes company, the Terre Haute company will be rushed here by special train. Early this morning the Evansville company of State Guards assembled around the jail. Blacks and whites passed each other all day with dark looks. Firing was heard in various parts of the city furing the day, but it is believed to be the work of unruly characters who wanted to foment trouble.

Alex Sanderson, a Terre Haute caterer, was employed to serve the banquet at the institution of a new lodge of the Elks. He took his negro cooks and waiters with him, and while the negroes were in the hall several thousand miners assembled in the street and threatened to dynamite the building unlas the negroes were sent out of town. The eight colored men were hurired into a cab and driven to Jason ville, where they were put on the train for Terre Haute. In 1896 a coal company imported 300 negroes to take the places of the strikers in one of the mines. The negroes organized a company and drilled with rifles in the streets. I would feel a craving for food, but when I ate I experienced those wretched pains, which nearly drove me distracted. My kidneys also became affected. I tried several different stomach medicines, and for a while they seemed to help me. Then the same old pains would come back. This went on for nearly two years, and at times I was pretty much it, and I feel like a new man. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will not only cure stomach trouble, but are a positive cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood or shattered nerves. white enamel, marble and mosaic - the veritable home of purity-a place where contamination is impossible. The wheat is first thoroughly cleansed and all light kernels removed, then thoroughly cooked and spun into thousands of little shreds; each shred containing thousands of little pores; which gives the greatest surface for the absorption of the digestive fluids of any known food. This insures perfect digestion and immediate relief from constipation.
