OREGON DAY CELEBRATED

WOODMEN CARNIVAL RECEIVES DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Governor Chamberlain, Senatora Fulton and Mitchell and Judge John P. Caples Give Addresses.

Governor George E. Chamberlain, United States Senators C. W. Fulton and John H. Mitchell and Judge John F. Gaples were among the guests of honor and delivered addresses at the Woodmen of the World Carnival last night.

Yesterday was Oregon day, and a large attendance crowded the grounds. Queen Emma I occupied the throne in the Stadlum, and the four speakers, H. L. Pittock, President F. E. Beach, of the Board of Trade, General Summers and several other prominent men occupied positions of honor near the throne.

The guests were brought from the Port-and Hotel to the carnival grounds in the Queen's carriages, the Queen and her maids accompanying the procession. The party was escorted by George Washing-ton Degree Camp, W. O. W.

The warm evening seemed to agree with the performers, for the entertainment, while the same in detail as that of last week, was exceptionally good, re-ceiving applause from the guests as well

The little Japs, as usual, made a de-cided hit with their ciever acrobatic work and juggling. Fowler brothers, the hand-balancers and equilibrists, were also recelved with marks of favor.

Governor Chamberlain was introduced by President J. W. Morrow, of the Car-nival, and made a few brief remarks.

"It is, indeed, fitting that this order should devote one day to the State of Oregon," said the chief executive. "It is an evidence of the patriotism of the Woodmen, and shows that they are and have been taking an interest in the state. fact, the Woodmen have been among foremost in building up and making the state what it is. Occupying the posi-tion as I do, I will unhesitatingly say that Oregon is the best state in the on, and has the bravest men and the women in the world. The members of this great order have made a decided success of their carnival, as well as everything that they have undertaken, and there is no reason why the order shall not prosper in the future, as I know it Judge John F. Caples was next intro Judge John F. Caples was next intro-duced. "I don't know but that I shall say a few more words than Governor Chamberiain did," said the Judge. "It gives me great pleasure to meet so many of the good people of the State of Oregon tonight." Continuing, he spoke of the Lewis and Clark Centennial, wishing that every one present would take an active part in helping the fair along and that they would live to witness the Exposition. "There is no nobler class of men in the world than Woodmen," continued the speaker. "The very name signifies what they are. They are next to nature and are always the first to build up a coun-try, clearing the land which produces the grains from which be live. Have you ever thought of the glory of the woods and timber? The grandest trees that the world has ever produced grow right here on this Pacific Coast," Continuing at some length about Oregon's resources and making some highly com-plimentary remarks regarding the Woodsen, Judge Caples referred to Governor Chamberlain's speech. "The Governor thinks he said something new about Ore-"The Governor on and American women," said the Judge. "Why, I knew that before the ountry was born. Our women can cope with and surpass in beauty any women in the world." Then he turned his thoughts the world.

"Let us have three cheers for Orein," said the Judge, and they had them, id bowing to Her Majesty in acknowledgement of a bouquet, the speaker took

PASSING OF SCHWAB.

Overtaxed, He Is a Good Mechanic, but Not a Financier.

WESTON, Or., July 14.—(To the Editor.)—The editorial in The Sunday Oregonian on "Napoleon Turned Gambler," which the downfall of Charles M. Schwab is discussed, is a careful analysis tive moral character, and that, to a cerplace of great importance; burdened responsibilities for which few men which, handicapped as he was by inheri-tance and early environment, he could hope to cope only through the exercise of almost superhuman effort; con-stantly within the unaccustomed limeligh of publicity; with immense power for good or III-Schwab's mind proved unequal to the weight it had to bear, and failed him in the crucial test.

Mr. Schwab spent his earlier years learning the trade of frommaker. He was mechanic, but a mechanic of ability. He advanced rapidly, and soon was master of his trade. To become master of his great maker of steel. But the opportunities of such a field were too narrow for a mind as active as Schwab's and so sought advance and accepted it as rap-as it came within his reach. Suddenly the great steel trust was formed, a resident was needed, and Schwab, capa-e, willing, energetic, industrious Schwab, appealed to the magnates as the man for the place. They failed to recognize the fact that Schwab's mind was the mind of a mechanic, and not of a financier, and they placed within his care powers and responsibilities such as only the mind accustomed from early life to association with financial problems could hope to bear with financial problems could hope to bear with impunity. Hopeful, sanguine, successful, Schwab, little realizing his unfitness to care for the prize when once he had a grasped eagerly the gift the mag-dangered.

joy that comes only to men of expensive temperament even at such times, he may have paused for a brief moment to ine as to the why and wherefore of it Victory was his, and in his self-sufficiency he could see but one reason for it all. That reason lay within himself. It was his own mind, his own strength, his own triumphant ego, to which he owed his advance. To no other source, such as luck or Providence, or, whisper it softly, the possible necessity of a scapegoat to shield the magnates in time of need, could be ascribe the great achievement. His mind, overcome with his own success, elated and delirious, conjured wild and reckless dreams for the future. Having tasted the delightful nectar of publicity, he must needs have other draughts from the same cup. And Schwab drank deeply, First, it was as the gambler at Monte Carlo that notoriety was obtained. Other

PRISONER IN LINCOLN COUNTY JAIL IN OFFERED THE CHANCE.

Authorities Do Not Relish Expense of Feeding Him, and May Make Him Work.

Judge George has returned from Toledo, Lincoln County, where he held court last week, and sentenced a man who would rather be in jail than out. The man's name is Dole, and when he is not in durance vile, he lives at Waldport. He was charged with violation of the liquor license statute, pleaded guilty, and Judge George imposed the lowest fine, $200. Dole said he had no money and would serve the fine out as provided by law at the rate of $2 per day.

This means that the taxpayers of Lin coln County must board and lodge him doings followed rapidly. From the quiet, for 100 days. An attorney was appointed attentive, business man he became the lavish notoriety-seeker with whose acts allowed a fee of $10, which the county every one was kept familiar. He must build the firest mansion in America, equipping it like the palace in an Arabian Night's dream, and when not busy with his personal conduct, his possessions, real and imaginary, were constantly folsted upon an inquisitive and willing public.

Allowed a fee of $10, which the county also had to pay. Dole was placed in the jail at Toledo and the door was left open to. The county is in debt and county prisoners are so few and far between that if Dole took advantage of the opportunity to get away the expense of paying his

Senator Mitchell then responded to a called to their origin. Other men, it is call from the audience. While the Sentrue, have been governed by the same call from the audience. While the Sendor said he could think of nothing nice desire for greatness, but Schwab's acts to say of the Oregon women that had not already been said, he did say that throughout Africa and other places he had ity of their impulses and deeds. In other ity of their impulses and deeds. In other words, Schwab suffered from the charac-teristic "delusions of grandeur," the classic symptom of that particular dis-ease commonly known as paresis, from which many another overworked and pleasure-loving mind has lost its hold upon itself. His acts, after his rise in the world, were inconsistent with him in his previous life, and simply indicate the fail-ure of his brain to rise to the responsibiltties of the new life. The overburdened mind failed, and the capable, aspiring, in telligent, master workman became of the man as viewed from a layman's poor, unfortunate failure, the paretic standpoint. There is little or no doubt that Schwab is, or was, a man of defective preceded his mental breakdown, which was characteristic in the suddenness of tain extent, moral weakness contributed its onset, following a great and unaccusto his fallure. WANTS TEN ACRES OF LAND.

Ernest Pohl Says Administrator of His Father's Estate Did Wrong.

Ernest Pohl yesterday commenced suit against V. Mashek to obtain possession of ten acres of land, and to have a deed set aside. The land was purchased in February, 1891, from M. G. Griffin for Ernest Pohl, and as he was a minor at the time, a trust deed was executed to his mother, Annie Pohl. In August, 1886, Wenzel Pohl, the father of Ernest, dled. It is slieged in the complaint that Mashek, who was administrator of the estate, advised that the ten acres of land should be turned over to the Wenzel Pohl estate, and after this had been done, he distributed it, one-third each, to Annie Pohl, the mother; Ernest Pohl, and Annie Jourdan, his sister. Mrs. Pohl died on March 10, 1962. Ernest Pohl avers that he has been of legal age for the last ten years, and says the ten acres of land was wrongfully taken from him. He asks that the deed to Mashek, as administrator, be declared vold, and that he be declared the lawful owner of the whole truct.

Was Not His Sister.

Ed Hall, a young man under arrest on a charge of opening a letter addressed to Maggie Hall, a schoolteacher, and abstracting $10 from the same, had an examination before Judge Bellinger yesterday. It developed that the crime was committed in Walla Walls and the green committed in Walla Walla, and the ques-tion arose if he can be tried in this dis-trict. It was decided that the case belongs to the United States Distric in the State of Washington, presided over by Judge Hanford, and Hall was remanded to the county jail to await an order from the other court. The only defense made by Hall was that he thought the letter was intended for his sister, whose name is Maggie.

C. J. Trullinger has begun suit in the State Circuit Court against J. B. Tillotson to recover $887 for lumber sold and delivered at Mollala.

The motion book in the State Circuit Court will not be open after August 1, and Judge Cleland will only hear motions by consent of attorneys.

FOSTERED BY CHURCHES. Dr. Stephen S. Wise Lectures on "Su-perstitions."

GLADSTONE PARK, July 20 .- (Special.) "Superstition to a large degree is created from influence, misunderstood, that is exerted by each and every church," declared Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of Portland, who delivered his lecture on "Superstitions," tonight. "To an extent superstition is the preacher of the church," continued Rabbi Wise in discuss ing his subject. "Each and every church is creating superstition unless it emphasizes that prayer, baptism, the church and the synagogue are outward symbols of religion." The speaker was glad that belief in a personal devil and an actual hell is waning and suggested true religion coupled with knowledge as the agency with which to combat and dethrone King Superstition. Being the product of irreligion the speaker insisted that it can only be treated through religion. "Superstition differs from a prejudice in that the latter implies an absence of reason, while the former involves the minuse or abuse of reason,' he said. Superstition was credited with being the superstition was credited with being the mother of two of the greatest sciences, viz: Chemistry and astrology. Rabbi Wise proceeded to ridicule the many trivial superstitious beliefs with which people, including many of the most intelligent individuals, are possessed. He denounced and characterized as "abominations" the practice of ciairvoyants, astrologers and fortune-tellers. He deplored the remarkable hold superstitious beliefs are getting on intelligent people in all walks of life. In presenting his lecture, Rabbi Wise subdivided his text into three classifications, viz: Superstition of the baby superstition of the child and superstition of our maturity.

Preceding the lecture Miss Marguerite longacre, of Sycamore, Ill., gave a delightful programme of colos and readings. Miss Longacre is an Oregon girl and has received a very cordial recognition in musical circles in the East, having participated in 21 Chautauqua programmes this Summer. Although suffering from a severe cold tonight, Miss Long acre sur-prised her many friends, who were glad of the opportunity to hear her. Miss Helen Calbreath, of Salem, was the ac-companist. The impersonations were cleverly real and decidedly entertaining. The afternoon programme was furnished by the Oregon Prisoners' Ald Society, with Rev. Edgar P. Hill as chairman. The programme included addresses by Mrs. B. I. Trumbull, secretary of the Prisoners'
Ald Society; Governor Chamberiain, and
State Chapiain E. W. St. Pierre, Miss McConnell singing two solos. C. W. Jones, superintendent of the state prison, was seated on the platform. Mrs. Trumbull, in discussing "The Child Criminal." ad-vocated the probation system for the proper treatment of youthful evil-doers. State Chaplain St. Pierre attributed the increase of criminals to the difficulties with which a criminal is confronted in striving to become an honorable man. Public sentiment that is in opposition to the man leaving the penitentiary, said the chapiain, must be overcome before the number of criminals diminishes. The need for creating a healthier public senti-ment in behalf of the discharged criminal was the argument offered by Governor Chamberlain, who related that the whipping post had been abandoned at the Ore-gon state prison in a move to reform the inmates of that institution along more The morning hours today were devoted to classes, including a women's institute, conducted by Mrs. Robert J. HELPS BOTH Food Strengthens the Mother and Makes Milk for the Baby.

There are many cases on record where he use of the scientific food Grape-Nute has produced milk for a mother in a few days, so she could nurse her baby in the natural way.

A case of this kind is told by a lady of Decatur, Ga.: "When my baby was two months old I had a very disordered stomach and everything I ate disagreed with

"This worried me and I was so weak and nervous I was almost a wreck and had to stay in bed most of the time and the result was that I had to put baby on the bottle. After trying this for week the poor little thing did not thrive and I thought she would surely die. "Then along came a friend who begged me to try Grape-Nuts food although neither she nor I thought it would cause me to have nourishment for baby. But I concluded to eat Grape-Nuts and began that same day with good results. "It was the first food I had eaten for more than three weeks that had agreed with me and I continued eating it and gained strength rapidly and after only two days' use of this food I was able to nurse my baby again and in less than a week I had taken her entirely from the bottle is to a mother, and I am more than thankful to Grape-Nuts food on baby's of men. Cause of Race Problem NEW YORK, July 20.—In a sermon at the Mount Talbot Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Horace Miller, a colored minister, said: "I have devoted years of atudy to the question, and I find that the negro is not a bit more bruial than the white man. Not 10 per cent of the crimes charged up against the colored man are due to him

"No race needs a higher education than the negro. He is becoming more criminal because he cannot get work. If he does work the pay is such that it is not suf-ficient to live on. If the South had given the negro an honest dollar for an honest day's work, or even an honest half-dollar, the negroes would not flock to New York to become criminals.

"The quickest way to solve the negroproblem is to employ him."

Allen & Gilbert-Ramaker Co.

We realize we are a little out of the way for visitors to the Carnival, and as an extra inducement to have them call and see our fine line of pianos and the matchiess bargains we are offering at this time, we have concluded to make the following proposition: Each day during the Carnival we will make a special reduction of $5 on one piano only, of any piano you may select, if the purchaser is accompanied by a Woodman, and in that event the customer will be entitled to $25 and $10 will go to the camp with which the Woodman is connected for any purpose they may see fit. Remember, we are making sweeping reductions on every plano in the house at this time, which means more piano value for your money than you could possibly obtain eisswhere, and this, with the $35 inducement, should bring an early customer each day. Here are the prices we are naming:
