WEIRD CEREMONY AT NIGHT.

Pope's Viscera Transported Through Imperial City for Burial.

Leo XIII, which today was placed in earthen urn and provisionalan deposited in the crypt at St. Peter's, was removed at midnight to a magnificent urn, which, carried by Monsignores Marzollini and Angell, was taken in a Vatican carriage to the Church of St. Vincent Anastasius.

The mysteriously picturesque scene was such as is only possible in Rome. The carriage was met at the door of the church by priests carrying torches which flared in the breezes, the flickering light having a weird effect on the faces of those present. The viscera of all the popes except Pius IX were deposited in this church, which was selected because it stands in the parish of the Quirinal, formerly the home of the popes. The viscera of Plus IX was not taken there, as it was feared at that time that some untoward incident might take place during its transportation. The peaceful manner in which the ceremony was performed tonight is regarded as a fresh proof of the improved relations between the church and the state.

The programme for the novem diales, the nine-day ceremony, as far as established, but still open to possible change, is as follows:

Wednesday morning the second meeting of the congregation of cardinals will take pince to discuss measures relating to the onclave. The diplomatic body, the Roman aristocracy and the high dignitaries of the church will at this time have an opportunity to take a last view of the pontiff before he is laid in St. Peter's. In the afternoon the body will be arrayed in full pontifical robes and in the evening will be transported to the basilien of St. Peter's, where they will be taken charge of by the chapter of basilica and deposited in the chapel of the sacrament.

Thursday the whole people of Rome will be allowed to view the body of the pontiff, while requiem masses will be celebrated in the different chapels. The same morning the third meeting of the congregation will take place. The congregation will also meet on Friday, and Saturday night the body of the pope will be sprinkled with holy water by the chapter of St. Peter's. It will then be taken at the head of a procession around the basilica and entombed to the strains of the "Miscrere" intoned by singers of the Julia chapel.

In the chapel choir, where the interment will occur, the bler must enter head first, according to the church law. The ceremony will end with the celebration of a requiem Sunday. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the following week the meeetings of the congregations will continue. Grand funeral services will occur, but the dates have not yet been fixed.
