BUST BRES STEAL HOUSEKEEPER'S JEL At.—The little busy bee has a great reputation for industry in improving each shining hour and gathering honey all the day from every opening flower. The little fellows, however, quit work as soon as a shower comes on and hasten back to their hive to begin canning their store of sweets, and it also appears that they cannot withstand temptation any better than human beings, but are inclined to steal anything that steal anything they can carry away and seal up in their cells. A few days ago a housewife on the East Side, who had made a lot of jelly from raspberries and currants mixed, and had set the filled glasses out in the sun to ripen, was as-tonished when she went to bring it in to find about half her glasses empty. A number of bees mired fettock deep in the small amount of jelly left in a few glasses disclosed the identity of the thieves. A keeper of bees, who resides near the of the felly, a few days after it was missed, in taking some combs of honey from one of his hives found them partially and some almost entirely filled with jelly. Of course he had no idea where it came from, and since that time his fam-ROBINE FRAST ON CHERRIES.-A Vacant lot out Irvington-way in which there are a number of cherry trees was visited by hundreds of robins yesterday. Most of the cherries have been gathered by the boys of the neighborhood, but on the and outer branches still hang many overripe cherries, which are the ones robins like. The warm, drying weather has caused a shortage in the supply of earthworms, and the robins take advantage of this to enjoy a change of diet and flock in large numbers to places where overripe cherries are hanging on the trees. There were literally hundreds of these birds on the lot mentioned yesterday just gorging themselves as greedly as boys do under the same circumstances, some knocking down the cherries, which fell at a touch, and other than the cherries of the cherries are the cherries of the ers on the ground storing them away.

STRUCK BY BICYCLE RIDER.—Mrs. D. Cook, who was quite seriously injured by a bicycle Wednesday evening on Washington street, was able to be up and out yesterday. She stepped from the sidewalk to the pavement of Washington street just as a laboring man came along at rather a rapid rate on a bicycle. She was struck and picked up by the bicycle and carried some distance up the street, her arm being badly bruised, her wrist sprained and she received a rather severe contusion on the head. She was carried into Woodard & Clarke's and her injuries attended to, after which she was sent to her home on the East Side in a hack. One paragraph in the letter read: "Many Americans who come to Ponoka looking at the possibilities of the new land through United States eyer are disappointed and will return to your country. Oregon stands a good chance to get some of them. One family from here is now settled at Woodburn, Or." A letter was also received from Mrs. J. M. THE MAN DIOGENES SOUGHT FOR FOUND.—City Treasurer Werlein, his deputies and the License Collectors' department were rather astonished yesterday when a dentist called to make a new sworn statement of his income from the practice of his profession. He said that on looking over his books he had found ily has had their choice of "honey or jei-ly" at meals. In the same neighborhood a swarm of bees found entrance to a house he had made a mistake, and instead of honey between the floor of the attic and the ceiling of the room below. A hole pay the amount of license out of which the city had been defrauded by his error whole swarm captured and removed to a place where their honey might be more casily reached.

"BEST PEOPLE ON EARTH" ADD GAYETY TO FESTIVAL.

Woodmen Are Expected to Net Handsome Profit by End of Week-Expenses Already Cleared,

The Elks browsed on confetti on the North Park blocks last night. Shortly before the carnival opened a telegram was received from the grand exalted ruler of Elks informing the local lodge that they could not attend the carnival as a lodge but that individually they might cele-brate to their hearts' desires. A short seasion was held, and at $:30 "the best people on earth" donned their white and purple hats and filed into the carnival grounds, 600 strong. In spite of the threat-ening weather last night's crowd was one of the largest that ever thronged the grounds, and the carnival people were again busy harvesting the dimes and nick eis, "Esau, the Egyptian Wonder," with his rattlesnakes, amused nearly 1000 peo-ple during the evening. While sideshow snake-charmers have worked the people successfully ever since circuses and side-shows have been in the business, "Esau" distanced them all, and until midnight the ow was crowded. "Lotta," the fire-dancer, also drew large audiences, as did the American Theater and the Old Plantation show. The Stadium as usual amused a good Proprietor Nat Reis, of the Southern Carnival Company, sat in his office, dictating letters all evening. "We certainly are doing a great business tonight." he remarked. "The Elks certainly are the best people of earth," and no mistake. We will close our engagement here on We will close our engagement here on Saturday evening and leave at 3 o'clock Sunday morning for Seattle, where we have a two weeks' engagement, opening on Monday."

The carnival directors all looked sad.

They were thinking of the tickets they uld have to count when the evening entertainment was concluded. The carnival is said to have cleared all its expenses already, and the receipts of the last four or five days of festivity are expected to net a very neat sum

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Dog and Monkey Circus at Shields'. Professor Hunt's dog and monkey circus romises to make a big hit with the chil dren at Shields' Park nekt week. Well-educated animals are always a good draw-ing card, and the circus directed by Professor Hunt is said to be above the average. Karl and DeElmer, trapeze artists and sensationalists generally, will intro-duce some feats new to Portland, and their act is said to be gingery and filled with originality. Wallers and Haggan, comedians, have some funny business, and they will tell new gags, sing new parodles and keep the audience in a good humor all the time they are on the stage. Bolli and Bolli, the opera singers, are on the bill, and with them will be new polyscope pictures and new illustrated songs. The bill will be freeh and entertaining and of the kind best liked.

Clever Acts at Empire Next Week Clever feature acts crowd each other for space on the Empire theater's pro-gramme for next week commencing Monday, July 27. The two Lutz brothers who shoot lighted candles from each other's noses; Fred Waddell, the swinger other's noses; Freu wadded, the swinger of Indian clubs; two Lilliputian jokemakers; Robinson and Grant, all are edging each other at the top of the posters, while such gifted performers as George W. Moore, the monologist; Lorraine and Howell, the original sketch artists; and Waldron Bros., the German character comedians, aid them in the good work of keeping people happy. of keeping people happy.

Amateur Night at Shields' Park, This is amateur night at Shields' Park. It means that after the regular performance the ambitious individuals with a de sire to shine behind the footlights will have their wish gratified. This is a sure sign that there will be fun and lots of it, and the bill tonight is made more interesting than ever.

Have You Seen Lillian Leslie! "Madam, have you seen Lillian Leslie's gorgeous costumes this week at the Em-pire theater, the only theater open tonight in Portland."

GERMAN BAND HERE.

Traveling Musicians Pay a Visit to

"Dot leetle German band" has made its appearance in Portland again. Just whether it is the same one that was here ne seven or eight years ago or not is not known. It consists of the same num-ber of players and they have the same instruments as such bands used to when they traveled all over the world and fur they travered an over the works and tur-nished music for all creation in years gone by. It was much better music, too, than their paripatetic predecessor, the Italian with his handorgan and a monkey, which collected the pennies in his cap or a little automaton, which held out a plate for coin and which, moved by pulling a wire, threw the same into a receptacle placed for it. Either of these was an attraction, as many old people will re-member, which drew the last half-penny from the children of all nations in those days. The little German band usually comprises a large man or two who use small instruments and a little fellow who blows a horn in the ball mouth of which he might sling his hammock at night. The sight of the band now performing here recalls to many the once favorite song:

Dot leetle Cherman band, Dot leetle Cherman band The girls all cry Oh, my! Oh, my! As we march through dot land.

Because after having played some very good music one of them passes the hat for contributions, some have spoken of them as beggars, but this is unjust. They are entitled to be paid for the music they furnish, and owing to the manner in which they have been brought up con-sider it no disgrace to collect their pay from those who care to assist them making a living.

It is always hot, always ready, clean and bright. No matter where you want to use it, whether in kitchen, sewing room or laundry, it is but a small matter to connect it to the electric light circuit. It is quickly heated and remains heated as long as the current is on.
