

FAST GAME IS WON

Browns Clinch the Series by Winning the Last.

RECORD CROWD OF THE SEASON

Nadeau's Great Hit Brings Procession to the Home Plate-Hurlbert and Hess Make Brilliant Double Play, Heading Off Scoring.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Scores.
Portland, 6; Sacramento, 4.
Los Angeles, 1-4; San Francisco, 9-1.
Seattle, 6; Oakland, 5.
Standing of Clubs.
	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Los Angeles	35	28	.556
San Francisco	37	28	.569
Portland	41	25	.619
Seattle	40	26	.606
Oakland	40	26	.606

Portland 6, Sacramento 4.
Batteries-Butler and Hess; Cutter and Graham.

When it was all over yesterday, and when Mike Fisher woke up to realize that the Browns had taken care of the six games played, he looked like a man who had been suddenly interrupted in an endeavor to capture a king bee without knowing on which end the stinger was located. Ike Butler acted the part of the king bee, and the net that Fisher used in an effort to capture him was Cutter, but that youngster had his net broken off right near the handle in the fifth inning, and, like well-behaved inhabitants of the land of honey, those Browns proceeded to collect honey while Cutter was in full bloom.

Butler came within two acres of getting hived in the eighth inning, when a promiscuous note delivered in the hand of Hildebrand at first, a two-bagger by Egan, a triple by Townsend and a long fly by Sheehan boosted Sacramento's stock to within two points of the Browns. The swarming of the bingles was checked just in time, and Fisher pulled his freight and his crew of disappointed to Seattle, where they have to wait a week's engagement with Parkie Wilson's team, and then return for another week. Los Angeles will be on deck on Tuesday, and, if reports are true, another week of the live-liest kind of baseball is on the gridiron. The new pitcher, who is expected to be on hand, and the pitching corps of the Browns will be in better shape to receive and take the Bay City gentry down the line than it was to take the Undertakers.

Good Game, No Kicking.
A Sunday crowd still larger than that of a week ago was present, and saw a game that was well played, and was given an afternoon of splendid sport—an entertainment that was not marred by senseless kicking and umpire-baiting. The score-setting was delayed on both sides until the third inning, when Graham's long fly that got away from the tips of Blake's glove after a most trying run, and a sacrifice by Cutter became a record by Casey's single to right. With two men down, Hurlbert got a safety and piffed second. Van Buren walked and scored on a single in the section of the garden where he was not expected to. Hurlbert scored, Van journeyed to third, and Nadeau, just because things were tied up, also possessed himself of a stolen base.

This was the last of the run-getting until the fifth. Hess led off with a single, Cutter's error allowed Butler to get to first, and Hurlbert's double drove Hess in. Van Buren fouled to Sheehan. The time was ripe for Nadeau to play a star engagement, and, by doing so he delighted the fans and clinched the game. He smashed the Spaulding square on the nose and the sphere tore the grass up by the roots in the infield. It dodged Egan's glove, skoted merrily along through the clover in center field, bowed in acknowledgment of Doyle's cheering, and off and romped gleefully almost to the big score board. It was a freak home run and, as the bases were bulging with Brown's stream of runs crossed the home plate. The base-runners in the inning was simply great. Butler and Hurlbert raced like mad around the cushions, with Whispering Phil breaking all records behind them. The bases were full, finishing at the plate with about a nose to spare. Hess was so interested in Nadeau's feat of record-breaking that he got in the way of Graham, and there was a collision, in which Nadeau's head drove Graham's head down in a heap. The Sacramento captain had a notion to protest, but he changed his mind, for he realized that Phil had beat him under the wire by a nose.

Great Feat in Fielding.
The sixth and last run came in the sixth chapter. Blake tried and failed, and Jay Andrews soaked the ball for a single. Cutter thought it best to walk Hess and try for Butler, whom he had once oozed. Ike fooled him by driving out a pretty single. He was forced at second, but Jay completed the circuit. Egan started trouble in the fourth inning by lining out the first ball that Ike served him for a couple of cushions.

A quick double from Hurlbert to Hess murdered the Undertakers just as they were getting dangerous. The bases were getting hold-up, and he was resting at third ready for business. Townsend tried and died; then Sheehan drove one into right field. Hurlbert was after it like a hound after a boar. He reached up and gathered in the bongo, and, without a moment's delay, he whipped it to Hess. Tommy reached out his bare hand, caught the ball and shoved it into Egan's baseball glove. A rip-roaring applause greeted this fast and brilliant play. Sacramento came in for a couple of doubs. Egan, Graham and Casey took part in one in the fourth inning. In the eighth, Cutter, Sheehan, Egan and Townsend, with Egan the pivot of the play, pulled off the second.

Good Play Draws Big Crowds.
The crowds that witnessed the Portland-Sacramento series hold the record for both week-day and Sunday crowds. This unmistakably gives the lie to President Lucas and Manager Dugdale, who broke into print with the statement that Portland would not support one baseball team. It also shows conclusively that the city appreciates clever, fast and scientific baseball, and also that the Browns have, by winning nine out of 12 from Seattle and Oakland, and also from Sacramento, won their way into the hearts of the Portland fans, both male and female. With the arrival of McFarland, every department of the team has been strengthened. This and the great work that Deacon Van Buren is doing as captain of the team speaks for itself. Van Buren's work at first base is exceptionally brilliant, and, in addition to his having a clever baseball head on his shoulders, he is popular with the members of the team. He is also popular with the visiting teams, and is without doubt the best place-batter in the league. Ranking with him on the team are Nadeau, Anderson and Hess. In fact, every member of the team can come as near placing the hits as any team in the league. The following is the tabulated account of the game furnished by the official scorer:

	AB.	R.	B.	SH.	PO.	A.	E.
Hurlbert, r. f.	3	2	2	0	2	1	0
Van Buren, l. b.	3	0	0	1	1	1	0
Nadeau, l. f.	3	1	1	0	1	0	0
Anderson, 2. b.	3	0	1	0	2	4	0
Hollingsworth, ss.	4	0	0	0	2	4	0
Blake, c.	3	0	1	0	1	0	0
Andrews, 2. b.	3	1	1	0	1	0	0
Hess, c.	3	1	1	0	2	0	0
Butler, p.	3	1	1	0	2	0	0
Totals	28	6	9	2	27	12	1

	AB.	R.	B.	SH.	PO.	A.	E.
Casey, 2. b.	3	1	0	1	1	0	0
Hildebrand, l. f.	3	1	0	1	1	0	0
McLaughlin, r. f.	3	0	0	0	1	0	0
Townsend, l. b.	4	1	1	0	0	0	0
Sheehan, 1. b.	4	0	0	0	1	2	0
Doyle, c. f.	3	0	1	0	1	0	0
Graham, c.	3	1	1	0	2	0	0
Cutter, p.	3	0	1	0	2	0	0
Hosann	3	0	1	0	2	0	0
Totals	28	5	5	2	24	12	3

	AB.	R.	B.	SH.	PO.	A.	E.
Portland	28	6	9	2	27	12	1
Sacramento	28	5	5	2	24	12	3

HITS AND RUNS BY INNINGS.
First.....0 0 1 0 4 1 0 0 0 0
Second.....0 0 2 0 4 2 0 1 0 0
Third.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Fourth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Fifth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Sixth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Seventh.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Eighth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Ninth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Tenth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Eleventh.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0
Twelfth.....0 0 1 0 1 1 1 1 0 0

SUMMARY.
Earned runs—Sacramento 2, Portland 2.
Stolen bases—Blake, Hurlbert, Nadeau, Casey.
Bases on balls—Off Butler 3, off Cutter 5.
Struck out—By Butler 1, by Cutter 1.
Two-base hits—Egan 2.
Three-base hit—Townsend.
Double plays—Hurlbert to Hess; Egan to Casey; Cutter to Sheehan to Egan to Townsend.
Left on bases—Portland 5, Sacramento 7.
Time of game—1:45.
Umpire—Levy.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—In the morning game at Oakland, Lindsay and Los Angeles guessing, and, on the other hand, Gray was hit hard. In the third inning, with the bases full, Irwin batted a home run.
The afternoon game in this city was attended by a great throng, which witnessed a poor exhibition by the home team. The scores:
Morning game—
Los Angeles.....090001000-144
San Francisco.....006000118-212
Batteries—Gray and Hurlbert; Lindsay and Jacobs.
Afternoon game—
Los Angeles.....100210000-153
San Francisco.....000010000-153
Batteries—Hall and Spies; Iberg, Hodson and Jacobs.

Seattle 6, Oakland 5.
The last game of the series from Oakland today by terrific hitting in the fifth and sixth innings. Score:
Seattle.....30002200-4113
Oakland.....000203000-5102
Batteries—Drohan and Boettger; Moskman, Cooper and Lohman.

PACIFIC NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Scores.
Salt Lake, 5; San Francisco, 4.
Spokane, 4-12; Butte, 3-8.
Tacoma, 6; Seattle, 2.
Los Angeles, 4; Helena, 0.
Standing of Clubs.
	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Butte	34	23	.596
Los Angeles	35	23	.604
Spokane	39	27	.588
Seattle	40	24	.625
San Francisco	44	24	.644
Tacoma	37	31	.543
Salt Lake	35	33	.515

SALT LAKE, 5; San Francisco, 4.
The most interesting game played here this season. The Saints defeated San Francisco and broke even on the series. Stoper was in great form, and for five innings the visitors went out in one-two-three order. In the sixth a series of unfortunate plays allowed the home boys to score four runs. Brilliant individual plays were numerous and the fielding on both sides was excellent. The attendance was 200.

SALT LAKE, 5; San Francisco, 4.
The most interesting game played here this season. The Saints defeated San Francisco and broke even on the series. Stoper was in great form, and for five innings the visitors went out in one-two-three order. In the sixth a series of unfortunate plays allowed the home boys to score four runs. Brilliant individual plays were numerous and the fielding on both sides was excellent. The attendance was 200.

SEATTLE, 6; Tacoma, 2.
Dennis McCarthy lasted four and one-half innings today during which Tacoma made nine hits and five runs. Hickey then went in and held them down to two hits. The lead was too long to overcome, however, for the locals could not hit Blewett. The score:
Seattle.....300000000-212
Tacoma.....100000000-411
Batteries—McCarthy, Hickey and Stanley; Blewett and Byers.
Umpire—Mahaffey.

Spokane, 4, 12; Butte, 3, 8.
The game this afternoon was loosely played. Bad throws, fumbles and misjudgments gave the game to Spokane. Both pitchers were batted hard. The Butte team was utterly unable to pull itself together. The score:
Spokane.....011000011-511
Butte.....01021100-572
Batteries—Damman and Zalusky; Bandelin and Swindell.
Second game—
Spokane.....101230203-1214
Butte.....030000040-210
Batteries—Slagle and Hanson; Dowling and Swindell.

Los Angeles, 4; Helena, 0.
GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 26.—Los Angeles, through the mastery pitching of Hildebrand, shut Helena out today. The score:
Los Angeles.....010000000-410
Helena.....000000000-041
Game called at end of eighth inning to catch a train.
Batteries—A. Hildebrand and O. H. Hildebrand; Putnam and Carisch.

BUSY WEEK FOR YACHTS.
Reliance, Constitution and Columbia are in trim.
NEWPORT, R. I., July 26.—Tomorrow will begin a week of hard racing for the America's Cup yachts. According to the schedule of the regatta, the yachts will sail five races, three of which are the official trial races for the selection of one of the 30-footers to meet the Shamrock in the international regatta for the America's Cup off Sandy Hook next month, and the other two events come in the Newport series.

It is understood that the 30-footers will compete in the Newport series of the New York Yacht Club. These races will be sailed on July 28 and 30, and are open to all classes of yachts enrolled in the club and in racing trim. The official trial races will be sailed on July 28 and 30, and are open to all classes of yachts enrolled in the club and in racing trim. The official trial races will be sailed on July 28 and 30, and are open to all classes of yachts enrolled in the club and in racing trim.

Vanderbilt's Horse Second.
PARIS, July 26.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Marigold ran second in the Prix Marigold today at Maisson's Lettice.

CAPTAIN DILLON, OF LOS ANGELES, WHO IS SOON TO WED

SNAPSHOT TAKEN RECENTLY IN PORTLAND.

TENNIS CRACKS TO MEET

CHAMPION W. A. BETHEL WILL DEFEND HIS TITLE.

L. R. Freeman, of Pasadena, Is Expected to Make a Close Race for Tournament Honors.

The climax of the tennis season for 1903 in Oregon will be reached this week, when the fifth annual state tournament for the championship of Oregon will be held on the Multnomah Club courts. Arrangements for the tournament have been practically completed, and everything points to a successful and interesting meet. All the local players of prominence have entered, and also a number of experts from other Pacific Coast cities. The first games commence on Tuesday morning, and the finals will be held on Saturday.

As usual, the men's singles will be the star event. The prize for this is the Fisk challenge cup, which must be won three times in order to become the permanent property of any player. This cup was won in 1898 by W. A. Bethel, in 1899 by W. A. Goss, in 1901 by A. T. Goward, of Victoria, and in 1902 by W. A. Bethel. If Bethel wins this year the cup will belong to him. Bethel's right to be considered the champion of Oregon will be vigorously contested by over 20 ambitious players. Most prominent among these are W. A. Goss, R. B. Greese, of Tacoma, and L. R. Freeman, of Pasadena. The cranks, however, incline to the opinion that neither of these two players will be able to wrest from Bethel his claim to the title. Freeman of Pasadena is the man scheduled to do it. Freeman is an all-around athlete, and is the only man ever in Stanford University who won his varsity sweater in tennis, in baseball, in football and on the track. Freeman is the present holder of a greater number of titles than any other tennis-player on the Coast. Last year he won the championship of Southern California, the Pacific Northwest championship tournament at Vancouver, B. C., and the championship of the Pacific Coast at San Rafael. This year he was beaten in straight sets by A. R. Bell, but he is in form, he will be the next champion of Oregon.

For the last three years Goss and Lewis have had their own way in the men's doubles, and they have twice held the J. Wesley Lewis challenge cup. The prophets say that this year the cups will be won by other players, especially inasmuch as Lewis no longer lives in Portland, but he is in form, he will be the next champion of Oregon.

Interest in the ladies' events is less keen than usual. Miss Atkinson, last year's champion, will not defend her title, and it is understood that Miss Carstens, Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Cook will not enter. It seems not improbable that Goss and Miss Hestahu will win the mixed doubles, and in the ladies' doubles Miss Strong and Miss Robertson are the favorites. The drawings will be made tonight, and the schedule of the first day's matches will be announced in tomorrow's Oregonian. A practically complete list of entries follows:

Men's singles.—J. W. Ladd, P. R. Gifford, James P. Ewing, H. H. Herdman, Jr., L. R. Prince, C. D. Brandon, A. B. McAlpin, B. H. Wickham, R. A. Letter, A. A. Morrison, L. B. Wickham, R. L. Maclean, E. C. Grell, W. A. Goss, George C. Durham, H. R. Felling, P. H. Carroll, H. G. Durand, D. L. Bellinger, Kenneth Fenton, Kurt Koshler, Carl D. Lewis, of Seattle; M. C. Chas. L. R. Freeman, of Pasadena; C. R. G. Greese, of Tacoma; W. A. Bethel.
Men's doubles.—Ladd and Gifford, Herdman and Ewing, Corbett and Mackie, R. H. Wickham and L. B. Wickham, Letter and Prince, Koshler and Felling, Kollock and Grell, Fenton and Bellinger, A. B. McAlpin and partner, L. R. Freeman and partner, Goss and Lewis, Cawston and Morse.
Ladies' singles.—Miss Beate Strong, Miss Nan Robertson, Mrs. H. E. Judge, Miss Fox, Miss Stella Ford, Miss Rachel Joseph, Miss Amy Helsthu.
Ladies' doubles.—Miss Strong and Miss Robertson, Miss Fox and Mrs. Judge, Miss Ford and partner, Miss Joseph and partner.
Mixed doubles.—Miss Strong and J. P. Ewing, Miss Robertson and A. H. Wickham, Miss Morrison and A. A. Morrison, Miss Helsthu and J. A. Goss, Miss Joseph and G. C. Durham, Mrs. Judge and partner, L. R. Freeman and partner.

SALEM FEELS SURE OF PENNANT.
Eugene loses Two Games in Row to Capital City Team.
SALEM, July 26.—(Special.)—Salem's team defeated Eugene again today by a score of 5 to 1, after one of the most exciting games of the season. Up to the sixth inning Morris and Trabel, Salem's battery, held the visitors down to one score. In the sixth inning Salem put in a new battery, Brown, of the Sacramento, and Shay, of the Portland Browns, and in this inning Salem scored three runs with two men down.

The fireworks were started by a clean two-base hit by Sanders, with two men on bases, followed by a hit by Downie and a two-bagger by Croft. The work of the new battery was one of the features of the game. In the seventh Davis scored on a sacrifice by Patterson, and in the eighth Haynes hit the ball over the fence. The game was witnessed by 1500 people. Salem now has the pennant practically won, with the possibility of tie by Roseburg winning two postponed games.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Standing of the Clubs.
	Won.	Lost.
Boston	37	23
Philadelphia	42	27
Cleveland	39	28
Detroit	39	28
New York	36	31
St. Louis	33	43
Washington	27	53

St. Louis 5, Cleveland 3.
ST. LOUIS, July 26.—St. Louis trimmed Cleveland in the opening game of the series despite some heavy slugging on the part of the visitors. The attendance was 1500. The score:
St. Louis.....51111Cleveland.....102
Batteries—Slevvers and Sugden; Wright and Bemis.

Chicago 0-4, Detroit 1-2.
CHICAGO, July 26.—In the first game Barrett walked, was sacrificed to second, took third on a passed ball and scored the only run on a triple. The balance of the game was a pitchers' battle. The attendance was 2800. The score:
First game—
Chicago.....00000Detroit.....152
Batteries—Ewing and McFarland; Donohue and Buelow.
Second game—
Chicago.....477Detroit.....382
Batteries—Flaherty and Slattery; Kinsinger and McGuire.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Standing of the Clubs.
	Won.	Lost.
Pittsburg	37	27
New York	47	22
Chicago	35	29
Cincinnati	35	29
Brooklyn	39	29
St. Louis	34	35
Philadelphia	28	55

Chicago 9, St. Louis 1.
CHICAGO, July 26.—In four of the five innings that the locals scored in today's games, Rhoades started them off with passes. The attendance was 7300. The score:
Chicago.....948St. Louis.....172
Batteries—Wicker and Kling; Rhoades and O'Neill. Umpire—Moran.

Pittsburg 5, Cincinnati 2.
CINCINNATI, July 26.—Cincinnati's inability to field sloth hits in the seventh gave Pittsburg the game. The attendance was 500. Score:
Pittsburg.....522Cincinnati.....291
Batteries—Ewing and Peltz; Doheny and Smith. Umpire—O'Day.

'FRISCO TEAM STARTS NORTH.
Disability of Leahy and Pabst Makes Its Prospects Gloomy.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(Special.)—The San Francisco team went north tonight for a two weeks' trip to Portland and Seattle, still perching in second place by virtue of Sacramento's unexpected string of defeats at the hands of the Browns. An even break can scarcely be looked for, as the reorganized clubs of the Pacific Northwest are playing a very tidy article of ball, and the stars will be minus the services of Leahy and Pabst during the journey.
Willie Jacobs was included among the travelers, and must do the bulk, if not all, of the backstop duty, unless another man is secured. Leahy was never advised to stay away from the grounds for at least ten days, a later examination of his injured shoulder showing a slight splintering of the bone. Pabst's mysterious trouble with his hand has evaded all attempts to mend it, and the impression is growing that a bone is fractured.
Henry Harris writes in a private letter that he did not confer with Lucas and Dugdale, as was stated in press telegrams. James A. Hart tried to bring about such a meeting, saying that a proposition to "amalgamate, buy or sell" would probably accomplish some result.

BATTLE THE UMPIRE

And Yet Captain Dillon Tried Hard Not To.

HE PROMISES TO MAKE REFORM

Will Could Be Able to Change a Fighting Ballplayer to a Demure Model of Self-Control.

While the fans have no use for Captain Dillon's method, they are from him he is without doubt a great baseball player. Dillon out of his uniform is not a bad sort, in fact he is a clever talker, a man of good breeding and education. After hearing him brow-beat and belting an umpire, it is hardly creditable to hear him say that he "wishes to God that he could quit scolding umpires." "I know it hurts the game," he said Saturday evening after winning that 13-inning game from the Browns, "but when I get on the ball field, I get so intent upon winning that I forget all else. I don't believe in jumping all over the umpire, but when he makes such a mistake as the one I saw and his kind, I simply cannot hold my tongue. You may not know it, but every time I break loose and go for a man as I did Levy, I am thoroughly ashamed of myself. I venture to say that no ball player in the country makes as many apologies to umpires as I do. I never go to a game that I do not promise myself that I shall play the game, no matter how it breaks out, and I realize as well as anybody that there is lots of senseless kicking, but unless there was kicking umpires would get so careless that they would not try to watch the play. As a close official, I do this every time I play, but when the game gets under way, I forget everything but the game and my great desire to win. I am not a rowdy and there is no more thoroughly ashamed of myself for making an exhibition than I am when it's all over. In a measure, it's the fault of the umpire. If he would make me behave myself I would do so, but instead they will talk back and hand me out things just about as hot as you're sending, and in consequence the wrangling is kept up."

"I can't help fighting for the games I play. I learned to play the game from a man who did so, I realize as well as anybody that there is lots of senseless kicking, but unless there was kicking umpires would get so careless that they would not try to watch the play. As a close official, I do this every time I play, but when the game gets under way, I forget everything but the game and my great desire to win. I am not a rowdy and there is no more thoroughly ashamed of myself for making an exhibition than I am when it's all over. In a measure, it's the fault of the umpire. If he would make me behave myself I would do so, but instead they will talk back and hand me out things just about as hot as you're sending, and in consequence the wrangling is kept up."

"Some day I'll be able to control my temper. I shall not give up trying until I have accomplished it." Captain Dillon was in earnest when he made this statement, for when he returns to Los Angeles he will take with him his wife. The Los Loos' captain will be married in San Francisco while the team is playing the series in the Bay City. The tip that he was to become a benedict leaked out while he was in Portland, and he blushing admitted the truth. Dillon is determined that after he is married that no one can tell him that he is a rowdy baseball player. While he is discussing his future and his promised reformation he pointed to the case of Norman Elberfeld, who, until he was married, was undoubtedly the worst rowdy baseball player that ever graced a uniform. Elberfeld was once a team-mate of Dillon's and the Los Angeles manager knows how a wife has changed this speaker, and he hopes to do likewise. In speaking of Elberfeld Dillon said:

"I have given umpires trouble, but I never was as bad as Elberfeld. This clever shortstop hardly ever played a game through without getting into trouble. He was a terror to all umpires and to the club officials as well. His bad temper was also spoiling his playing. Suddenly he fell in love and married a very good girl, and she changed him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody." Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

spilling his playing. Suddenly he fell in love and married a very good girl, and she changed him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble with anybody."

Here the captain grew reminiscent and he contrasted the work of a good woman with that of a bad one. Elberfeld was a change in him. Elberfeld is playing better ball now than ever and he never gets into trouble