OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, wash-ington, July 2.-"Scab in Sheep." is the title of a recent farmers' bulletin issued by the Department of Aggriculture. In this publication the whole subject of sheep scab, so prevalent and so disassneep scao, so prevalent and so usas-trous among sheep flocks in Western States, is comprehensively discussed, and valuable suggestions are made for the eradication of the scourge. The disease is said to be the most prevalent and is said to be the most provalent and most injurious maindy which affects sheep. It is a contagious skin disease caused by a parasite mite. Investigation has shown that the disease is not heredi-tary, as the parasites which cause it live on the external surface of the body. It is on the external surface of the body.
