NAVY TOWN MUST CONTINUE DRY

Liquor Man's Application to Continue Doing Business Until the Appealed Case is Heard
Is Denied.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus to a liquor licensee because the Navy Department had declared the place too immoral for the vessels of the Navy to visit the saloon and dry-dock located there. One saloon appealed to the court, but was compelled to close on July 25 by the lower court dismissing the case. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, and pending the decision in the matter, the saloon asked for a writ of habeas corpus, the issuance of which would have enabled it to remain open until the decision was handed down. The decision today is a denial of the application for the writ and contains the statement that the saloon, when it comes up for regular hearing, will be dismissed, as by that time the controversy will have ceased. The court says:

"When the case is called for hearing on the regular docket, the controversy will have ceased, and under the uniform holdings of this court, will be dismissed. If a supersedeas is issued, the saloon will be permitted to continue its business in violation of the ordinance and the judgment of the lower court until the expiration of the term of its license, and thereupon they will have no further interest in the appeal. If the supersedeas is not issued, the saloon will be in violation of the ordinance and the judgment of the lower court until the expiration of the term of its license, and thereupon they will have no further interest in the appeal. If the supersedeas is not issued, the saloon will be in violation of the ordinance and the judgment of the lower court until the expiration of the term of its license, and thereupon they will have no further interest in the appeal."

The Supreme Court today affirmed the Lewis County Superior Court in the case of William Woodham, appellant, vs. J. Anderson and A. Anderson, respondents.

The action arose out of the foreclosure of a delinquent tax certificate. Woodham brought the foreclosure proceedings in April, 1931, giving notice to the Andersons by publication. The question at issue was the sufficiency of the summons by publication. The law in effect at that time provided that the defendants should have 60 days to appear after the service of summons. The lower court held that a summons by publication was not considered served until after the completion of the publication. As the notice summoned the defendants to appear within 60 days after the date of the first publication, the notice was void. The lower court set aside the judgment and gave the defendants 20 days to answer. They failed to answer and the plaintiffs moved for a default against them. Upon a showing by the plaintiffs of good cause for not answering, the motion was denied. The defendants then tendered back taxes, penalties and interest and asked to have the cloud removed from their title. The prayer was granted and the plaintiffs dismissed the action.

The lower court is sustained by the Supreme Court as to the insufficiency of the summons by publication, and it is also held that the law of 1931, which went into effect during the publication of the summons, which law changes the time for appearance to 60 days after the first day of publication, did not affect the procedure already inaugurated in this case. The decision by the lower court of the defendant's excuse for not answering within 20 days was discretionary with the lower court.

WOMAN IN THE CASE.
Cause of the Shooting of Turnbow at Garfield Sunday.

COLEFAX, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—It is now believed that the shooting of Thomas Turnbow at Garfield Sunday morning by J. E. Brown, was caused by a woman. Brown is said to have been enamored of a young widow living in Garfield and his attentions to her had become common talk. Some time ago a crowd of boys and young men surrounded the house of this widow when Brown was alleged to be in the house and gave them an old-fashioned charivari. This caused a sensation in the quiet town of Garfield, where nothing more exciting than a croquet social is allowed by the town authorities. Brown blamed Turnbow with having been one of the instigators of the riot to humiliate him and had blood had existed between them since that event.

The day before the shooting, Mrs. Brown, who is a widow, was seen by her husband, and is said to be extremely jealous of him, met the widow in question on the streets of Garfield and gave her "a piece of her mind." Their interview was quite stormy and ended, Mrs. Brown afterward said, so it is alleged: "They had been meeting every day, and if I had a gun I would kill them both." This is taken to have been the cause of the shooting. It is said that Mr. and Mrs. Brown passed a stormy night, Saturday night, and the fact that Brown was on the street, armed with a revolver, about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, when Turnbow without any words or quarrel is charged by the state as evidence that he had risen and armed himself with the intent of wreaking vengeance on those whom he held responsible for his exposure and humiliation.

LOCATED IN COUNCIL BLUFFS.
Gonzales, the Portuguese Boy, Was on His Way to Oakland.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 10.—August Gonzales, the Portuguese boy who was picked up in the Chicago & Northwestern freight yards in this city early today, having just arrived from Chicago on route West. He was taken to the police station, where he made known his identity and a wish to reach Oakland, Calif. He carried with him a Chicago paper detailing the story recently published about his travels and family connections. He told of his wanderings since his father kidnapped him in Oakland, and said he had been in a cabin boy and his father's ship's carpenter during most of his ocean trips, which included voyages to Portugal, the Madeira Islands and South Africa.

When young Gonzales learned that transportation had been sent to him at Chicago, he said he would wait in Council Bluffs for it. He said he will have no dif-culty in identifying himself when he finds his mother and believes she will recognize him. The boy says he has a number of relatives living in one of whom, an uncle, lives in Honolulu. Young Gonzales' father left quite a fortune, of which, however, he will not come into his share until he is 21 years old. The police here expect to hear from his Oakland relatives in a short time.

YELLOW PINE IN WALKER BASIN
Oregon Development Company May Begin Active Work in the Fall.

BEND, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—J. J. Windle, of Minneapolis, secretary and managing director of the Oregon Development Company, has just returned from a ten-day cruise in the Walker basin. He had expert cruisers estimate the quantity of yellow pine on all the land within the limits shown by the amended map of segregation of his company. He says the relinquishments voluntarily made by his company will cut the segregation down from 5,000 acres to about 50,000. He expects to begin active work in the fall. Mr. Windle says it is not the intention of his company to buy land not properly classified as desert land, and it will cheerfully relinquish any tracts of that character without any contest whatever. The information would have been important before the withdrawal of the large area in Central Oregon from entry. Now relinquishment simply carries the land back to the Government and no new entries are permitted.

Mr. Windle left today for Portland. He does not know yet whether he will return to Minneapolis or go to California.

to recover certain quantities of grain which have been taken possession of by the receiver and which they hold as their own private property, having been given as security on certain notes. They held that this grain should not be put into the general fund for the satisfaction of the creditors of the insolvent firm of Eslinger & Co., but should be held as a separate consignment.

Visit From a Princess.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Princess Arashimhini, daughter of the late King Pomare of Tahiti, has just arrived in this city on the steamship Mariposa. She was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Dorence Atwater, whose husband has been a planter in the islands for the last 30 years, but intends again to make his home in America.

Mrs. Pomare is the younger of King Pomare's two daughters and is about 15 years of age, tall and attractive. Her father was the last of a long line of rulers. He lived part of the time in European style, but the greater part of his life in native fashion. His children, however, were brought up in modern modes and were educated at the French convent in the Tahitian port of Papeete, and speak French, some English and their native tongue.

She is a late-comer to the islands, having been brought up in modern modes and were educated at the French convent in the Tahitian port of Papeete, and speak French, some English and their native tongue.

Three cents per pound is still the ruling price, but today a new agreement was being circulated among the packers asking them to make another reduction to 2 cents. Thus far it has received only a few signatures.

Big Run in Rogue River.
GRANT'S PASS, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A big run of salmon is now taking place in Rogue River. There are two dams across the river in the vicinity of this place, and it is most interesting to see the big fish maneuvering in their efforts to continue their ascent of the stream. Some of them miss the fishway and leap high and dry on the dam, or even on the shore, or lay on their side and wash up on the beach.

Small Pack on Puget Sound.
SEATTLE, Aug. 10.—With only $7.50 on hand, a pack of sockeye salmon on Puget Sound is pointing to an early close of the season, there is every reason to fear that the salmon pack this year will be a practical failure. This is the opinion of Charles Corby, manager of the Pacific Sockeye Company. The pack of less than 30,000 cases this year shows a shortage of almost 125,000 cases as compared with the catch last year at this time.

Poker Player Shoots.
How in an Astoria Saloon in Which
No Great Damage is Done.
ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—A peculiar shooting affray occurred in Uniontown last evening by which two men were injured, though neither of them was seriously hurt. While engaged in playing a game of poker in the Empire saloon, Israel Mattson, who was slightly intoxicated, became incensed at some of the players whom he accused of cheating. He drew a revolver and fired at the men seated at the table. The bullet struck Theo Larsen on a finger, then passed through the left leg of Jack Norland and the knee and fell to the floor. Mattson was arrested and disarmed before he could fire the second shot. He will be given a preliminary hearing as soon as Norland is able to appear in court.

Trans-Mississippi Delegates.
OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The Governor today named the following as delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Congress, to be held in Seattle this month: F. Fairhaven, William D. Wood, of Seattle; Austin Mires, of Ellensburg; John B. Allen, son of the late Senator Allen, of Seattle, was named as delegate to the American Mining Congress.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 10.—The Governor has appointed the following delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, to be held in Seattle August 15 to 21: Frank D. Ryan, Sacramento; Colvin B. Brown, Sacramento; C. B. Booth, Los Angeles; D. Loveland, San Francisco; M. C. McNaughton, San Diego; Hugh Craig, San Francisco.

Young Teacher's Experience.
WESTON, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Ellis Pinkerton, a young school teacher, who joined a threshing crew at George Carmichael's place, three miles north of town, had a sensational experience yesterday. The derrick-hook caught in his vest, swiftly lifting him from the netting, he had just driven to the machine. Until he swung about 20 feet in the air. Other members of the crew were horrified when he fell ground upon the farmer's "table," expecting that the shock would kill him. He escaped, however, with a fracture and dislocation of the right forearm and a badly bruised leg.

Grouse in Baker City.
BAKER CITY, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The best place to hunt grouse in this part of the state is in the yards of prominent citizens in the center of town. Yesterday John, son of John, of Baker City, killed eight grouse in the back yard where they had come to feed in the garden. When he discovered they were in the sweet pea patch. They flew up into the trees and he was able to bag eight before the flock left the city. To kill grouse out of the shade trees along the streets is a common occurrence every fall in this city.

Forest Fires in Washington.
EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 10.—Forest fires near Canyon Head, on the Monte Cristo Railroad, are doing considerable damage. The Washington State Fire Commission has ordered out a gang of firefighters.

Child Killed by Frightened Horse.
MILES CITY, Mont., Aug. 10.—The 4-year-old daughter of James Patch, a rancher, living near this city, was trampled to death yesterday afternoon by a frightened horse. The child was riding on the animal, which, becoming frightened, broke away. The girl fell but became entangled in the straps.

Found in Lake Sewall.
BUTTE, Aug. 10.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Eugene B. Cooney, the 15-year-old son of E. H. Cooney, city editor of the Great Falls Leader, was cleared away today by the discovery of the young man's body, floating in Lake Sewall, 20 miles from here.

Named for West Point.
MOSCOW, Idaho, Aug. 10.—Congressman Burton L. French has nominated Wentworth H. Moss, of Payette, to a West Point cadetship, with Aubrey Lawrence, of Moscow, and Louis Yeager, of Jackson, as alternates. The examination of nominees will not occur until next spring.

City Attorney's Fall.
OREGON CITY, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—George L. Atwater, Attorney for Oregon City, fell this afternoon from a building that he was painting at his home in this city and suffered the fracture of his leg.

TRAPS ARE LOADED DOWN

ALMOST UNPRECEDENTED RUN OF SALMON IN LOWER RIVER.

Packers Trying to Reduce the Price of Fish-Sockeye Season on Puget Sound a Failure.

ASTORIA, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Judging from present indications, the new run of fish will be even larger than the one that preceded it, but as all classes of gear are being limited, the aggregate catch will not be so great. Only sufficient being taken to keep the canneries and cold storage plants busy. The fishermen who drifted in the lower harbor last night did well, some of them getting as high as two tons each. The fish are loaded down on a fish and the run has now reached as far up the river as the north channel opposite this city. All the packing plants are rushed, and that they will have sufficient to keep them running until the end of the season is assured.

Three cents per pound is still the ruling price, but today a new agreement was being circulated among the packers asking them to make another reduction to 2 cents. Thus far it has received only a few signatures.

While engaged in playing a game of poker in the Empire saloon, Israel Mattson, who was slightly intoxicated, became incensed at some of the players whom he accused of cheating. He drew a revolver and fired at the men seated at the table. The bullet struck Theo Larsen on a finger, then passed through the left leg of Jack Norland and the knee and fell to the floor. Mattson was arrested and disarmed before he could fire the second shot. He will be given a preliminary hearing as soon as Norland is able to appear in court.

Grouse in Baker City.
BAKER CITY, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The best place to hunt grouse in this part of the state is in the yards of prominent citizens in the center of town. Yesterday John, son of John, of Baker City, killed eight grouse in the back yard where they had come to feed in the garden. When he discovered they were in the sweet pea patch. They flew up into the trees and he was able to bag eight before the flock left the city. To kill grouse out of the shade trees along the streets is a common occurrence every fall in this city.
