

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS WAKE HIM UP

IS WANTED FOR GOVERNOR

Victory Would Put Him in the Presidential Race.

FRIENDS SAY HE IS WILLING

Colonel William A. Gaston Desires to Be Nominated, but Will Retire if It is for the Good of the Party.

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The wing of the Massachusetts Democracy which is opposed to the nomination of Colonel William A. Gaston for Governor this Fall is seriously considering the nomination of General Nelson A. Miles, who is expected to take up his residence in this state within a few weeks. The faction opposed to Gaston is large, and the present Republican Governor, John L. Bates, has made a great many enemies in Boston especially. It is believed General Miles, who would poll a great many independent Republican votes, would make a powerful candidate.

NEBRASKA WITH ROOSEVELT.

Republican Convention Also Has Vice-Presidential Candidate.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12.—The Republican State Convention today nominated the following ticket:

Associate Justice of Supreme Court John B. Eames, of Manhattan; Charles S. Allen, of Lancaster, and W. G. Whitmore, of Douglas.

Beginning at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the convention transacted its necessary business, and was ready to adjourn three hours later. The nomination of Court Commissioner John B. Eames for Associate Justice of the Supreme court and the nomination of Charles S. Allen for associate justice was more in the nature of a ratification than a contest.

The two most successful candidates for senate of the state are Charles S. Allen and W. G. Whitmore, were nominated on the first formal ballot. President Roosevelt received the heartiest commendation and a declaration was made for his renomination.

The unexpected feature of the convention was the adoption by unanimous vote of a resolution declaring John L. Webster, of Omaha, the delegate to the convention and one of the well-known party leaders of the state, to be the choice of Nebraska Republicans for vice-president in 1934.

On National issues, the Republican State Convention declared as follows: "We congratulate, not only ourselves, but the people at large, that the administration of our national affairs, and our negotiations with foreign nations are being conducted by the courageous Republican President, who knows no fear, who courts no favor, but who loves peace and order, and in whose hands we have a feeling of perfect safety and security; a president whom the American people now desire to honor with a second term as the chief magistrate of the greatest and grandest nation of the earth—Theodore Roosevelt.

"We adhere to the American protective policy of the Republican party which has increased the revenues and not impeded commerce to the benefit of the mills and factories to millions of American skilled mechanics, and is returning to them the higher wages which are the just reward of their industry.

"The Republican party recognizes that legitimate business, fairly capitalized and honestly conducted, has increased our industries at home and expanded our trade with other nations, and it is essential, especially with foreign countries in the markets of the world, that the Republican party is unalterably opposed to all combinations of capital and labor, having for their purpose the stifling of competition and arbitrarily controlling production or fixing prices.

"For the nation's defense, for the strengthening of the navy, for the employment of our foreign commerce, for the employment of the American workingmen in mines, forest, mills, factories and ship yards, and for the enhancement of the value of our products, we favor such appropriate legislation as shall make the seas give evidence that American-built and American-owned and American-managed ships are carrying American foreign commerce to the four corners of the earth. It is the wish of the Republicans of Nebraska that every ship that carries American goods and American products, into the harbors of foreign nations shall sail under the American flag."

"The Philippines are ours as the legitimate and crowning result of honorable warfare, and we hold them not for harbor or for sale, but as a part of the National domain made sacred to us by the American blood which has been shed to plant and maintain the Stars and Stripes upon the far-off isles of the Pacific Ocean.

"Under the administration of the Republican Presidents, McKinley and Roosevelt, the people of these islands have received the benefit of American laws; their burdens are being lightened; their hearts are being gladdened; their homes are being brightened, and their children are being dedicated to a wider and purer education, and we shall ever guard and protect them as an inheritance as sacred to us as are the principles of liberty and government."

Desert Rather Than Enter Races.

ASTORIA, Or., Aug. 12.—Because they would have to row in the races of the regatta, two sailors have already deserted from the Astoria regatta. They were a Libby and a Burt, and they were supposed to be rowing in the 1000-meter race. They were seen at the regatta, but they were not in the race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Oregon is well represented at both the Grand Army Encampment and the National Convention of the Woman's Relief Corps. Registration at the Oregon Encampment today shows 125 members of the Grand Army have come to San Francisco from Oregon, and 50 members of the Oregon Woman's Relief Corps are also here.

Most of the Oregon veterans in San Francisco took part in today's magnificent parade. General Owen Summers, of Portland, was conspicuous among the men in line, marching with the members of his old regiment along the entire route. Military and civic organizations united to make the parade in honor of the Grand Army veterans the most magnificent pageant seen in San Francisco for several years. Nearly all the Western states have large delegations present, and the meeting shows a remarkably large attendance.

The crowds at the hotels are enormous, and all the prominent houses are compelled to turn away guests. The crowd in attendance at the encampment has surprised even expectant San Francisco. G. E. CAULKIN.

PARADE IS MOST IMPOSING.

San Francisco Seldom Has Seen a Finer One.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Seldom has a finer parade been witnessed in San Francisco than that which today did honor to the Grand Army of the Republic. The veterans were not in line, their procession being scheduled for tomorrow, but many allied organizations participated, chief among these being the Naval Reserve, the veterans of the Spanish-American War, and the National Guard of California. The regular Army was well represented.

The Order of Red Men, which was largely represented, added a picturesque feature to the display. The German societies of the city, including amateur athletes and children from the various Turner schools, made a splendid showing, as also did the League of Cross Cadets.

Generals Miles and Shafter were greeted with cheers along the line of march, which included the city's chief thoroughfares.

During the day reunions of the Ladies of the Grand Army, the Women's Relief Corps, the Union ex-prisoners of war, and Berdan's Sharp Shooters were held, all being well attended.

Stewart is Given a Reception.

Tonight Mechanics' Pavilion was crowded to the doors by Grand Army men, their wives and friends, the occasion being an informal reception to General Stewart, Commander-in-Chief.

The Spanish-American Veterans met in a social way, and an open-house was kept by the Department of Illinois, Missouri and Ohio at the Palace Hotel.

The city was again illuminated tonight, and the effect appeared more brilliant than on the preceding evening, when the lights had not all been properly placed.

Great Crowds View Parade.

The parade was viewed by vast crowds of people, who packed the sidewalks, windows, roofs and every point of vantage along the line of march. It was certainly one of the most displays ever seen here, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed among the spectators, who greeted their special favorites in each branch of the service with rousing cheers as they passed by. The parade was made up of the troops, both regulars and state, in their natty uniforms, passed along the gayly decorated streets with banners flying and bands playing, was one which will be long remembered by those who saw it.

Bagle Gives Signal to Advance.

Sharp upon the appointed hour the bugle gave the signal to advance, and following orders from headquarters the marching regiments and civic organizations wheeled into line in their appointed positions in the parade. There was no disorder of any kind in the way of forming up the different bodies of men on march, the arrangement being complete and made with a military precision which had guarded against confusion of any kind. Grand Marshal Colonel J. R. Fuller, in Grand Army uniform, and his chief of staff, Colonel W. Edwards, and chief of staff, Colonel J. F. Bergin, both dressed in fatigue uniforms of the National Guard of California.

Following came the first division. This was composed of detachments of United States troops, sailors and marines, including the Twenty-fifth Infantry, three battalions of the artillery, the First and Second Battalions Coast Artillery, United States Marines and sailors, the latter under command of Lieutenant J. P. Morton. The senior commanding officer of the regular troops was Lieutenant Colonel T. C. Woodbury.

The second division, which made a fine showing and met with hearty reception as body after body of the troops passed, was made up of regiments of the California National Guard, led by Major-General John H. Dickinson and Brigadier-General C. F. Muller. The first detachment was made up of the second brigade N. G. C. Colonel T. F. O'Neil commanding; the First and Fifth Infantry Regiments, First Battalion of Artillery, Troop A Cavalry and the Signal Corps dismounted.

The naval battalion came next, attracting much attention from the crowds of spectators as they swung past, dragging their Gatling batteries. The veteran reserve, Company A, followed as special

ARMY WANTS PLACE

Holds Some General Should Be on Philippine Board.

AFTER SHOES FILLED BY WRIGHT

Lieutenant-Governor is Expected to Be Advanced When Taft Becomes Secretary of War—Islands' Army Problems the Most Serious.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—There is a good deal of speculation in Army circles here upon the effect of impending change in the War Department. Naturally, attention is directed mainly toward the Philippines, where active construction work remains to be done. This fact, it is assumed, lies at the bottom of the President's selection of Governor Taft as successor to Mr. Root. That Secretary Taft and Lieutenant-Governor Wright, who is expected to succeed Taft, will be able to carry forward without break the civil work begun by Secretary Root and Governor Taft is taken for granted.

Less clear is the prospect for the purely military service that remains to be done in the archipelago under the new regime. One of the most important subjects for consideration by the new general staff of the Army concerns military affairs in the Philippines, which should be provided in the way of transportation, centralization and specific administration, with special view to prompt and effective action in case of an uprising too large to be handled effectively by any but Federal troops.

Want Army Man on Board.

In private conversation, more than one officer of rank has expressed the opinion that it would be wise for the Administration, when Taft is succeeded by Wright, to fill the vacancy on the Philippine Commission by appointing a General of the line. It is suggested also that the military member should become ex-officio Minister of War in the Insular cabinet, and have direct control over the movements of all men in the islands who bear arms, meaning the constabulary, city and country, and the regular troops.

A suggestion that General Wood might ultimately be appointed Governor of the Philippines has aroused new interest in the War Department in the long-contested discussion over section 122 of the revised United States Statutes. This section reads:

"No officer of the Army, on the active list, shall hold any civil office, whether by election or appointment, and every paid officer who accepts and exercises the functions of a civil office shall thereby cease to be an officer of the Army, and his commission shall be thereby vacated."

This paragraph is held by some of the legal lights who wear shoulder straps to be mandatory in preventing the exercise of civil duties by Army officers, except where such civil duties are part of the jurisdiction of the Secretary of War. The ruling was, however, thoroughly threshed out, however, at the time when Congress was considering the payment of money for allowances to Army officers serving in a civil capacity during the occupation of Cuba, and the Government accepted the ruling that this statute did not apply, except where an officer proposed to draw two salaries from the National Treasury.

In pursuance of this ruling, a number of officers under the civil government of the Philippines, and there is no question as to their military or their civil status.

Treat Tells Navy Department it Hopes to Resume Work Soon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Acting Secretary Darling has received a telegram from the Council of the United States Shipbuilding Company, of which the Crescent Shipbuilding Company is a part, stating that the company hopes eventually to be able to resume work on the cruiser Chattanooga and the torpedo boats Nicholson and O'Brien. The Acting Secretary has replied that the department will be interested to know whenever the company finds itself in readiness to resume this work. The contracts for all three of the ships have been cancelled, and a board of officers ordered to appraise the work done. It is believed that the vessels will be completed at Government yards.
