PUMP WATER FROM SNAKE

MALHEUR ORCHARD CHEAPLY IRRIGATED.

Arid Land Made to Produce Excellent Fruit-Baptist Minister Rancher's Industrious Life,

ONTARIO, Or., Aug. 18 .- (Special.) -- Irrigation by means of gasoline engine and pump is no longer an experiment in this vicinity, but is now in successful opera-tion. One of the most unique ranches in Malheur County, or possibly for that mat-ter, in Oregon, is the fruit ranch, seven mites below Ontario, owned by Dr. I. M. Bockefeller, of Anaconda, Mont. This ranch is located on the bank of Snake River, almost due north of Payette, Snake River, aimost due north of Payette, Idaho, and north of Ontario, Or., and consists of TD acres in all, 60 seres of which are in orchard. The remainder has not been put into cultivation yet. In this 6-acre orchard there are 400 apple trees and 2000 pear trees, or 400 trees in all The apple trees were set out four years ago list Spring and the pears four years this Fall, but both are beginning to bear fruit. There were a few apples last year and how there are both apples and pears. The fruit will pay expenses this year. There would have been 100 50-pound boxes of pears has not the katydids destroyed some of them.

The apple trees are set out 30 feet apart one way and small farrows are run on sach side for running the water through, the furrows for the pear trees are only right feet apart.

cements for watering this or thard are especially interesting, up the fiver, about 300 yards from the house, which is located on the lower side of the fanch but also near the river, is a small. mimportant-looking shed of a house, about $x10 feet. This house contains an nt-horsepower gasoline engine, dynamo water-tank, besides tools.

How Irrigation Is Accomplished. Just outside the building is the head of the flume through which the water flows out into the ditches. The head of the flume is almost the shape of a pear out half in two and hollowed out, and in the half in two and hollowed out, and in the center of this is a six-inch pipe extending to the pump, about six feet below; connected with the pump, which is a four-inch machine, is another six-inch iron pipe extending to the water in the river, for use when the water is low. Almost beneath the pump is a rectangular well about 2x6 feet, with the curbing of heavy banker extending high counts above the about 226 feet, with the curbing of heavy lumber extending high enough above the ground to be above water most of the time; at the bottom of this well is a flume extending into the water, so that the higher the water is in the river the higher

When the water is reasonably high a ubber hose is connected with the it is in the well. rubber lose is connected with the pump and water is drawn up from the well. Where the water comes into the pear-shaped flume-head from the pump it looks like an ever-flowing artesian well. When the water is high, as it generally is in June, the pump will throw 60 inches of water, but now, when it is lowest, it has to raise the water Il feet, so it only throws about 30 inches.

Expense Is Not Henvy.

The cost of the machinery was not great. The engine and fixtures cost 1600, the pump and pipes 1000, and house, flumes, stc., about 150, making the entire expense of the plant $50. The cost of running is only $60 per year outside of the labor of only how per year cutside of the labor of one minn, who runs the engine and man-ages the cutire ranch.

By this means the cost of the water is paily about $1 per acre for one year, while he has a perpetual water right which no he has a perpetual water right which he brain can harm, unless Snake River goes dry. The orchard has to be watered once in three weeks when there is no rain, but a 24 hours' run is all that is required to water the entire orchard, so that one man keeps the ranch in first-class condition. John H. Burcell fives upon the ranch and has managed it for Mr. Rockefeller for ears. The entire orchard looks as of weeds and undesirable growth as len, and is a very model of neatness. a garden, and is a very model of heatness. Mr. Rochefeller proposes assing clover or grass between the fruit trees, which will add greatly to the income of the place as vell as to its beauty.

No Longer an Experiment.

This enterprise has passed the experi-mental stage and is a success as is shown by the orehard and by the fact that Mr. Rockefeller is planning to have 100 acres seeded to alfalfa and water it in the same way. He will put in a larger engine and pump for the alfalfa, but the larger the engine and number of acres watered the less the sverage exposes per acre. With the 60 acres, however, the expense is less than it would be could be get water from the irrigation actebes, and is far more sat-isfactory as there is no trouble about direbus breaking or others, section, too ditches breaking or others getting too much of the water. Snake River has an abundant supply for all.

Others are planning the same means of trigation. A man from Utah has purchased 272 acres joining Mr. Rocketeller on the east and proposes putting the en-tire ranch in alfalfa and water it from Snake River by means of pump and en-gine. Rev. Samuel Applegate, a Baptist minister and Oregon pioneer of 1884, ewen 250 acres of land just three miles lower down the river. He has a 18-horsepower gasoline engine and expects to put into operation next season a pump which has a capacity of 300 inches of water. Mr. Applegate has fived upon his present place for IT years and has been cutting wild hay. but now he expects to multiply his incommany times by misting sifulfs. While he owns a ranch of 320 acres and devotes most of his time to his home, he is also a regular gospel preacher and is paster of a small Haptist church in his community. Uncle Sammy Applegate is a very popular man.

Placer Gold Mine.

On the ranch of Mr. Applegate is a large sed of sand and gravel which is filled with particles of gold almost us fine as flour, but it has been successfully worked sev-eral times by the use of the "Beach ma-chine." Three men working the machine have taken out on the average E.70 per day. The mine can be worked only about have taken out on the average $1.70 per day. The mine can be worked only about three months in each year, as the gold is foun to the water level and one must wait possible recognition.

Pishing Industry Profitable.

At the present time another industry is more profitable, which must be cared for just as the mining season. That is the catching of fish from Snake River.

According to the state laws, Mr. Applecate begins catching salmon about September 15 and continues as long as they are good. This industry is very increative wittle it lasts, so that if the sage brush does held sway over much of the land, the river furnishes much good salmon and sturgeon to cat. But the sugebrush along Suake River is having to give may to or-Stake River is having to give may to or-chards and alfalfa, and soon the river will be bordered with beautiful homes. There are abundant opportunities at present for small capital to invest along Stake River within a few miles of Ontario and make confortable borne.

SPOKANE. Wash, Aug. M.—Another chapter in the notorious Wren divorce case, which has occupied the attention of the Superior Court for the past year or more, at frequent intervals, was opened here when Mrs. Amanda Wren filed an affidavit in the Superior Court Saturday, setting forth that on August 2, the day of the death of W. T. Wren, Laura Wren, alias Laura Daimpra, and her father, W. R. Clark, broke into her house and attempted to kidnap Howard T. Wren, the minfant son of W. T. and Laura Wren. The affidavit sets forth that the parties attempted by farce to take the child awar, and in a rude and threatening manner endeavored to beat and wound the affiant, and said they would take the child, dead et alive. She asked the court to protect vorce Case.

Every outhound train yesterday carried away hundreds to various points in the south-ern part of the state, and the ferrybeats were crowded with old soldiers bound eastward by way of the Central Pacific, who contemplate visiting the Northwest before returning to their homes on the other side of the Bockies. At noon the Pennaylvania special, con-veying a large representation of that state and the battle flags, which formed an interesting feature of the parade on Thursday, left the Oakland Mole on its home-ward journey. Attached to the train was the private car of Past Commander-in-Chief Stuart and the former members of Chief Stuart and the former members of his staff, who accompanied the Pennsyl-varin party to the Coast.

The Minnesota delegation, with General Torrence one of the party, left for home during the forenoon, and about the time these delegates were starting several oth-er trains containing delegates from Bos-ton, from various cities in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska, were leaving for Southern Culifornia.

Commander-in-Chief John C. Black left his apartments at the Palace yesterday and went to Herkeley, where he will be the guest of his married daughter for sev-eral days. Among the other notable old soldlers who left for the East yesterday were Corporal Tanner, Past Commanders-in-Chief General A. C. YOSEMITE, Cal., Aug. 34.—A disastrous shooting affray occurred at Raymond last night at midnight, that may cost the driver of the ambulance belonging to the Ninth United States Cavalry, located at Wawona, his life.

A crowd of the colored troopers doing range duty in the National Park congregated at the saioon of the California Hotel, and after a considerable portion of liquor had been imbibed, indulged in rough talk. Some of the remarks were directed toward the proprietor of the hodirected toward the proprietor of the ho tel, William Duncan, who resented them, and told the colored men so. Ben Bane, the ambulance driver, then threatened to caree Duncan's heart out. Duncan stepped to the end of the counter, where his revolver was placed, and before the crowd could realize what had happened, had shot Bane through the stormach. Bane dropped to the floor insensible, and an exciting scene followed. Some of the soldiers threatened to kill the proprietor solders threatened to kill the proprietor through revenge. Duncan, however, held his ground, and, with smoking revelver in his hand, said he would shoot on the spot the first man that made a move for his gun. The confusion gradually gave place to order, and the wounded man was taken to a room in the hotel and a doctor summoned.

ANOTHER CONVICT CAUGHT Woods Arrested by Officers in a Reno Barber Shop.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 24.-J. W. Woods, one of the escaped convicts from Folsom on July 27, was arrested this morning by Constable Wilson and Officer Leeper, while being shaved in a barber shop.

Constable Wilson was standing on Second affect this morning when he noticed a man answering the description of Woods come around the corner from Center street and enter the barber shop. Wilson started to enter the shop, but, seeing a revolver in the man's helt, decided to get help. Together with Leeper, he entered the shop and covered Woods with a revolver and handcuffed him. Woods offered no resistance. Woods was taken to jail and turned over to Sheriff Hayes. Woods said he came to Reno from Truckee on a freight train last night. He asked Deputy Sheriff Maxwell to let Convict Murphy, captured last night, occupy a man answering the description of Prison Guards Must Shoot.

FOLSOM PRISON, Aug. 24.—The State Board of Prison Directors is determined that there shall never be a repetition of the recent jailbreak at Folsom prison. Late last night, after having heard the statements of all the guards who were on duty at the time of the recent break, but who failed to fire upon the fleeing convicts because they feared to injure Warden Wilkinson, Captain Murphy and the other captives, the directors formulated the following order:
"It shall hereafter be the imperative duty of every guard on post at this prison to fire upon any convict or convicts who are attempting to escape, regardless of the fact that they may have as prisoner any warden or any officer or employe of the prison. Any guard who feels that he cannot conform to this order is hereby requested to hand in his restriction. by requested to hand in his resignation.
