Low Rates to Carnival.—If the interest crowd that has ever been brought into Portland is not present during Portland's ing Fall carnival, September 14 to 25 in-Portland is not present during Portland's big Fall carnival, September 14 to 28 inclusive, it will be no fault of the railroad and water lines entering into the city. At a meeting of the carnival committee last night, W. E. Coman, chairman of the transportation committee, reported that as a result of a meeting of the officials of the railroad and water lines, held late yesterday afternoon, it was decided to make a rate of a fare and a third tickets to be sold on Tuesdays and Fridays, September 15, 18, 22 and 28, with a limit of seven days. The report was adopted and the railroad and water lines will at once push publicity of the low rates. In granting the low rates a large territory is included and from certain points a coupon good for admission to the carnival, will be sold with the ticket. Final limit to the ticket sold for Friday, September 25, will be September 25. The chairmen of the several committees reported progress. The booths committees trated that a large number of applications were being made for space and that Industrial street, will be the best ever seen in Portland. Superintendent Bentley reported that a King for the carnival had been chosen; that he intendent Bentley reported that a King for the carnival had been chosen; that he for the carrival has seen chosen, that is a prominent young business man—a member of the Multnomah Chub—and that it developed that by a singular coincidence the Queen and King were engaged. After the Queen and king were engaged. After much persuasion the couple—both favor-ites in Portland society—had consented to be wedded during the carnival. The date has not been decided upon, but will be announced shortly. In the meantime prep-arations will be pushed to make the wed-ding a pretentious and royal affair.

BEDY OF DEAD CHILD FOUND -A DETTY of small boys who were playing on the pienic grounds at Mount Tabor yesterday, discovered a small box containing a 5-months old fetus of a female child. The discovered a small box containing a 5-months oil fetus of a female child. The body was wrapped in a towel and the box was found in an open grave about two feet in depth. Whoever placed it there was evidently frightened away before the hole could be filled up, as a gunny sack had been hastily spread over it. Coroner Finley was notified of the discovery and brought the fetus to the city, afterward giving it burish at Riverview cemetery. Nothing was found in the box which might furnish a ciew to the perpetrators of the crime, if there was a crime, and the find will remain a mystery.

PORTLAND BOY TO LEAD STANFORD FRESHMEN

PLOWDEN STOTT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cai. Aug. II.—(Special)—A particular interest attaches to the football prowess of the Freshman class at Stanford for the cardinal practically depends upon the flew class to win back laurels which the University of California snatched from her last Fail. Of the candidates for the team in the "91" class, Piowden Stott, of Portland, Or., is by far the most promising. He was quarter-back on the Portland Academy team and comes to Stanford with flattering recommendations from Chet Murphy, of Portland, the crack Stanford captain of several years ago. Stott is not only a good player, but a capable general as well. He will occupy the position of quarter-back when the Freshman eleven lines up next week and has been designated as temporary captain. If he makes good in the position, Coach Lanagan will make him the permanent leader of the eleven.

better known as "Bill" Daily, who re-cently escaped from the rockpile estab-lished by the county authorities, was captured yesterday by Mounted Polloeman Gabriel near the plant of the Portland Flouring Mills Company, on the river road, Gabriel spied Daily first, and said: "Mister Daily, won't you please come home?" but Daily ran into a swamp. Gabriel spurred after him, and was obliged to discard his horse to effect the prisoner's capture. Daily was subse-quently handed over to the county jailer. AUGUST ERICKSON ARRESTED.—August Erickson, the saloonkeeper at Second and Burnside streets, was arrested yesterday by Special Officer Lillis, charged with otempting to erect a certain signboard on his premises, contrary to city ordinance No. 11,370. He was released on bail.

COMING ATTRACTIONS. Exra Kendall in "The Vinegar Buyer" Tonight.

Exra Kendall will make his first ap-Theater tonight, continuing tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon and night, in "The Vinegar Buyer," a new three-act comedy by Herbert Hall Winslow. His managers, the Mesars, Liebler & Co., have supplied their new comedy star with a very picturesque production and an excellent supporting commany. The first act of "The porting company. The first act of "The Vinegar Buyer" shows the main street of a small Indiana town called "Bascomb's Corners," the second is the exterior and grounds of the village sanitarium, and the third act is the drawing-room of a beau-tiful residence in Indianapolis.

The story of the comedy concerns the adventures of Joe Miller, which is taken from James Whitcomb Riley's poem of "Jap Miller." Joe is a sort of jack-of-all-trades and does nothing except make fun. He is a happy-go-lucky fellow who ped-dies musical attachments for sewing machines, and his idea is to make everybody happy. He lands in an indiana town and soon becomes one of the mainstays, and ing in Portland. his various vicissitudes furnish the plot. Mrs. A. J. Fo man who always has a speech at his com-mand, and besides having himself elected Mayor of the town, he straightens out some love affairs and does up the villain, his rival candidate. There is so much local color in the play that it falls to the comedian's lot to keep his audience in roars. Seats are now selling for the three performances.

Frank Bacon in Clever Comedy. After making numerous alterations, elaborately decorating and thoroughly renovating the theater, as well as intro ducing many innovations for the comfort of their patrons, Managers Cordray and Russell will begin the coming season of Cordray's Theater on Sunday evening next with what is said to be one of the best comedy offerings before the public. The delightfully droll comedian, Frank Bacon, will appear there for the first time in his rural councy, "In the Hills of Call-fornia." It will be produced by the orig-inal company, numbering in all 20 players, and special scenery will be introduced. The press is unanimous in its praise for this organization, and Pertland theatergoers are assured of a fine production. A feature of this company will be the Cali-fornia quartet, which has been given elaborate notice for its sweet singing. It will render the latest musical numbers. A number of specialities will be introduced, and the coon song entitled "Don't Make Those Scandalous Eyes at Me" will be rendered by Gus Tate and Frances Slosson, for whom it was expressly written by Lee Johnson, author of "My Honolulu Baby" and other popular songs.

Infantry, O. N. G.

The First Battery, Field Artillery, O. N. G., will return from its camp at Senside tonight. The battery is to break camp some time this afternoon, and will return to Portland on the regular coast train of the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad. Nine days' work will have been completed

Nine days' work will have been completed by the men of the battery when they de-sert the field today.

Daily reports from the camp indicate that the battery has had 80 per cent of its total strength in camp. This is regarded by Adjutant-General Gantenbein as a good showing, when the inteness of the season is taken into consideration. No report has been made by Captain Welch regarding the work done by the battery in target practice. The detailed scores of pistol practice and with the field pieces will be forwarded to the Adjutant-General's office forwarded to the Adjutant-General's office within ten days from the time the battery returns to Portland. General orders are to be issued within a few days covering the encampment of the Third Infantry. All the companies of the regiment are to be assembled at Port-land, and the regiment will proceed as an organization to Gearhart. A special train will be secured to carry the members of the regiment to the camp. the regiment to the camp. It is planned by Adjutant-General Gan-tenbein that the Third Infantry will reach Gearhart during the morning or about, noon, and will be comfortably encamped before night. The Quartermaster's department, under the direction of Captain Knapp, will have completed all arrangements for the reception of the regiment prior to the time the men arrive.

It is estimated that more than 700 men will be encamped at Gearhart. There are many members of the regiment who will find it impossible to get away to attend the ten days' training, but officers have been impressing upon their men the importance of a full encampment, and this is likely to have an effect.

Medals are to be offered to the men mak ing the best showing during the encampment. The military board set aside $500 for this purpose, but officers have not yet learned the number of medals that can be provided for this sum. Until that information is at hand, there is no means of determining the number of medals that will be offered. It is reasonably certain, how-ever, that the principal medals will be given for marksmanship. The details of the medal competitions are to be made known to members of the guard through a general order to be issued to proceed early on the morning of Sep-tember 3 to Roseburg, arriving some time before noon. The senior officer present will assume command until the arrival of Major Yoran.

A single day's supplies for the men of the battalion are to be secured in advance at Roseburg, and during the encampment the Quartermaster of the battallon will secure supplies from day to day. Each company is to have its own mess. Ammunition will be issued to the men at the camp, and notice that target practice is to be insisted upon is given by Major Yoran. Visitors are to be admitted to the Rose-burg camp between reveille and tattoo
