HARDON FOREIGNERS

Venezuela Punishes All Who May Present Claims.

MERCHANTS HANGED IN EFFIGY

Populace Beats the Dummies With Clubs and Makes a Great Demonstration—Castro Throws Sewer Into Prison.

WILLEMSTAD, Island of Curacao, Aug. 31.

Harsh justice is being meted out to foreigners residing in the interior of Venezuela, where the local authorities are hunting down all foreigners who dare to present claims against Venezuela in accordance with the recent protocol. Near Coroa, a local tribunal refused to accept the testimony of five Italians. On the latter insisting in tendering their depositions, three were arrested and thrown into jail. Two of them attempted to escape and were fired upon, one being killed. The Venezuelan government does not deny this occurrence, but is doing all it can to prevent a repetition. It is learned on the other hand that letters sent to foreigners from the Italian and other legations instructing them to send in their claims were seized in the posts so as to prevent the claims from arriving at Caracas in due time.

FOREIGNERS HANGED IN EFFIGY

Beat Dummies With Sticks and Make Great Demonstration.

CUMANÁ, Venezuela, Aug. 31.—A gibbet was erected in the street of this city yesterday on which was hanged an effigy representing a foreigner, and the populace beat the dummy with sticks amid shouts of "death to the foreigners." Two leading traders, M. Palazzi, a Frenchman, and Herr Sprick, a German, were recently arrested in the city, and by order of President Castro for refusing to pay their taxes which had already been collected by the revolutionists during the latter's occupation of the city. Many other persons were also arrested on the same charge. The French and German Ministers at Caracas protested, and obtained the immediate release of their fellow countrymen. General Rolando and 200 of the rebel officers who were captured at Ciudad Bolivar, have arrived at Maracaibo. They were incarcerated in the fortress of San Carlos, with their feet in irons.

COLOMBIA FACES UPRISING

Rejection of Panama Canal Treaty Makes the People Restless.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The spirit of revolution is gaining in force on the Isthmus as the result of the rejection of the Canal treaty by the Colombian Congress at Bogotá, says a Times dispatch from Panama. Only vigorous action on the part of the Government can prevent an outbreak, the correspondent asserts, and it is doubtful whether such action is possible. General Huertas, commandant at Fort Chiriqui, and virtually the commander of all the Government forces in and around Panama, is at this time the only officer to whom the Government may look with any hope of checking any revolutionary spirit. Even he is a warm sympathizer with the Canal project. As for the naval force, it is practically controlled by Americans or pro-American Englishmen. They form the ginning, navigating and engineering forces.

THEIR LOYALTY NOT DOUBTED.

Employers at Navy-yard Will Not Have to Swear Allegiance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—As a result of an investigation of the question, Acting Secretary Darling, of the Navy Department, has concluded that there is no occasion for any action by the Navy Department at this time on the proposition that all employees of the Navy Department and navy-yards be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. He found on inquiry that only citizens of the United States, and only such non-citizens as have been honorably discharged from the Army, Navy or Marine Corps are eligible for employment in the navy establishment. The requirements, he considers, give sufficient guarantee of loyalty to the United States of the men in the employ of the civil naval establishment.

EMPEROR IS AT THE STATION

State Dinner Is Given in Honor of the Visitor, and Pledges of Friendship Between the Two Nations Are Renewed.

VIENNA, Aug. 31.—King Edward arrived here today from Marienbad, and was given an enthusiastic reception.

Emperor Francis Joseph, wearing the uniform of the British Dragon Guards, and accompanied by several Archdukes and other notables, received King Edward at the station. The King wore the uniform of a Colonel of Austrian Hussars. After the presentation of the Archdukes and others, the two sovereigns drove to the Hofburg in the landau drawn by six horses, immense crowds lining the streets. At the Hofburg, the King was received by the Archdukes, Foreign Minister Golchowski, the Austrian and Hungarian Premiers and the court and state dignitaries. Thereafter the King retired to his apartments where he was officially visited by the Emperor.

A state dinner in honor of the King was given at the Hofburg tonight. The company present included the Emperor, all the Archdukes and Archduchesses, the Ministers, diplomats and the general staff of the army.

Emperor Francis Joseph toasted King Edward in a speech, in the course of which he hailed the latter's visit as a fresh pledge for a continuance of the confidential relations which have long existed between the two families and two countries, and which were all the firmer because there was no political point of antagonism likely to cast the shadow of a cloud between them.

The King, in response, expressed his thanks for the friendly sentiments expressed toward him, and the cordial reception he had met with, which he said

PARIS, Aug. 31.—The Foreign Office here points to the significance of the appointment of M. Victory for the War Party.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Members of the Japanese diplomatic corps here regard the appointment of M. Witte by the Emperor to President of the Council of Ministers as a victory for the Russian war party. deeply touched him. He assured the Emperor of the continuance of the feeling of friendship which he had inherited from Queen Victoria, and concluded by appointing Emperor Francis Joseph a Field Marshal in the British army.

Walters Refuse to Walk Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The attempt of points at which our work touches the interests which you represent."

The address of Mr. Lepreux, president of the permanent committee, was followed by the election of the following officers of the congress:

President of the permanent committee, O. L. Lepreux; secretary-general of the permanent committee, A. Egnault; honorary president, George B. Cortelyou; president of the congress, Israel Pierson; general secretary, John Tatler, also vice-presidents for Belgium, Canada, France, Germany, Great Britain, Norway and Sweden, Ireland, United States, Austria and Italy.

A letter from President Roosevelt, expressing regret at his inability to be present, was read, and after a brief address by President Pierson and a discussion of papers on "The Improvement in Longevity," an adjournment was taken.

The subject of the morning discussion, "Improvement in Longevity," was again taken up in the afternoon. Charlton T. Lewis said that there were three general reasons for the improvement in longevity, the better care that children received; the development in handling epidemics, especially progressive in the last few years, and the vast improvement in medical and surgical science.

"We find," he said, "that the mortality in particular diseases had been decreased very greatly in the last 40 years; these influences are all alike in this respect, that all represent not an increase in the vitality of the strong, but a diminution of mortality among the weak. The number of weaklings is today, therefore, greater, and the result is a degradation of the masses in the average."

H. L. Hoffman, of Newark University, lecturer on actuarial subjects, said in part:

"When we are told by a Secretary of War that the mortality in Cuba is not more than that in the City of New York, it does not require much actuarial knowledge to smile and know that it is nonsense." He declared that the statement that the death rate of the City of Havana is no greater than that of Washington City is to be untrue. For some time to come, he said, the death rate of Havana would be 50 to 100 per cent greater than any Northern city.
