

CHANGES NOW DUE

Better Iron and Steel Products.

END OF THE DULL SEASON

Increased Demand for Finished Goods of All Kinds—Local Produce and Jobbing Quotations—Fruit Market Overstocked.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—An improving inquiry can be reported for manufactured iron and steel generally, says the Iron Age. The conditions which have governed trade in finished products have been unsatisfactory during the summer months, but it is now quite confidently expected that a favorable change is due.

Prices of finished products are well maintained, with the exception of light sheet-iron and some minor products. Transactions in foundry pig iron are not on so large a scale as last week. A great deal of buying is in progress, but it is of small lots, showing that consumers are conservative in anticipating the requirements and will be until they are convinced that bottom has been reached.

As interesting contest is possible between the independent steel mills and the amalgamated Association. The mills have asked for changes in some of the union rules to enable them to compete on better terms with nonunion mills, but their request has been refused.

Monday is Labor Day. As next Monday is Labor day, it will be observed as a general holiday on Front street. Grocery and other jobbing houses will remain closed during the day, and the fruit and commission houses will close their doors at noon.
