LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 4 .- Today's same was close and exciting up to the eighth inning, when Seattle's heavy hit-ters fell onto Hall for a bunch of hits. the Nassau Country Club links in the final round for the amateur golf championship of the United States. Travis has held the National championship twice and Byers was the runner up last year at the Glenview Club near Chicago. Curiously enough, Travis and Byers met last year in the round preceding the semi-final, and Byers won by a single hole. A grand match is looked for tomorrow. Travis met the young Princeton golfer,

F. O. Reinhart, today, and won by the high score of five up and four to play, while Byers, who recently graduated from Yale, defeated the last surviving Western-er, Bruce D. Smith, by the same figures, The first three holes in the Travis-Rein hart match brought out magnificent golf, but after that Reinhart plainly showed the strain of the tournament. Travis way steady throughout and wan on his accu-racy in approaching and putting. The game ended on the fourteenth green. The cards were:

BOXERS AGREE ON RULES.

Jack Grant Will Probably Referee Friday's Contest.

Herrera and Jack McClelland, the two young knights of the padded mitts, got together yesterday afternoon and settled upon the method of conducting their box-ing contest before the Pastime Club Friday night. They have gone over the Mar-quis of Queensberry rules, under which they are to box, and they have agreed "to hit when you can," and they will protect themselves at ail times. Only one thing in the rules is barred, and that is not to hold and wallop at the same time. Hitting in the getaway is permissible, and either can box himself loose if one or the other holds and smothers up. The men break at the command of the referee. The men will While Jack Grant has not been selected to act as referee, it is practically settled that he will officiate. Grant is acceptable to Biddy Bishop, Herrera's manager, and it is understood that there will be no jection from the McClelland camp. I Both boys are in fine shape, and before they are allowed to box they will undergo a careful physical examination, and in case either lad should be found not fit to stand 20 rounds of boxing the match will be de-clared off. There is very little chances for this to happen, as both boys are strong and hearty, and could travel 50 rounds if need be. The examination is simply a precautionary measure, and one which the club always insists upon. There is a striking similarity in their ring methods, and as both do their best work at close range it was but natural they should favor conditions which call for plenty of free-arm work. Those who have watched Herrera at his training camp will be greatly surprised when they see him in the ring, for he employs altogether a different system of attack when ngaged in real warfare. McClelland is cleverer of the two, and likes lo range sparring equally as well as he does close in-work. Yesterday the Mexican tipped the scales at 127 pounds at the conclusion of his afternoon's exercise. He says he will weigh about 125 when he steps on the scales at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, and figures he will enter the ring weighing 127 pounds. McClelland will live up to the full limit of the weight clause in the articles the boys have signed, thereby having an advantage of fully six pounds, a good deal of weight for a feather-weight to give. "McCielland will feel the benefit of this extra weight," said one of the Pittsburg-er's admirers gesterday. "He is as strong as an ox and is surprised at his own strength, and it is a pleasure for him to irain. He is better today than he has ever been in his career as a fighter, and I look to see him defeat Herrera in one of the best contests ever seen in Portland."

Herrera went out on the road as usual yesterday morning. In the afternoon he exercised in the gymnasium. He began with a spell at the punching-bag, and then tossed a ton-pound medicine ball with his trainer for the space of 50 minutes, after which he skipped the rope and exercised with light dumbbells for a couple of ounds and then boxed four rounds. # STOPPING OF THE DOLLAR

Japan Did Not Forcibly Oppose Her Entering, but Made Strong Protest.

PEKIN, Sept. 4 .- Telegrams received here from Port Arthur give details of the reported recent stopping of the steamer Stanley Dollar, owned by an American, by a Japanese gunboat as the steamer was attempting to enter Yongampho, at the mouth of the Yalu River, Corea, to load lumber from the Russian concession on that river. The Japanese did not forcibly oppose the vessel's entering the port, but protested strongly against her taking lumber on board, on the ground that Yon-gampho was not an open port. The captain of the Stanley Dollar telegraphed to the Russian company at Tien Tsin which had chartered the steamer that the Japanese were preventing him from loading, and he ultimately loaded, and the vessel is now supposed to be on her way to Dainy.

The Japanese Legation here is without information regarding the incident which has created much comment. It is not known whether the Japanese commander acted on his own responsibility or on structions from his government. If his action was due to orders from the governthere is much curiosity to know how Japan intends to support her protest. IG won in straight heats: Jupiter J. second.

DR. WALKER, 181 First Street, Corner Yamhill, Portland, Or

213 South Prior Street, ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903. I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinkng feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost 14 pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman. My mother has also been greatly helped through that dangerous period "the change of life " and we consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's prescription or other medicines we have ever known of.
