

BOYS IN A WET CAMP

Rain at Gearhart Gives Soldiers Good Training.

BETTER WEATHER IN SIGHT

Blanket Tossing One of the Evening Amusements-General Fansion Will Review the Troops Wednesday Afternoon.

GEARHART, Ore., Sept. 7.—(Special.)

Almost a steady downpour of rain for 24 hours, the weather partly cleared today and made an ideal day in which to carry out the full routine in Camp Sumner.

The wind having turned and blowing stiff from the north gives every indication of a continuance of fair weather to the end of the encampment.

Colonel Gantenben says that instead of the heavy rain being detrimental to the camp, it was a benefit in that it gives the men a good training and the experience of camping in weather which might come upon them at any time if they were called out to actual duty.

Major Baker had the misfortune to get another slight injury this morning by coming in contact with his bayonet, inflicting a gash above one of his eyes.

Captain C. B. Winn, of the commissary department, wishes to state that the report in one of the afternoon papers to the effect that his department and other articles have been pilfered from his department is absolutely false and without foundation.

Blanket-tossing is one of the amusements indulged in during the early hours of the evening. This is a very comical scene to witness, but is also dangerous.

It was reported in the camp this evening that a whale some 60 feet in length had been on the beach about a mile above the camp today.

This afternoon, teams from Companies H and B met on the drill grounds and played an interesting game of baseball, resulting in a score of 10 to 5 in favor of Company B.

Among the visitors at the camp today were Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and F. E. Fields, county clerk, Multnomah County, and his wife and daughter.

General Frederick Funston and his staff will review the troops in dress parade Wednesday at 3 P. M.

Mr. Farbell, of the hotel, leaves here tomorrow morning for Portland.

Inspection at Roseburg Camp. ROSEBURG, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Colonel James Jackson, U. S. A., this morning inspected the four companies of the First Separate Battalion, O. N. G., now in camp here.

Captain Johnson, of the Ninth United States Infantry, stationed at Vancouver, Wash., and Lieutenant-General W. E. Finzer, of Woodburn, Ore., were also in attendance.

There are about 100 men in the camp. Much interest is being manifested in the daily target practice with the new regular Army rifles. The grounds are proving much better suited for encampment purposes than those occupied at Albany last year.

PLEASUED WITH WHAT HE SAW. Washington Congressional Party at Colville.

COLVILLE, Wash., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The Congressional party, which has just completed a trip from Wenatchee to Grand Rapids, five miles below Kettle Falls, arrived at their destination Friday afternoon, and reached Colville late in the evening.

The members of the party while here were taken in charge by a committee of the leading Republicans and shown about the city and the surrounding country, as far as convenience and time would permit. They visited the old army post site, three miles north; the fair grounds, one mile to the east, and such other places as happened in their way.
