LUMBER ORDERS FAIL OFF.—Some of the mill men are complaining that orders for lumber are falling off a little. The price of lumber they say is also weakening. There have been 256 new mills started in Oregon, California and Washington during the past year, most of them not large, but they are responsible mainly for the increase of 1500,000 feet per day for the increase of 3,500,000 feet per day over the amount cut last year. Logging is soing ahead as lively as ever, all the camps are doing good work and putting in lots of logs. Prices are keeping up very well, as all the millmen are anxious to lay in a supply for Wireley Javes. to lay in a supply for Winter. Large number of logs from the burned-over district, back of Vancouver, are being put into the Columbia at Vancouver by the Weyerhaeuser Company, the largest logging company on the Coast. The logs are being boomed and held, and it is said a large lot will be stored on Lake River, where there is plenty of room for rafts.

This company is building a railway to connect with the Portland, Vancouver & Yakima Rallway. It has six miles built and in use which enables it to get out many logs. S. Benson is putting about 200,000 feet of logs per day into the river at Oak Point. He has six miles graded and one mile of track laid on his Clatskanie & Nehalem Raliroad, and has a locomotive on the way from the East. Loggers gener-ally are satisfied with present prices and the prospects for a continued steady de-

YEAR 1905 NOT FAR OFF.-The fact that 1965 and the Lewis and Clark Fair are not very far away was impressed upon several persons yesterday by coming in contact with a young man, a resident of the East Side suburbs, who was hunting for seed wheat and oats. He said he had entered into an agreement with a neigh-bor to raise a patch of wheat and a patch of oats on specially prepared ground, the product to be made an exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Fair. He was muking diligent search for the best samples of wheat and oats obtainable, and when it was remarked that he need not get excited as he had plenty of time, he replied: "You must bear in mind that Win-ter wheat for the Lewis and Clark Fair must be sowed this Fail. If the sewing is put off till next Fall, the grain will not be ripe in time to exhibit." People who are contemplating growing Winter wheat to exhibit at the Fair in 1905, will do well to begin operations in time. Next year will be time enough to plant seeds for big pumpkins and vegetables, and the young man mentioned intends to plant are complaining of the scarcity of game in the markets. Some wild ducks are obtainable at high prices early in the week but there is no steady supply, while the demand for game of some kind is con-stant. Owing to this a luge bear brought from Netarts was gobbied up by popular cafes and restaurants. The beast weighed 274 pounds and had grown fat on the salal berries and huckleberries so plenti-ful along the Coast this season and was doubtless fine eating. At all events it was game, and a change from everyday diet, and all caterers who handled the meat are anxious to get more. The present shooting season opens October 1, but no sale of pheasants is allowed except during the last 15 days of the open season, from November 15 to December 1. The laws now are framed principally to protect game, and so very little is seen on the markets, and many never have any.

WONDERS WHO HIT HIM.-A rather handsome surrey in a badly broken up condition was seen standing in front of a livery stable on Fifth street yesterday a livery stable on Fifth street yearring, morning, while the owner. S. Benson, was investigating the damages and trying to find out what had caused them. The surrey was sent up to his residence the evening before in charge of a stable boy, that his family might go out for a drive. In some way the vehicle was upset and the boy thrown out, nearly in front of the house. The borse succeeded in getting loose in a few seconds and ran back to the stable. The dashboard of the vehicle was bent over, a lamp smashed, two springs broken, one scat wrecked and no one knew how it was done. The boy had been dazed by his fall, and was under the been daged by his ian, and was when the impression that some one had knocked him off his seat. One who saw the amash up, said the boy drove over a wood pile and upset himself out, but could not be certain that he was not out of the vehicle when it struck the woodpile. The result of the investigation will settle who is responsible for the accident and who will have to repair the damages.

BITTEN BY SAVAGE DOG.—The wife of William McLean, veterinary surgeon, when out driving on the Gresham road Tnursday, stopped at Frod Ragge's place, ten miles from this city, and was attacked by a large St. Bernard dog, which sprang at her face and bit her through the cheek, inflicting a very painful wound. A dentist's plate in her me outh was broken and it is feared that her jaw is broken. She was suffering intensely from the shock and the pain of the wound yester-day, not having slept during the night, and it could not be definitely ascertained how serious her injury was. The owner of the dog says it is doclle and not ad-dicted to flying at strangers but people who drive out that way say the brute is kept chained up most of the time. Mr. McLean was away from home, bus when he goes out to Ragge's place there is liketo be trouble for that dog.

SATURDAY NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT RE-SUMED.-Tonight, 8 o'clock, at the Men's Resort, 68 North Sixth street, the Saturday night entertainments, which were orday night entertainments, which were so popular last season will reopen with a stereopticon lecture on "Persia-Her Peo-ple, Customs and Religions," by Dr. Jo-seph Kashaba, a native of Persia, who has just completed a course of education in this country. He will appear in the Persian costume and also sing native songs. Admission is free and all are cordially welcome

To Investigate Barbers' College.— Because the apprentices in the new school for barbers are not equipped with cards according to law, a thorough investiga-tion is promised by the State Board of Barber Examiners. The man in charge of the larber's college, which is situated in the North End, promises to teach the such things in the ground they are now preparing to sow to wheat.

Scarcity of Game.—Caterers as usual properly learned in that short time, and therefore they will determine whether or not the college is run as it should be. PROFITS OF LABOR DAY CELEBRATION .-

About $150 was cleared by the committee of the Federated Trades Council from the Labor Day celebration in Hawthorne Park. The committee met last evening after the session of the Federated Trades Council, and fried to make an accurate estimate of the profits derived from the celebration. So many unsold buttons and tickets are still, outstanding, however, that no exact sum could be stated. The Council held a short meeting and transacted little but routine business

TEARING DOWN PAVILION.-The work of TEARING DOWN FAVILION.—The work of demolishing the old pavilion is still going ahead, the annex on the south side being all down except a skeleton frame, and most of the material has been carted away. The removal of this annex is only a very small part of the job of clearing off the entire block, which will take some time.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Popular Play at the Baker.

Tonight ends the first week of the Neillprosec Company at the Baker Theater and it will be the last opportunity to see the gorgeous production of "In the Paiace of the King." It is rarely ever that a company leaps into popular favor with the bound that the Neill-Morosco has in Portland, and those who are going to se "Janice Meredith" next week should buy seats in advance as far as possible. A beautiful souvenir of the company will be given to each lady on Monday evening.

Matinee at Empire Today.

The matinee at the Empire Theater this afternoon will afford an excellent opper-tunity to fill every youngster in Portland with glee. Only a few more performance of the present programme remain to be given, and then Bandy, the man who doesn't know what to do with his feet the Kelly- the Newmans and many other amusing performers will be with us no more. Matinee prices only 20 and 10 cents.

New Programme at the Empire. Clever acts without number are on the Empire Theater's new programme, which opens Monday, September 2i. John Tierney, the best of all monologists, is one feature. The first organ recital given here this season and by one of the greatest organ-ists in this country, William C. Carl, organist and choirmaster of the First Presbyterian Church, and was an enjoyable musical success. A large audience was present, most of the weats being occupied. It is a great compliment to Portland that she has such a distinguished organist. within her borders, and the mem) the church session who engaged Mr. Cari to play here are entitled to credit for their enterprise.

It is not too much to say that Mr. Carl is a winard of the organ in every sense of the term. It is a plty that the action of the First Presbyterian Church organ is neither pneumatic or electric, in orde to give the organist an opportunity to perform yet more wonderful feats than he is capable of. At present the action of the organ is thoroughly old fashloned, and it means hard physical work to play it. A $1000 pneumatic action would work wonders.

It was a treat to watch the manner is It was a treat to watch the manner in which Mr. Carl surmounted the difficulties which confronted him, and his playing gave unbounded satisfaction. He has a quiet seat at the organ, and has wonderful skill in his selection of stops to produce a certain tone color. His pedalling is astonishingly rapid at times, yet distinct. It is never blurred, as is often the custom with amoteur organists. His necession with amoteur organists. custom with amateur organists. His programme last night appealed to persons of quiet, refined musical tastes, and held attention and favor from first to last. Mr. Carl evidently does not believe in playing florid, showy music. His first selec-tion was one of the most somber things Guilmant has ever written, and at times there is a wall in it. His Smith number, an "Idylle Piffaro," was a pretty melodious offering, and those who like intricate music bristling with difficulties were delighted with the Bach fugue. The favorite number was evidently the charming "Carillons de Dunkerque." This was played with a brilliant-finish that secured a hearty encore, and Mr. Carl responded with a fantasie on "Annie Laurie," by Dudley Buck. His most ambitious, won-derful selection was Tombelle's "Good

The vocalist of the evening was Miss Reba A. Hotson, soprano, formerly of Astoria, who has until recently been studying voice in New York City. She was charmingly gowned in white, and has improved very much in her art since has improved very much in her art since last heard in this quarter. Her tone is purer and she has fine interpretation. She sang King's "Israfel," a song that is sung by several Portland baritones, and she was very kindly received. For he second selection, Grieg's "I Love Thee," she was encored and responded with Chopin's "Lithuanian Song." An equally fine programme is prepared for the recital
